

Index

- a priori, relative, 162
- absence. See presence and absence
- abstractionist theory, of concept formation, 30–32
- action, 48, 57–61
  - bodily, in egocentric space, 114–115
  - Brandom on, 48–54, 59
  - Dewey on, 179–180, 241–242
  - fanciful and objective, 241–242
- affordances, 80, 190–191
- answerability, 5, 9, 99–100
  - Brandom on, 43, 72, 83, 85–86
  - classical pragmatists on, 5–6
  - Dewey on, 157–159, 162–163, 165–166, 191, 193, 218, 223, 236–241
  - empiricism and, 10
  - Erlebnis*, Erfahrung and, 16–17
  - James on, 157
  - new pragmatists on, 21
  - of perception, 80–81
  - realism on, 18, 193
  - Rorty on, 1–3, 39
- anthropomorphism, 237–238
- antirealism, 235–240
  - Davidson on, 235
  - Dewey and, 237
  - of Rorty, 39
- association, 132, 144, 146, 226
- atomism
  - of Brandom, 44, 55–57, 61–62
  - Dewey's critique, 62–63, 226
  - intellectualism and, 44, 57, 127
  - James on, 125–131, 141, 144, 146–147, 153, 235–236
  - of Locke, 129–130, 225–226
  - of the TOTE cycle, 55, 61–63, 81
- attention
  - Dewey on, 6, 79, 205
  - James on, 13, 17, 124–125, 130, 136, 144–147, 149–151, 155–156, 235–236
  - reversing, in time, 151
- belief
  - Peirce on, 193–195
  - as veridical, 188
- Berkeley, George, 111, 146
- Bernstein, Richard J., 1–3, 10, 32, 185, 241
- Bildung*, 14–15, 18, 199, 219–220
- biology, 209–210, 221–222. See also Darwinism
- Black, Max, 200, 204
- Bourdieu, Pierre, 59
- Boyle, M., 53, 191
- Brandom, Robert, 10, 87–94. See also
  - commitments; scorekeeping; TOTE cycle
  - on action, 48–54, 59
  - on answerability, 43, 72, 83, 85–86
  - atomism of, 44, 55–57, 61–62
  - on Cartesian mind, 26
  - communicative-theoretic account of
    - objectivity of, 15–16, 82–100, 118–119
    - on de re ascriptions, 88–91
    - default and challenge structure of, 75–77, 188
  - on Erlebnis and Erfahrung, 11–13, 15, 43–44, 66–67, 69–75, 79, 81, 83
  - McDowell and, 70–74
  - mind-body distinction of, 44, 61
  - Myth of the Given and, 40–42, 50, 52, 56, 60, 70–71, 75, 166–167
  - objectivity rehabilitated by, 28–29, 40–42
  - on perception, two-ply theory of, 51–53, 61–62, 70–71
  - phenomenalism and, 94–96
  - on practical Myth of the Given, 49–53, 60
  - on rational constraint, 67–75, 78
  - rationalist pragmatism of, 15, 43–47, 66–67
  - on regulism, 44–45
  - reliabilism of, 71–72
  - on representation, 28, 45–46

