CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-46079-8 — Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning
Edited by Christian Jones
Index
More Information

Index

500 Days of Summer, 140

academic performance, 202, 204 academic word list (AWL), 210 academic writing, 202, 204 action research methods, 204 adjacency pairs, 127, 131, 140 adjectives, 100, 103, 109, 112, 113, 114, 195 evaluative and emotive, 96
  high frequency use in haiku poetry, 107
adverbs, 100, 195
advertising, 152, 169
aesthetic reading, 152
aesthetic textual manipulation, 153 affective response, 191, 196 affective words, 112
affordances, 176, 177, 179, 180, 181, 182, 186, 196, 197, 234 definition, 177
age, 39
agency, 122, 136, 137, 141, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 196, 197, 199, 201 aloofness, 34
An Education, 140
analysis of variance (ANOVA), 78
apologies, 140
  apologetic expressions, 137 appropriate choice, 119 archaic language, 34
articles, 71, 100
attitude, 28
audience, 97
Austria, 74
authenticity, 206
auxiliary verbs, 100
awareness of language. See language awareness awareness-raising, 118, 122, 123, 127, 144, 145, 178

Babaee, R., 204
banter, 121, 191
Basho, Matsuo, 160
BBC learning English, 78
Belgium, 45
Biber, D., 67
Big Brother, 187, 188, 190, 191 book clubs, 178, See also literature circles Botswana, 45
Braun, V., 211
British National Corpus (BNC), vii, 16, 17, 18, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33
BYU-BNC corpus, 9, 10, 12, 16, 17, 25 newspaper corpus, 70
  online software, 17

calligraphy, 112
capital punishment, 39
caring relationships, 29
Carver, Raymond, 208
catharsis, 215
character relationship, 126
characterisation, 12, 126, 135, See also screenplays China, 51, 53, 54, 55, 59, 61, 74, 129
  College English Curriculum Requirements, 57 firewall use, 119
  Guidelines on College English Teaching, 122
Chinese, 152, 205
Chinese EFL students118, see screenplays
Chomsky, Noam, xiii
Clarke, V., 211
CLiC Dickens corpus, 9, 10, 14, 17, 18
  online software, 15
cognitive engagement, 39, 42, 43
Cohen's d index, 210
coherence, 62
collaborative dialogue
  in literature circles. See literature circles collaborative learning, 179, 180, 182, 183, 184, See literature circles

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-46079-8 — Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning
Edited by Christian Jones
Index
More Information

collocational significance, 14, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 27, 28, 30, 31, 33 comparisons, 26, 32
collocations, 17
Columbia, 45
commands, 140
Common European Framework of Reference for Language (CEFR), 1, 2, 14, 76, 99, 124, 156, 185, 209, 210, 217
  CEFR-based self-assessment, 213 learner self-assessments, 213 proficiency bands, 208–209
communicative competence, 1, 122, 178, 205, 206, 208, 232
  definition of, 232
Communicative Events, 123
comparison, 100, 101, 112 complaints, 140
complements, 71
compliments, 121, 140
  compliment responses, 121
Components of Speech. See also SPEAKING model comprehension tasks, 69 comprehension tests, 78
  descriptive statistics, 79
Concordance software program, 100 concordance tools, 15
concordancers, 17, 18
confluence, 237
conjunctions, 100, 101, 112 connection tasks, 40
connections, 42, 43, 62 consciousness raising, 72 context of use, 39
contextualisation, 62
contraction, 13, 100
contractions, 100, 109, 113, 114
  high frequency use in haiku poetry, 110
  negative, 109
  subject-verb, 109
  wh-word, 109
conversation, 2
  transactional and social functions, 3 conversation analysis (CA), 118 concepts of, 123, 127, 128, 132, 136, 140 conversation management, 165, 169 conversation skills, 151, 167 conversation strategies, 4, 166, 169, 170, 171, 236 copyright issues, 127, 236
corpora potential of, 235–236
corpus analysis
  intuition, role of, 18
corpus linguistics
  research in, 9
Corpus of Contemporary American English (COCA), viii, 100, 103, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 115 corpus stylistics, 12, 235 corpus-driven approaches corpus-based approaches vs, 15 Council of Europe's Framework of Reference (CEFR), 208
  proficiency bands, 209
coursebook dialogues, 234
Crazy, Stupid, Love, 140 critical pedagogy, 154 cultural access tasks, 73 cultural awareness, 59, 97, 122 cultural differences, 59, 60 cultural experiences. See literature circles cultural identity, 124
cultural norms, 203
cultural sensitivity, 206 culture, 171
cutting words, 96, 117

