

Index

- absenteeism, 153
 access to resources, 7
 ActionAid, 57–58, 61, 72
 Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 167–168
 agency, 6–7, 24, 81, 111, 116, 188
 agricultural wages, 168–169
 altruism, 62
 AMSSF, Morocco, 144
 Andhra Pradesh, India, 171–172 Association for Solidarity and Development (AMSED), 48.
See also non-governmental organizations (NGOs)
 autonomy within marriage, 91–93, 114
- Bagati, D., 104, 131, 136–137
 Bamako, Mali, 75–76
 Bangladesh
 authority of microfinance NGOs in, 72
 frontline workers, 87
 graduation programs, 196
 group disempowerment process in, 149 joint decision-making in, 90, 112, 113 labor actions and political campaigns, 166
 microfinance training in, 62–63 negative loan economic outcomes in, 99–100
 number of microlenders in, 51 penalties for non-repayment in, 154 public shaming in, 149
 training programs in, 140
 women's workload in, 122
- bilateral trade agencies, 48
 Bosnia-Herzegovina, 2 bottom billion capitalism, 195 bottom of the pyramid (BOP) schemes, 195 BRAC (Building Resources Across Communities), 52–54. See also non-governmental organizations
 (NGOs)
 clients, 52
 founding of, 52
 frontline workers, 69
 graduation programs, 196
 husband's permission for loan processing, 65, 66–67
 interventionist role of, 137
 loan repayments, 152
 domestic violence and, 110
 political activism and, 167 relationship with government, 52
 responses to male complaints, 117
 revenue generation, 53
 trends, 53
- Cairo, Egypt, 72
 Calkin, S., 180
 Cameroon, 47, 120, 146
 Campbell, C., 25
 CAMPO, 139–140
 CARE, 48, 138
 caste, 171
 Catholic Relief Services, 48
 Chant, S., 17
 Chow, E., 25

- collective actions, 24–26
 collective mobilizations, 193 attitudes of local authorities in, 173 family conflicts and, 175
 formal political spaces and, 174 limits of, 175–176
 perceived household interests and, 174 Communal Banks, Peru, 86
 conditional cash transfers (CCT)
 definition of, xiv
 empowerment implications, 199–201 feminization of poverty and, 17 gender and, 198–199
 graduation programs and, 196–198
 in Mexico, 19
 as social protection tool, 196–197
 conflict, 23–24
 consciousness raising, 164, 204 Consultative Group to Assist the Poor (CGAP), 86, 194–195 establishment in 1995, 1 Finance for All report, 3
 good practices, 11, 27
 guidelines for MFIs, 49 options of women borrowers, 8 survey of microfinance programs, 2 Cornish, F., 25
 Cotler, A., 137, 162–163

 Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, 81–82, 96–97, 104–105, 129, 171 Daughters of Charity (DoC), 58–59, 167
 demobilization, 160–164
 Department for International Development (DFID), 27–28, 119
 depoliticization, 160–164
 discrimination, 25
 disempowerment
 definition of, xv
 economic impacts of, 186
 at level of consciousness, 83 loan control and, 89
 loan losses
 attribution of, 108–109
 co-responsibility in, 109–110
 stress over, 109–110
 loan losses and, 108–111
 reduction of, 115
 self-exploitation and, 121–122

 sociocultural roots of, 9
 women’s deficits and, 80–81 women’s time poverty and, 151–152 domestic violence, 58, 110
 donors
 access to, 44
 gender conditionality, 59
 monetary incentives, 49
 Downs, M., 75–76
 Drolet, J., 44, 72, 103
 drop outs, 153

