

Index

Note: Main headings capitalized and in quotation marks may refer to parts of the Encyclopedia.

- Absolute, the, 68, 74–75, 149, 235–236, 247, 267 “concretization” of self-manifesting nature
 of, 259
 dimensions of, 235–236
 limit or distance from, 154
 nature and, 235–236
 philosophy as expression of, 267 as pure quantity, 154
 quantity and, 156
 Spirit (Geist) and, 235–236
 thought and, 235–236
 absolute Idea, 5, 86–87, 89, 94, 256, 258, 273–274 Concept (Begriff) and, 258, 272
 as concept of science of pure thinking, 92 life and, 19–20
 philosophical priority of, 10–11
 philosophy and, 273–274 “self-externalization” of, 97 self-manifestation and, 252, 258
 self-sufficiency of, 10–11 Spirit as real knowledge of, 258–259 absolute idealism, 7, 256, 257–258
 absolute knowing, 222–223 absolute knowledge, 23, 75–76, 86–87 absolute reality, 255–256 “Absolute Spirit” (Encyclopedia part), 6 “Art”, 6, 7
 “Philosophy”, 6, 7–8
 “Religion”, 6, 7
 absolute Spirit (Geist), 72–73, 218, 236–237, 238, 251, 256–265, 270–292
 art and, 216–231, 232, 233, 236–237, 238–239, 240, 241, 244, 245–246, 248–250
 beauty and, 240
 categories of, 216–217
 co-presence of two articulations of, 266–268
 in Hegel’s system, 233
 the Idea and, 256–259
 as the ideal, 239
 intuition (Anschauung) and, 238
 materiality and, 240
 philosophy and, 233
 religion and, 233, 259–265
 religious nature of, 259–260
 self-manifestation and, 252
 sensibility and, 240
 thinkers and, 289–291
 thought and, 236, 238
 absolute subjectivity, concrete human subjectivity and, 259. See also subjectivity absorption, 228–231
 abstract, the, vs. the concrete, 147 abstraction(s), 44, 69, 90–92, 95–96, 115–116, 141, 163–164, 257–258
 abstract purity, the universal and, 176 “Abstract Right” (Encyclopedia part), 182–183 abstract right, 32–33 acting/action, 144
 knowing and, 167, 169–171 motivation and, 180
 actuality (Wirklichkeit), 84, 199, 207, 221
 actual souls, 243–244
 human form and, 244
 natural form and, 243–244
 Adorno, Theodor, 233, 245–246 aesthetics, 222–223, 241, 260–261. See also art aesthetic norms, 194
 classical, 194–195, 260–261
 ethical life and, 222–223 Greeks and, 227
 polis and, 227
 truth and, 228–229
 Africans, 141
 agency counternormativity and, 176–177 disability and, 145
 epistemic, 153
 ageing. See ages of life

- ages of life, 137–140, 141, 147
 alienation, 74–75
 analysis, empiricism and, 152 ananke (necessity), 261 animal magnetism, 130–131, 144 annihilation, thought and, 238–239
 Anselm, 85–86
 Anthropology, 6, 127–147, 158–159, 162–164, 245
 disability in, 139–146
 gender in, 139–146
 overview of, 128–132
 race in, 139–146
 today, 146–147 appearance (Erscheinung), 65–66, 72–73 category of, 46
 content of, 65
 essence and, 91
 form of, 65
 the law of, 65
 apperception, Kantian notion of, 163 arbitrary will, 203
 Aristotle, 13–15, 76, 129, 185–186, 187–188, 189–190, 195–196, 281–282 Analytics, 82
 categories and, 199
 debt to, 14
 formal syllogism and, 193–194
 inquisitional syllogistic of, 196–198 Pythagoreans and, 195
 syllogism of inquiry and, 198–199 syllogisms and, 186–187, 189–190, 193–194, 196–199 “Art” (Encyclopedia part), 7 art, 6, 7, 216–222, 228–231, 232–233, 242. See also artwork
 absolute Spirit (Geist) and, 7, 222–224, 232, 233, 238–239, 240, 241, 242, 244, 245–246, 248–250
 beauty and, 240, 247
 as becoming (Werden), 242 becoming and, 238–239
 Christianity and, 218–219
 classical, 224
 community and, 246–247
 discursive, 223 ethical role of, 223–224
 externality and, 238
 fluid structure of, 238–239 as form of self-knowledge, 238 genius and, 7, 233, 250
 Greeks and, 226–227, 230
 in Hegel’s lectures, 245 Hegel’s philosophy of, 233–235
 in Hegel’s system, 232–233, 234, 235–237 historical development of, 234 history and, 225–228
 human form and, 245
 the Idea and, 233, 243, 247
 the ideal and, 242
 idealism and, 245
 “ideal of”, 224
 imitation of nature in, 244 individual arts, 234
 intuition (Anschauung) and, 237, 240, 242–243
 language of art, 245
 material givenness and, 238, 241–243, 250
 materiality and, 7, 233, 238
 meaning and, 238, 243
 modern, 217–218, 229
 morality and, 234
 natural form and, 7, 233, 242–246, 250
 natural immediacy and, 242
 nature and, 7, 232–250
 non-discursive, 223 non-human forms and, 245
 one-sidedness and, 246 political role of, 223–224, 230 production of, 233, 246 reception of, 233, 238–239, 240, 241–242, 246
 religion and, 216–231, 232, 259–262
 role in modern world, 221–222 Romantic, 224, 227
 self-consciousness and, 224 shared language and, 222
 as sign, 243
 Spirit (Geist) and, 216–231, 234, 236–237, 238–239
 structure of, 237
 syllogisms, 225–226
 symbolic, 224
 as “thing of the past”, 217–218
 thought and, 234, 236–237, 238, 239, 242, 245–246
 three elements of, 7
 two conflicting elements in reception of, 242 unity of nature and spirit and, 224 universality and, 247
 value of, 234
 artistic production, 248–250
 freedom of, 248
 inspiration and, 248
 stubbornness of nature and, 248–249 artistic world view, vs. idealistic perspective, 261 artists, 237, 245–246
 as becoming (Werden), 249–250
 as both craftsman and genius, 249–250 goal of, 248
 subjective particularity and, 248, 249–250 “Art-Religion” (Kunstreligion), 216–217, 229

- arts historicity of, 225–228
 individual, 234
- artwork, 224, 227–228, 237
- beauty and, 241
 elimination of contingencies in, 246–247 expressing unity of thought and nature, 247
 freedom and, 224
 human form and, 247
 the Idea and, 224, 242
 “ideal of”, 224
 as individual action, 224
 intuition (Anschauung) and, 240
 material givenness and, 243–244
 materiality and, 239, 241, 242
 as natural immediacy, 241, 242, 243
 objecthood of, 239
 reception of, 237, 240
 as “shape of beauty”, 246 unity of thought and nature intuited in, 240
 universality and, 246–247
- association of ideas, 173–174
- Athens, 192–193
- attention, 171–172, 173, 174
- audience, 237, 241, 246, 249–250
- beautiful shape, 246
- beautiful souls, 220–221, 224
- beauty, 224, 225–226, 233, 237–242, 260–261
 absolute Spirit (Geist) and, 240
 art and, 240, 241, 247
 audience and, 241
 experience of, 222–223
 genius and, 246–250
 as harmonization of intellect and imagination, 226 harmony and, 260
 human form and, 247
 Kant’s conception of natural, 226 natural, 224, 226
 shape of (die Gestalt der Schönheit), 237, 240, 241
 Spirit (Geist) and, 226
 becoming (Werden), 38, 39, 42–43, 89, 198–199, 238–239, 242, 249–250
- Being, 78–79, 89, 186, 198–199, 260
 determinate, 38, 39
 doctrine of, 78–79
 essence and, 49
 immediacy of, 47–48
 intelligibility and, 14
 limitation of, 48
 logic of, 80–81
 thinking/thought and, 10, 13–14
- being, self-relating, 48, 56–57. See also Being; pure being being determinate, 89 being “near itself” (Beisichsein im Anderen), 74 being-other (Anderssein), 97–98 being-there (Dasein), 84 belief (pistis), 190–192 Berthold-Bond, D., 145 biology, teleology and, 111–112 Blödsinnigkeit (imbecility), 145 bodies as metrics, 122–123 coping with changing, 137–139 cultivation and, 147 dexterity and, 136
 ensouled, 127–128
 Hegel’s theory of, 6
 liberation from, 138–139
 mastery of, 127, 128, 137–138
 as natural immediacy, 243–244
 otherness and, 245
 as ownership, 6
 as sign, 243–244
 as signifier, 243
 as sign of soul, 243–244
 soul and, 128, 129, 131, 137–138, 147, 243
 Spirit (Geist) and, 127
 thought and, 243–244
 transforming, 127–147
- bodiliness, 131–132, 134–136, 243. See also embodiment bodily determinations, 130 (see also natural determinations) bodily dexterity, 131 bodily expression, 135
 freedom from limitations of, 127–129, 132–134, 135
 senses and, 243–244
- body, the, 128. See also bodiliness; embodiment boyhood, 137
- cancelling, 132
- categories, 47, 86, 199
 Aristotle and, 199
 concept-engendered, 1–2
 meaning and, 236
 nature and, 236
 pure thought and, 47
 relocation of, 63–64
 of thought/being, 4
- Catholic church, 230
- Catholicism, Hegel’s attack on, 230
- Caucasians, 141, 142
- causation, 16–18, 219
- Cézanne, Paul, 217–218
- change, 2–3

- character, 134–135
 chemism, 18–19, 84, III–III, 125 chemistry, III, 125, 157–158 childhood, 137
 choice (Willkür), 173, 180–181 free agency and, 180–181 power of, 181
 will as, 180–181
 choosing, 169–170
 Christianity, 216–217, 222, 224, 227, 230–231, 261
 art and, 218–219
 as “Hegelianism for the masses”, 266 revealed theology and, 262–263
 Ciavatta, David, 133–134 “circle of circles”, 1–2 circularity, as image of system’s freedom, 75–76 civilization, nature and, 132–133 clairvoyance, 130–131 classical worldview, 261–262. See also Greeks cognition argumentative, 190
 clarity and, 190–192
 intuition (Anschauung) and, 238
 reflective, 190
 colonialism, 146–147
 cometary, the, 124
 commitment, 169, 176
 communal life, 189–190 community, art and, 246–247 compendia, 185 completion, 120
 conceiving, 79–81
 Concept, the (Begriff), 1–2, 6, 18–19, 26, 78–79, 80–82, 102–103, 114, 166–167, 170–171, 193–194, 258, 271, 280, 282, 286
 absolute Idea and, 258, 272
 as arising subject of objective thinking process, 79–80
 being-for-itself, 78–79
 categorical shapes of, 271–272 conceptuality of, 271–272
 vs. consciousness, 79–80
 definition of, 68, 79–80
 determinations and, 30, 80–81
 doctrine of, 78–79, 82
 formal, 83–84
 free alienation of, 71
 freedom of, 5, 68–87
 as free thinking of being by itself, 79–80 Hegel’s theory of, 80–81
 as idea, 272
 the Idea and, 273
 as immanent in nature, 5–6, 88
 immateriality of, 271–272
 implicit determination of, 41
 individuality and, 283, 291
 as “internal” (Innere) in nature, 101–106 in-and-for itself, 78–79
 logic and, 76–79, 80–82, 84
 logic of, 79
 modified, non-logical understanding of,
 101–102
 nature and, 101–102, 103–104
 objectivity and, 239–240
 particularity and, 282–283, 286 radical otherness and, 74–75
 vs. representation, 271
 as self-mediation, 83–84 as self-referential self-determination, 101–102, 104–105
 self-referring negativity of, 176 as self-sufficient truth, 26 shining (Schein) of, 78–79 “state of aggregation” of, 104 as structuring principle of philosophical knowledge, 1
 subjective, 2, 83–84
 subjectivity and, 79–80, 81–82, 83–84, 86–87
 substance and, 73–74, 82
 syllogisms and, 83
 thought and, 239–240
 transition from subjectivity to objectivity, 85–86
 transparency to itself, 82
 truth and, 82, 272
 unity of, 175–176, 282–283
 universality and, 282–283, 286
 Concept Logic, 15, 26–27 concept-metaphysics, 7–8, 270–271, 280–286 concepts, 42–43, 45
 abstract, 41–43
 appearance vs. essence of, 43–44 fixed content of, 42–43
 form in flux, 43–44 “implicit” determination of, 40
 nature and, 236
 negation of, 39–40
 non-logical, 96
 non-spatial nature of, 42–43
 non-temporal nature of, 42–43
 plasticity of, 42–43
 pure, 12–13, 20, 91, 96, 107
 pure thinking and, 107–108
 vs. sense impressions, 42 conceptual determinations, 106, 114–115 conceptuality, as self-referring negativity, 170–171 conceptual processes, abstraction and, 69 conceptual realism, 160–161 concrete, the, vs. the abstract, 147 conflict, will and, 38–39

