

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07666-1 - More Pot-Pourri from a Surrey Garden

Mrs. C.W. Earle

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

SEPTEMBER

	PAGE
Reasons for writing another 'Pot-Pourri'—Advice of friends— Criticisms grave and gay—Return home after three months abroad—Disappointment with dry garden—Kingfisher— Sedum spectabile and insects—Gardening—Cooking	1

OCTOBER

Gardening—Echeverias—Ignorance about bulbs—Gossamer time and insects—The East Coast—A new rockery— Oxalis floribunda as a vegetable—Previous 'Pot-Pourris'—Cooking receipts, various—Journey to Frankfort in 1897—Cronberg —Boecklin's Todten-Insel —Jewish Cemetery—Goethe's house—Staedal Art Institute—German treatment of tuber- culosis	46
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----

NOVEMBER

Present of 'The Botanist'—Echeveria and Euphorbia splen- dens —Cowper on greenhouses—Cultivation of greenhouse plants—Bookseller at Frankfort—Dr. Wallace on Lilies —Receipts—Winter in the country—The sorting of old letters	85
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----

DECEMBER

Lonely evenings and more papers—Figs from France—Horn- beams and Weeping Hornbeams—Wire netting round small fruit-trees—Damsons—Roman Hyacinths and Paper-white Narcissus—Effect of coloured glass on plants—Use of corru- gated iron—Lord Lyndoch—Cultivation of Mistletoe—A list of plants—Anniversary present-giving—Christmas decora- tions—Acetylene gas—The old learning to live alone— Receipts	118
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07666-1 - More Pot-Pourri from a Surrey Garden

Mrs. C.W. Earle

Table of Contents

More information

viii

MORE POT-POURRI

JANUARY 1899

PAGE

Difficulties of growing Daphne indica —Journey last year to Ireland—Cutting down and re-planting trees—Apples—Skimmed milk—Manure heaps—Winter Honeysuckle—Botanical Gardens in Dublin—Botticelli's drawings—Tissot's Bible—Rippingille's patent stove—Blue flowers—'Snowdrop-time'—'The Sun-children's Budget'—Floral notes from 'The Scotsman'—Receipts.	152
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

FEBRUARY

Mistresses and servants—Difficulty of getting servants—Girls instead of boys—Registry Offices—The employments that do not take up characters—Early rising—Baron Humboldt—Coverings for larders—Blackbeetles—Children's nurses—Ignorance of young married women—Some natural history books—Forcing blossoming branches—Horticultural Show—Letter from San Moritz—Receipts	184
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

MARCH

Confessions about diet—Cures for rheumatism—Effects of tea-drinking—Sparing animal life a bad reason for vegetarianism—The Berlin foot-race—Mrs. Crow in Edinburgh—Bagehot on luxury—A word about babies—German and English nurseries—Sir Richard Thorne Thorne on raw milk—The New Education—Difficulty of understanding young children—Gardening—Cooking	216
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

APRIL

Newspapers on cremation—More about Suffolk—Maund on flowers that close—Asparagus growing on the seacoast—Peacock feathers for firescreens—Dining-room tables—Petroleum tubs in gardens—Neglect of natural history—Cactuses again—Old mills—Mr. Burbidge on sweet-smelling leaves—Florist Auriculas—Seed-sowing—Kitchen garden—Poultry	269
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07666-1 - More Pot-Pourri from a Surrey Garden

Mrs. C.W. Earle

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

ix

MAY

PAGE

The 'French Sugar Pea'—The 'Westminster Gazette' on Tulips—The legend of the Crown Imperial—Article on 'Sacred Trees and Flowers'—Peeling of Poppies—Cooking receipts—Books on Florence—Mr. Gladstone on travelling—Journey to Italy—Arrival at Arcetri	301
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

JUNE

What I saw from my window at Arcetri—Fireflies—Cypresses—Youthful memories in the 'Casine'—Deodar in Cloister of San Marco—Fête at Santa Margharita—Villas—Gardens—Want of colour in Tuscany at midsummer—Slight allusion to picture galleries—The cabinet of Cardinal Leopoldo di Medici—June 24th in Florence—Botanical Garden—Silence of birds and summer sounds	329
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

JULY

A night journey—Dawn in the train—Passing Chambéry—A water-cure near Geneva—Amiel and his 'Journal Intime'—The New Museum at Geneva—M. Correvon's garden—An afternoon at Bâle—Boecklin again—Cronberg and the 'Palmengarten'—Planting shrubs to secure an especial effect—The cultivation of Alpine Strawberries—Receipts	367
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

AUGUST

A Horticultural Show in August—The old Chelsea Physic Garden—Towns out of season—Flat-hunting in London—Overcrowding flats—Marble better than tiles—Curtains and blinds—A long note on girls and young women	394
INDEX	439