 economic downturns, 155 economic empowerment, 186–188 economies of shame, 150
 Egypt, 72
 El Tadamm, 45
 Elias, J., 19
 emergencies, 100
 empowerment, xiv–xv
 basic components of, 5–8
 access to resources, 7
 achievements/outcomes, 7
 choices, 6–7
 CCTs and, 199–201
 core content of, 23
 definition of, 6
 depoliticization and, 13 economic, 186–188
 enabling environment for, 25
 gender, 188–191
 goals, 80–84
 meeting household economic needs, 85
 household. See household empowerment institutional barriers, 96 interactional and social potentials for, 203 market, xv, 19, 20
 microfinance revolution and, 1–15 neoliberalism and, 9
 outcomes of, 180–181
 positive economic outcomes, 103–105 psychological and sociopolitical components of, 83–84
 qualitative explorations of, 30 quantitative measures of, 28–30 social, 186–188
 time frames of, 22
 transformative, xv, 20–23
 WID framing of, 16–17

- epoderamiento*, 80
 Ethiopia, 58–59, 98–99, 102, 109–110, 115–116, 117, 167–168
 Evans, E., 46–47, 89, 163
 exclusionary tactics, 154 extreme poverty, 84
- Fairtrade labeling, 195
ferengi money, 167
 Fez, Morocco, 121
 financial indicators, 30 financial sustainability, 49, 58 FINCA, 94
 free trade agreements, 97 Freedom from Hunger, 75–76. See also
 non-governmental organizations
 (NGOs)
 Freeman, C., 182
 frontline workers, 67–69
 in Bangladesh, 87
 BRAC, 69
 Fundación Paraguaya, 69–71
 gender solidarity and, 74–75 Grameen Bank, 68–69
 as informal intermediaries, 167
 NGOs, 67–69, 74–75
 PROSHIKA (Human Development Center), 69
 self-interest, 67–69
 SOAR, 72–74
 Fundación Paraguaya. See also
 non-governmental organizations
 (NGOs)
 career advancement, 71
 emotions, 70
 frontline workers, 69–71
 gender and creditworthiness, 148 goals of, 70
 incentives, 71
 men's microfinance groups and, 64 renewal of group loans, 151–152 risks by female staff, 70–71 selective employment of gender norms, 70 funding agencies, 204, 205
- gender
 CCTs and, 198–199
 conditionality, 59
 conflict, 64–67
 consciousness, 24–26
 empowerment, 119, 188–191 as an extra-economic phenomenon, 9 ideologies, 124
 inequality, 23–24, 93, 164–165 domains of protection, 63
 as instrumental, 182–183
 norm change, 191–193
 representations, 60
 subordination, 25
 transgressions, 125–130
 gender and development practitioners, 67
 gendering, 16–26
 assumptions in, 16
 conflict and, 23–24
 interpretive mapping, 19–20 power and, 23–24
 transformative consciousness and, 24–26
 transformative empowerment and, 20–23 WID model, 16–17
 women in service of others, 17–18
 Ghana, 57–58, 61, 85, 90, 112–113, 118, 143, 146, 151
 good women, 130, 167
 altruism, 62
 in neoliberalism, 60–61
 graduation programs, 196–198
 Grameen Bank
 authority of, 72
 collusion with local male elites, 67 creation of, xi
 crowding-out effect, 152 emphasis on lending to women, 2, 53 emphasis on revenue and growth, 54
 frontline workers, 68–69
 gender instrumentalism, 57
 interventionist role of, 137
 Gramsci, Antonio, 164
 Griffin, P., 61
 group spaces, 188–191
- Hindu women, 125
 household empowerment, 107–133 agency and, 111, 116
 common impacts of, 111
 decision-making and, 113
 domestic violence and, 110
 exploitation between women and girls in, 122–123
 female-headed households, 123–124 financial autonomy, 115
 gender ideologies and, 124–125
 gender norms and, 128