Index

313

- Congress of Vienna, 218–219, 228–229 consciousness, 125–126, 163–164, 171, 219. See also religious consciousness; self-consciousness acting, 219
 vs. concept, 79–80 finite, 29–30
 vs. intelligence, 172–173 judging, 219
 natural, 75
 philosophy and, 29–30
 unique, 79–80
 unity of, 79–80
 consequentialism, 209–210 content, 46–47, 53, 62–66, 198–201 of appearance (Erscheinung), 65
 category of, 5
 concrete, 200, 201
 conversion into form, 65–66
 in Encyclopedia Logic, 46–47, 62–66
 form and, 64–67, 98, 180–181, 183–184, 263
 as formed matter, 64–65 of freedom, 182–183
 relocation of, 46–47
 context, 210–211, 212–213 contingency, 41–42, 73–74, 174
 freedom and, 33–35, 36
 in institutions of modern polity, 201–202
 nature and, 98–99
 contingent, the, 134–135 continuity, 95
 contract rights, 182–183 contradiction, 50–54, 62, 194 the ground (Grund) as, 59 identity resulting from, 59 logical movement and, 23–24
 nature and, 100–101
 in opposition, 50
 practical, 23–24
 self-exclusion and, 52–54, 55–56, 57–58, 59 self-repulsion and, 52–53 contranormative conduct, 183–184 Cooper, David, 209, 210 correctness, 154–156
 of materialism, 161
 of pure quantity, 156
 counternormative agency, 167–168, 169, 170–172, 184
 counternormativity, 172–173, 176–177, 178–179 creation, 94–95 creative power, 81 creativity, 79–80
 crime, 210–211
 critical philosophy, 255–256 cultivation, 127, 134–135, 137, 138–140
 the body and, 147
 of character, 135
 as “conduct according to a universal norm”, 134–135, 142
 cultus, 264, 265, 266, 267–268
 God and, 269
 philosophical, 269
 religious, 269
 cyclical processes, organic physics and, 125–126 dancers, disabled, 136 De orbitis planetarum, 71 death, intellectual overcoming of, 2–3 degeneration, 120

 DEMR (division in extreme mean ratio), 194–195 Descartes, René, 85–86, 110–111, 187 desires, 131
 Desmond, W., 238, 245–246 determinacy, 61–62, 188–189
 mind and, 171–172
 the “thing” and, 156–157
 determinate characteristics, 91–92 determinate content, generated by dialectic, 39–40
 determinate magnitudes, 195–196 determination(s), 13–14, 237–238. See also natural determinations appropriation of, 138–139 contradictory, 58
 determinations of thought (Denkbestimmungen), 12–13, 91, 198–199 exclusive, 56–57
 by form, 151
 freedom and, 136
 generated by dialectic, 40 implicit, 40–41
 internal, 164
 quantitative, 155–156
 thought and, 41
 determined indeterminacy, 62 development (Entwicklung), 40–41, 42–43, 80–81
 developmental necessity, claim for, 13–14 devotion, 264, 265
 dexterity, 136
 dialectics, 39–40, 42–43, 86 ascending, 74 descending, 74
 in Plato, 190
 difference, 61–62
 diversity and, 49–50
 identity and, 49–50, 52, 64
 opposition and, 49–50
 differentiation, 262–263 directional processes, physics and, 125 diremption, 120

- disability, 6, 139–146, 147 agency and, 145
 hierarchy and, 144–146
 “ownership interpretation” and, 145
 virtuosity and, 136 disability theory, 144 discretion, 101
 discursive, the, 216–231 disease, 138 disposition. See temperament diversity, 49–50 “Divided Line”, in Plato, 190–192 divine, the, 260
 the human and, 260, 261 divine principle, 259
 as all-embracing and omnipresent, 268–269 human manifestation and, 260, 261, 262 human subjectivity and, 262, 263–265, 266, 268 philosophical consciousness and, 269 religious consciousness and, 269 self-manifesting, 262, 268 divine proportion, 194
 divinity, 224, 227
 dogmatism, avoidance of, 3–4 doubt, 187
doxa (opinion), 190, 256–257 drives, 166–167, 170–171, 179–182 compatibility of, 180
 purposive, 179–180
 dualism, 78, 86, 160–161, 172–173 force dualism, 123
 substance dualism, 159, 160
 Dutch painting, 228–229 duty, 177–178
- early analytic philosophy, materialist scepticism of, 164–165 education, 137, 138–139, 173 efficient, 16–18
 electricity, III, 120 embodiment, 96–97, 127, 128–129, 131. See also
 ages of life
 ambiguity of, 133
 free, 146
 of the mental, 135
 nature and, 127, 140
 “overcoming interpretation” and, 134–136, 138–139, 140, 146
 “ownership interpretation” and, 134–136, 146
 spatio-temporal, 90–91
 thinking and, 107
 empire, non-aesthetic unity of, 227 empirical reality, 2–3
- empiricism, 150, 255–256 analysis and, 152
 materialism and, 151–153
 objects and, 152–153
 unfreedom and, 151–153
 empiricist philosophy, 151–152 Encyclopedia Logic, 5, 93–94, 188–189 content in, 46–47, 62–66
 contradiction in, 50–53
 form in, 46–47, 62–66
 ground in, 46, 50–53
 identity in, 48–50
 matter in, 46–47, 62–66
 opposition in, 48–50
Science of Logic and, 47, 53, 54–55, 57–58, 62, 63–64, 65–67
Encyclopedia of Mind, 150
Encyclopedia of the Philosophical Sciences in Basic Outline, 46–67, 174, 204. See also specific parts 1817 edition, 36–37, 187, 216–217, 227–228, 233–234
 1827 edition, 233–234
 1830 edition, 40–41, 216, 223, 233–234, 245 account of completion of, 22 categories of, 1–2
 definition of, 1
 division into three parts, 72–73
 essence in, 46–67
 genesis of, 68
 method of, 4, 185
 objective Spirit in, 203
 as philosophical discourse of totality, 68–73 philosophy of art in, 232–233 philosophy of philosophy in final pages of outline, 272
Philosophy of Right and, 206 preliminary conceptions outlined at beginning of, 255 reach of, 4 relationship to Hegel’s other works, 4 religion in, 218–222, 251–269
 as “science of freedom”, 41
Science of Logic and, 9–27
 sections of, 1, 2
 standing as account of philosophical truth, 4
 structure of, 22
 systematicity and, 4, 203–204, 205
 testing and reformulation of, 4 transition from logic to nature in, 88 tripartite division of Logic in, 78–79
 unity of presentation of, 4 viewing with “religious eyes”, 252 Encyclopedia system. See system, the “end of history” thesis, 213–214

- Enttäusserung*. See externalization (Enttäusserung) entities, 2–3 entlassen (to release). See release (entlassen) epistemology, 148–149. See also knowledge esotericism, 266–267 essence, 5, 46–67, 78–79
 as absolute negativity, 47–49 appearance and, 91
 being and, 49
 definition of, 49
 determinateness of, 60
 differing accounts of, 66–67 doctrine of, 46, 78–79, 262
 vs. form, 61–63
 as foundation of form, 63
 as identity, 49, 51
 illusion of immediate being and, 47–48 immediacy and, 48
 logic of, 46–47, 80–81
 as matter, 63
 as negation of a nothing, 48 as negation of itself, 48 as negation of negation, 48 as the negative, 48 negativity and, 49, 50, 51
 the non-negative and, 48
 opposition and, 50
 positedness (Gesetzseyn) and, 49 as pure negativity, 50
 reflexion and, 47–48, 49, 51
 as reflexion-into-itself, 49
 in Science of Logic, 5, 46–67
 as self-relating being, 51
 as sphere of non-immediacy, 47–48
 Spirit (Geist) and, 90–91
 thought and, 91–92
 essence as such (Wesen überhaupt), 60–61 essential, the, 174
 essentialism, 270, 280, 281, 283–284, 286 the Estates, 188–189
 eternal truth self-comprehending, 3
 self-contemplation of, 2–3 eternity, comprehension of, 3 “Ethical Life” (Encyclopedia part), 6, 184 ethical life (Sittlichkeit), 187–188, 196–197, 222, 230 ethical philosophy, 203 ethos (Sitte), 229–230
 Euclid, 117–118
 Elements, 116, 194
 Euclidean geometry, 112–113
 Euclidean space, 109–110, 112–113, 116, 117–118, 124–125
 Euclidean time, 109–110, 112–113, 116, 124–125
 Eudoxus of Cnidus, 195–196 Eurocentrism, 146–147 existence (Existenz), 46, 84 exoteric, the, 266–267 experience
 finite, 254–256
 metaphysics and, 255–256
 sensuous, 253–254, 255 study of, 152
 transformational, 161 explanation, quantitative modes of, 155–156 expression(s), 91 bodily, 135
 thought and, 96–97
 exteriority, 261
 external, the, as abstract otherness of itself, 172–173 externalism, 168–169
 externality, 163–164, 172, 236, 243, 248–249
 art and, 238
 nature and, 98–99, 109, 163
 space and, 118–119
 thought and, 239–240
 externalization (Enttäusserung), 26, 94–95, 173–174 extra-logical, the, 9–10 facts, 13–14
 faith, 262, 264, 265
 Faraday, Michael, 111
 feeling, 131, 172, 173, 177–178 feeling soul, 130–131, 143–144
 Feuerbach, Ludwig, 265–266
 Fichte, Johann Gottlieb, 162–163, 166–167 Doctrine of Science, 70 individual autonomy and, 291–292
 on philosophical idealism, 81–82
 subjectivity in, 277–278
 threefold Concept of, 170–171
 universality and, 277–278
 finite, the, 120
 finite experience, 254–256 finite mind, world and, 271 finite philosopher, 272, 274–276
 freedom and, 7–8
 free in acts of channelling truth, 7–8 knowledge and, 3–4
 philosophical truth and, 271–272
 Spirit (Geist) and, 273
 truth and, 7–8
 finitude, transcendence of, 3 first philosophy, 20
 first syllogism (L–N–S), 72–73 forces, 124
 form, 40–41, 53, 61–62, 82, 124