Index

255

- Rorty and, 15, 21–23, 26–29, 33, 37, 39–44, 69
- social externalism of, 70–71
- Stout, R., on, 49
- Wanderer on, 85–86
- Bridges, J., 102–103, 107
- Burge, Tyler, 125, 148
- Burke, T., 5, 80, 159, 187, 193
- Campbell, John, 109–111, 115–116
- Cartesian. See Descartes
- Cassam, Q., 111
- cognitive map, 115–117
- Cohen, M. R., 237
- coherentism, 78, 81, 167
  - Dewey and, 164–166, 168, 179–180
  - McDowell and, 182, 220
- commitments, 47–51, 53
  - communication and, 87–92, 94, 96–98
  - substitutional-inferential, 90–91
  - TOTE cycle and, 53–57, 66–69, 75–78, 81, 86
- communication, 3, 15–16
  - Brandom on, 87–94
  - Bridges on, 102
  - commitments and, 87–92, 94, 96–98
  - Grice on, 105–106
  - intention in, Davidson on, 105–106
  - interpretation and, 88
  - linguistic, Dewey on, 199–209, 212, 240
  - linguistic, environment and, 212
  - linguistic, Lockean account of, 200
  - linguistic, Rorty on, 232–234
  - Myth of the Given and, 229–230
  - scorekeeping and, 87–92
  - triangulation and, 105–108
- communicative-theoretic account of objectivity, 3, 15
  - of Brandom, 15–16, 82–100, 118–119
  - Campbell and, 109–110
  - of Davidson, 15–16, 82–83, 101–110, 117–118, 123, 188
  - perceptual-theoretic account and, 83, 109–110, 117–118
- conception
  - James on, 149–150
  - Peirce on, 194–196
  - perception and, Dewey on, 168–169, 183–184
- consciousness
  - attention and, Dewey on, 79
  - control, optimality and, 59–60
  - Dewey on mind and, 79
  - James on, 123–125, 145
  - objective, 145
- control, 41
  - conscious, optimality and, 59–60
  - Dewey on, 240–242
- correspondence theory, of truth, 8–9, 165
- Darwinism, 221–222, 225–226, 232–233
- Davidson, Donald, 167
  - on antirealism, 235
  - on communication, intention in, 105–106
  - communicative-theoretic account of objectivity and, 15–16, 82, 101–110, 117–118, 123, 188
  - egocentric, objective space and, 117–118
  - experience eschewed by, 10
  - Myth of the Given and, 166–167
  - objectivity as public-ness for, 108–109
  - perceptual-theoretic account and, 109–110, 117–118
  - on surprise, 102–103
  - triangulation of, 37, 101–108, 117–118, 203
  - on truth and error, 101–103
  - Wittgenstein and, 103–104, 108
- de re* and de dicto ascriptions, 93–94
- Brandom on, 88–91
- distinction between, 88–90
- in scorekeeping terms, 89–90, 97, 99
- in substitutional-inferential commitments, 90–91
- default and challenge structure, 75–77, 188
- Descartes
  - Brandom on, 26
  - epistemology and, 34–36
  - incorrigibility of, 23–24
- Dewey, John, 3, 10, 13–15, 225. See also environment
  - on action, 179–180, 241–242
  - on answerability, 157–159, 162–163, 165–166, 191, 193, 218, 223, 236–241
  - anthropomorphism and, 237–238
  - atomism critiqued by, 62–63, 226
  - on attention, 6, 79, 205
  - Bildung* and, 14–15, 18, 199
  - biology and, 209–210, 221–222
  - coherentism and, 164–166, 168, 179–180
  - on conflicted situation, 176–178
  - on control, 240–242
  - on correspondence theory, 165
  - empiricism of, 17–18, 158–159, 190, 192–193
  - epistemology and, 6–8, 188, 239
  - Erfahrung* and, 14–15, 17–18, 44, 79, 193, 197–200, 209, 223, 228
  - Erlebnis* and, 11, 80
  - on existence, plateaus of, 222, 230–231

