

Index

- April Student Uprising (1960), 64
 authoritarian developmental state (1961–1987)
 compulsory social insurance, social welfare laws, 66–67
 economic concentration by chaebols, 74
 Economic Planning Board (EPB),
 115
 export-oriented industrialization, welfare politics, poverty reduction, 68–72
 heavy and chemical industrialization (HCI), social consequences, 74–77
 heavy and chemical industrialization
 (HCI), Yushin regime, 72–74
 low tax regime formation, 77–79
 Medical Insurance Scheme (MIS),
 National Health Insurance Scheme
 (NHIS), 82–84
 Ministry of Commerce and Industry
 (MCI), 65
 Ministry of Finance (MFI), 65
 National Welfare Pension Scheme
 (NWPS), 78, 80–82
 New Village Movement, 75–76
 state-society relations, bureaucracy
 centralization, 63–66
 Supreme Council for National Reconstruction (SCNR), 63–64
 wage compression, 75–76
 welfare politics, Yushin regime, 79 authoritarian 5th republic (1980–1987)
 Chun government, 85–87, 88–91
 fiscal conservatism, emerging corporate
 welfare, 88–91
 Industrial Accident Insurance Scheme
 (IAIS), 89
 labor-management council meetings,
 agendas, 87
 neo-conservative economic reforms,
 enterprise unionism enforcement, 84–87
chaebols, 44–45, 129–30, 160t6.2, 178–79
 Chun Doo Hwan, 85–87, 88–91, 94–95, 101–02
 comparative perspective. See welfare state, comparative perspective
 compulsory social insurance, social welfare laws, 66–67
 Confucian model, 5–6
 conservative democratic rule (1987–1997)
 Conservative Grand Coalition, 93 conservative grand coalition, enterprise
 unionism institutionalization, 107–09
 Great Worker Struggle, 97
 health insurance politics, 102–05
 institution reform, elite-negotiated democratic transition, 94–97
 June 29 Declaration of Democratic
 Reform, 95
 Korean Confederation of Trade Unions
 (KCTU), 99
 labor, civil society activism, failed leftist party movement, 97–101

- conservative democratic rule
 (1987–1997) (cont.)
 National Council of Korean Trade Unions (NCKTU), 99
 new management strategies, corporate
 welfare, 109–13
 New Management Strategies (NMS),
 110–11
 organized labor, 94
 pension politics, 97
 political parties, 96–97, 100–01
 proportional representation (PR)
vs. single-member district (SMD), 94, 96–97
 unionization rate, by firm size, 97 welfare politics, during democratic transition, 101–07
- conservative democratic rule (from 2008), 209–10
 budget increase requests, 2014 National Budget, 206f.4
 economy, social polarization, 184–85 politicians, organized labor, 205–09
Wind of Free Welfare, 184–85,
 195–96, 201–05
 Constitutional Law Article 57, 14
- developmental state legacies, general theories, 8–15
 developmental welfarism, 7–8
- Economic Planning Board (EPB),
 105–06, 115
 electoral competition model, 10–12
 electoral rules, 52–56
 Employment Insurance Scheme (EIS),
 17–18, 119–21, 136–37
 export-oriented industrialization
 (EOI), 9–10
 import-substituting industrialization
 (ISS) vs., 9–10
 welfare politics, poverty reduction, 68–72
- Federation of Korean Industries (FKI), 64
 Federation of Korean Trade Unions (FKTU), 65
 fiscal conservatism, emerging corporate
 welfare, 88–91
 Friedman, Milton, 47
 Great Worker Struggle of 1987, 18
- health insurance politics, 102–05
 heavy and chemical industrialization (HCI)
 social consequences, 74–77
 Yushin regime, 72–74
- import-substituting industrialization (ISS),
 export-oriented industrialization
 (EOI), 9–10
 Industrial Accident Insurance Scheme
 (IAIS), 89, 137–38
- Johnson, Chalmers, 8
 June 29 Declaration of Democratic
 Reform, 95
- Kim Dae Jung government (1972–2002),
 Asian financial crisis, 125–26,
 152–53
chaebol reform, 129–30
 employment, wages, 126–29
 Employment Insurance Scheme
 (EIS), 147–49
 income inequality, poverty, 72, 150f.1
 Industrial Accident Insurance Scheme
 (IAIS), 137–38
 labor, civic movement groups, 132–35
 middle class, 126–29
 National Basic Livelihood Security
 Scheme (NBLSS), 145–47
 National Health Insurance Scheme
 (NHIS), 142–45
 National Pension Reform Board
 (NPRB), 139–42
 National Pension Scheme (NPS), 139–42
 power shift, new coalitional dynamics, 126–29
 public insurance, National Basic Livelihood Security Law
 (NBLSL), 145–47
 social consequences, 126–29
 social insurance, small firms, 138–39
 social policymaking, 132–35
 social safety net limits, under-secured society, 147–52
 suicide, fertility rates, 150–52
- Kim Young Sam government (1993–1997), 113, 124
 Employment Insurance Scheme
 (EIS), 119–21
 government expenditure, 119t.2
 National Pension Reform Board
 (NPRB), 139–42

