

Index

- Aamir, Adnan, 37
- Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway, 198
- clustering of industrial parks, 199
 - loan restructuring, 289
- Addis-Adama expressway, Ethiopia, 198
- Africa
- allocation of funding for home provinces of political leaders, 173, 177–178, 180
 - American criticisms of Chinese activities, 123–124
 - China as reason for economic turnaround, 196
 - China's postwar cultivation of relationships, 41
 - Chinese aid received by African countries, 114
 - effects of Chinese development projects on luminosity, 226
 - outcomes of Chinese development projects, 7
 - potential influence of Chinese aid on conflict in, 264
 - socioeconomic impacts of Chinese development, 225
 - spread of independence movements in former colonies, 42
 - using TUFF methodology to identify projects in, 80–87 See also Tanzania and other individual countries.
- aid
- aid-to-debt ratio in selected regions, 115
 - aid-to-debt ratio under BRI, 105–106
 - aid-to-GNI ratio, 107
 - allocation criteria, 6
 - analysis of China's aid allocation, 53–54
 - Asia, levels of Chinese aid received, 114
 - bundling with debt and OFDI, 56
 - CCP's characterization, 42
 - China becomes “net donor,” 45
 - China's foreign aid budget (1961–2016), 44
 - China's strategic use of, 6, 41–43, 46, 129
 - Chinese aid projects by recipient, 40
 - conflict and, 263, 264
 - correlation between UNGA voting alignment and receipt of US aid, 149
 - correlation with population, 150
 - corruption and, 260–261
 - dataset of Chinese aid projects in the Pacific, 29, 71, 72
 - defining, 26–28
 - Deng's foreign aid reform program, 49
 - distinction between debt and, 28
 - governance effects comparison of democratic and authoritarian donors, 255
 - IDA provision of aid-financed projects, 30
 - implications of blurring of distinction between Chinese aid and debt, 5
 - motivations behind OECD-DAC donors' allocation decisions, 125
 - Nepal's likelihood of receiving, 131
 - OECD dataset of Chinese aid activities, 38
 - potential impact of abrupt withdrawal of Western aid, 261–262
 - recipients of Chinese aid, 117, 120
 - request-based allocation systems, potential for political manipulation, 162–164
 - Tanzania's likelihood of receiving, 132
 - US foreign aid budget, 45
 - World Bank distribution criteria, 174–175 See also allocation of Chinese aid and credit.
- AidData, 8, 25–26, 77, 80, 91, 101, 166
- Albania, 46
- Algeria, 42
- allocation of Chinese aid and credit, 133
- comparison with traditional/established donors, 148–150, 157
 - demand-driven project selection system, 161