- Dewey, John (cont.)
 on experiment, 13, 17–18, 173–174, 179–180, 198, 215–217, 230–231, 237
 on facts, 178–179, 184
 fringe or marginal consciousness and, 173, 175
 habit and, 14–15, 17–18, 172–175, 181, 189, 192–193, 197–200, 204–207, 209,
 211–214, 223, 229–231, 237–238, 240–242
 Hegel and, 158, 161–162, 170–171, 210, 225
 inquiry and, 6–7, 179, 188, 198–199, 213–214, 226
 on intention, 202–203
 on intrinsic and relational properties, 217–218
 James and, 3, 62–63, 162, 221, 236
 on Kant, 160–173, 181, 229–230
 on know-how, 59
 on knowledge, 214–217
 on linguistic communication, 199–209, 212, 240
 logic of, 158–162, 168–169, 183, 188, 229
 McDowell and, 17–18, 164–166, 168–170, 173–175, 190–191, 193, 221, 229
 on meaning, 14–15, 18, 66, 79, 164–165, 180, 191, 193, 202–209
 on mind and consciousness, 79
 Myth of the Given and, 9–10, 18, 79–80, 164–168, 180, 186–187, 193, 225–230
 natural realism of, 209–218
 naturalism of, 58, 192–193, 201–203, 238
 panpsychism and, 228, 230–231
 Peirce and, 3, 160, 193, 198, 238
 on perception, 79–81, 168–174, 179, 183–184, 217–218
 on philosopher's fallacy, 171
 on primary experience, 170–176, 178, 181, 188, 215–216, 228
 on quality, 184–189, 206, 230–231
 realism and, 193, 209–218, 236–241
 on reason, 224–225
 on receptivity, spontaneity and, 168–170, 172–173, 181, 189
 on reflex arc, 62–63, 65–66, 170
 Rorty and, 18, 193, 201, 225–234
 Russell on, 177, 187
 on science, logic of, 160–161
 on science, spirit of, 161–163
 second nature and, 192–193, 199, 218, 221–223, 239–240
 on situations, 184–189
 on stimulus and response, 62–66
 on surprise, 177
 on thought, 163–169, 179, 185–186, 214
 TOTE cycle and, 55–56, 62–63, 65–66
 on tribunal, experience as, 17–18, 158–159, 166, 168, 175–176, 180–182, 192–193
 on truth, 7, 179
 in two-pragmatist reading, 4–6, 9
 on unboundedness, 183–184, 187–189
 Wittgenstein and, 201
 Dilthey, Wilhelm, 12
 disposition. See habit
 Dogmatism, 228
Erlebnis and, 77
 TOTE cycle and, 77–78
 doubt
 Dewey on, 177, 198
 Peirce on, 177, 188
 Dreyfus, H., 190–191
 Eilan, N., 112
 eliminative materialism
 abstractionist theory and, 31–32
 of Rorty, 22–23, 27, 29–32, 34, 38, 40
 embodied coping skills, 190–191
 emergence, panpsychism and, 228, 230–231
 empiricism, 16, 123, 160–161, 202–203 association in, 132, 144, 226
 on content, abstractionist theory of, 30–31
 of Dewey, 17–18
 of Dewey, experimental, 158–159, 190, 192–193
 of Dewey, naturalistic, 192–193
 James and, 132, 134–136, 144
 minimal, 10–11, 17–18, 158–159, 166, 190
 Myth of the Given and, 30, 158–159
 Enlightenment. See second Enlightenment environment, 209–211
 habit in, 211–214
 language and, 212
 situation as, 189
 social, 211–213
 epistemic neutralization, of sensation, 33–34, 36–37
 epistemic objectivity
 Dewey on, 6–8
 inquiry in, 7–9
 Misak on, 7–9
 epistemology
 Descartes and, 34–36
 Dewey and, 188, 239
Erlebnis in, 12
 as first philosophy, 1
 Locke and, 34–38
 Plato and, 36–37
 Rorty on, 34–38
Erfahrung, 11–12, 79–81, 237. See also Hegel,
 G. W. F.
 answerability and, 16–17
 Brandom on, 11–12, 15, 43–44, 66–67,
 69–70, 75, 79, 81, 83