- pension coverage expansion, neoliberal pension reform efforts, 121–23
 probusiness neoliberal economic reforms, 113–16
 Real Name Financial Transaction System
 (RNFTS), 114
Segyehwa campaign, 113–16, 119–23
 tripartitism, failed experiments, 116–18
 Korean Central Intelligence Agency
 (KCIA), 63
 Korean Confederation of Trade Unions
 (KCTU), 99
- labor-management council meetings,
 agendas, 87
 Lee Myung Back presidency
 (2008–2012), conservative government rule
 fiscal deficit trend, 204f7.3
 fiscal packages composition, major countries, 191–92
 free school lunch program, 195–96
 government tax revenue, 191–92
 income distribution trends, 187 job market, poverty after retirement, 191–95
 labor market policies, government spending, 188–90
 neoliberal welfare reforms, 2008 global financial crisis, tax cuts, 185–91
 temporary to permanent employment transitions, 16 countries, 193–94
 Three Year Plan for Economic Innovation (TYPEI), 204
 wage dispersion, low-pay incidence,
 labor market polarization, 191–93
Wind of Free Welfare, 184–85,
 195–96, 201–05
 Lee Myung Bak, 19–21
 logic of industrialism, welfare state, 9
 low tax regime formation, 77–79
- Medical Insurance Scheme (MIS), 17,
 82–84, 102
 Ministry of Commerce and Industry
 (MCI), 65
 Ministry of Finance (MFI), 65
 Ministry of Government Administration and Home Affairs (MOGA), 59
 Ministry of Health and Welfare
 (MOWH), 59
- Ministry of Strategy and Finance (MSOF), 14, 59
MITI and the Japanese Miracle
 (Johnson), 8
- National Basic Livelihood Security Scheme
 (NBLSS), 145–47
 National Council of Korean Trade Unions
 (NCKTU), 64, 99, 108
 National Health Insurance Scheme
 (NHIS), 142–45
 National Pension Reform Board (NPRB),
 139–42
 National Pension Scheme (NPS), 17,
 105–06, 112, 139–42, 167–70
 National Welfare Pension Scheme (NWPS), 78, 80–82, 102
 neo-conservative economic reforms,
 enterprise unionism enforcement,
 84–87
 New Managerial Strategies (NMS), 110–11
 New Village Movement, 75–76
- organized labor, unions, 18, 22, 46–52, 64–65, 94, 97–101, 217–18
- Park Chung Hee, 65–66, 72–73
 Park Geun Hye presidency (2013)
 budgetary restraint, welfare rollback, 199–201
 tax revenue, code reform, 201–05
 pensions, 15, 57–58, 105–07. See also
 National Pension Scheme (NPS)
 politics, political parties, 12, 22–23, 96–97, 100–01, 107–08
 power-resources model, 12–13, 46–52
 private social expenditure, 4–5
 productivism, developmentalism
 thesis, 6–8
 proportional representation (PR) vs.
 single-member district (SMD), 52–55, 96–97
- regionally-specific explanations, unsolved
 questions, 5–8
 Rhee Syngman, 63
 Roh Moo Hyun government, economic unionism and welfare state limits, 154–55, 182–83
 aged society, 167–70
chaebol unions, industrial unionism
 failure, 178–79

- Roh Moo Hyun government,
 economic unionism and welfare state limits (cont.)
 corporate benefits, statutory social insurance schemes, 162 electoral rules, leftist parties, 179–82
 employment flexibility, labor costs, 156–58 employment growth by firm size, 158–59
 enterprise unionism, 170–76
 fertility, female employment, 166–67
 GDP growth, social insurance contributions, 165f6.3
 general election results, 2004, 181t6.5
 labor market liberalization, dualism, polarized welfare state, 155–62
 National Pension Scheme (NPS), 167–70
 Old-age Long-term Care Insurance (OLTCL), 166 problems ranked by seriousness, 171t6.4
 rank and file member preferences, job security and income, 171 social concentration, social reform movement in decline, 176–77
 Social Solidarity Movement (SSM), 181–82
 social solidarity movement failure, 179–82 solidarity counter-movements, 176–82
 temporary employment, other OECD countries, 158–61
 30 largest chaebols, 160t6.2
 Vision 2030, 162–66
 voluntary corporate welfare by firm size, 174f6.6
 wage differentials, 161
 wages by firm size, 173–74
 welfare state limits, 170–76 Roh Tae Woo, 96, 107, 108–09
- Segyehwa* campaign, 17, 113–16, 119–23
 single-member district system (SMD), 52–55, 94
 social insurance programs, timing, 42
 South Korea development, OECD rankings, 1–4
- South Korean welfare state. See also specific government periods determinants, 15, 27, 60
 future prospects, 216–19
 historical overview, 18 logic of industrialism and, 9
 timing, sequence, 23
 underdevelopment model, 21–22
- South Korean welfare state, comparative perspective, 28–38, 211–17 benefit generosity ranking, key social programs, 31–32 gross public vs. net social expenditure, 36t2.3
 inequality, poverty, polarization indicators, 39t2.4
 social expenditure, 29t2.1
 social expenditure, broad social policy area, 3of2.1
- South Korean welfare state, future prospects
 enterprise unionism, 217
 institutional, electoral system reforms, 216–17
 organized labor, 217–18
 tax revenues and, 218
- South Korean welfare state, historical overview
 development state institution building, 15–17
 Employment Insurance Scheme (EIS), 17–18
 Great Worker Struggle of 1987, 18
 Medical Insurance Scheme (MIS), 17
 National Pension Scheme (NPS), 17
Segyehwa strategy, 17
 social insurances, statutory corporate benefits coverage, 19 underdevelopment continuity, post-democratization, 17–21
- South Korean welfare state, theoretical understanding, 26–27 democracy, electoral rules, 52–56
 industrialism, EOI, employers, 38–46 manufacturing industries chaebols, global companies, 44–45 power-resources model, organized labor, 46–52 proportional representation (PR) vs. single-member district (SMD), 52–55, 96–97

Index

249

- social insurance programs, timing, 42
- social welfare programs, policy
 - spectrum, 47–48
- statism, 56–59
- state-society relations, bureaucracy
 - centralization, 63–66
- statism, 13–14, 56–59
- Supreme Council for National Reconstruction (SCNR), 63–64
- wage compression, 75–76