- descriptive statistics, 158
- development finance, 156
- economic limits of noninterference
 - principle, 140–147
- fixed-effects regressions, 153
- institutions and, 155
- levels of need in recipient countries, 147–148
- MOFCOM and MFA oversight, 130
- natural resources and, 154
- relationship between aid and foreign policy interests, 129–134
- relationship between debt and economic interests, 134–140
- “rogue donor” narrative; see “rogue donor” narrative of China’s lending practices.
- UNGA voting correlation, 134, 202
- American Enterprise Institute (AEI), 71
- Angola, 43, 46, 117
- Annen, Kurt, 256
- ASEAN (Association of Southeast Asian Nations), 118
- Asia
 - China’s postwar cultivation of relationships, 41
 - levels of Chinese aid received, 114 See also individual countries.
- Asian Development Bank, 200, 290
- Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB), 59, 290
- Asmus, Gerda, 126
- Australia, BRI countermeasures, 3
- Bahamas, 120
- Bandung Conference (1955), 41
- Bank of China, 50
- Banking on Beijing dataset
 - construction, 88–91
 - coverage, 80
 - development approach, 72, 80
 - risks of misinterpretation or misuse, 81
- banks
 - policy banks, see policy banks.
 - state-owned commercial banks, 69
- Bartke, Wolfgang, 38–39
- Belt and Road Initiative (BRI), 282–302
 - aid-to-debt ratio, 105–106
 - and China’s bid for a leadership position in the global development finance regime, 291–294
 - as Xi’s signature policy initiative, 288
 - at twenty years, two scenarios, 282–285
 - banking transformation, 285–287
 - big-ticket infrastructure projects, 36
 - codification, 58
 - contrasted with Deng’s “hide and bide” philosophy, 59
 - criticisms, 227
 - European concerns about, 2
 - final reflections, 301–302
 - growing signs of asset distress and default risk in the BRI project portfolio, 289
 - lack of information about, 8
 - launch, 2, 285, 287
 - objectives, 8, 286
 - overcoming China’s trust deficit, 294–301
 - costs and benefits of transparency, 294–296
 - sovereign debt management approaches, 299–301
 - value of adhering to common standards and disciplines, 296–299
 - Pakistan’s role, 34
 - positioning of China’s underdeveloped western provinces, 287
 - potential for multilateralization, 290–291
 - potential to spur global growth in highly impoverished regions, 227
 - preexisting rationale for Chinese aid and credit provision, 58
 - questions faced by World Bank president on wisdom of, 2
 - soft power framing, 287–290
 - value in US$, 2
 - Western countermeasures, 3
- benefactor-to-banker transition
 - benefits for developing countries, 9
 - China’s overseas development program as illustration of, 97–121
- distribution characteristics of China’s overseas development program and, 114–121
- driving factors, 214
- example of Pakistan, 37–38
- far-reaching impacts, 3
- foundations, 1–9, 47–53
- global impact, 121
- increase in stakes for host countries, 9, 251–253
- phases, 38
- the transition, 105–107
- turn-of-the-century acceleration, 55
- value of the Banking on Beijing dataset for understanding, 28
- BenYishay, Ariel, 265
- Bermeo, Sarah, 255

364 Index

- Better Utilization of Investment Leading to Development (BUILD) Act (US, 2018), 2
- “biding one’s time and hiding one’s capabilities,” Deng’s principle, 3, 47, 287
- big-ticket infrastructure projects
- CPEC and BRI projects, 36
 - “debt trap diplomacy” and, 288
 - examples of, 36, 145
 - opportunities created by China’s willingness to bankroll, 9, 17
 - political influence enabled by funding of, 47
 - reasons for speed of implementation, 19–20
 - use of Chinese debt to finance, 263
- “Blue Dot Network,” 3
- Bluhm, Richard, 109, 161, 166, 207, 219, 253, 262
- Bolton, John, 124
- Boston University, 28–29
- Brant, Philippa, 162
- Bräutigam, Deborah, 24, 52, 81–82, 162
- Bretton Woods institutions, China’s frustration with and alternatives to, 59
- Briggs, Ryan, 160, 168, 174
- Brigham Young University (BYU), 39
- Busan High Level Forum on Aid Effectiveness (2011), participants, 64, 65
- Cambodia, 116, 118, 265
- Center for Global Development, 300
- Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS), 71
- Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), 38
- “Century of Humiliation,” 39
- Chan, Ho Fai, 205
- Chatham House rules, 2
- Check the Numbers: The Case for Due Diligence in Policy Formation* (McCullough & McKittrick), 79
- Cheng, Mengfan, 163
- China
- benefactor-to-banker transition, 1–9
 - See also* benefactor-to-banker transition.
 - challenges faced by at home, 4, 5
 - comparison of overseas spending with OECD-DAC counterparts, 6, 7
 - criticism by European governments and institutions, 2
 - criticism by US and European governments, 1
 - critics, and allies’ competing narratives, 5
 - domestic industrial overproduction problem, 4, 56–57, 58, 108–109
 - foreign exchange oversupply problem, 4–5, 23, 55, 109
 - potential benefits of co-ordination with, 66
 - singled out by US as “strategic competitor,”
 - state-owned “policy banks,” see policy banks, 3
 - transition from “benefactor” to “banker,” see also benefactor-to-banker transition.
- China Africa Research Initiative, 71
- China Development Bank
- dataset of energy sector projects financed by, 29
 - environmental standards requirements, 20, 297
 - foreign exchange reserves investment mandate, 137
- Going Out strategy and, 4
- loans to Sri Lanka, 9
- loans to Tanzania, 18–19
- nonparticipation in DSSI, 152
- number of projects supported by, 114
- role in allocation of Chinese aid and credit, 130
- China Eximbank
- creation, 50
 - dataset of energy sector projects financed by, 29
 - environmental standards requirements, 20, 297
 - foreign exchange reserves investment mandate, 137
- Going Out strategy and, 4
- increased lending in Kenya, 57
- loans to Myanmar, 100
- loans to Nepal, 99
- loans to Sri Lanka, 9
- loans to Tanzania, 18–20
- number of projects supported by, 114
- profit motivation, 139
- role in allocation of Chinese aid and credit, 130
- China National Complete Plant Import & Export Corporation Ltd. (COMPLANT), 49
- China Road and Bridge Corporation (CRBC), 58, 61
- China-Africa Research Initiative (SAIS-CARI), Johns Hopkins University, 29, 71
- China-Africa Loan Database, 72