- form (cont.)
 of appearance (Erscheinung), 65
 category of, 5
 content and, 64–67, 98, 180–181, 183–184, 263 determinations by, 151
 development of, 40–41
 in Encyclopedia Logic, 46–47, 62–66
 essence and, 5, 61–63
 external, 151
 external determination of matter by, 154, 155–156 as external relation, 64 as form of substrate from which it differs, 61–62 logical form, 96–97
 matter and, 62–63, 64–65, 151, 154, 155–156, 159–160
 natural form, 242–246
 non-formalist conception of, 76 problem of, 5, 46–67
 as qualitative determination, 154, 155–156
 relocation of, 46–47
 in Science of Logic, 46–47, 62–66, 198–201
 formalism, rejection of, 83 formality, 83–84, 247 form determinations, 62 former metaphysics (vormalige Metaphysik), 102–103 form-relation (Formbeziehung), 63 forms, 83–84
 free agency, choice and, 180–181 freedom, 5, 7–8, 43–44, 68, 72, 73–74, 133–134, 155–156, 178–179, 182–183, 219, 221, 229 absolute freedom of idea, 93–94 of absolute knowledge, 75–76 of artistic production, 248 beginning of history of, 36
 from bodiliness, 132–134 of the Concept, 68–87
 content of, 182–183
 contingency and, 33–35, 36
 determinations and, 136
 development of idea of, 30–35, 38–39, 41–42, 44, 146–147 development of the universal and, 134 features of Hegelian, 30–35
 finite philosopher and, 7–8
 fullest expression of, 206–207 from historical contingency, 45 Hobbesian perspective, 33–34, 43–44
 the Idea and, 74–75
 Kantian perspective, 33–34, 43–44
 logic and, 28–29, 41–42, 73–76
 nature and, 28–29, 147
 necessity and, 73–74
 as object of awareness, 31–32
 otherness and, 74–75
 philosophy and, 29
 philosophy as science of, 28–30 as predicate of concept as its own subject, 68
 property and, 208, 209
 Rousseauian perspective, 33–34 science and, 29, 35, 41, 45, 73–76
Science of Logic and, 28–29, 41–45
 self-consciousness and, 31–32
 Spinoza on, 287
 Spirit (Geist) and, 146–147
 state of nature and, 32–33
 subjective, 187–188
 subjectivity and, 5
 thinking and, 29, 43, 248
 to transcend, 45
 will and, 31–32, 38–39, 180–181, 206–207
 work of art and, 224
 free mind, 6, 132–133, 166–167, 182–183 free self-release (freies Sich-Entlassen), 94–95 free spirit, 181–184
 free thinking, 187
 free will, 7, 182, 183, 203, 206–207, 214–215
 free thinking and, 187 objectification of, 182–183
 property and, 208–209
 reflexivity of, 183–184
 Spinoza's rejection of, 287
 Frege, Gottlob, 200–201
 French Enlightenment, 155
 French Revolution, 230
 Furlotte, Wes, 137–138
 Fukuyama, Francis, 213
 Gaiger, J., 234–235
 Galileo Galilei, 110–112
 Galvani, Luigi, 111
Geist. See Spirit (Geist) gender, 6, 139–146, 147
 hierarchy and, 142–144, 146
 nature and, 144
 “overcoming interpretation” and, 143, 144
 soul and, 143–144
 general logic, 11–12 genius, 130, 245–246, 248, 249–250 accidentality of, 249
 art and, 7, 233, 250
 beauty and, 246–250
 natural immediacy and, 249–250
 nature and, 7, 232
 geology, 157–158
 geometric mean, 191–192, 193–195

- geometry, 110–111, 112–114, 117–118, 195–196 Euclidean, 112–113
 reductionism and, 112
 Gethmann-Siefert, A., 232–233, 234, 235
 Ginsborg, H., 16–18
 Glaucon, 190–191
 global passing-away, 100
 God, 26–27, 247, 260, 266–267, 268–269, 276.
 See also divine principle cultus and, 269
 as fundamental and certain reality, 253, 254
 as manifestation, 266–267 manifestation of in the world, 254 natural theology and, 259–260
 vs. nature, 26
 ontological proofs of, 85–86
 revealed theology and, 262–263
 self-loving, 270–292 “golden section”, 194
 the good judgement of, 168
 knowledge of and action on, 167, 170–171, 183–184 Greek gods, 260–261
 Greeks, 187–188
 aesthetics and, 227
 art-religion of, 216–218, 223–224, 226–227, 229, 230
 beauty and, 222–223
 Greek thought, syllogisms and, 187–188
 Greene, Murray, 129–130 ground (Grund), the, 51–53, 54–55, 60, 61–62, 63–64 characterized by self-identity, 59–60 as contradiction, 59
 in Encyclopedia Logic, 46, 50–53
 the grounded and, 60, 61
 identity and, 60–61
 as “reflexion-into-itself”, 52
 in Science of Logic, 46, 59–62
 as self-excluding identity, 62 as unity of identity and difference, 52 grounded, the, 51–52, 59, 60, 61–62, 64 ground relation, 51–53, 61–62, 63 habit, 131, 133, 136, 138, 141–142 Hamann, dictum of, 106 happiness, 181–182 harmonies, 120

 harmony, beauty and, 260
 Hegel, G. W. F. See also specific works account of philosophy, 271–280 anti-Catholicism and, 230 charged with immaterialism, 149 concept-metaphysics of, 270–271, 280–286 essentialist interpretations of, 270 idealism of, 270
 Jena writing, 97, 234
 Lutheranism and, 266–267 metaphysical commitments of, 148–149 metaphysical interpretations of, 164–165 metaphysical language of, 164–165
 method of, 4
 naturalist interpretations of, 270 non-systematic readings of, 204–205, 212–213 ontological foundations of, 270–271 philosophers’ control of thought and, 270
 on philosophy, 270–292
 revealed theology of, 262–265 Spinoza and, 283–286, 288–289 technical vocabulary of, 207, 208, 209–210, 214–215 on universal truth, 270 Hegelians, 148–149
 Hegel Society of Great Britain, 204
 Heraclitus, 43–44
 Hermanni, Friedrich, 267–268
 Herodotus, 222–223
 heterogeneity, disappearance of, 29–30
 hierarchy
 of development away from nature, 146–147 “hierarchy of peoples”, 139–146
 nature and, 140
 historical contingency, freedom from, 45 historical externality, 43, 44 historical narrative, perspective and, 43–44 history, 192–193, 229–230
 art and, 225–228
 external, 43, 44
 politics and, 214
 Science of Logic and, 43–44
 history of philosophy, 69–70 Hobbes, Thomas, 32, 33, 43–44, 189–190 Hölderlin, Friedrich, 228–229 homogeneity, 118–119, 121, 122
 Hotho, H. G., 217, 234–235, 245 Houlgate, Stephen, 234–235 human, the, 260, 261 human form, 233
 actual souls and, 244
 art and, 245
 artwork and, 247
 as beautiful shape, 246
 beauty and, 247
 as highest of natural forms, 244
 the Idea and, 247
 natural form and, 244, 245
 as natural immediacy, 245
 representation of perfect, 247 as self-signifying sign, 245

- human form (cont.)
 as sign of the idea, 245
 as sole “shape of beauty”, 245 human formation, 128–129 humanity
 philosophical religion of, 266 Trinitarian divine origin and, 262–263 human manifestation, divine principle and, 260, 261
 hypochondria, 137
- Idea, the, 2, 3, 5, 86, 175–176, 186, 193–194, 199, 207, 233, 247, 256, 260–261, 282 absolute (see absolute Idea) absolute freedom of, 93–94 as absolute Spirit (Geist), 256–259 alienation and, 74–75
 art and, 233, 242, 243, 247
 the Concept and, 272, 273
 conception of idea as shield against dualism, 86 concreteness of, 240
 definition of, 239–240
 division into subjective and objective poles, 72–73
 doctrine of, 78–79
 as dynamic process, 86
 freedom and, 74–75
 has nature of a substance, 257
 human form and, 247
 idea in the form of otherness (Idee in der Form des Andersseins), 97–99
 as idea of self, 86–87 life as manifestation of, 20 logical, 81–82
 logic as science of, 76
 manifestation of in the world, 257
 as manifest principle, 257
 nature and, 72–73, 233, 240, 258
 Parmenidean being and, 256–257 perfect expression of, 257–258
 of philosophy, 272
 philosophy as self-thinking of, 272–273 as the presence of thought, 239–240 religious worldview and, 259
 self-disclosure and, 258
 self-externality (Aufersichsein) of, 97–99 self-knowing of, 274
 self-manifestation and, 258
 shape of (die Gestalt der Schönheit) as sign of, 241
 shape of beauty and, 246
 Spirit (Geist) and, 72–73, 273
 as subject-object, 86–87 thinking itself, 258
 thought and, 240
 three forms of, 2
 as unity of concept and reality, 81–82 unity of practice and, 223 as unity of thought and nature, 239–240, 241, 246, 249–250
 universality and, 233, 247
 work of art and, 224
- ideal (das Ideal), the, 233, 237–242, 249–250 absolute Spirit (Geist) as, 239
 art and, 242
 as “the concrete shape born of objective spirit”, 239
 definition of, 239
 as expression of unity in material-sensory shape, 240
 intuition (Anschauung) and, 237
 as material external shape given to senses, 239 shape of (die Gestalt der Schönheit) and, 240 as species of the idea, 240 unity and, 240
- idealism, 10, 114, 158–159, 171, 254, 257
 absolute, 257–258
 absolute idealism, 256
 art and, 245
 German, 11–12
 Hegel vs. Kant, 270
 as link between religion and philosophy, 253–254
 nature of, 81–82
 objective, 81–82
 philosophy and, 86–87, 252–253, 256, 268–269
 problematic idealism, 159–161 realism and, 86–87
 subjective, 81–82
 as subjectivism, 81–82
- idealistic perspective, vs. artistic world view, 261 idealist metaphysics, movement against, 148–149 idealists, 148–149
 ideality, 114–115, 158–159
- ideas
 abstract, 109
 association of, 173–174
 fixed content of, 42–43
- identity, 48–49, 60, 61–62 difference and, 49–50, 52, 64
 diversity and, 49–50
 in Encyclopedia Logica, 48–50
 essence as, 49, 51
 the ground (Grund) and, 60–61 opposition and, 50
 reflexion as, 48
 reflexion-into-another and, 52
 resulting from contradiction, 59

- simple vs. determinate, 60–61
 - speculative, 13–14
 - identity philosophy, 62
 - idiosyncrasies, 134–135, 138–139
 - Ikäheimo, Heikki, 171, 173
 - illusion (Schein), 48–49
 - illusion of immediate being, essence and, 47–48
 - images, 173–174, 179
 - imagination, 171–172, 173–174, 179–180, 190–191, 226
 - immaterial, the, 149
 - immaterialism, 149, 164–165
 - immaterialist metaphysics, 149–150
 - immateriality, 149–150, 159
 - Hegel's minimalist and transformational conceptions of, 150
 - ideality and, 158–159
 - mind and, 159–160, 162–163, 164, 165
 - minimalist conception of, 149, 150, 159–160, 164–165
 - minimalist critique of, 162
 - striving of all things towards, 149–150
 - thinking and, 160
 - transformational conception of, 149–150, 160, 161, 162, 165
- immediacy, 38, 74, 75, 78–79, 154, 171–172, 177–178. See also natural immediacy
 - essence and, 48
 - Hegel's rejection of, 44, 45
 - mediation and, 84
 - natural, 233
 - natural immediacy, 233, 240, 241, 242, 243–244
 - objectivity (Objektivität) and, 84
 - pure being and, 36, 37–39, 44
 - reflexion and, 48
 - return to, 171–172
 - sciences and, 36–37
 - immediacy of being, as an illusion, 47–48
 - immediate knowing, 255–256
 - immediatization, 74
 - impurity, purity and, 89–90
 - Incarnation, 262–263
 - individual, the, 115, 207
 - particularity of, 130
 - individual autonomy, Geist and, 291–292
 - individuality, 182–183, 188–189, 282–283
 - the concept and, 291
 - particularity and, 134–136
 - passive, 130
 - Spirit (Geist) and, 288, 289–291
 - substance and, 289
 - individuation, 131
 - inference, 121–122, 166–167, 181–182, 190, 201
 - practical, 181–184
 - teleological, 176
 - thinking and, 175–176
 - inferences, 6, 104–105
 - infinite, the, 120
 - infinity, 120
 - innate ideals hypothesis, 40–41
 - inner life, relationship to, 130
 - inquisitional syllogistic of Aristotle, 196–198
 - inspiration, 248
 - institutions, 187–188, 201–202
 - intellect, 255–256
 - imagination and, 226
 - limitations of, 155
 - object of, 256
 - primacy of, 253, 254–255
 - pure, 256
 - unifying activity of, 255
 - intellectualism, 168, 172–173
 - intellectualist internalism, 168
 - intelligence, 172–174, 240
 - vs. consciousness, 172–173
 - dissolving ability of, 174
 - technical, 248–249
 - will and, 187
 - intelligibility, 98, 155–156
 - being and, 14
 - of intelligibility, 20
 - limitations of, 155
 - materialism and, 164–165
 - of nature, 98–99, 101–108, 162
 - norms of, 37
 - of objects, 15–16
 - of the real, 108
 - internalism, 170–171, 176
 - internalism question, 167–171, 176–177, 183–184
 - representationalist, 170–171
 - internalization, process of, 163–164, 173–174
 - intersubjective bond, 266
 - intuition (Anschauung), 103–104, 113–114, 121, 166–167, 171–173, 178, 179, 223, 233, 237–242.
 - See also* perspectives
 - absolute Spirit (Geist) and, 238
 - art and, 237, 240, 242–243
 - cognition and, 238
 - definition of, 237
 - geistig*, 272
 - the ideal (das Ideal) and, 237
 - Kant's doctrine of, 115–116
 - meaning and, 238
 - nature and, 238
 - reception of art and, 237, 238–239, 241–242
 - vs. representation, 237
 - vs. sensation, 237–238
 - as sign, 240, 241