Index

257

- Dewey and, 11, 14–15, 17–18, 44, 79, 193, 197–200, 209, 223, 228
- James and, 11, 13, 139
  - as temporal, 228–229
  - TOTE cycle and, 66–67, 75–76, 78
- Erlebnis*, 85–86
  - answerability and, 16–17
  - Brandom on, 11–13, 15, 43–44, 66, 69–75, 83
  - Dewey and, 11, 80
  - Dilthey on, 12
  - double-checking and, 77
  - in epistemology, 12
  - in experiential-theoretic account of objectivity, 15, 123
  - James on, 11–13, 17, 123, 139
  - perception and, 81
  - rational constraint and, 72–75, 78–79
  - TOTE cycle and, 77–78
- Evans, Gareth, 110–111, 125
  - experiential-theoretic account and, 125
  - James and, 126, 149
  - perceptual-theoretic account of, 82–83, 110–117, 123
  - on spatial concepts, egocentric and absolute, 113–117
  - on spatial consciousness, 16, 110–111, 113–115
- existence, plateaus of, 222, 230–231
- experience. See specific topics
- experiential-theoretic account of objectivity, 3, 16–18, 123, 125–126
  - Dewey and, 176–181, 187–189, 209–218, 223
  - James and, 123, 125–126, 139–143, 151–156
- experiment, 180
  - Dewey on, 13, 17–18, 173–174, 179–181, 198, 215–217, 230–231, 237
  - Erfahrung* and, 237
  - in inquiry, 179, 198
  - primary experience and, 173–174
  - spontaneity and, 181
- experimental empiricism. See empiricism
- externalism, 70–71
- facts
  - Brandom on, 85
  - Dewey on, 178–179, 184
- foundationalism, 5, 35–36, 41–42, 75–76
- fringe or marginal consciousness, 136, 150–151, 173, 175
- German Idealism, 163, 228
- Gibson, J. J., 80
- Grice, Paul, 105–106, 202–203
- Habermas, Jürgen, 2–3, 85–86
- habit, 61. See also know-how
  - Dewey and, 14–15, 17–18, 172–175, 181, 189, 192–193, 197–200, 204–207, 209, 211–214, 223, 229–231, 237–238, 240–242
  - disposition and, 193–197
  - in environment, 211–214
  - in Erfahrung, 14–15, 199
  - intelligent practices and, Ryle on, 196–197
  - intentional action and, 57–61
  - meaning and, 14–15, 18, 66, 205–209
  - Myth of the Given and, 60–61, 229–230
  - Peirce on, 193–198
- Hall, Everett, 206–207
- Haugeland, J., 77
- Hegel, G. W. F., 11–12
  - Dewey and, 158, 161–162, 170–171, 210, 225
  - neo-Kantian tradition and, 161
- Hildebrand, D., 1, 17, 193, 214, 225
- Husserl, Edmund, 142–143
- incorrigibility
  - Brandom on, 27–28, 40
  - in Cartesian tradition, 23–24
  - Rorty and, 15, 22–28, 40
  - Ryleans and, 23–25, 35
- inquiry, 5–6
  - Dewey and, 6–7, 179, 188, 198–199, 213–214, 226
  - epistemic objectivity and, 7–9
  - experiment in, 179, 198
  - Peirce on, 7, 193–194
- instrumental logic. See logic
- intellectualism
  - atomism and, 44, 57, 127
  - Brandom and, 44–47, 55–57
  - rationalist pragmatism and, 44–47
- James, William, 3
  - on answerability, 157
  - on atomism, 125–131, 141, 144, 146–147, 153, 235–236
  - on attention, 13, 17, 124–125, 130, 136, 144–147, 149–151, 155–156, 235–236
  - on conceptions, 149–150
  - Condillac and, 140
  - on consciousness, objective, 142–143
  - on consciousness, sensory and cognitive, 123–124
  - on consciousness as selecting agency, 124–125
- Dewey and, 3, 62–63, 162, 221, 236
- empiricism and, 132, 134–136, 144
- Erfahrung* and, 11, 13, 139
- on Erlebnis, 11–13, 17, 123, 139