- household empowerment (cont.)
 gender transgressions, 125–130 in Islamic households, 126 jointness in decision-making, 112 men's material interest and, 107–108
 men's resistance to gender change, 117–118
 negotiating power and, 115
 patriarchy and, 127
 persuasive model, 107
 power and status in household, 128 psychological transformations in, 111–112
 skill-based claims and, 130–131 social empowerment and, 111–116 strengthened fallback position, 114 subterfuge techniques, 129 symbolic subordination, 129–130 visibility of women's achievements and, 112–113
 women's capacity to withhold or withdraw income, 108
 women's domestic workload and,
 120–124
 women's roles and, 126
 household status, 86–87
 Howell, J., 41–42
 human capital, 17
- inclusive neoliberalism, 3–5 INDCARE, 104, 136–137
 in-depth interviews, 31
 India, 2, 46–47, 88–89, 94–95, 102–103, 116, 126, 131, 136–137, 142,
 145–146, 147, 163, 168–169, 170, 171–172
 informal economy, 93, 95–96 informal sector, 9, 10
 Inter-American Development Bank (IADB), 69
 Intermediate Technology Consultants, 119 international financial institutions (IFIs), xi–xii
 funding policies, 48
 gender policies, 13–14, 18, 127 post-Washington Consensus policies, 4 International Monetary Fund (IMF), 4 International Year of Microcredit, 1 interviews, 31
- Jenkins, K., 13
joginis, 172
 Johnson, S., 94
 Joseph, N., 102
- Kabeer, Naila, 6, 91–92, 112, 135, 201–202
 Kandiyoti, D., 67, 124
 Kane, S., 51, 91–92
 Karim, Lamia, 53, 99–100, 149, 150–151
 Kelkar, G., 173
 Kellett, N. C., 73–74, 122
 Kenya, 63–64
 Kerala, India, 51, 74, 114, 126, 140, 142, 145–146, 162, 166, 172, 173, 175
 Khandewal, M., 182
 Khandker, S., 27
 Kilby, P., 50–51
 Kumari, K., 73, 74, 114, 126, 140, 142, 148, 162
- Lakwo, A., 80, 113, 126, 129, 131, 147 land right, 168–169
 leftist political parties, 161–163 life histories, 31
 Lingam, L., 171–172
 loans
 access to, gender conditions for, 119 control of, 187
 complexities of, 88
 conditions for, 91–92
 conflict avoidance and, 90 joint, 88
 limiting pre-conditions in, 88
 men's responsibility for repayment, 89 pathways of, 87
 women ceding control to men, 88–89 women's degree of, 87–88 women's perception of men's superior knowledge, 90–91
 diversion from sanctioned purposes, 144–145
 losses
 attribution of, 108–109
 effects of, 167
 household impacts, 108–111 stress and overwork due to, 102 solicitations, 81–82
 terms of, 145
 turning over to men, 187–188
 local elites, 67