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-47410-8 — Banking on Beijing

Axel Dreher , Andreas Fuchs , Bradley Parks , Austin Strange , Michael J. Tierney

Index

More Information

Index

365

- development projects analysis, 295
- China-IMF Capacity Development Center, 290
- China-Latin America Finance Database, 72
- China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC), 34
 - big-ticket infrastructure projects, 36
- China's Foreign Aid (White Paper, 2014), 159
- China's overseas development program
 - Africa-Asia comparison, 114–115
 - aid-to-debt ratio
 - global financial crisis and, 105
 - selected regions, 115
 - aid-to-GNI ratio, 107
 - as illustration of benefactor-to-banker transition, 97–121
 - benefactor-to-banker transition, 105–107
 - Chinese government's portrayal, 124–125
 - comparison with OECD-DAC counterparts, 105–107
 - criticisms and praise, 195–196
 - data limitations, 113–114
 - distribution characteristics, 114–121
 - diversity of financial support provision, 101–104
 - early twenty-first-century expansion, 105
 - expected influence of domestic industrial overproduction, 109
 - factors shaping the overall size of, 108–111
 - Hillary Clinton's criticisms, 123
 - influence of increase in foreign exchange reserves, 110
 - most economically dependent countries, 119
 - multilateral institutions' criticisms, 124
 - Nepal-Myanmar comparison, 97–101, 104
 - New York Times editorial
 - description, 122
 - project status data, 111–113
 - recipients of Chinese aid, 117, 120
 - recipients of Chinese debt, 118
 - sectoral diversity, 111
- Chinese Academy of International Trade and Economic Cooperation (CAITEC), 161
- Chinese aid activities, OECD dataset, 38
- Chinese development finance
 - allocation of, 132, 156
 - correlates across provinces, 169
 - emphasis on “connective infrastructure” projects, 209
 - history of, see history of Chinese development finance.
 - lack of institutional safeguards, 201
 - requirements for understanding, 97
 - scope of research, 28–29
 - side effects, see side effects of Chinese development finance.
 - subnational distribution, see subnational distribution of Chinese development finance.
 - various outcomes, 274
 - vulnerability to political capture, 201
- Chinese development projects
 - infant mortality, 223
 - outcomes comparison with Western projects, 7
 - per capita GDP growth, 217, 218
 - spatial concentration, 220, 221
- “Clear Choice Framework” (USAID, 2018), 1
- clientelism, 177, 181
- Cold War, 34, 39
- commodity-backed loans, 52, 136, 145
- common standards and disciplines, reconsidering value of adhering to, 296–299
- communist movements, China's use of aid to support, 43
- conflict, relationship with Chinese development finance, 261–265
- Congo-Brazzaville, 43
- Congressional Research Service (CRS), 71
- Corporación Andina de Fomento, 290
- corruption
 - comparison of Chinese and World Bank development project sites, 256
 - in Sri Lankan president's home district, 288
 - relationship with Chinese development finance, 256–258 See also under side effects of Chinese development finance.
- COVID-19 pandemic, 152
- Creditor Reporting System (OECD), 25, 65
- Cruzatti, John, 206, 224
- Cuba, 46, 116
- Cultural Revolution, 43
- currency revaluation, 4, 23, 55, 109