320

intuition (cont.)
 space as form of, 115–116
 thought and, 237
 time as form of, 115–116 irrationality, 73
 irrational numbers, 194, 195–196 Italian painting, 228–229

judgement(s), 104–105, 120, 168, 171–172, 178–179, 183–184, 199–200, 201
 of the Concept, 175
 conclusive vs. normative, 175
 contents of, 200, 201
 favouring particularity over universality, 171–172
 formation of, 12–13
 judgement structures, 201 particular, 196–197
 singular, 196–197, 199–200 “tensed”, 200–201
 universal, 196–197
 judging, 11–12, 200
 act of, 13–14
 self-consciously, 15
 temporal act of, 200–201

Kant, Immanuel, 11–12, 14–15, 16–18, 33, 43–44, 79–80, 85–86, 102, 105–107, 113–114, 149, 150, 153–154, 166–167, 209–210, 236, 259–260
 on abstract forms, 115–116 aesthetics of, 150
 on categories of quantity, 154–155 conception of natural beauty, 226 Deduction, 13–14
 doctrine of intuition, 115–116 doctrine of space, 116 failure of self-scrutiny, 36–37
 freedom and, 43–44
 on “General Logic” and “Transcendental Logic”, 11–12
 idealism of, 270
 individual autonomy and, 291–292
Kritik der Urteilskraft, 15–18 logic in, 11–13
Metaphysical Foundations of Natural Science, 111–112, 122
 philosophy of nature and, 20–21
 on purposiveness of reflective judgement, 23–24
 on reason as purposeful activity, 23 re-enchanted conceptions of nature and, 162
 scepticism of objectivity of concept of life, 16–18

Index

on space, 117–118
 Spinozism as greatest challenge to, 270
 subjectivity in, 277–278
 theory of morality, 211–212 transcendental aesthetic of, 172–173 unity of nature in, 150
 universality and, 277–278

kenosis, 26

Kepler, Johannes, 71, 123–124 three laws of planetary motion and, 122–124 knowability, 13–14, 22, 155–156 knowing acting and, 169–171
Denkbestimmungen of, 22 immediate, 255–256
 pure, 221
 knowledge, 69. See also philosophical knowledge absolute, 75–76
 vs. action, 167
 desire for, 2
 development of, 173
 finite philosopher and, 3–4 material of, 171
 mind and, 171–172
 of nature, 106–108
proprio sensu (Erkenntnis) vs. representation (Vorstellung), 77
 self-determining, 251
 speculative, 72–73, 77–78, 186
 Spinoza’s three kinds of, 274–276 understanding (Verstand) and, 77

Knox, T. M., 234–235
 Kolb, David, 46–47, 53, 62, 63–64, 66–67
 Kosman, Ariyeh, 13
 Kreines, James, 102–103, 165 Kunstreligion, 260

language, shared, 221, 222, 224
 language of art, 245
 language of nature, 245 laughter, 135
 Lavoisier, Antoine, 111
 the law, of appearance (Erscheinung), 65 law, legitimate source of, 33 lawfulness, 182–183
 laws, 102–103
Lectures on the History of Philosophy, 69, 187
Lectures on the Philosophy of History, 34–35, 189–190, 195
Lectures on the Philosophy of Spirit, 127, 134–135, 139–140, 142
 Leibniz, Gottfried Wilhelm, 111–112, 116, 197–198 life
 absolute idea and, 19–20
 accounts of, 4–5

- ages of, 137–139
 in Logic, 4–5 logical and natural, 9–27 a logical concept, 15–18 logical life, 19
 logical treatment of, 21–22 as manifestation of Idea, 20 necessity of concept of, 18–20 objectivity of concept of, 16–18 in Philosophy of Nature, 4–5, 25–26
 philosophy of nature and, 21–22, 23
 philosophy of Spirit and, 22 as pure concept knowable non-empirically, 4–5 pure concept of, 11, 19–20 as “relatively a priori”, 4–5 reproduction of, 19–20
 in Science of Logic, 11, 25–26
 self-determination and, 20 self-realization of, 19–20 limitation, as contradiction, 178–179 lines, 117–118
 Locke, John, 43–44, 230
 logic, 72–73, 189–190, 258
 absolute position of, 77–78 Aristotelian forms of, 6–7
 the Concept and, 76–79
 content of, 207
 double, 79
 as explanation of “speculative” mode of thinking, 76–79 features of Hegelian, 35–41
 formal, 198–199, 200
 formality of, 76
 freedom and, 28–29, 41–42, 73–76
 Hegel’s conception of, 88
 Hegel’s reconstruction of as rational science, 196–198 Hegel’s unprecedented conception of, 70–71 inquisitional dimension of, 201–202 in Kant, 11–13
 mathematical logic, 197–198
 as metaphysical theology, 85–86 metaphysics and, 24–27, 70–71, 198–199
 modal, 200
 nature and, 5–6, 88–108, 109, 115
 objective, 90, 199, 201–202, 258 objective Spirit and, 201–202 one, 79
 as onto-logic, 76, 79–80 ontological dimension of, 201–202 ontological proofs and, 85–86 ontology and, 70–71, 85–86
 philosophy of nature and, 93–97
 in Plato, 190
 political ontology and, 186–187, 198–199 presupposes itself as system, 79 purity of, 90
 purpose as onto-logic, 86–87 “real sciences of philosophy” and, 89–90, 92–93, 96, 106–108 as reflection of being, 70–71 science of, 29, 88 (see also Science of Logic) as science of absolute form, 76
 as science of freedom, 68, 73–76
 as science of pure thinking, 11–15, 89–90 as science of the pure idea, 76, 86 as “science of the idea in and for itself”, 70 second reading of, 79
 self-sufficiency of, 22
 spatio-temporal determinacy and, 90
 speculative, 11, 77–78, 187–188
 subjective, 79–80, 90, 199, 201–202, 258
 symbolic, 197–198
 thought and, 236
 three levels of, 80–81 transition from logic to nature, 93–97 transition to Nature, 74 tripartite division of Logic in, 78–79
 triple, 79
 of truth, 76 usual notion of, 12–13 logical, the, 9–10
 nature and, 93–97, 104
 the real and, 92–93, 96–98, 102–103
 logical concept, the, as self-referential self-determination, 104–105
 logical determinations, nature and, 102–103, 104 logical form
 expression of, 96–97
 the real and, 107–108
 logical idea, externality of, 93–97 logicity of nature (Logizität der Natur), 99
 logical life, 19
 logical movement, contradiction and, 23–24 logical properties, 113 logical subjectivity, 79–80 logical thinking, as generative structure, 77–78 “Logic of Being”, 195–196
Logic. See Encyclopedia Logic
 logic of being, 80–81
 logic of concept, 80–81 Logic of Essence, the, 80–81, 195–196 logics, greater vs. lesser, 5 logos, 70–71, 263–264 incarnate, 263
 primacy of, 253, 254–255
 self-manifestation and, 258
 unifying nature of, 253
 Louis XVIII, 230

Lumsden, Simon, 133
 lunar, the, 124
 Luther, Martin, 26
 Lutheranism, 266–267

MacColl, Hugh, 200–201
 magnetism, 111, 120
 magnitudes, 195–196
 Manet, Édouard, 217–218 manifestation, 251, 252, 254, 255–256, 257, 258–259, 260, 261, 262–265, 268 of absolute unity via finite entities, 254 divine principle and, 262
 God as, 266–267
 self-manifestation of, 258
 Spirit (Geist) and, 262
 two forms of, 251–252
 manifoldness, 237–238
 Martin, C., 161
 masculinity, 139–146
 Hegel's privileging of, 139–140 mastery, 219–221
 material, the, 247
 material givenness, 243, 246
 art and, 241–244, 250
 natural form and, 242
 nature and, 245–246
 thought and, 238–239
 unified, 242
 materialism, 150, 151–152, 162, 164–165 correctness of, 161 critique of, 6
 empiricism and, 151–153
 Hegel's critique of, 148–165 Hegel's definition of, 150–151
 intelligibility and, 164–165
 Kant's minimalist critique of, 162 as matter's ultimate reality, 149
 mind and, 158–162
 minimalist critique of, 149, 150
 monism of, 160
 natural sciences and, 153–154, 157–158
 nature and, 162
 organic nature and, 157–158 quality and, 156–158 quantitative determination and, 155–156
 quantitative, 155–156
 quantity and, 153–156
 scope and bounds of, 149
 thinking and, 160
 unfreedom and, 151–153
 materialist scepticism, 164–165 materialist terminology, 150 materiality, 236
 absolute Spirit (Geist) and, 240

Index

art and, 7, 233, 238, 241, 242
 Hegel's conception of, 159–160
 minimalist critique of, 164–165
 nature and, 7, 232
 organized, 236
 thought and, 236–237, 239
 material reality, 148–149 material-sensory concreteness, meaning and, 240 mathematics, 110–111, 112–113, 120, 121–122, 154 Greek, 195–196 (see also Pythagoreans)
 mathematical logic, 197–198
 matter, 53, 122–123, 149, 151, 157–158 as aspect of reality as a whole, 149
 category of, 5
 determinations by form, 151
 in Encyclopedia Logic, 46–47, 62–66
 essence as, 63
 form and, 62–63, 64–65, 151, 154, 155–156, 159–160
 Hegel's empiricist conception of, 152 metaphysics of, 149
 nature and, 161
 relocation of, 46–47
 in Science of Logic, 46–47, 62–66
 as “simple identity”, 63, 64 vs. thing, 64
 three features of, 150–151 matters, 157
 McCarney, Joseph, 213
 McCumber, J., 131
 McDowell, 153
 meaning, 236
 art and, 238, 243
 categories and, 236
 intuition (Anschauung) and, 238 material-sensory concreteness and, 240
 natural form and, 243
 natural immediacy and, 240
 nature and, 236, 238
 objects and, 237–238
 otherness and, 240
 sign and, 241
 thought and, 238
 measure, 113, 195–196 mechanics, 6, 122–125
 mechanism, 18–19, 84, 109–110, 122 mediation(s), 78–79, 84, 171–172, 188–189 memory, 179 mental, the, 135, 137. See also mind mental illness, 138 metaphysical language, 164–165 metaphysics, 70–71, 148–149, 254–256 continuity with tradition and, 256 experience and, 255–256
 logic and, 24–27