- Maharashtra, India, 94–95
 Malawi, 94
 male authority, 65
 Mali, 75–76, 85, 103, 121–122, 153, 154 market empowerment, xv, 8–12. See also transformative empowerment challenge to traditional patriarchal norms, 16
 content of, 20–22
 critical responses to, 12–14
 indicators, 9
 institutional authority and, 19 men's resistance to change and, 20 micro-entrepreneurship and, 93–94
 NGOs and, 49–52
 outcomes of, 20–22
 policies and practices, 9
 self-confidence/self-esteem and, 10 subsidies and, 24
 women's bargaining position and, 20 women's co-responsibility and, 10–11, 13 women's individual-level change and, 10 women's microfinance groups and, 11 women's necessary skills and, 10 market volatility, 95–96
 marketization of development, 195–196
 marriage
 autonomy within, 91–93, 114 economic responsibility in, 91–92 masculinities, representations and practices of, 63–64
 MASUM, 47
 Mayoux, L., 120
 Mbonweh, 47
 men
 approval to access loans, 66 contributions to household, 92 crisis of masculinity, 118
 gender inequality and, 65–66 household- and community-level authority, 129
 male authority, 65
 material interest, 107–108 misogyny and violence of, 154 opposition to microfinance, 65, 119–120 representations and practices of
 masculinities, 63–64
 resistance to gender change, 117–118 responses to microfinance mobilization, 169–171
 status and power, 191–192 taking control of loans, 66 women's economic dependence on, 92–93 meta-synthesis, 27–40
 case selection, 33–39
 criteria for inclusion, 34–35 criteria for qualitative studies, 35–36 substantive content, 36–39
 women's voices in, 39
 coding process, 39–40
 quantitative measures, 28–30 systematic review, 32–33
 Mexico
 CCTs in, 19
 loan-linked transgressions in, 129–130 men's responses to mobilization in, 170 microfinance groups in, 142–143
 NGOs, 139–140
 women borrowers, 140–141
 microcredit, 95
 emotional payoffs of, 114
 gender ideologies and, 127
 joint loan control in, 90
 maximum limits, 84
 Microcredit Summit (1997), 2
 Microcredit Summit Campaign, 18 microenterprises, xii
 microfinance
 as coping mechanism, 101–102 core themes of, 178–180
 as anti-poverty tool, 178–179 as an ideological project, 179 market orientation, 179–180 economic outcomes of, 79–106
 autonomy within marriage, 91–93
 gender norms and, 97–99
 loan control, 87–91
 negative loan economic outcomes, 99–102
 neoliberal reforms, 96–97 positive economic empowerment outcomes, 103–105
 venture into free markets, 93–96 women's economic empowerment in, 86–87
 empowerment and, 1–15, 80–84
 as entry point of NGOs, 46–48 expansion of women's mobility in, 60 features of, xv–xvi
 fees and interest rates, 85
 gendering, 16–26
 global geographic expansion of, 84

- microfinance (cont.)
 good practices, 49
 household status of women and, 86–87 loan processes, 84–86
 market volatility and, 95–96
 marketization of development, 195–196
 overview, 79–80
 as poverty alleviation tool, xiii–xiv quantitative data, 2–3
 saturation, 102–103
 women's success in, 104–105
- microfinance groups, 134–157 activities of, 139
 meetings, 141
 training and workshops, 139
 agency, 143–147
 disempowering processes, 148–149 emotional support and confidence in, 142–143
 empowering benefits of, 138
 information and exchange services in, 143
 leaders in, 190
 leaders' roles in, 138–143
 low-quality, 153–156
 low literacy levels and numeracy skills, 155
 pro forma participation and high drop-out rates, 153
 repayment conflicts, 154 mobilization
 gender needs and, 168
 men's responses to, 169–171
 NGO roles in formation, 135–138
 NGO values/practices and, 145–146
 as open and structured spaces, 141, 192–193
 overview, 134–135
 shaming in, 149–153
 social networks, 142
 as spaces for gender empowerment, 188–191
 factors in, 190
 women's collective experiences and,
 155
- microfinance institutions (MFIs) CGAP guidelines, 49
 definition of, 1
 donor subsidies, 11
 marketing techniques, 51
 men's responses to, 170
 policies and practices, 181
 women clients, 2
- Millennium Development Goals, 5
- Mohamed, F. M., 42–44, 61, 96–97, 128
- Molyneux, M., 19
- Moroccan Association for Solidarity without Borders (AMSSF), 48–49
- Morocco, 2, 48–49, 51, 121, 123, 128, 144
- Muslim women, 125
- National Credit Fund for Women, 104–105
- Nazneen, S., 53, 87, 137
- neoliberalism
 co-responsibility in, 110
 good women in, 60–61
 inclusive, 192
 legitimacy of, 13–14
 market risks and, 94–95
 norms mobilization, 59–63
 in Tanzania, 96–97
- New Delhi, India, 88–89, 104, 111–112, 126, 131, 136–137
- Newaz, W., 90–91
- Nicaragua, xii–xiii, 2
- non-governmental organizations (NGOs), 41–55
 AMSSF Morocco, 48–49
 BRAC, 52–54, 65, 66–67, 69, 110, 117, 137, 152, 167, 196
 characteristics of, 43–44
 class interactions, 71–72
 donors
 access to, 44
 monetary incentives, 50–51
 empowerment and, 180–181, 190–191
 fees and interest rates, 85
 focus on women, 56–78
 motives, 57–59
 pathways, 56–57
 Freedom from Hunger, 75–76
 frontline workers, 67–69, 74–75
 Fundación Paraguaya, 64, 69–71, 148, 151–152
 gender conflict and, 64–67 gender interactions, 71–72 legitimizing purpose of, 202–203
 market empowerment and, 49–52
 microfinance as entry point, 46–48 neoliberal and patriarchal norms, 59–63 origins and orientations of, 42–44
 overview, 41–42