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-47410-8 — Banking on Beijing

Axel Dreher, Andreas Fuchs, Bradley Parks, Austin Strange, Michael J. Tierney

Index

More Information

366 Index

- DAC-China Working Group, 65
 datasets on Chinese government financial flows existing datasets and their limitations, 72–79 features, 73
 usefulness to social scientists, 72–79 debt defining, 26
 distinction between aid and, 28 implications of blurring of distinction between Chinese aid and, 5 post-2000 focus of Beijing's overseas development spending on, 5
 recipients of Chinese debt, 118 risks of accumulating excessive amounts of foreign currency-denominated debt, 36 debt sustainability frameworks (DSFs), 290 “debt trap diplomacy,” 288 debt-financed projects, IBRD offering, 30 deforestation, risks of for Chinese development projects, 20
 Democratic Republic of the Congo, 49
 Deng Xiaoping, 3, 47, 49, 54, 59
 Department for International Development (DFID, UK), 298 developing countries
 aid-to-debt ratio, 114
 allocation of Chinese development finance, 132, 156 amount and types of Chinese financial support provision, 101–104
 China's Cold War aid provision, 38
 China's relationships with, 60
 China's solidarity with, 41
 Chinese enterprises welcomed by, 135 classifications of financial flows to, 26
 distribution of Chinese development finance, see subnational distribution of Chinese development finance.
 DSSI, potential impact of China's non-participation, 152 leaders' praise for Chinese government, 196 opportunities created by Chinese capital, 9, 36, 61 primary focus of China's bilateral relationships with, 43 reliance on China for financing, 119 side effects of Chinese development finance for, see side effects of Chinese development finance.
 socio-economic impacts of Chinese development, see socio-economic impacts of Chinese development.
 South-South cooperation narrative, 125 value-for-money debate, 123
 see also Myanmar; Nepal; Sri Lanka; Tanzania and other individual countries.
 developing world, China's turn of the century largesse, 4
 Development Assistance Committee (DAC), percentage of overseas spending devoted to ODA, 5
Development Dance, The (Swedlund), 17
 development finance
 allocation of influenced by motivations of actors in recipient countries, 159
 Chinese history, see history of Chinese development finance.
 concept, 27
 Japanese strategy, 52
 prevailing regime, see prevailing development finance regime.
 supplier preferences of host countries, 294–295
 see also Chinese development finance; global development finance market; international development finance; overseas development finance.
 development research and policy, “geospatial awakening,” 29
 DiLorenzo, Matthew, 163
 Djibouti, railway from Addis Ababa, see Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway.
 Doces, John, 205
 domestic industrial overproduction, China's problem, 4, 56–57, 58, 108–109
 Dominican Republic, 46
 Dornan, Matthew, 162
Dragon's Gift, The (Bräutigam), 52 drought exposure, proxy for local levels of development, 168 economic activity, spatial concentration of, research findings, 219–222 economic sectors, China's support for in Nepal and Myanmar, 100
 Egypt, 42, 61
 “Eight Principles of Foreign Economic and Technological Assistance,” 62, 141
 “Eighth Wonder of the World,” 33
 El Salvador, 46

