

CONTENTS

FOREWORD

	PAGE
An Englishwoman in Angora - - - -	ix
List of Illustrations - - - - -	xv

CHAPTER I

On Board the Pierre Loti —Turkey's Debt to Loti's Magic Pen	17
--	----

CHAPTER II

Turkey and Tolerance—A Friendship Wasted - -	22
--	----

CHAPTER III

Malta : the Name I was to Hear Throughout Anatolia -	29
--	----

CHAPTER IV

Athens—" We Have Loved Helen ; Must We Divorce Her ? "	36
--	----

CHAPTER V

Smyrna : a Picture of Desolation - - - -	43
--	----

CHAPTER VI

British Chivalry !—Brave Women a Nuisance ! - -	54
---	----

CHAPTER VII

Smyrna—God's Work—The Exquisite Sunset—Man's Work —War - - - - -	60
---	----

CHAPTER VIII

Emotions and Impressions—" On the Way "—Nowhere to House the Poor People - - - - -	71
---	----

CHAPTER IX

More Impressions—" Sitting Amidst an Army of Supposed Savage Fanatics, Debating the Greatness of God " -	79
---	----

CHAPTER X

A Journey on Foot—A Country Made by God, untouched by Man - - - - -	85
--	----

	PAGE
CHAPTER XI
A Public Meeting at Ouchak—Hospitality—A Sacred Rite -	94
CHAPTER XII
A Luggage Train—The Worst Stage of My Whole Journey -	104
CHAPTER XIII
A Third-Class Compartment—A Frenchman Amongst the Ruins - - - - -	114
CHAPTER XIV
In the "Train de Luxe"—The Supreme Good Fellowship of English Laughter—Journeying Towards the Cradle of New Turkey - - - - -	122
CHAPTER XV
Angora I.—Entering a "Brotherhood"—An Atmosphere of Camaraderie - - - - -	132
CHAPTER XVI
Angora II.—At the Home of My Kind and Courteous Host -	141
CHAPTER XVII
Angora III.—The Marvellous Atmosphere of a Great Birth -	147
CHAPTER XVIII
The Ghazi Mustapha Kemal Pasha—The Greatest Man in Turkey To-day - - - - -	159
CHAPTER XIX
An Interview with the Ghazi Mustapha Kemal Pasha -	174
CHAPTER XX
Mustapha Kemal Pasha—The Man Who is Master of His Fate	179
CHAPTER XXI
A Turkish Cabinet—The Three Best-Known Ministers—A Cabinet of Young Men - - - - -	192
CHAPTER XXII
Turkish Cabinet—The Less-known Ministers of the Sovereign State - - - - -	198
CHAPTER XXIII
The Foreign Colony in Angora—A Group of Foreign Personalities	202

Contents		xiii
CHAPTER XXIV
Halidé Edib Hanoum, Author and Patriot—A Woman Dowered with the All-Conquering Gifts of the Truly Brave	-	205
CHAPTER XXV
Hospitals—Schools—Education and the Nationalist Writers— The Days Pass, but There is Still Much to Be Done and Seen	- - - - -	215
CHAPTER XXVI
Last Days in Angora : Excursions, Conversations, Picnics— Haidar Bey's Party	- - - - -	226
CHAPTER XXVII
Rome, the Eternal City—A Visit to the Catholics in Angora	-	239
CHAPTER XXVIII
Three Diplomats at Rome—The Guardianship of the Holy Tomb	- - - - -	249
CHAPTER XXIX
En Route for Constantinople—A Night at Bilidjik Under the Frost-Laden Skies	- - - - -	254
CHAPTER XXX
From Bilidjik to Broussa by Yaili—After the day's Roughening Experiences one can Sleep whatever the Accommodation	-	259
CHAPTER XXXI
A Few Days in Broussa—The True Islam Atmosphere	-	273
CHAPTER XXXII
Constantinople No Longer the Capital—The Heart and Spirit of Turkey are in Angora	- - - - -	285
CHAPTER XXXIII
Lausanne Palace Hotel—The Home of Turkey, France, and Japan—"Every Possible Phase of Complete Inter- nationalism"	- - - - -	298
CHAPTER XXXIV
Turkey and the League of Nations—The Parliament of Nations Must Be Truly Impartial and International	-	313
CHAPTER XXXV
The Future—Above All, a Lasting Peace	- - - - -	318
Index	- - - - -	321