- James, William (cont.)
 on experience, 3–5, 11–13, 124–125, 143, 157, 162, 235–236
 field of view and, 149–156
 Husserl and, 142–143
 on identification, synthesis of, 142
 on intending the Same, 125, 138–139, 142–143, 148
 on interest, 148–149
 introspection and, 141
 Kant and, 12–13, 131–132, 149, 235–236
 Kierkegaard and, 151–152
 on marginal more, 154–156, 236
 Merleau-Ponty and, 236
 Myth of the Given and, 9–10
 naturalism of, 236
 on objectivity, experience of, 151–156
 phenomenology of, 236
 on presence and absence, 153–156
 on psychologist's fallacy, 127–129, 171
 on quality, 130, 140–142, 145, 147
 on self-transcendence, 139–141
 on sensation, definitions of, 144–145
 on spatial consciousness, 144–156, 235–236
 Strawson, Evans and, 126, 149
 on succession, in spatial consciousness, 150–151
 on thought, characteristics of, 128–139, 153
 on thought, stream of, 134–135, 138–139, 142, 151–152
 triangulation and, 142–143
 in two-pragmatist reading, 4–5, 9
 on unity and objectivity, 139–143
 on voluminousness, 145
- Kant, Immanuel
 Dewey on, 160–162, 173, 181
 dualism of, Dewey on, 161, 163–172, 229–230
 James and, 12–13, 131–132, 149, 235–236
 logic of, 160–161
 on objectivity, Davidson and, 101
 Rorty and, 26, 35, 229
 on space, Evans and, 111
- Kestenbaum, V., 193
- Kierkegaard, Søren, 151–152
- know-how, 59, 196–197
- knowledge
 Dewey on, 214–217
 experiment and, 215
 non-idealistic readings of, 216
- Koopman, Colin, 186–187, 199
- language. See communication
- Lewis, C. I., 9
- linguistic communication. See communication
- linguistic turn, 1–3, 21–22, 26
- Locke, John, 35–36, 202–203
 atomism of, 129–130, 225–226
 James on, 129–130, 144
 Myth of the Given and, 35–36
 Rorty on, 34–38, 225–226
 simple ideas of, 129–130, 144, 225–226
 on speech, 200
- logic
 Dewey and, 159–162, 168–169, 183, 188
 empiricist, 160–161
 instrumental, of Dewey, 158, 229
 Kantian, 160–161
 life-function and, 160
 Peirce on, Dewey and, 160
 post-Fregian, 159–160
- Lotze, H., 163–172
- McDowell, John, 38, 221
 on Bildung, 18, 219–220
 Brandom and, 70–74
 coherentism and, 182, 220
 Dewey and, 17–18, 164–166, 168–170, 173–175, 190–191, 193, 221, 229
 Dreyfus and, 190–191
 on intuitional content, 174–175
 on judgment, 10, 167–168
 minimal empiricism of, 10–11, 17–18, 158–159, 166, 190
 on Myth of the Given, 70, 164–165, 167–168, 220, 229
 naturalized platonism of, 220
 on perception, 190–191
 on rational constraint, 73–74, 182
 on reason, 219–221, 224
 on second nature, 218–221, 223–224
 on tribunal, experience as, 10–11, 17–18, 158–159, 167–168, 176, 182
 on unboundedness, 182–183
 Wittgenstein and, 220
- Mead, G. H., 202–203
- meaning
 Dewey on, 14–15, 18, 66, 79, 164–165, 180, 191, 193, 202–209
 habit and, 14–15, 18, 66, 205–209
 McDowell on, 223–224
 Peirce on, 10, 193–195, 199–200
 referential and immanent, 206–209
 symbolic, 206–209
- Merleau-Ponty, Maurice, 58–59, 148, 236