data-driven learning, 235, 238 de Graaff, R., 211
development activities. See text-driven materials dialogues from literature, 2 dialogues in fiction, vii, 11, 12, 13, 72 diaries, 84, 160, 195
Dickens, Charles, 12, 14, 34, 229 dictionaries, 157, 158, 168, 169 direct speech, 11
disagreement, 140, 141
discourse competence, 232 discourse markers, 9, 11, 15, 16, 17, 18, 33, 33, 67, 70, 137, 151, 159, 166, 170, 229, 234, See also realism of conversation in literature quantitative analysis of, 20
  realism of conversation in literature. See also realism of conversation in literature discovery activities, 61, 69, See text-driven materials discussion tasks, 77, 83
Doctor Foster, 140
Doyle, Arthur Conan, xiv, 68
dramatic tension, 126
dramatised literature. See television drama

Earthman, E.A, 154
EastEnders, 72
ecological perspective, 176, 181, 197, 201

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-46079-8 — Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning
Edited by Christian Jones
Index
More Information

ecology metaphor, 181, 182 educational psychology, 183 elaboration, 165
  meaning construction and, 154 elaborative statement, 159, 162 elicitation techniques, 45
Eliot, T. S., xiii
ellipsis, 66, 67, 69, 70, 73, 73, 75, 76, 77, 234 common patterns in Spoken English, 71
  corpus linguistics, 70
  fixed expressions, 72
  in writing, 70
  independent, 72
  previous research, 70
  receptive knowledge of, 76, 78 scripted dialogues, 72
  situational use, 70
  situational use of, 70, 72, 75 textual, 70
  unscripted dialogues, 72 unscripted speech, 72
  use in television drama, 66–92 emotion, 29, 29, 40, 97, 103, 112, 114, 162, 167, 170, 193, 211 emotional reponses, 162 emotional response, 161 emotional responses, 159, 161, 162, 164 emotional voice, 113
  emotive adjectives, 113, 114
  emotive words, 112
  expression of, 151
empathy, 116, 171, 172
emphatic, 71
engagement, 42, 62, 77, 83, See also cognitive engagement aesthetic, 43
  affective and cognitive, 39, 234 autonomous, 196
  collaborative, 176, 178, 182, 196
  personal, 56
English Curriculum Standards, 57
English language teaching (ELT), 176 enhance language awareness, 74 enhancement. See also input enhancement Erkaya, O. R., 204
ethnographic analysis, 123 evaluations, 140
evaluative activities. See intake response activities Eva-Wood, A. L., 154 evidence-based reflections, 202, 211, 213, 214, 216, 217, 220, 221 exclamation, 23
explicit instruction, 66, 76, 78, 82, 118, 122, 123, 144, 178
  definition, 76–77
explicit teaching
  definition of, 66
extensive reading, 1, 178, 180, 182, 183, 184, 198, 199, 200, 230, 232, 238, 239 extra-semiotic exchanges, 177 eye tracking, 73, 84

false starts, 11, 13, 72
Finegan, E., 67
fixed expressions, 71, 72
fluency
  definition of, 190
  effects of research on, 236–237
foregrounding, 155
form-function mappings, 119 formulaic expressions, 137, 195 formulaic language, 14
free indirect speech, 11 Friends, 61
function words, 100

gender, 28
General Service List (GSL), 113 genre literacy development, 97 genre-specific features of English-language 114, see haiku poetry German as a foreign language, 74
German learners of English, 2 gesture, 121
Get out, 140
  dialogue, 135
Ginsberg, Allen, 208
Glee, 224
global understanding tasks, 73, 77, 83
Gossip Girl, 224
grammatical accuracy, 45 grammatical correctness, 134 grounded theory, 205
group dynamics, 180, 184, 186, 198, 216, 219, 220

haiku poetry, xiv, 4, 117, 160, 230, See also poetry corpus-driven analysis of, 96–115
    assessment of, 114–115
    data analysis, 99–100
    L2 writers, 97–98
    methodology, 98
    overview of, 112–114
    participants, 98–99
    results, 100–109
    usage of haiku, 96–97
  high frequency use of adjectives, 107 high frequency use of contraction, 110