- of matter, 149
- “objectivist”, 280
- pre-Kantian, 259–260
- rationalist, 102
- method, 185, 186
- metrics, 112–115, 116, 117–118, 122–123, 124–126
- middle age, 138
- middle terms, 196–197
- mind, 166–184
 - practical, 176–181
- mind, the
 - determinacy and, 171–172
 - immateriality and, 158–160, 162–164, 165
 - knowledge and, 171–172
 - materialism and, 158–162
 - metaphysics of, 6
 - nature and, 160–161
 - as power of unification, 170–171
 - practical, 6, 166–184
 - soul and, 158–159
 - stages of development of, 128–129
 - theoretical, 6, 166–184
 - unity of presentation of, 6
 - unity of theoretical and practical, 166–184
- mind–body problem, 159
- mindfulness, 148–149
- modern art
 - crisis of, 217–218
 - as mode of collective and personal self-reflection, 229
- modernity, 221
- modern polity, necessity and contingency in
 - institutions of, 201–202
- modern state, political institutions of, 187–188, 202
- modes, 287–288, 291
- Moland, Lydia, 133, 136, 140
- monism, 291–292
- moon, the, 124
- Moore, G. E., 148–149
- moralism, 219
- “Morality” (Encyclopedia part), 6
- morality, 182–184, 222
 - art and, 234
 - Hegel’s view of, 211–212
 - Kant’s theory of, 211–212
 - as reflection “into itself”, 211–212
 - theory of, 211–213
- moral psychology, 169–170
- motion, 122–123
- motivation, 169–170, 177–178, 180
- movement, vs. rest, 100–101
- Mowad, Nicholas, 139–146
- musical proportions, 194–195
- Napoleon Bonaparte, 218–219, 230
- natural alterations, 129–130
- natural consciousness, sense certainty and, 75
- natural determinations, 127, 129, 133–134
 - establishing distance from, 139–146
 - freedom from limitations of, 128–129
 - overcoming vs. owning of, 127–128, 132–133, 134–136, 140, 140–145
- natural form, 7, 232, 242, 243, 246, 247
 - actual soul and, 243–244
 - art and, 7, 233, 242–246, 250
 - hierarchy of, 244
 - human form and, 244, 245
 - meaning and, 243
 - natural immediacy and, 243
 - unified material givenness and, 242
- natural immediacy, 233, 243–244, 246
 - art and, 241, 242, 243
 - body as, 243–244
 - genius and, 249
 - human form as, 245
 - immediacy, 242
 - meaning and, 240
 - natural form and, 243
 - reception of art and, 242
 - as sign of unity of thought and nature, 243–244
 - subjective spirit and, 239
- naturalism, 232, 242, 250, 270, 291–292
- natural laws, 105–106
- natural phenomena, perspectival experience of, 124–125
- natural philosophy, 192–193, 260
- natural science(s), 109, 124–125
 - development of, 110
 - Hegel’s criticisms of, 153–154
 - historical introduction, 110–115
 - materialism and, 153–154, 157–158
 - reductionism and, 110–111
- natural soul, 127, 130
- natural theology, 259–260
- nature, 34, 72–73, 125, 149
 - the absolute and, 235–236
 - absolute otherness of, 99
 - aesthetic attitude towards, 161
 - alive with beauty and purpose, 150
 - art and, 7, 232–250
 - articulation of, 106–108
 - belief in unity of, 111–112
 - categories and, 236
 - civilization and, 132–133
 - cognition of, 105–108
 - the Concept and, 5–6, 88, 101–102, 103–104
 - concepts and, 97–101, 236
 - conceptual determinations and, 106
 - contingency and, 98–99

nature (cont.)

as continuum, 99–100
 contradiction and, 100–101 contradictory determination of, 99–101 cyclical processes and, 125–126 determinations of, 99–101 development away from, 134, 146
 division into three parts, 125
 dominance of, 245–246
 embodiment and, 127, 140
 empirical vs. non-empirical cognition of, 107 as expansion of particularity into the world, 109–126 externality and, 98–99, 109, 163
 as the finite, 120
 freedom and, 28–29, 32–33, 132–133, 146–147
 free release of particularity allowed by, 115 gender and, 144
 genius and, 7, 232
 global outlook of, 99
 vs. God, 26
 hierarchy and, 140
 the Idea and, 71, 72–73, 233, 240, 258
 imitation of in art, 244 independence of, 245
 as inhomogeneous material space-time continuum, 88, 101–103, 104–105, 106–108 inner vs. outer, 101–102, 103–104 instability of, 100
 intelligibility of, 98–99, 101–108, 162 interiority of concept of, 104 internality of the concept in, 101–106
 intuition (Anschauung) and, 238 knowledge of, 106–108
 language of nature, 245
 liberation from, 127, 128–129
 logical determinations and, 102–103 as logical idea posited in a certain form, 97–99 logic and, 5–6, 88–108, 109, 115 Logic's transition to, 74 material givenness of, 245–246 materialism and, 157–158, 162
 materiality and, 7, 232
 matter and, 161
 meaning and, 236, 238
 as meaningful structure, 236 metaphysics of, 20, 25
 mind and, 160–161
 movement away from, 132–133
 natural form and, 7, 232
 necessity and, 98–99
 as objective form of the Idea, 273
 objectivity and, 239–240
 organization and, 236

otherness and, 25, 71, 97–99, 100–101
 peculiar logicity of, 88, 99, 101, 102, 103, 104–105, 106–107 philosophy and, 93–97, 109–126, 161–162, 198–199, 274 (see also philosophy of nature) pure concepts and, 107
 real independence of, 98–99 as realm of unfreedom, 28–29 re-enchanted conceptions of, 149–150, 162 resistance to formation by and complete unity with thought, 7
 science of, 29
 self-externality (Außersichsein) of, 99, 100, 101 sheer, 236, 238–239, 243–244
 space and, 113
 as space-time continuum in motion, 101
 Spirit (Geist) and, 71–72, 96, 97–98, 146–147, 163, 224, 236, 274 static vs. ephemeral modes of occurrence and, 100
 stubbornness of, 232–250 subjectivity and, 260
 thinking and, 22, 24–25, 103
 thought and, 26–27, 98, 236–237, 238–240, 241, 242, 245–247, 249–250
 three elements of, 7, 232
 time and, 113
 two components and, 236
 two manifestations of its stubbornness, 246–250 unfreedom and, 6
 unity of, 150, 233
 the universal and, 101, 102–104
 will and, 32–33
Naturphilosophie, 71. See also philosophy of nature necessitarianism, 73 necessity, 73
 freedom and, 73–74
 in institutions of modern polity, 201–202
 nature and, 98–99
 practical contradiction and, 23–24
 systematicity and, 74
 of thought, 107
 negation, 48, 50, 55–56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61–62, 172–173 negative, the, 50–51, 52–58, 59, 60, 61–62, 64 negativity, 47–48, 57, 61, 81
 development of, 81
 as difference, 49
 essence and, 49, 50, 51
 as non-immediacy, 47
 opposition and, 49–50
 reflexion and, 48, 49
 of self-conscious intelligence, 172–173

- self-referring, 166–167, 170–171, 172, 176, 178–180
 as self-relating being, 49
 of space, 121
 neo-Kantianism, 12–13
 Neoplatonists, 189–190
 Newton, Isaac, 71, 110–112, 123, 124
 Newtonianism, 116
 Newtonian mechanics, 18–19
 Ng, Karen, 133
 Nietzsche, Friedrich, 266
noesis, 190–191
 nominalists, 197–198
 non-conformity, 179–180 non-disabled bodies, Hegel's privileging of, 139–140 non-discursive, the, 216–231 non-Europeans, particularities of, 141 non-human forms, art and, 245 non-immediacy, 47–48
 non-logical concepts, 96 non-posedness, 59–61, 62 normative, the, 175–176 norms, 139–140, 170–171 nothing, 39, 42–43, 89 not-self, self and, 162–163 nous, 189–190
 Novakovic, Andreja, 140, 147
 “now”, 117
 number, Pythagorean conception of, 195
- object (Objekt), 84–85 objecthood, 237
 objective Logic, 73–74, 81, 84, 90, 195–196, 199, 258
 Objective Spirit, 6, 166–167, 203–215
 Right, 6, 7
 objective Spirit, 72–73, 81–82, 185–202, 203, 218, 222, 236–237 account of, 7
 logic and, 201–202
 relationship to Hegel's system, 7 objective thoughts, 102
 objectivity, 5, 18–19, 84, 152, 179–180, 199 concept, 239–240
 conceptual, 85–86
 conceptual mediations and, 84
 immediacy and, 84
 immediate, 84
 nature and, 239–240
 spirit and, 236
 subjectivity and, 76, 84–86, 114, 147, 262, 263–265, 266, 268, 273–274, 280–281
 syllogistic, 199–200
 theory of, 84
- objects, 125
 determinate, 200
 empiricism and, 152–153
 intelligibility of, 15–16
 knowability of, 13–14 manifold determinations of, 237–238
 meaning and, 237–238
 mutual indifference of matter to form, 156–157 old age, 137, 138 olympic Gods, 261
 one-sidedness, art and, 246 ontological syllogisms, 198–199, 201–202 ontology, 70–71
 general vs. regional, 20
 Logic and, 70–71
 political, 6–7, 185–202 opposition(s), 54, 56, 57–58, 78, 86 ambiguity in structure of, 49–50
 contradiction in, 50
 difference and, 49–50
 in Encyclopedia Logica, 48–50
 essence and, 50
 identity and, 50
 negativity and, 49–50
 positivity and, 49–50
 reflexion and, 50
 organicism, 80–81
 organic processes, cyclical nature of, 6 organization, nature and, 236 orientation(s), 112–115, 116–118, 122–123, 124–126 oscillatory processes, mechanics and, 125 the Other, 132–133
 otherness, 75–76, 81
 the body and, 245
 freedom and, 74–75
 meaning and, 240
 natural, 75–76
 nature and, 97–99, 100–101
 nature as idea in form of, 97–99 signs and, 240 “overcoming interpretation”, 132
 disability and, 144, 145–146
 embodiment and, 134–136, 138–139, 140, 146
 gender and, 143, 144, 146
 ownership and, 132–136
 race and, 146
 stakes of, 134–136
 “ownership interpretation”, 132–133
 disability and, 144, 145–146
 embodiment and, 134–136, 146
 gender and, 146
 overcoming and, 132–136
 race and, 142, 146
 stakes of, 134–136