Index

367

- energy sector projects, state-owned-bank financed, 29
- England, 41
- escrow accounts, 136, 145–146
- Ethiopia, 117, 118, 196
 - Addis-Adama expressway, 198
 - “Growth and Transformation Plan,” 197
 - Mojo-Hawassa Expressway, 198
- European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, 290
- European Investment Bank (EIB), 124, 290
- European Union, 201
- Faye, Michael, 163
- Fierravanti-Wells, Concetta, 123
- financial instruments, Beijing’s use of, 6
- Findley, Michael, 294
- “Five Principles of Peaceful Coexistence,” 41
- foreign currency reserves
 - China’s holdings, 287
 - global influence gained by China’s deployment of, 1
- foreign exchange reserves
 - China’s oversupply problem, 4–5, 23, 55, 109
 - impact of increases on size of overseas development program, 110
 - policy banks’ investment mandate, 137
 - yield, 55
- foreign influence
 - aid as instrument for gaining, 42
 - China’s preferred instruments in the 1950s, 42
- foreign policy, shift to growth-first approach, 47
- fungibility, 204, 222–224
- Gabon, 67
- Gambia, 46
- “gaming the system,” potential for in project proposal systems, 257
- Gansu, 287
- Geneva Conference (1954), 41
- Geng Biao, 60
- “Gentleman’s Agreement,” on Officially Supported Export Credits, 135, 292–293
- “geospatial awakening” in development research and policy, 29
- Ghana, 43, 61
- Glencore, 146
- global development finance market, 152, 210
 - Beijing’s role as topic of conversation, 2
 - change in the nature of Beijing’s participation, 4
 - China’s entry, 41
 - leadership, China’s ambitions, 291
 - unresolved conflict, 64
- Global Development Policy Center, Boston University, 71
- Global Economic Governance Initiative (GEGI), 28
- Global Financial Crisis (2008), 287
 - China’s response, 105, 137, 285
 - impact on aid-to-debt ratio, 105
 - unique window of opportunity created by, 59
- Going Out strategy, 3, 55–60
 - adoption of, 51, 55, 109, 214
 - and China’s rise as global development banker, 55–60
 - as cause of China’s transformation into a global development banker, 285
 - continuity between BRI and, 286–287
 - drivers, 4, 108
 - impact, 4, 285
 - natural resources acquisition and, 137, 140
 - objectives, 138
- governance, relationship with Chinese development finance, 255–261
- government concessional loans (GCLs), 51
- Great Leap Forward, 43
- ground-truthing exercise
 - interview questions, 91–92
 - supplementary analysis, 92–95
 - Uganda and South Africa, 83–87
- Guinea, 42, 61
- Hard Choices* (Clinton), 123
- Hausmann, Ricardo, 195
- Hawkins, Darren, 39
- health, potential effect of development finance on, research findings, 222–224, 227, 232
- “hide and bide” strategy, 1, 3, 59
- “hide and bide” strategy, Xi’s abandonment, 287
- High-Level Forum on Aid Effectiveness, Busan, South Korea (2011), 65
- history of Chinese development finance, 62
 - analysis of China’s aid allocation, 53–54
 - China becomes a “net donor,” 45
 - Chinese aid projects by recipient, 40
 - earlier studies, 38–39
 - five phases of China’s development program, 54
 - foreign aid budget (1961–2016), 44

368 Index

- history of Chinese development (cont.)
 - foundations and early years (1949–1959), 39–42
 - going out and China's rise as global development banker (1999–today), 55–60
 - influence of Japanese approach, 51–52
 - Mao's revolutionary foreign policy (1960–1977), 42
 - projects in Pakistan, 33–37
 - reform era recalibration (1978–1998), 47–53
 - shift toward semi-concessional and commercial lending, 36
 - transition toward more commercially viable projects backed by interest-bearing loans, 49–50
- Hodler, Roland, 161, 171–172, 177, 179
- Honig, Dan, 295
- Humphrey, Chris, 268
- hydroelectric power plants
 - Myanmar, 100
 - Nepal, 99
- hydropower projects, China's support for in Nepal and Myanmar, 99–100
- India, geostrategic value of Nepal and Myanmar, 98–99
- Indonesia, 61, 121
- indoor air pollution, 198, 206
- industrial overproduction, China's domestic problem, 4, 56–57, 58, 108–109
- infant mortality
 - Chinese development projects and, 223
 - comparison of World Bank and Chinese development projects, 226, 270
 - definition, 206
 - potential effect of development finance on, 206–207
 - research findings, 222–224, 227, 232
- inflation, 4, 23, 37, 55, 109, 246
- Inter-American Development Bank, 200, 290
- Inter-American Dialogue (IAD), 28, 71
- International Aid Transparency Initiative (IATI), 25, 64
- International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), development funding mechanisms, 30
- international development finance
 - administrative burden, 252
 - China's traditional disregard for rules/norms of prevailing regime, 66
 - impact of political bias on effectiveness of, 201–202
 - regime “incumbents,” behavior toward China, 292
 - Western concerns of the destabilization risk of China's activities, 122–123
 - winners and losers of China's approach, 22–24
- International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), 290
- Isaksson, Ann-Sofie, 256, 258
- Ithari-Dhalkewar road project, Nepal, 98, 111
- Jablonski, Ryan, 163
- Japan
 - BRI countermeasures, 3
 - influence of approach to development finance on China, 51–52
- JICA Research Institute, 71
- Johns Hopkins University, see also China Africa Research Initiative, 24, 29, 71
- joint ventures, blending of debt and investment through, 49
- Kammerlander, Andreas, 171
- Kaplan, Lennart, 171, 264
- Karachi-Peshawar Motorway, Pakistan, 36
- Karakoram Highway, Pakistan
 - China's current support, 35
 - history of China's financial support, 33, 36
 - inauguration, 33
 - location, 35
 - “Sino-Pakistani Friendship Highway” invocation, 33
 - Xi's invocation as symbol of friendship, 60
- Kashmir, 35
- Kathmandu earthquake, Nepal, 98
- Kenya, 57
 - allocation of World Bank development funds, 163
 - China's lending operations in, 57
 - loan request rejected, 271
- Mombasa-Nairobi Standard Gauge Railway, 57, 247–251
- Nairobi-Thika Highway, 192–194
- presidential elections (2013), 247
- Kenyatta, Uhuru, 247, 271
- Kersting, Erasmus, 142, 255
- Kilby, Christopher, 142, 255
- King, Gary, 26
- Kiribati, 46
- Knack, Steven, 256