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-46079-8 — Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning
Edited by Christian Jones
Index
More Information

high frequency use of verbs, 105 lexical content, 104
linguistic categories, 102 multiple interpretations, 114 reader-centredness, 114, 115 structure of, 113
text length, 101
word frequency band, 102
Hanauer, D., 153, 158, 161, 162, 163
Harry Potter, 133, 134, 140, 144, 224
Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix, 134 hedging, 32, 33, 166, 168, 169, 170 hesitation, 11, 13, 32, 33 devices, 13
high responsiveness, 206
Hişmanoğlu, M., 204
Hoffstaedter, P., 153
horror genre, 134
humour, 171, 193
Hymes, D., 118, 126
hyperbole, 25

ideal person concept of, 157
illocutionary acts, 140 illocutionary force, 128, 131 immigration, 39
imperative functions, 49
imperatives, 34, 59, 63 imperative forms, 29
imperative functions, 49, 58
implicit teaching approaches, 123, 124 incidental learning, 180 independent reading. See literature circles indirect phrases, 114
indirect speech, 11, 41 inner voice articulation, 40 input importance in SLA, 230
input enhancement, 72, 76, 80 effect on grammatical learning, 73 methods of, 72
input response activities. See text-driven materials intake response activities types of, 41
evaluative activities, 41 representational activities, 41 interaction
definition of, 165
intercultural awareness, 44
interlanguage development, 181
International Corpus of English (ICE), 72 Internet, 119
firewalls, 119
interpersonal communication, 29, 33 interpretative hypothesis/elaboration, 158, 159, 162, 163 interpretive dialogical analysis, 186 interrogative functions, 48, 49, 55, 56, 58 interrogatives, 56, 57, 59, 100, 101, 112 communicative use of, 63
father-son interaction, 63 intonation, 33, 158
patterns, 223
intrinsic interest, 183

Jakobson, Roman, xiii
Japan, 216
Japanese, 152, 205, 215
Japanese English as a Foreign Language (EFL), 205, See poetry, haiku poetry Japanese martial arts, 112
Johansson, S., 67
jointly-produced fluency, 164
Jones, Christian, xiv

Kim, M., 206, 207
knowledge, 28
genre specific, 97
integrating, 159, 163
integrating world, 158
L2 linguistic, 97
lexical, 210
metapragmatic, 119, 123
metapragmatic, importance of, 119 pragmalinguistic, 128
receptive, 69, 73
receptive or productive, 67 shared, 32
sociopragmatic, 128
world, 158, 159, 162, 163, 164
Koizumi, R., 207
kokugo (Japanese language), 160

L2 oral proficiency, vi, xiv, 202–224, 228
assessment of, 222
data collection and analysis, 209–217
methodology, 207
overview of, 217–222
participants, 208–209
previous research, 204–207
research context, 202–204
results, 211–217
sample prompt and transcription, 223–224 teaching and learning context, 207–209 L2 poetry writing115, see haiku poetry Lancaster Stats Tool, 18 language acquisition, 1 determiners of, 42

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-46079-8 — Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning
Edited by Christian Jones
Index
More Information

language acquisition (cont.)
facilitation of, 43
important factors, 3
L2 studies, 162
language awareness, v, 1, 4, 5, 38, 44, 45, 66, 69, 74, 75, 76, 79, 81, 82, 84, 94, 97, 138, 153, 154, 162, 177, 186, 196, 200, 202, 204, 219, 227, 230, 232, 233, 234, 236, 237, 238
activities, 69
appropriacy of, 70
definition of, 69
development of, 77, 82, 83
L2 studies, 162
spoken, 44, 45
Language Awareness
language discussion tasks, 73 language ideology, 119 language learning opportunities, 4 language-related episodes (LREs), 155 languaging, 195, 196
definition of, 177, 214
lead in, 77, 83
learner authentication, 123 learner diaries, 1
learner interaction, 181, 187, 188 learner-centred approach, 2 learner-led dialogue, 186 learner-led inquiry, 178, 197
Leech, G., 67
Lennon, John, 161
lexical choice, 135, 155
lexical chunks, 236
lexical complexity, 4, 202, 203, 206, 207, 209, 210, 211, 213, 217, 221, 226, 236 measures of, 212
lexical density, 210
lexical diversity, 210
Lexical Frequency Profile, 100 lexical items
informal, 13
lexical sophistication, 210 lexical verbs, 113
Lextutor, 158, 210
linguistic competence, 232
Linguistic Inquiry and Word Count (LIWC), 100 listenership, 14, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 236 literacy development first language (L1), 152 Literary Awareness, 154 stages of, 154
literary dialogues
purpose of, 3
literary identity, 138
literary verbs, 12
literature
as a model of spoken language, 229–230 communicative competence, as an aid to, 232–233 communicative methodology and, 233
definition of, 1
engagement and, 230–231 student autonomy, as an aid to, 231–232 literature circles, 4, 231, 234 artistic adventurers, 179 classroom activities, summary of, 214 classroom observations of student engagement, 214 collaborative dialogue in, 176–197, 231
assessment of, 195–197
collaborative learning, 183–184 cultural observations, 191–193
data collection and analysis, 186–187
evaluation of, 194–195
independent reading, 183
interpretation, 189–191 literal comprehension, 187–189
methodology, 184–185
personal connections, 191–193
previous research, 178–180
reader response, 183
research context, 176–177
results, 187–195
theoretical underpinnings, 180–182 connectors, 179
context of, 185–186
cultural collectors, 179
definition of, 178
Director/The Questioner, 179 passage persons, 179
role assignment, 178
standard roles and paired strategies, 179 summarizers, 179
word masters, 179
literature for language learning, 1 log-likelihood scores, 17 loneliness, 39
longitudinal study, 83
Love Actually, 131, 140, 141
dialogue, 132
Luxembourg, 45