Index

259

- Mill, John Stuart, 160–161
- mind-body distinction, 44, 61–62
- Misak, Cheryl, 2–3
  - on answerability, 9
  - on Dewey, 214
  - on epistemic objectivity, 7–9
  - on new pragmatists, 2–3, 9–10
  - on truth, 6–7
  - two-pragmatist reading of, 4–5, 9–10
- Myth of Jones. See Ryleans
- Myth of the Given, 2, 17–18, 60–61
  - authority and, 228–229
  - Brandom and, 40–42, 50, 52, 56, 60, 70–71, 75, 166–167
  - communication and, 229–230
  - Dewey and, 9–10, 18, 79–80, 164–168, 180, 186–187, 193, 225–230
  - Dogmatism and, 228
  - empiricism and, 30, 158–159
  - experiential-theoretic account and, 18
  - James and, 9–10
  - Locke and, 35–36
  - McDowell on, 70, 164–165, 167–168, 220, 229
  - Peirce and, 10
  - practical, Brandom on, 49–53, 60
  - Rorty and, 18, 30, 32–38, 166–167, 193, 225–229
  - Sellars on, 1, 9, 34, 50–51, 207
- naturalism
  - of Dewey, 58, 192–193, 201–203, 209–218, 223, 238
  - fallacy of, 232
  - of James, 236
  - platonist, of McDowell, 220
  - of Rorty, 232–233
- neo-Hegelianism, 161, 170–171
- neo-Kantianism
  - on answerability, 157
  - atomism and, 236
  - neo-Hegelianism as, Dewey on, 161
  - perceptual-theoretic account in, 110, 123
  - on spatial consciousness, 146
- neo-pragmatism, of Rorty, 1–2, 21
- new pragmatists, 23
  - Misak on, 2–3, 9–10
  - on objective correctness, 21–22
- Noë, A., 80
- nominalism, psychological
  - of Rorty, 33–34, 38–39
  - Ryleans and, 33–34
  - of Sellars, 32–33
- norm, of optimality, 58–60
- object-as-it-is-intended, 128–129, 133–134, 136–139
- objectivity. See specific topics
- objectivity of content, 5–6, 8–10
- object-which-is-intended, 137–139
- panpsychism, 225–228
  - Dewey and, 228, 230–231
  - Rorty on, 230–231, 233
- Peirce, C. S., 9–10
  - on belief, 193–195
  - on conceptions, 194–196
  - on concrete reasonableness, 197–198
  - Dewey and, 3, 160, 193, 198, 238
  - on doubt, 177, 188
  - on habit, 193–198
  - on inquiry, 7, 193–194
  - on meaning, 10, 193–195, 199–200
  - Myth of the Given and, 10
  - Rorty on, 225–226, 231
  - semiotics of, 199
  - subjunctive conditional of, 195–196
  - on truth, 7
  - in two-pragmatist reading, 4–6, 9
- perception
  - affordances and, 80, 190–191
  - answerability of, 80–81
  - conception and, 168–169, 183–184
  - Dewey on, 79–81, 168–174, 179, 183–184, 217–218
  - in Erfahrung, 80–81
  - Erlebnis* and, 81
  - James on, 146–147
  - McDowell on, 190–191
  - photograph model of, 80
  - Sellars on, 228
  - spatial conditions of, 16, 112–113, 123
  - temporal conditions of, 112
  - in TOTE cycle, 79–81
  - two-ply theory of, Brandom on, 51–53, 61–62, 70–71
  - veridical, 16, 109–110, 113
- perceptual-theoretic account, 82
  - Campbell and, 109–110
  - communicative-theoretic account and, 83, 109–110, 117–118
- Davidson and, 109–110, 117–118
  - of Evans, 82–83, 110–117, 123
  - as neo-Kantian, 110, 123
  - scorekeeping and, 118–119
  - of Strawson, 82–83, 110, 123
- phenomenology, 137, 193, 236
- Plato
  - dualism of, 62
  - epistemology and, 36–37