- parallelogram of forces, 112
 Parmenidean being, 256–257
 Parmenidean numerical metaphysics, 194–195
 Parmenides, 43–44
 particularity, 115, 134–136, 182–183, 196–198, 201–202, 207, 282–283, 286
 development away from, 134
 expansion of, 109–126
 free release of, 115
 individual, 133–134
 individuality and, 134–136
 minimizing of, 135, 147
 Spirit (Geist) and, 288, 289–291
 universality and, 170–173, 176, 181, 183–184, 288–291
 passing over (Übergehen), 80–81 passivity, 130–131
 Pełczyński, Z. A., 204, 205 Pembroke College, Oxford, 204 perception, 103–104, 152, 179–180. See also senses perfection, 246, 248 perspective(s), 114–116, 124–125 historicized, 213
 of space, 117
 structure of, 114
 subjectivity and, 114
 Peters, J., 233, 245
Phenomenology of Spirit, 6, 26, 67, 68, 70, 71–72, 74, 75, 77, 79, 81–82, 142–143, 163–164, 166–167, 171, 216–217, 218–223, 227–229, 234, 259
 art in, 217–222
 gender in, 142
 “I” of, 127
 primary goals of, 77–78 philosophes, 155
 philosophical consciousness divine principle and, 269
 philosophical, 269
 philosophical development, free of historical externality, 44
 philosophical idealism, nature of, 81–82 philosophical science, 69, 92–93 philosophical systems, as product of previous systems, 44. See also system, the philosophical thinkers, 271–272, 280 philosophical thought articulation of one truth, 3–4 testing and reformulation of, 3–4 philosophical truth, 2–4, 271–272 philosophic knowledge capacity to generate its own “otherness”, 74–75
 circularity of, 74–75
 concept as structuring principle of, 1 finitude and, 3
 freedom of, 74–75
 “Philosophy” (Encyclopedia part), 6, 7–8 philosophy, 6, 10, 216–217, 250, 274, 276. See also specific kinds of philosophy
 absolute idea and, 273–274
 absolute Spirit (Geist) and, 233
 art and, 217, 232–233
 belatedness of, 213–214 as better way of living than religion, 268 consciousness and, 29–30 as continual cultus, 268–269 co-presence/continuity with religion, 266–269 critical, 255–256 defined as “divine service”, 268–269
 definition of, 268–269, 276, 278, 279–280
 disappearance of heterogeneity from, 29–30 as encyclopedic, 1
 as expression of the absolute, 267 finite thinkers and, 272
 freedom and, 29
 Hegel’s definition/account of, 7–8, 270–292 as higher expression of self-manifesting spirit, 252
 history of philosophy and, 69–70 idealism and, 86–87, 252–253, 256, 268–269
 Idea of, 272
 as the Idea’s self-thinking, 272–273
 as logic sequence of three syllogisms, 72–73 as manifestation of Geist’s self-comprehension, 272
 as movement of purification elevating humanity, 268
 nature and, 198–199, 274
 as organic totality, 29–30
 of philosophy, 272
 as pursuit of return from exteriority of nature to interiority of actual thinking, 108 as real expression of “beatific vision”, 269
 religion and, 252–254, 256, 259–269
 as science of freedom, 5, 28–30, 73
 as science of reason, 228–229 as science of the absolute, 69–70 as self-knowing of the absolute, 274 speculative, 264
 Spinoza on, 270–292
 of Spirit (Geist), 198–199
 subjectivity and, 29–30
 sublation of religion into, 252, 265–266, 268–269
 as substance’s self-reference, 274–276 as systematic unity, 29–30 theocentric character of, 268–269 as thinking about thinking, 29
 thought and, 236–237

- transition of religion to, 265 as truth's self-reference, 276–279 as unconditioned idea, 274 as unconditioned truth's self-reference, 279
 universal, 69–70
 as universal truth's self-reference, 270–271, 278–279
- philosophy of art in 1830 Encyclopedia, 245
 in Encyclopedia of the Philosophical Sciences in Basic Outline, 232–233
 in Hegel's lectures, 232–233, 245
 textual locus of Hegel's, 233–235
- Philosophy of History*, 132–133, 140, 146–147, 208
- philosophy of mind, inferentialist take on, 6
- Philosophy of Mind*, 158–159
- philosophy of nature, 89–90, 109–126, 236 as doomed part of Hegel's system, 71 first steps of, 88
 historical introduction, 110–115
 Kant and, 20–21
 life and, 21–22, 23
 logic and, 20–24, 93–97
 nature as cognized in the forms of thinking, 107 philosophy of Spirit (Geist) and, 108
 as “science of the idea in its otherness”, 70
- Philosophy of Nature*, 1, 5–6, 70, 109–126, 138, 147 account of life in, 4–5
 general argument, 124–126 general argument of, 124–125 goal of putting science back together, 112 historical introduction, 110–115
 interpretative framework for, 6 life in, 25–26
Science of Logic and, 5–6, 9–10, 24–27, 88–108
 structure of, 109
- philosophy of religion, 230, 259–260 natural philosophy and, 260 rational theology and, 260
- philosophy of right, 203–215
- Philosophy of Right*, 7, 72–73, 133–134, 166–167, 180–181, 203, 206 architecture of, 7
 beginning of, 205–207, 214–215 dialectical structure of, 214–215
 gender in, 142
 key concepts, 7
 method of, 185
 non-metaphysical perspective on, 204–205 outline of, 207
Philosophy of Spirit (Geist) and, 207 Preface to, 185, 187–188, 197–198
 syllogisms in, 188–189
 systematicity and, 203–204
- philosophy of Spirit (Geist), 71–72, 89–90, 97, 100, 233–234, 236
 life and, 22
 philosophy of nature and, 108
 as real-philosophical science of sublation of the real, 108
- Philosophy of Spirit (Geist)*, 1, 6–7, 44, 70, 128, 137–138, 147, 163–164, 166–167 “Absolute Spirit”, 6, 7–8 on freedom of mind, 132–133
 “Objective Spirit”, 6–7
Philosophy of Right and, 207
Science of Logic and, 9–10
 “Subjective Spirit”, 6
- phoenix figure, 120
- physical processes, 6
- physics, 109–110, 111–112, 116, 124, 125. See also organic physics directional processes and, 6, 125 as science of qualified bodies, 124
- Pippin, Robert, 153, 167–168, 234–235
- place (Ort), 117, 122
- planes, 117–118, 119–120
- Plato, 26, 74, 167, 187, 189–190, 195–196, 201–202, 203
Critias, 192–193
Crito, 203
 dialectic in, 190
 “Divided Line” in, 190–192, 193–195
Laws, 203
 logic and political ontology in, 186–187
 logic in, 190
 ontological syllogism of, 198–199 political ontology of, 186–187
 Pythagoreans and, 195
The Republic, 186–188, 190–191, 192–193, 194–195 speculative dialectic of, 188–196 syllogisms in, 194–195
Timaeus, 190, 191–195
- Platonism, 266–267
- pleasure, 177–178
- Plessner, Helmuth, 133
- Ploucquet, Gottfried, 197–198
- point–line–area space, 118
- point–line–surface space, 118
- points, 117–118
- polarity, 120
- polis
 aesthetics and, 227
 subjectivity and, 187
- political institutions, of modern state, 187–188, 202
- political life, modern, account of, 6–7
- political normativity, 6–7

- political ontology, 6–7, 185–202
 logic and, 186–187, 198–199
 of Plato, 186–187 political philosophy, 7, 203 political structure, 188–189 political theory, 186, 192–193 politics, 214, 216–231 polities, institutions of, 201–202 polytheism, 261
 positedness (Gesetzseyn), 48–49, 55–57, 59–62 positive, the, 50–51, 52–58, 59, 60, 61–62, 64 ambiguity in nature of, 58 two conceptions of, 58 positive sciences, 69
 positivity, opposition and, 49–50 practical contradiction, necessity and, 23–24 practice, 223 practitioners, 223
 praxis, theory and, 268 Praxiteles, Apollo Sauroktonos, 241–242 predication, 13
 predictive acts, 13
 predisposition, 134–135 present, the (das Jetzt), 121–122 primum cognitum, 256 principles
 desire for, 2, 3
 unconditioned and unchanged, 2–3 Principles of the Philosophy of Right. See Philosophy of Right Prior, Arthur, 200–201 progress, 7, 30–31 property, 182–183, 208–209, 212–213 proportionality, 124 proportions, 124, 194, 195–196 geometric discussion of, 191–192 “harmonic”, 194
 musical, 194–195
 propositional truth, 105–106 propositions, 91
 Protestant church, 230
 Protestantism, 230–231
 prudence, 181–182
 “Psychology” (Encyclopedia part), 6 psychology, 6, 166–184
Psychology (section of Philosophy of Spirit), 163–164 punishment, theory of, 209–211, 212–213 pure abstractions, 44
 pure being, 42–43, 44
 as false start, 37–39
 immediacy and, 44
 “implicit” content or determination in, 39 as indeterminate, 37–38 as simple immediacy, 36, 37–39 subordinate concepts of, 39 as unsayable, 37–38
 pure concepts, 20, 96
 nature and, 107
 in Science of Logic, 91
 theory of, 12–13
 thinking and, 20
 pure intellect, object of, 256 pure knowing, 221
 pure quantity, 150, 154, 156 pure reason, 222
 pure thinking/thought, 14–15, 36, 90–91, 107–108, 258, 266–267
 categories and, 47
 concepts and, 107–108
 conditions of articulation of, 91–92
 vs. representation, 266
Science of Logic and, 20, 44–45, 89–93
 self-development of, 47 self-knowledge and, 89, 90, 92–93
 thought and, 21
 vs. understanding knowledge, 77–78 purity, vs. impurity, 89–90 purposiveness (Zweckmäßigkeit), 20, 85 Pythagoras, 195
 Pythagoras’ Theorem, 195
 Pythagorean numericism, 195–196 Pythagoreans, 194–196 quality, materialism and, 156–158 quantitative classification, 154 quantitative determination, 155–156 quantitative magnitudes, 154 quantitative materialism, 155–156 quantitative modes of explanation, 155–156
 quantity, 113, 153–156, 195–196 race, 6, 139–146, 147
 hierarchy and, 140–142, 146
 “ownership interpretation” and, 142
Philosophy of History and, 140 racial prejudice, 140 radical otherness, 74–75 rationalism, 14, 102, 270 rationality, 7, 73, 249, 263–264 rational syllogistic, 6–7, 185–202 rational theology, 260 Rawls, John, 203, 208
 real, the intelligibility of, 108
 vs. the logical, 92–93, 96–98, 102–103 logical form and, 107–108 recollection of, 95–96
 thinking and, 96–97

- realism, 86–87
 reality, 149
 empirical approach to, 255 immediate knowing of, 255
 of matter, 149
 metaphysical approach to, 254–255 three positions of thought toward, 255 realization, 170–171
 “real sciences of philosophy” (reale Wissenschaften der Philosophie), 10–11, 88, 89–90, 93–94, 96
 logic and, 89–90, 92–93, 96, 106–108
 method of, 88
 spatio-temporal determinacy and, 90
 reason, 1, 171, 189–190, 263–264 absolute knowledge and, 23 as identity of mind and world, 171 as living activity, 23
 practical, 169–170, 173
 pure, 222
 as purposeful activity, 23 revealed theology and, 263–264
 rule of, 220–221
 universal, 277
 will and, 167–168, 169, 183–184
 recognition, 219–220 reconciliation, of divine and human, 263, 264–265, 266, 268 reductionism, 112–113 geometry and, 112
 Hegel’s transcendental argument against, 109–110 natural science and, 110–111 transcendental argument against, 112–113 reflection, 70–71, 78–79, 190, 218–219, 228–229 of being, 70–71
 external, 91–92
 vs. speculation, 291–292 reflexion, 47–49, 57
 essence and, 47–48, 49, 51
 excluding, 55–57
 as free-standing immediacy, 48
 as identity, 48
 immediacy and, 48
 “into itself”, 48–49
 negativity and, 48, 49
 opposition and, 50
 self-relating being and, 48 reflexion-into-another, identity and, 52 reflexion-into-itself, essence as, 49 reflexivity, of free will, 183–184 Reich der Schatten, 21, 26–27 release (Entlassung), 26, 75–76 “Religion” (Encyclopedia part), 6, 7 religion, 6, 7, 177–178, 216–231, 250
 absolute Spirit (Geist) and, 233, 259–265
 art and, 216–231, 232, 259–262
 co-presence of philosophy and religion, 266–268
 in Encyclopedia of the Philosophical Sciences in Basic Outline, 251–269 in encyclopedic system, 7 as expression of human subjectivity, 259–260 as focal point for perspective on encyclopedic project, 252 fundamental role of, 259
 in Hegel’s system, 218
 idealistic character of religious worldview, 252–259 manifested, 260–261 objective approach, 259–260 in Phenomenology of Spirit (Geist), 218–222
 philosophy and, 252–254, 256, 259–269
 practical vs. theoretical sides of, 267–268 revealed, 216–217, 251–252, 261–265 (see also manifestation) as stabilizing social force, 7 subjective approach, 259–260 sublation into philosophy, 265–266, 268–269 substitution of, 265–266
 thought and, 236–237
 religious, the, 216–231 religious art, 7 religious consciousness, 254, 259–260 divine content and, 262
 divine principle and, 269
 vs. religious perspective, 262 separation and, 264 religious perspective, vs. religious consciousness, 262 religious self-consciousness, art and, 224 religious worldview, 256 absolute Spirit as threefold expression of, 259
 the Idea and, 259
 philosophical implication of, 252–253, 255 “Representation” (Encyclopedia part), 173–174 representation (Vorstellung), 77, 166–167, 169–172, 178, 179, 223, 240, 267–268 vs. the concept, 271
 vs. intuition (Anschauung), 237
 vs. pure thinking, 266
 revealed theology and, 264
 transcendence and, 266
 representational consciousness, 154–155
 representational, 154–155 representations, sensible, 42 “resolve” (Entschluss), 94–95 rest, vs. movement, 100–101 retribution, 209–210
 retributivism, 209–211