Mauritius, 45
McCarten, J., 236
McCarten, M., 155, 165
McCarthy, K., 155, 165
McCarthy, M., 236
McRae, J., 152, 185

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-46079-8 — Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning
Edited by Christian Jones
Index
More Information

meaningfulness, 42
mediation, 184
meta-analysis, 94, 95, 199, 236, 237 metacognitive awareness, 208, 216, 217, 219, 220 metafunctions
  ideational, textual and interpersonal, 11, 13, 67 metaphor, 114, 155, 170, 191, 197 conceptual, 157
metapragmatic awareness, 118, 232, see screenplays metapragmatic teaching, 124
Misuzu, Kaneko, 160
Mitsuo, Aida, 160
mixed-methods research, 221, 235
Miyazawa, Kenji, 151, 157, 160, 162, 165, 168, 169, 171 modality, 66, 69, 77
motivation, 3, 121, 122, 124, 170, 174, 178, 180, 182, 183, 186, 198, 208, 216, 220, 226, 228, 231, 234, 237 multisemiotic exchanges, 177
Mutual Information (MI) score, 18, 22, 30, 31

Namibia, 42, 45
Nasu, M., 205
National Centre Test for University Admissions, 152, 160 native speaker talk corpora of, 67
native speakers
  errors, 74
natural conversation, 170 natural use of language, 54 negations, 100, 101, 112
Netherlands
  secondary school system, 75 network theory, 220
Nishihara, T., 152
noticing, 42, 43, 62, 69, 82, 84, 151, 155, 156, 158, 162, 163, 168, 170, 195
  collaborative, 184
  collective, 176
  definition of, 72, 231
  effects of, 236
  importance of, 237
  skill of, 4, 34
  tasks, 73, 77, 83
noun phrases, 34
numbers, 100

offers of opinions, 140 online lexical profilers, 210
open-ended questions, 206 oral histories, 205
oral proficiency. See L2 oral proficiency Orwell, George, 185, 187, 190, 194

paralinguistic features, 121, 129
Paran, A., 152, 154, 203, 207
Pardede, P, 204
pauses, 11, 33, 158, 223 filled and unfilled, 11 undue, 237
pedagogical implications, 229–233 peer modelling, 183
personal experiences. See literature circles personal identity, 119
personal responses, 39
personalisation, 62, 165 Pinter, Harold, xiv, 48, 72 plain sense reading, 153 poetry, 4, See also Haiku poetry Japanese EFL learners' responses to, 151–172 adapted coding system, 158–159
    assessment of, 169–171
    baseline questionnaires, 171–172 coded analysis, 161–164 coding system reliability, 159 data categorization, 158–159 dataset preparation, 158
    English poetry, 166–169
    Japanese poetry, 165–166
    materials, 157–158
    methodology, 156
    participant information, 172
    participants, 156
    previous research, 153–155
    procedure, 156–157
    qualitative analysis, 167–169
    research context, 151–153
    response to poetry, 155–156 results of poetry questionnaire, 159–161 output activities, 155
  reading processes, 151
politeness, 119, 123
polysemy of words, 18
pop culture, 129
possessive forms, 71
poverty, 192, 193
power, 28, 34
pragmalinguistics, 121, 124, 126, 128, 129, 137
  design. See screenplays pragmatic awareness, 46, 53, 54, 56, 62 of speech in action, 43 pragmatic competence, 46, 50, 54, 56, 59, 122, 144, 145, 146, 232 pragmatic function, 55