- PROSHIKA, 52–54, 65, 66–67, 69, 117, 137, 150, 152, 174–175
 race/ethnicity interactions, 71–72
 recommendations, 204
 representations and practices of
 masculinities, 63–64
 role in group formation, 135–138 Save the Children (USA), 44–46
 as service implementers, 50–51
 SOAR, 47, 56, 72–74, 122, 135
 social movements and, 203
 transformative empowerment and, 42
 Nyesigiso, 75
- Official Development Assistance (ODA), 119
- Otero, M., 49
- Oxfam GB, 58–59
- Pakistan, 2
panchayat system, 161–162, 166
- Paprocki, K., 102
- Paraguay, 151–152
- Paris Declaration (2005), 205
- participatory projects design, 203
- patriarchy, 59–63, 93, 127
- Pearce, J., 41–42
- Pereira, C., 23–24
- Peru, 47, 56, 62, 92–93, 95, 137, 139, 141, 144, 154, 162–164
- Pitt, M., 27
- political empowerment, 158–177
 collective mobilization achievements, 172–175
 consciousness raising and, 164
 definition of, 158
 degree of, 161
 demobilization, 160–164
 depoliticization, 160–164
 engagement in political activism and, 165 fight against corruption and, 166
 gender inequality and, 164–165 information on labor actions and political campaigns, 166 lack of free time and, 163–164 leftist political parties and, 161–163 men's responses to mobilization, 169–171 organizational material, 166–169
 overview, 158–160
 political consciousness and, 164–166 political participation as rights, 168
- symbolic resources, 166–169 women's feelings of intimidation and inadequacy, 163
 women's interests and, 161
- Poster, W., 48–49
- poverty
 extreme, 84
 sociocultural roots of, 9
 poverty alleviation, 58 poverty reduction strategy papers (PRSPs), 5
 power, 23–24
 definitions of, 23
- PRIDE, 96
- pro forma participation, 153
- pro-poor policies, 4
- PROSHIKA (Human Development Center), 52–54, 66–67. See also
 non-governmental organizations
 (NGOs)
 clients, 52
 family conflicts and, 174–175
 founding of, 52
 frontline workers, 69
 husband's permission for loan processing, 65, 67
 interventionist role of, 137
 loan repayments, 150, 152
 relationship with government, 52
 responses to male complaints, 117
 revenue generation, 53
 trends, 53
- public shaming, 149–153
- pardah*, 30, 125
- qualitative research
 advantages of, 31
 criteria for evaluation of, 35–36
 limitations, 31–32
 systematic review, 32–33
 uses of, 30–31
 women's voices in, 31
- quantitative studies, 28–30 cross-sectional data, 29
 indicators
 financial, 30
 indirect/proxy, 29
 women's roles in household decisions, 30
 limitations, 33
 limitations of, 28