- Plato (cont.)
 McDowell and, 220
 Rorty and, 231–232
 pragmatism. See specific topics
 Price, H., 21, 23, 167
 primary experience. See Dewey, John private language argument, 201
 psychologist's fallacy, 127–129, 171
 public-ness, objectivity as, 108–109
 Putnam, Hilary, 2–3, 21
- quale, spatial, 145
 quality
 Dewey on, 184–189, 206, 230–231
 James on, 130, 140–142, 145, 147
 of situation, 188–189
- rational constraint, 182
 answerability and, 72
 Brandom on, 67–75, 78
Erfahrung and, 75
Erlebnis and, 72–75, 78–79
 Myth of the Given and, 166–167
 reliabilism and, 72
 rationalist pragmatism, 15, 43–47, 66–67
 realism. See also antirealism and answerability, 18, 193
 Dewey and, 193, 209–218, 236–241
 and objectivity, two questions of, 17
 of Dewey, 223
 of Peirce, 197–198
 receptivity, spontaneity and, 168–170, 172–173, 181, 189
 reflex arc, 62–63, 65–66, 170
 reliabilism, 71–72
 rational constraint and, 72
 scorekeeping and, 71–74
 representation
 Brandom on, 28, 45–46, 87–91
 communication and, 28, 87–91
 Locke on, Rorty and, 35–36
- Rorty, Richard, 5, 223–224
 on answerability, 1–3, 39
 antirealism of, 39
 Brandom and, 15, 21–23, 26–29, 37, 39–44, 69
 on causal and rational constraint, 36–38, 41
 coherentism of, 167
 on Darwinism, 225–226, 232–233
 Dewey and, 18, 193, 201, 225–234
 dualism of, McDowell on, 38
 eliminative materialism of, 22–23, 27, 29–32, 34, 38, 40
 on epistemology, 34–38
- on experience, 1–2, 4–5, 9–10, 12–13, 15, 69–70, 193, 227–228
 on explanation and justification, confusion of, 34–36, 38–39
 on incorrigibility, 15, 22–28, 40
 Kant and, 26, 35, 229
 on linguistic communication, 232–234
 linguistic turn and, 21–22, 26
 on Locke, 34–38, 225–226
 Myth of the Given and, 18, 30, 32–38, 166–167, 193, 225–229
 naturalism of, 232–233
 neo-pragmatism of, 1–2, 21
 objectivity, hostility of, 21–23, 26–27, 29, 34–41, 43
 on panpsychism, 230–231, 233
 on Peirce, 225–226, 231
 psychological nominalism of, 33–34, 38–39
 reason and, 229
 second Enlightenment of, 22, 27, 39–40
 Sellars and, 15, 23–24, 26, 30, 32–34, 38, 41, 231–233
 on sensation, 29–34, 38
 on triangulation, 37
 in two-pragmatist reading, 4–5, 9
- Russell, Bertrand, 177, 187
 Ryle, G., 196–197
 Ryleans, 30, 98
 Descartes and, 35
 incorrigibility and, 23–25, 35
 psychological nominalism and, 33–34
- Sachs, Carl, 82, 166
 Santayana, George, 237
 Särkela, Arvi, 222
 scorekeeping, 28–29, 46–47, 77, 94
 communication and, 87–92
de re and de dicto ascriptions in, 89–90, 97, 99 idealist error and, 96–99
 objectivity in, 92–93, 98–100
 perceptual-theoretic account and, 118–119
 phenomenism and, 94–96
 rational constraint and, 73–74
 realist error of, 96
 reliabilism and, 71–74
 third-person attitude on, 97–98
 TOTE cycle and, 78
- second Enlightenment, 22, 27, 39–40
 second nature
Bildung and, 219–220
 Dewey and, 192–193, 199, 218, 221–223,
 239–240
 McDowell on, 218–221, 223–224