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-46079-8 — Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning
Edited by Christian Jones
Index
More Information

pragmatics, 44, 121
Prague School structuralism, xiii prediction tasks, 40
preference organisation, 132, 133, 140 prejudice, 39
prepositions, 100
pretest-posttest research design, 202, 209 private speech, 189, 196 problem solving, 180, 214 processing
  affective, conceptual and perceptual, 75, 82 proficiency. See L2 oral proficiency proficiency measures
  second languages, 1
Project Gutenberg, 10
pronouns, 100, 101, 112
  subject, 71
prosody, 28
  prosodic features, 31, 33
punctuation, 33
pushed output, 155

quantifiers, 100, 101, 112 quantifying expressions, 71 questioning, 158, 162, 163, 169

radio programmes, 74, 139 Range software program, 100 reader response theory, 182, 183 reader responsiveness, 186 reading comprehension, 198, 202, 204 reading proficiency, 199, 204 realism, 12
realism of conversation in literature, 9–35
  assessment of, 34
  context, 9–10
  discourse markers, 21
  I mean, 14, 31–33
  kind of, 14, 25–27
  methodology, 14–18
  now, 14, 27–29
  oh, 14, 29–31
  or so, 14, 21–23
  overview of, 33–34
  preliminary quantitative analysis, 18–21
  previous research, 11–14
  stuff, 14, 23–25
  vague language, 21
receptive practice, 69
receptive tests
  descriptive statistics, 79
re-cycling, 42, 62, 77
reflection, 43
repair mechanism, 123, 140 repetition, 37, 140, 155, 157, 158, 170, 201 reporting verbs, 12, 28, 31, 33 representational activities. See intake response activities representational language, 13, 34, 152, 170, 179, 185, 196, 236 requesting, 66, 69
requests, 140
  for clarification, 170
research activities. See text-driven materials research implications, 233–237 corpora, potential of, 235–236 fluency, effects on, 236–237 new approaches, investigation of, 233–234 noticing, effects of, 236 research designs, importance of variety of, 234–235 response tokens, 123, 140 retention, 43
rhetorical function, 117 rhyme, 153, 157, 168, 170 rhythm, 157, 168
Richards, I. A., 153
Rodríguez, Arias, 204, 205
Rosenblatt, L. M., 152, 193
Rosenthal transformation, 210
Rowling, J. K., xiv

salience, 23, 42, 44, 57, 72 scaffolding, 51, 55, 119, 126, 131, 136, 176, 178, 179, 184, 186, 196, 215, 218, 219, 220 screenplays, xiv, 4, 232 pedagogy and metapragmatics, 118–143
    assessment of, 136–138
    characterisation, 134–135 context and participants, 124–125 explicit and implicit activities, sequence of, 128 homework prompts, 142–143 intervention, cycles of, 125–126
    methodology, 124–125
    overview of, 135–136
    pragmalinguistic design, 133–134 pragmalinguistic features, 134–135 pre-class handouts, 136, 141–142
    previous research, 120–124
    questionnaires, 138–139
    research context, 119–120
    results, 129
    socio-cultural knowledge, 129–133 sociopragmatic analysis, 129–133 sociopragmatic design, 133–134 study design, 126–129
    subtext, 134–135
    syllabi, 140–141

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-46079-8 — Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning
Edited by Christian Jones
Index
More Information

teaching methodology, 126–129 second language classroom literature in, 1
self-correction, 32, 192, 196
Self-Determination Theory (SDT), 170, 180
Sendak, Maurice, 208 sensory imagery, 40, 42
sequential organisation, 140 service encounters, 72
Shakespeare, William, 1, 2, 74, 160 shape, 168
shared reading experience, 176, 177 shared understanding, 165, 166, 168
Sherlock, 3, 66–92
Sherlock Holmes, 12, 129, 130, 131, 140 character discussion, 130 dialogues, discussion on, 131 Shodan (sho-dan), 112 short stories, 204, 205 significance, 42
Singapore, 74
Skehan, P., 153
soap opera dialogues, 72
soap operas, 121
social bonds, 216, 218
social cognitive theory, 176, 177, 180, 181, 188, 197 social context, 119 social cultural theory, 180 social learning context, 197 social meaning, 120
social relationships, 103 social-learning systems, 182 sociocultural theory, 123, 176, 177, 180, 184, 196, See also literature circles of mind, 177
sociograms, 220
sociolinguistics, 122
sociopragmatics, 121, 123, 124, 126, 127, 128, 129, 138 analysis. See screenplays songs, 152, 153, 171
sounds, 155
SPEAKING model, 118, 123, 126–127, 128, 131, 136
speaking skills, 2
speech acts, 140, 232
metapragmatic awareness of. See screenplays narrator's presentation of, 11 speed of delivery, 82, 237 spoken request forms, 77 stance markers, 67
status, 28
Still Alice, 140
stress, 33
student-centred approach, 2 stylistics, 9, 74, 121, See also corpus stylistics pedagogical, 154, 235
subtext. See screenplays suspended quotations, 12 syllables, 115
synonym, 134
syntactic mitigation, 137