- quantitative studies (cont.)
 quasi-experimental designs, 28–29
 randomized control trials (RCTs), 28
 quasi-experimental designs, 28–29
- Rahman, A., 54, 57
- randomized control trials (RCTs), 28
- Rashtriya Mahila Kosh (RMK), 104–105
- recommendations, 201–205
 legitimizing purpose of microfinance, 202–203
 microfinance poverty alleviation tool, 202
 participatory projects design, 203
- repayment rates, 30, 181
- repayments, 145, 150
 husbands' lack of support, 154
 as source of conflicts, 154
- resource access, 7
- Rhyne, E., 49
- risk management, 194
- risk reduction, 187–188
- Rowlands, J., 23
- Salime, Z., 48–49
- Sanyal, P., 101, 116, 138, 161–162, 165, 173
- Save the Children USA (Egypt), 44–46. See also non-governmental organizations (NGOs)
 empowerment approach, 45 fees, 45
 grants, 44
 withdrawal of donor resources, 46
- Schuster, C. E., 69–70, 148–149, 151–152
- Scott, J.W., 127
- self-help groups (SHGs), 89, 116
- SELFINA, 61, 96
- Sen, Amartya, 17
- Senegal, 51, 118, 129, 149–150
- shaming, 149–153
- silk reelers, 119–120
- Sitalaxmapalya, India, 102–103
- smart economics, 18
- SOAR. See also non-governmental
 organizations (NGOs)
 coercive practices, 73
 contradictory representations, 73–74
 frontline workers, 72–74
 multi-pronged approach, 47
 social interventions, 74
- women's empowerment programs, 56, 122
- women's microfinance groups and,
 135
- social empowerment, 111–116, 186–188
- social interventions, 204
- social movements, 203
- Solomon, C., 82
- South Asia, 65
- structural adjustment programs (SAPs), 4
- subsidies, 12, 24
- Sustainable Development Goals, 5
- Swain, R., 7
- Sweetman, C., 58–59, 98–99, 115–116
- systematic review, 32–33
- Tanzania, 46, 61, 62, 85, 96–97, 128, 147, 151, 171
- Tarapoto, Peru, 146
- training programs, 47, 59, 62, 139–140
- transformative empowerment, xv, 20–23.
See also market empowerment
 content of, 20–22
 definition of, 20–22
 gender ideologies and, 24
 versus market empowerment, 20–22
 NGOs and, 42
 outcomes of, 20–22
 political empowerment and, 158
 quantitative measures of, 29
 recommendations, 202
- Uganda, 80, 113, 126, 129, 130–131, 147, 161, 174
- ultra poor, 84
- unemployment, 95
- UNICEF, 138
- unpaid time and labor, 18
- US Agency for International Development (USAID), 1, 2, 27–28, 44, 48, 69, 94
- Uttaran, 167
- Washington Consensus, xiv, 3–5
- “weapons of the weak” analysis, 127
- West Bengal, 101, 116, 138, 142, 165, 170, 171, 173
- West Bengal Communist Party, 161–162
- women
 choices, 6–7
 collective actions, 25, 158–177
 concept of empowerment, 82

Index

241

- contrasting representations of, 183–184
- devaluation of self, 83
- disempowerment of, 80–81
- domestic workload, 120–124
- economic dependence on husbands and male relatives, 92–93
- economic empowerment of, 86–87
- emergencies, 100
- exercise of agency, 81
- household status, 86–87
- limits of mobilization, 175–176
- loan solicitations, 81–82
- loan use, 184–185
- market rationality of, 61
- negative loan economic outcomes, 99–100
- political consciousness, 164–166
- skill development, 82–83
- social class status, 100
- status in community, 173
- time poverty, 151–152
- women borrowers, statistics, xi–xii
- Women in Development (WID) model, 8, 16–17
- Women’s Association, West Bengal, 138
- workshops, 47, 62, 139–140
- World Bank
 - CGAP, 3, 8, 27
 - country classifications, 34
 - extreme poverty definition, 84
 - financial sustainability definition, 49
 - funding of microfinance, 2, 11
 - graduation programs, 196
 - as leading agent of microfinance, 1
 - market empowerment and, 13
 - on microfinance growth, 3–4
 - neoliberalist approach to global poverty, 4
 - policy shift on microfinance, 194
 - quantitative studies on microfinance, 27–28
 - smart economics, 18
 - women’s rationality and, 61
- Worthen, H., 129–130, 140–141, 170
- Wright, K., 92–93, 141
- Yunus, Muhammad, xi