

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07476-6 - The Voyage of the Discovery: Volume 1

Robert F. Scott

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

OF

THE FIRST VOLUME

CHAPTER I

HISTORICAL

	PAGE
Attention first drawn to Antarctic Region by Delineation of Map Makers—Earliest References to Climatic Conditions—Varthema—Vasco da Gama—Drake—Quiros—Tasman—Kerguelen—Cook—Bellingshausen—Weddell—Biscoe—Balleny—D'Urville—Wilkes—Ross—Later Expeditions—'Challenger' Expedition and Result—Inception of National Antarctic Expedition—Sir Clements Markham—Action of Societies—Mr. Longstaff—Decision to build new Ship—My own Appointment—Finance Committee—Naval Crew—Purchase of Stores . . . . .	1

CHAPTER II

PREPARATION

Ships of former Polar Voyages—Ship Committee—Design of the 'Discovery'—Choice of a Name—Description of the Ship—Magnetic Observatory—Living-spaces—Holds, &c.—Sails—Launch of the Ship—The Officers appointed—The Warrant Officers—The Men—Division of the Antarctic Regions—Prospect of Victoria Quadrant—The Instructions—Acknowledgment of Assistance. . . . .	43
---	----

CHAPTER III

VOYAGE TO NEW ZEALAND

Arrival at Cowes—Visit of the King—Sailing from Cowes—Madeira—Crossing the Line—South Trinidad—Arrival at the Cape—Simon's
--	--

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07476-6 - The Voyage of the Discovery: Volume 1

Robert F. Scott

Table of Contents

More information

xii THE VOYAGE OF THE 'DISCOVERY'

	PAGE
Bay—At Sea in the Westerlies—Alarm of Fire—First Encounter with the Ice—Southern Birds—Macquarie Island—Lyttelton, New Zealand—Preparations for Final Departure—Departure from Lyttelton—Fatal Accident—Final Departure from Civilisation . . . . .	87
CHAPTER IV
SOUTHWARD HO!
Steering to the South—Fog—Icebergs—Entering Pack-ice—Life in the Pack—Nature of Pack—Slow Progress—'Watering Ship'—Southern Edge of Pack—The Ross Sea—First Sight of Victoria Land—Cape Adare—Danger in the Pack—Coulman Island—Heavy Gale—Landing in Lady Newnes Bay—Killing Seals—Wood Bay—Cape Washington—Coasting South—Landing in Granite Harbour—A well-sheltered Spot—McMurdo Sound—Stopped by the Pack—Turning to the East . . . . .	116
CHAPTER V
ALONG THE GREAT BARRIER
Strange Footprints—Landing under Mount Terror—The Last Record Left—Along the Great Barrier—New Land—Foggy Weather—Surrounded by Bergs—We Lose our Bearings—Decision to Turn Back—Good View of King Edward's Land—Landing on the Barrier—Balloon Ascent—Return to Victoria Land . . . . .	163
CHAPTER VI
FINDING WINTER QUARTERS: A FATAL ACCIDENT
In McMurdo Sound—A Glacier Tongue—Landing South of Erebus—Selection of Winter Quarters—Prospects—Difficulty in Maintaining our Station—Erection of Huts—Amusements—A Trip to White Island—Sledge Party to the Cape Crozier Record—Accident to Returning Sledge Party—Fatal Result to poor Vince—Results of Search Parties—Frost-bites—Wonderful Escape of Hare—Visit to Danger Slope . . . . .	205
CHAPTER VII
PREPARING FOR WINTER
Delay in Freezing-up of the Ship—Dog Troubles—Return of Royds—Local Weather Conditions—Last Sledging Effort of the Season—Advantage of Experience—Preparing for Winter—Winter Arriving—Meteorological Screen—Tidal Observations—Magnetic Huts—Capturing Crab-eaters—Emperor Penguin Hunt—Departure of the Sun . . . . .	254

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07476-6 - The Voyage of the Discovery: Volume 1

Robert F. Scott

Table of Contents

More informationCONTENTS OF THE FIRST VOLUME xiii

CHAPTER VIII

THE POLAR WINTER

	PAGE
Winter Routine—Obtaining Water—Meals and Meal-hours—Pastimes—Officers' Routine—Debates—Exercise—Work of the Officers—Weather Conditions—Heavy Blizzard and its Effects—Incidents of the Winter—Winter Clothing—Remarks on our Food—Sunday Routine—Discomforts of the Living-quarters from Ice—Heating and Ventilation—Mid-winter Day . . . . .	292

CHAPTER IX

WINTER PASSING AWAY

Our Settlement in Winter—The Large Hut—Lighting Arrangements on Board—Prevention of Fire—A Night on Duty—Smoking Habits—The 'South Polar Times'—Aurora Australis—Mishap to our Boats—Moonlight Effects—Lost in a Blizzard—Theatrical Entertainments—Nigger Minstrels—Increase of Light—New Arrivals—Concerning the Dogs—Return of the Sun—View from our Hills—Walks in Daylight—Preparations for Sledging—Ready to Start . . . . .	347
--	-----

CHAPTER X

HISTORY AND DEVELOPMENT OF SLEDGE TRAVELLING

History of Polar Sledge Travelling—Early English Sledge Travellers—Ross—McClintock—Peary—Nansen—Visit to Christiania—Difficulties in Selecting Articles of Equipment—Comparison of Sledging Conditions in the North and South Polar Regions—Objects of the Sledge Traveller—Description of our Equipment—The Sledge—The Tent—The Sleeping-bag—Sledging-food—Calculation of Allowances—Packing—Cooking-apparatus—Cooking-lamp—Permanent Weights of a Sledge Party—Spare Clothing—Medical Bag—Details concerning Clothing and General Equipment . . . . .	403
---	-----

CHAPTER XI

TYPICAL SLEDGING EXPERIENCES

Use of Dogs for Sledging—A Discussion of their Merits—History of our Dog Team—Discomforts of Sledge-travelling—Typical Experiences—The Ordinary Routine—Result of a Blizzard—Benefit of Summer Temperatures—Disadvantages of Summer—The Fascination of Sledging . . . . .	463
---	-----

xiv THE VOYAGE OF THE 'DISCOVERY'

CHAPTER XII

THE SPRING JOURNEYS OF 1902

	PAGE
Spring Sledging Plans—Start of Sledging Season—Parties Leave the Ship—Submarine Ice—Start on Southern Reconnaissance—An Inopportune Blizzard—Return to the Ship—Fresh Start—Journey to the Bluff—Difficult Travelling—Placing the Depot—Rapid Return—Report of Outbreak of Scurvy—Experiences of Western Party—Steps taken to Combat the Disease—Some Remarks on the Nature of Scurvy—Causes which may have Led to the Outbreak—Impossibility of Determining its Exact Origin—Prospects of Future South Polar Expeditions in this Respect . . . . .	508