

Contents

List of Illustrations	page ix
List of Contributors	x
Preface	xiii
List of Abbreviations	xv
PART I RUSSIA AND IDENTITY	I
1 Memory and Truth: Stravinsky's Childhood (1882–1901) Catriona Kelly	3
2 Religion, Life and Death in St Petersburg Natalia Braginskaya	16
3 Leokadiya Kashperova and Stravinsky: The Making of a Concert Pianist Graham Griffiths	24
4 Reminiscences of Rimsky-Korsakov, His Family and Artistic Circle Lidia Ader	34
5 Orthodoxies and Unorthodoxies: Stravinsky's Spiritual Journey Ivan Moody	42
6 The Russian Soul Rowan Williams	50
PART II STRAVINSKY AND EUROPE	59
7 Sergei Diaghilev and Stravinsky: From World of Art to Ballets Russes John E. Bowl	61

vi	Contents
8	Paris and the Belle Époque Davinia Caddy	71
9	Paris, Art Deco and the Spirit of Apollo Jonathan Cross	80
10	Stravinsky's Spain: Fan or Mirror? Graham Griffiths	90
11	'It is Venice that he loves' Mauricio Dottori	98
PART III PARTNERSHIPS AND AUTHORSHIP		107
12	Stravinsky's Sphere of Influence: Paris and Beyond Inessa Bazayev	109
13	Stravinsky and His Literary Collaborators Maureen Carr	117
14	Assuming Co-authorship: Stravinsky and His 'Ghostwriters' Valérie Dufour	125
15	Nadia Boulanger and Stravinsky: The Transition to America Kimberly Francis	133
16	Conversations with Craft Anna Schmidtman	143
PART IV PERFORMANCE AND PERFORMERS		151
17	Challenges to Realism and Tradition: Stravinsky's Modernist Theatre Massimiliano Locanto	153
18	Igor Stravinsky and Ballet as Modernism Stephanie Jordan	162
19	Stravinsky's Ear for Instruments Chris Dromey	170
20	Towards a Conductor-Proof Ideal Hannah Baxter	179

Contents		vii
21	The Pianist in the Recording Studio: Reimagining Interpretation Daniel Barolsky	187
22	The Legacy of Stravinsky as Recorded History Per Dahl	195
PART V AESTHETICS AND POLITICS		203
23	Stravinsky versus Literature Emily Frey	205
24	Stravinsky and Greek Antiquity Katerina Levidou	213
25	Stravinsky's Response to Japonisme Mai Ikehara	222
26	Stravinsky, Modernism and Mass Culture Ross Cole	230
27	Perspectives on Schoenberg and Stravinsky: Adorno and Others Alan Street	238
28	Stravinsky's 'Problematical' Political Orientation during the 1920s and 1930s Erik Levi	250
PART VI RECEPTION AND LEGACY		259
29	The Apollonian Clockwork Rewound Elmer Schönberger	261
30	Stravinsky Reception in the USSR Philip Ewell	270
31	The Stravinsky/Craft Conversations in Russian and Their Reception Olga Manulkina	279
32	Publishing Stravinsky Nigel Simeone	288

viii	Contents
33	Copyright, the Stravinsky Estate and the Paul Sacher Foundation Heidy Zimmermann	296
34	Evoking the Past, Inspiring the Future Lynne Rogers	304
35	‘Music is, by its very nature, essentially powerless to express anything at all’ Daniel K. L. Chua	313
	Recommendations for Further Reading and Research	322
	Index	341