Index

261

- Sellars, Wilfrid, 2, 4–5, 223–224
  - on Myth of the Given, 1, 9, 34, 50–51, 207
  - on perceptual experience, 228
  - on pre-linguistic awareness, 32
  - psychological nominalism of, 32–33
  - Rorty and, 15, 23–24, 26, 30, 32–34, 38, 41, 231–233
  - Ryleans of, 23–25, 30, 33–35, 98
  - on Special Creation, 231–232
- sensation
  - definitions of, James on, 144–145
  - embodied, 59
  - epistemic neutralization of, 33–34, 36–37
  - Rorty on, 29–34, 38
- situation
  - conflicted, Dewey on, 176–178
  - Dewey on, 184–189
  - as environment, 189
  - primary experience and, 188
  - thought and, 185–186
  - as unbounded, 187–189
- space
  - Cassam on, 111
  - egocentric and objective, 114–115, 117–118
  - Evans on, 111, 117
  - in experiential-theoretic account, 125–126
  - Kant on, 111
- spatial concepts, egocentric and absolute, 113–118
- spatial consciousness. See also consciousness;
  - fringe or marginal consciousness
  - answerability and, 119
  - Berkeleyan view of, 146
  - Evans on, 16, 110–111, 113–115
  - James on, 144–156, 235–236
  - presence and absence in, 152–156
  - received view of, 145–147
  - Strawson on, 16, 110–111
  - temporal succession in, 150–151
  - triangulation and, 108–109
- Stern, R., 82
- stimulus and response, 62–66
- Stout, Jeffrey, 2, 21–22
- Stout, Roland, 49
- Strawson, P. F., 110, 125
  - experiential-theoretic account and, 125
  - James and, 126, 149
  - perceptual-theoretic account of, 82–83, 110, 123
  - on spatial consciousness, 16, 110–111
- stream of thought. See thought
- surprise
  - Davidson on, 102–103
  - Dewey on, 177
- therapeutic practice, philosophy as, 220–221
- thought
  - characteristics of, James on, 128–139, 153
  - constant change of, 128–130
  - Dewey on, 163–169, 179, 185–186, 214
  - experience as tribunal for, 158–159, 166–168
  - introspection and, 141
  - object of, 128–129, 133–134, 136–139
  - presence and absence in, 153–154
  - as sensibly continuous, 128–129, 132–134, 139
  - situation and, 185–186
  - stream of, 134–135, 138–139, 142, 151–152
  - as unitary and singular pulse, 128–133, 139, 153
- thought, topic of. See object-which-is-intended
- thought's object. See object-as-it-is-intended
- TOTE cycle, 43–44
  - as algorithmic, 54–57, 62–63
  - atomism of, 55, 61–63, 81
  - commitments and, 53–57, 66–69, 75–78, 81, 86
  - Dewey and, 55–56, 62–63, 65–66
  - double-checking and, 77–78
  - Erfahrung* and, 66–67, 75–76, 78
  - Erlebnis* and, 77–78
  - intellectualism of, 55–56
  - Myth of the Given and, 56
  - perception in, 79–81
  - rational constraint and, 67–69
  - reflex arc and, 62–63, 65
  - scorekeeping and, 78
  - world-involvingness of, 85–86
- triangulation
  - cognitive, 103
  - of Davidson, 37, 101–108, 117–118, 203
  - of Dewey, 203
  - egocentric, objective space and, 117–118
  - error awareness and, 102–108
  - of James, 142–143
  - linguistic communication required by, 107
  - pre-cognitive, 103–104
  - spatial-consciousness and, 108–109
- tribunal, experience as, 174
  - Dewey on, 17–18, 158–159, 166, 168, 175–176, 180–182, 192–193
  - McDowell on, 10–11, 17–18, 158–159, 167–168, 176, 182
- truth
  - correspondence theory of, 8–9, 165
  - Dewey on, 7, 179

262

Index

truth (cont.)
    epistemic objectivity and, 8–9
    error and, Davidson on, 101–103
    Misak on, 6–7
    Peirce on, 7
two-pragmatist reading, 4–6, 9–10
unboundedness of the conceptual, 182–184
unboundedness of the situation, 187–189

Wanderer, J., 85–86
Willaschek, M., 182
Wittgenstein, Ludwig, 15–16
    Davidson and, 103–104, 108
    Dewey and, 201
    on interpretation, 88
    McDowell and, 220
private language argument of,
    201