- reunification, of divine and human, 263, 264–265, 266, 268
- revealed religion, 216–217, 251–252, 266. See also revealed theology; reconciliation as future of art and its religion, 260–262
- revealed theology
 Christianity and, 262
 God and, 262–263
 rationality and, 263–264 reason and, 263–264
 representation and, 264
- revelation, 260–261 articulated by threefold syllogism, 263, 264–265 faith and, 262
- Revolution of 1789, 230
- Right, 6, 7
- right(s), 33–34, 208, 230. See also absolute right concept of, 205–206
 idea of, 206–207
 philosophy of right, 203–215
 science of, 205–206
- Romans, 187
- Romantic art, 218–219, 227
- Rome, 227
- Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 33
- rules, 102–103
- Russell, Bertrand, 148–149, 200–201, 208
- sameness, 51. See also identity
- Schelling, Friedrich Wilhelm Joseph, 228–229 criticism of Hegel, 88, 94–96 identity philosophy of, 62 methodological dualism of, 70
 on philosophical idealism, 81–82
Philosophical Letters on Dogmatism and Criticism, 81–82
The System of Transcendental Idealism, 228–229
- Schleiermacher, Friedrich, 259–260
- Scholastic theology, 7
- Science of Logic*, 2, 4, 5, 11–15, 30, 68, 70, 73–75, 199, 206, 207, 221–222 absolute Idea in, 273
 as abstract, 42–43
 account of life in, 4–5
 argumentative strategy of, 35 as articulation of self-knowledge inherent to pure thought, 89
 beginning of, 36–37, 38, 43–45, 121–122
 beginning of history of, 40
 concept of, 5
 concepts in, 35, 39, 42–43, 45
 content in, 46–47, 62–66, 198–201
 contingency and, 41–42
 definition of, 68
 development of, 35, 39, 43–44
Encyclopedia Logic and, 46–67 end of, 43–44, 92
 essence in, 5, 46–67
 expansion of, 22
 as exploration of conceptual development, 42–43 final thesis of, 75
 form in, 46–47, 62–66, 198–201 “founding role” of, 76
 freedom and, 5, 28–29, 41–45
 free subjectivity and, 45 ground in, 46, 59–62
 history and, 43–44
 as investigation of what it means to be, 89 life in, 25–26
 materialism in, 151–152
 matter in, 46–47, 62–66
 measure in, 113 methodology of, 90–91, 186 “onto-logical” view of, 5 perspective informing development of, 44 as philosophical discipline, 91
Philosophy of Nature and, 5–6, 9–10, 24–27, 88–108
Philosophy of Spirit (Geist) and, 9–10 place in Encyclopedia, 4–5 as presuppositionless investigation of pure thought, 89–93 priority over Encyclopedia Logic, 53, 66–67 pure abstractions and, 44 pure concepts in, 11, 91
 pure thinking and, 90
 pure thought and, 44–45
 quantity in, 113 reflects Hegel’s own place in history, 43 reflexion in, 47–48 relationship to Hegel’s Encyclopedia, 9–27
 as science of freedom, 45
 as science of thinking, 35–36 singular subjectivity in, 6–7 speculative knowledge in, 186
 structure of, 35
 Subjective Logic of, 187–188, 196–197, 198–199
 subjectivity and, 5
 syllogisms in, 188–189
 temporality in, 41–45
 of theory of pure thinking, 20
 thought and, 45
 three basic perspectives of, 115 three sections of third part, 81–82 transition from Logic to Nature at end of, 74 without presuppositions, 44–45 Zeitgeist and, 44
 science of nature, 29

- science of spirit (Geist), 28–29 science(s), 69, 190. See also Wissenschaft (science)
 freedom and, 29
 goal of putting back together, 112 hierarchy of, 112
 immediacy and, 36–37
 as pure thought, 45
 scientific methods, 124 second syllogism (N–S–L), 72–73
 self, 162–164
 self-awareness, 163–164
 self-causation, 162, 287–288 self-conscious intelligence, negativity of, 172–173 self-consciousness, 166–167, 171, 174, 178–179, 219–220, 221–222
 art and, 224
 freedom and, 31–32
 religious, 224
 subjectivity and, 114
 thought and, 236–237
 universal, 171
 self-contemplation, of eternal truth, 2–3 self-deceit, 167–168
 self-determination, 20, 89, 150, 155–156, 172
 self-discovery, 167–168 self-exclusion, 52–54, 55–56, 57–58, 59 self-externality (Außersichsein), 121 of the logical idea, 97–99
 of nature, 100, 101
 space and, 118–119
 self-feeling, 131, 138
 self-identity, 133–134
 self-judgement, 72–73
 self-knowledge
 art as, 238
 inherent to pure thought, 89, 90 pure thinking/thought and, 92–93
 thinking and, 91–92
 self-negation, 58, 59
 self-particularizing universality, 166–167, 170–171 self-recognition, 238–239 self-reference, 172–173, 274–276, 279–280 self-referring negativity, 166–167, 172, 176, 178–180
 self-reflexiveness, 221 self-relating being, 48, 56–57 self-repulsion, 52–53
 self-thinking, 83
 sensation, 130, 131, 162–163
 vs. intuition (Anschauung), 237–238 subjectivity of, 163 sense-certainty, 75, 77–78 sense consciousness, 75–76 sense impressions, 42 senses, bodiliness and, 243–244 sensibility, 236
 absolute Spirit (Geist) and, 240
 thought and, 239
 servitude, 219–221
 shape of beauty, the (die Gestalt der Schönheit), 240, 241, 246, 248–249
 shared language, art and, 222 Sheppard, Alice, 136 shining (Scheinen), 80–81 signs (Zeichen), 240, 241, 243, 245 art as sign, 243
 body as sign, 243–244
 intuition (Anschauung) as sign, 240, 241
 meaning and, 241
 otherness and, 240
 singularity, 196–198, 201–202 Sittlichkeit. See ethical life (Sittlichkeit) situatedness, 128–129 social norms, 6–7
 Socrates, 187, 190–191, 192–193, 194, 202 solar system, 104–105, 114, 123–124 Solon, 192–193
 soul, the, 129, 130, 133, 159, 245, 281. See also ages of life
 actual souls, 243–244
 awakening to the “I”, 131 Beautiful souls, 220–221
 the body and, 128, 129, 131, 137–138, 147, 243–244
 development of, 127
 as facet of immaterial reality, 150 feeling souls, 130–131
 formation of, 129
 gender and, 143–144
 immateriality of, 158–159
 vs. mind, 158–159
 natural, 127, 129, 130
 natural alterations and, 129–130
 stages of development of, 129, 130, 137–138
 as substance of mind, 159–160 sovereignty, Hobbesian concept of, 33 space, 113–114, 115–120, 122, 125. See also space-time continuum
 abstract, 110, 116
 apparent independence of, 100–101
 bifurcation of, 121
 closed, 118
 composed in three strands, 118–119
 dimensions of, 120
 as essentially homogeneous, 118–119 Euclidean, 109–110, 112–113, 116, 117–118, 124–125
 expansion of particularity and, 109–126
 externality and, 118–119
 filling of, 109–126

- space (cont.)
 as form of intuition (Anschauung), 115–116
 indifference of, 117
 instability of, 100
 Kant's doctrine of, 116
 Leibnizian relational theories of, 116 metrics and orientations of, 109–110, 112, 114–115, 116–118, 124–126
 nature and, 113
 negativity of, 121
 Newtonian absolute theories of, 116
 in Philosophy of Nature, 6
 self-externality (Außersichsein) and, 118–119
 structure of, 110
 temporal interpretation of, 117 third strand as bifurcation of, 118 three aspects of, 119–120
 three basic perspectives of, 117
 three dimensions of, 117, 119–120, 121–122 space-time continuum, 6, 106
 filling of, 109–126
 inhomogeneity within, 100–101
 metrics and orientations of, 122–123
 spatio-temporal determinacy, 90–91
 logic and, 90
 “real sciences of philosophy” and, 90
 thought and, 96–97
 thoughts and, 96–97
 spatio-temporal reality, 91 spatio-temporal relations, 115–116 specification, 170–171 speculation, vs. reflection, 291–292 speculative dialectic, 188–196 speculative identity, 13–14 speculative knowledge, 72–73, 77–78, 186 speculative logic, 187–188, 198–199 speculative philosophy, 264, 267, 268 speculative science, 185–186 speculative thinking/thought, 7, 76, 78, 187 speech, 135
 Speight, A., 232, 250
 Spinoza, Baruch, 13–14, 280, 282. See also Spinozism
Doctrine of Essence, 82, 86 Ethics, 274–276, 286–287 finite philosopher dependent on truth's self-causing, 7–8
 on freedom, 287
 Hegel and, 283–286, 288–289 notion of philosophy, 274–276 ontological foundations of, 270–271
 on philosophy, 270–292
 substance-metaphysics of, 283–284 substance-monism of, 270–271 substantialism of, 257 universal truth and, 270
 Spinozism, 7–8, 82, 257, 270
 Spirit (Geist), 1, 6, 72–73, 90–91, 125–126, 158–159, 216–217, 218, 245, 258, 271, 272–273,
 278–279, 280–281. See also absolute Spirit (Geist); objective Spirit; subjective Spirit
 the absolute and, 235–236
 abstraction and, 91–92
 art and, 6, 221–222, 234
 beauty, 226
 body and, 127
 concept formulated in Phenomenology of Spirit, 259
 as concrete unity of the logical and the real, 108
 definition of, 90–91
 desire to know itself, 2
 essence and, 90–91
 existence (Dasein) of, 221 finite philosopher and, 273
 freedom and, 146–147
 free spirit, 181–184
 the Idea and, 72–73, 273
 indeterminacy of, 281
 individual autonomy and, 291–292
 individuality and, 288, 289–291
 as the infinite, 120
 as logical idea, 272–273
 manifestation and, 91–92, 262
 metaphysics of, 20
 of modernity, 221
 naturalism and, 232
 nature and, 71–72, 96, 97–98, 146–147, 163, 224, 236, 272–273, 274
 objective Spirit, 185–202
 objectivity and, 236
 particularity and, 288, 289–291
 “peculiar logicity” of, 102 philosophical thinking as manifestation of self-comprehension of, 272
 philosophy and, 6, 198–199, 272
 practical, 6, 171
 as real knowledge of absolute Idea, 258–259
 religion and, 6
 as return of Idea to itself from nature, 258 as return of Idea from otherness, 97–99
 science of, 28–29
 as self-comprehending, 272–274, 290
 self-disclosure and, 251–252
 self-manifestation and, 252, 258–259
 subjectivity and, 236
 as system's third moment, 71–72 theoretical, 6, 171–176
 thinking and, 91–92, 108
 thought and, 26–27, 236