Taiwanese EFL learners, 1, 74 taking account of others, 165, 166, 167, 169 Tanikawa, Shuntaro, 160 teachers, 74
Teachers of English as a foreign language, 45 telephone conversation, 140 televised literature, 3 television drama, 66–92
assessment of, 82
data analysis, 78
focus group transcriptions and prompts, 87–92
methodology, 76
participants, 76
previous research, 69–76
procedure, 76–78
research context, 67–69
research implications, 83–84
results, 78–82
sample lesson procedure, 84–85 sample test items, 86 teaching implications, 82–83
tense
simple present, 42
TESOL training, 219
text-based approach, 69, 77 text-driven approach, 3, 234 text-driven materials, 38–64, 230
assessment of, 62
benefits of, 42–43
comments on the responses, 50–52, 61–62
context, 38
definition, 39–42
development activities, 62 development activity, 41 engaging texts, 39–40
experience of the text, 40 initial response activity, 40, 62 input response activity, 41, 62 intake response activity, 41 personal response activities, 62 readiness activities, 62 research activity, 41–42 second development activity, 42
text selection, 40

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-46079-8 — Literature, Spoken Language and Speaking Skills in Second Language Learning
Edited by Christian Jones
Index
More Information

text-driven materials (cont.)
impact of, 44
information about respondents, 51 instruments, 46–50
Not now, Bernard, 46–47
The Birthday Party, 47–48
The Graduate, 49–50
literary use, rationale for, 43–44
methodology, 45
objectives, 45–46
participants, 50–51
positive effects of, 44
previous research, 44–45
responses to each unit, 52–61 text extracts, 63–64 textual enhancement (TE), 72, 73, 75, 77, 82, 84, See also input enhancement textual manipulation, 170 think-aloud protocols, 154 thinking in the second language, 1
Thomas, Dylan, 151, 157, 158, 162, 164, 166, 171
TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language), 99
TOEIC (Test of English for International Communication), 98, 99, 156, 166, 167, 169, 172 topic management, 140
topic shifts, 9
trace data, 211
Turkey, 44, 45
turn-taking, 128, 140, 165, 166, 167, 203, 206, 223, See also conversation analysis (CA) management, 14
system, 123
type-token ratio, 210

UCREL log-likelihood online calculator, 17
United Kingdom (UK), 45, 74
United States (US), 97 unscripted conversation, vii, 2, 3, 9, 11, 12, 13, 14, 21, 27 up-take, 206
Ushioda, E., 208

vague expressions, 100, 114 vague language, vii, 9, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 18, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 33, 33, 34, 70, 74, 96, 109, 111, 113, 114, 170, 229, 234 frequency of usage of, 111 items, 15
quantitative analysis of, 19
value of literature in language learning, 44 enrichment of intake, 44 experience, 44
focus on content, 44
motivation, 44
reading skills, real use of, 44
self-access, 44
Venezuela, 44
verbalisation private, 189
verbs, 100, 103, 112, 113, 114
auxiliary, 71
evaluative, 109
high frequency use in Haiku poetry, 105
of loving, hating etc, 71 subject and auxiliary, 71 use of, 12
Vietnam, 58, 192, 193
children in, 58
Vietnamese learners, 56 of English 56, see literature circles villanelle, 157
visual imagery, 39
visualisation, 43
activities, 40
vocabulary learning, 94, 235, 238 voice
authorial, 12
narrator's presentation of, 11
poetry and, 97
volume, 33
Vygotsky, L., 180

war, 39
Widdowson, H., 151
Wilcoxon signed-rank test, 202, 210, 211, 212 word order, 155
Wordsworth, William, 208
World War 2, 162

Yahya, W. R. B. W., 204
Yosano, Akiko, 160

Zone of Proximal Development (ZDP), 180, 182, 189
Zyngier, S., 154

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org