

Contents

Acknowledgments	viii
Introduction: Male Friendship and Greek Love	i
1 Elegiac Friendship	13
“Alas, poor Yorick!”: Elegiac Friendship in Tristram Shandy	14
“The last Vich Ian Vohr”: History as Loss in Waverley	26
“O Sorrow, wilt thou live with me”: Love and Loss in Tennyson’s In Memoriam	41
“Jacob! Jacob!”: The Culture of Loss in Jacob’s Room	51
2 Erotic Friendship	64
Smollett’s World of Masculine Desire in The Adventures of Roderick Random	65
Adultery and Friendship in Amelia	79
The Abyss of Friendship in Caleb Williams	92
The Horror of Friendlessness in Frankenstein	109
3 Platonic Friendship	120
Friendship and Marriage in Great Expectations	121
Oscar Wilde’s Platonic Dialogue in The Picture of Dorian Gray	136
Platonic Love in The Longest Journey and Maurice	146
Epilogue: Queer Friendship in A Single Man	177
Works Cited	191
Index	199