- three dimensions of, 236
- three forms of, 6
- universality and, 288, 289–291
- spirituality, 242
- spiritual life, 34–35
- spontaneity, 79–80
- state, the, 187–188, 202
- state of nature, 34
 - freedom and, 32–33
 - will and, 32–33
- states, 229–230
 - interrelation of, 214
- stereotypes, 140
- St. John's gospel, prologue of, 97
- Stoff*, 10
- Stoics, 187, 189–190
- Stone, Alison, 146–147
- stubbornness of nature, artistic production and, 248–249
- subject, 84–85, 245
 - Concept (Begriff) and, 258
 - as concept's self-movement, 83–84
 - individual, 127
- subjectification, substance and, 258
- subjective concept, 2
- subjective consciousness, 115–116
 - subjective, 115–116
- subjective freedom, 187–188
- subjective Logic, 73–74, 79–80, 81, 90, 114, 187–188, 196–197, 198–200, 201, 258
- subjective particularity, 248–250
- “Subjective Spirit”, 207
 - “Anthropology”, 6
 - “Phenomenology of Spirit”, 6
 - “Psychology”, 6
- subjective Spirit, 187, 236–237, 239, 249
- subjectivism, 84–85, 155
- subjectivity, 5, 81–82, 114–115, 117, 129–130, 131, 163–164, 179–180, 196–197, 221–222, 259, 277–278
 - absolute vs. concrete, 259
 - Concept and, 79–80, 81–82, 83–84, 86–87
 - as conceptual mediation constituting
 - objectivity, 83–84
 - concrete, 258–259
 - emotional dimension of, 267
 - free, 5
 - freed, 45
 - freedom and, 5, 291
 - individual, 261–262
 - internal determination and, 164
 - nature and, 260
 - nature of, 30
 - non-subjectivity theory of, 81–82
 - objectivity and, 84–86, 114, 147, 273–274, 280–281
 - perspectives and, 114
 - philosophy and, 29–30
 - philosophy of nature and, 83–84
 - polis and, 187
 - principle of, 198
 - purified through harmony generated by beauty, 260
 - religion as expression of, 259–260
 - religious, 259–260
 - self-consciousness and, 114
 - of sensation, 163
 - singular, 6–7
 - Spirit (Geist) and, 236
 - universality and, 291
- subject–object relation, 171, 172–173
- subjects, intentional, 200
- sublation (Aufheben), 132, 160–162, 170–171, 207, 238, 258
- sublimity, 225–226, 227, 261
- substance, 159, 257–258, 276, 281, 286
 - concept and, 82
 - eternal independence of, 285
 - individuality and, 289, 291
 - philosophy as self-reference of, 274–276
 - Spinoza's account of, 282, 283–284, 285
 - subjectification and, 258
 - transition to concept, 73–74
 - universal indeterminacy of, 285
 - universality and, 284–285, 289
- substance dualism, 160
- substance-metaphysics, 283–284
- substance-monism, of Spinoza, 270–271
- substantialism, 257
- surfaces, 119–120
- sylogism of individuality, 263
- sylogism of inquiry, Aristotle and, 198–199
- sylogism of particularity, 263
- sylogism of universality, 263
- sylogisms (Schlüsse), 72–73, 188–189, 191–194, 200, 201, 202, 272
 - as act by which concept connects itself to itself, 83
- Aristotle and, 186–187, 189–190, 193–194, 198–199
- articulating revelation, 263, 264–265
- concept and, 83
- definition of, 83
- first syllogism (L–N–S), 72–73
- formal, 187–188
- Greek thought and, 186–196, 198–199
- inquisitional, 198–199, 201–202
- mathematical, 197–198
- of modern institutional life, 201–202

syllogisms (cont.)

- ontological, 187–188, 198–199, 201–202
- in Philosophy of Right, 188–189
- in Plato, 188–196
- second syllogism (N–S–L), 72–73
- syllogism of individuality, 263
- syllogism of inquiry, 198–199
- syllogism of particularity, 263
- syllogism of universality, 263
- syllogistic, 185–186
- syllogistic logic, 186–187
- syllogistic objectivity, 199–200
- theory of the syllogism (Schluss), 83
- third syllogism (S–L–N), 72–73
- symbolic logic, 197–198
- system, the, 235–237
 - absolute Spirit (Geist) and, 233
 - art in, 232–233
 - division into three parts, 72–73
 - as expression of freedom, 73
 - internal organization of, 72–73
 - as manifestation of divine principle, 269
- systematicity, 69–70, 73
 - circularity of, 74–76
 - Encyclopedia of the Philosophical Sciences in Basic Outline* and, 203–204
 - explanatory role of, 214–215
 - of Hegel's philosophy, 203–205, 208, 209, 210–211, 212–213, 214–215, 217, 218–219
 - necessity and, 74
 - Philosophy of Right* and, 203–204
- teleology, 16–18, 84, 85, III–III2
- temperament, 134–135, 136
- temporality. See also space-time continuum
 - in Science of Logic, 41–45
 - temporal point, 121–122
 - temporal unrest, 121
- Theologia rationalis*, 259–260
- theological metaphors, 25, 26–27
- theology, revealed theology, 262–265
- “Theoretical Mind” (Encyclopedia part), 181–182
- theoretical mind, 166–184
- theory, praxis and, 268
- theory of concept, as vitalism or organicism, 80–81
- theory of the syllogism, 83
- theosis* (deification), 263
- thing, the, 64, 150, 156–157
 - category of, 46
 - constituent properties of, 157
 - determinacy and, 156–157
 - vs. matter, 64
- things, 47, 53, 64

thinkers

- absolute spirit (Geist) and, 289–291
- spatio-temporal determinacy and, 90–91
- in Spinoza's substance, 286–291
- thinking/thought (Denken), 11–12, 107, 170–172, 173, 178, 236, 245. See also pure thinking/ thought
 - about thinking, 29, 35–36
 - the absolute and, 235–236
 - absolute Spirit and, 236, 238
 - abstract, 41–42
 - as abstraction of understanding, 174
 - annihilation and, 238–239
 - art and, 234, 236–237, 238, 239, 242, 245–246
 - being and, 10, 13–14
 - body and, 243–244
 - capacity for, 35
 - the Concept and, 239–240
 - as creative power, 45
 - determinations and, 35–36, 41
 - determinative form generated by, 45
 - doctrine of, 78–79
 - embodiment and, 107
 - essence and, 91–92
 - expression and, 96–97
 - externality and, 239–240
 - freedom and, 29, 43, 248
 - as fundamentally normative, 174
 - happiness and, 181–182
 - as human and divine, 269
 - the Idea and, 240
 - immateriality and, 160
 - as immaterial structure, 236
 - inference and, 175–176
 - inspiration and, 248
 - “internal impulse” of, 34–35
 - interrogation by thinking, 14–15
 - intuition (Anschauung) and, 237
 - logic and, 236
 - material givenness and, 238–239
 - materialism and, 160
 - materiality and, 236–237, 239
 - meaning and, 238
 - nature and, 22, 24–25, 26–27, 103, 236–237, 238–240, 241, 242, 245–247, 249–250
 - nature's resistance to formation by and complete unity with, 7
 - objecthood and, 237
 - “objective thoughts”, 102
 - as organizing element in nature, 236
 - as organizing material structure, 236
 - philosophy and, 236–237
 - as productive power (Spontaneität), 14–15
 - as “pure abstraction”, 41–42
 - pure concepts and, 20

- pure forms of, 12–13
 as purely discursive, 14–15
 pure thinking and, 21
 the real and, 96–97
 religion and, 236–237
Science of Logic and, 45
 self-consciousness and, 236–237 self-determination of, 102–103 self-developing movement of, 41
 self-knowledge and, 91–92
 self-positing of in nature, 236 self-recognition and, 238–239 self-recollection of, 239
 sensibility and, 239
 spatio-temporal determinacy and, 96–97 “speculative” mode of, 76–79 speculative thinking, 76
 Spirit (Geist) and, 26–27, 236
 spirit and, 91–92
 “thinking over” (Nachdenken), 78 thought (dianoia), 190–192 “thought determinations” (Denkbestimmungen), 12–13, 91, 198–199 thoughts (Gedanken) and, 78 unifying function of, 242
 unity of, 233
 the “universal” in nature and, 101 as universal structure, 246–247
 will and, 38–39, 180–181
 willing and, 167–168 thoughts (Gedanken)
 abstract, 42–43
 finite, 78
 nature and, 98
 non-spatial nature of, 42–43
 non-temporal nature of, 42–43
 vs. “sensible representations”, 42 thinking (Denken) and, 78 as traces of thinking, 78 three-body problem, 111
 three-body system, 124
 three laws of planetary motion (Kepler), 122–124 time, 113–114, 115–120, 122, 125. See also space-time continuum; temporality analysis of, 110
 apparent independence of, 100–101
 bifurcation of, 121
 dimensions of, 120
 Euclidean, 109–110, 112–113, 116, 124–125
 expansion of particularity and, 109–126
 filling of, 109–126
 as form of intuition (Anschauung), 115–116
 metrics and orientations of, 109–110, 112, 114–115, 117, 124–126
 nature and, 113
 in Philosophy of Nature, 6
 structure of, 110
 three dimensions of, 120, 121–122
 totality, 74, 258
 all-embracing, 258
 Encyclopedia as discourse of, 68–73 systemic, 79
 transformational conception, immaterial mind
 and, 162–164
 transcendence, representation and, 266 transcendental aesthetic, 172–173 Transcendental Logic, 11–12 transcendental philosophy, Hegel’s rejection of, 20–21
 transition, 39–40
 Trinitarian divine origin, humanity and, 262–263
 trinity, 120
 Trinity, Christian dogma of, 262–263 truth, 258, 279–280
 aesthetics and, 228–229
 criterion of, 279–280
 definition of, 105–106
 eternal, 2–3
 finite philosopher and, 7–8
 necessity of demonstrating, 44–45 philosophical, 2–4, 271–272
 philosophy as self-reference of, 276–279
 a priori, 10
 propositional, 105–106
 universal, 270–271, 279–280, 286–291
tyche (chance), 261 understanding (Verstand/noesis), 190–191 “absolute power” of, 77
 knowledge and, 77
 understanding knowledge, 77–78 unfreedom, 6, 151–153
 unification, 262–263 unique consciousness, 79–80 “Unique Philosophy”, 69 unity, 104–105, 171–172, 247–248, 258, 262 of body and soul, 243 failures of, 178–179
 as fundamental and certain reality, 253, 254, 255–256
 Hegel’s “logical” approach to, 189–190
 the ideal and, 240
 resulting from contradiction, 59 universal, the, 115, 140, 170–171, 207, 247, 249–250
 abstract purity and, 176
 determinateness of, 170–171 development towards, 134, 139, 147 divergence from, 139–146

336

universal, the (cont.)
 nature and, 102–104
 the particular and, 170–171, 176 universality, 104–105, 107, 182–183, 196–198, 247, 248–249, 274–276, 277–278, 282–283, 286
 art and, 246–247
 the Idea and, 233, 247
 limitation as spurring development of, 178–179
 particularity and, 170–173, 181, 183–184, 288–291
 self-particularizing, 166–167, 170–171
 Spirit (Geist) and, 288, 289–291
 substance and, 284–285, 289
 universal philosophy, 69–70 universal reason, 277
 universals, 196–197
 universal truth Hegel on, 270
 particular thinkers and, 286–291
 philosophy as self-reference of, 270–271
 self-reference of, 279–280 Spinoza and, 270
 unrest, temporal, 121

validity, 182
Verinnigung (contemplation), 229–230 virtuosity, disability and, 136 vitalism, 80–81
 vocation, choice of, 137

Index

volition. See will voluntarism, 168–169, 170–171 volutarism, 168
voûs, 129

Watson, Gary, 169
 weeping, 135
Weltgeist (world-Spirit), 290, 291 Whitehead, Alfred North, 110 whiteness, 139–146
 Wicks, R., 246–247
 will, the, 31–32, 169–170, 173, 180–183 of abstract right, 32 as choice, 180–181
 conflict and, 38–39
 freedom and, 31–32, 38–39, 180–181, 206–207 free vs. arbitrary, 203
 free will, 182, 183
 intelligence and, 187
 reason and, 167–168, 169, 183–184
 state of nature and, 32–33
 thinking/thought and, 180–181
 thought and, 38–39
 weakness of, 167, 168–169 willing, thinking/thought and, 167–168 Wissenschaft (science), 217, 222
 Wolff, M., 70–71
 Wood, Allen, 205, 215 world, finite mind and, 271 world history, 229–230 “Wrong”, 210