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-47410-8 — Banking on Beijing

Axel Dreher , Andreas Fuchs , Bradley Parks , Austin Strange , Michael J. Tierney

Index

More Information

Index

369

- Koroma, Ernest Bai, 159
Kotsadam, Andreas, 256, 258
- Lahore Metro, Orange Line, 36
Laos, 117, 120
“Lean to One Side” strategy, 42
lender of first resort status, 1, 105, 121, 145, 151, 282
 Beijing’s transition to, 1–9
 China’s newfound position, 31 global financial crisis as trigger, 105 influence of China’s reputation for getting things done quickly, 19
Li Keqiang, 14
Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE), 10
Liberia, 67
Lowy Institute for International Policy, dataset of Chinese aid projects in the Pacific, 29, 71, 72
- Macedonia, 68
“Made in China 2025” initiative, 286
Magee, Christopher, 205
Malaysia, 43
Malpass, David, 2
Mao Zedong
 death, 47
 “Three Worlds Theory,” 42
“Maritime Silk Road,” 8
Matzat, Johannes, 206, 224
Mauritania, 132
Maystadt, Philippe, 124
MFA, 114, 130
Michaelowa, Katharina, 268
Millennium Challenge Corporation (US), 201
Ministry of Commerce (MOFCOM), 39, 64, 69, 70, 71, 114, 130, 135, 139, 161, 162, 165, 257, 287
Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MFA), 114, 130
Mojo-Hawassa Expressway, Ethiopia, 198
Mombasa-Nairobi Standard Gauge Railway, Kenya, 57, 247–251
Mongolia, 42
Monson, Jamie, 15
Montenegro, 120
Morgan, Pippa, 39
Mozambique, 46
Muchapondwa, Edwin, 83
Multilateral Cooperation Center for Development Finance, 66, 290
Myanmar
 comparison of Chinese financial support with Nepal, 97–101, 104
 geostrategic value to China and India, 99
 nature of Beijing’s support, 97, 100
 Upper Paung Laung hydroelectric power plant, 100
 Yedashe paper mill, 104
- Naim, Moisés, 122
Nairobi-Thika Highway, Kenya, 192–194
 nighttime light output effects, 193, 194 natural environment, Chinese development finance and, 265–268 natural resource sector and allocation of Chinese funds, 154, 170–171
 Going Out strategy and, 137, 140
 post-financial crisis investment, 137
Nehru, Jawaharlal, 41
Nepal
 comparison of Chinese financial support with Myanmar, 97–101, 104
 geostrategic value to China and India, 98
 Ithari-Dhalkewar road project, 98, 111
 Kathmandu earthquake, 98
 likelihood of receiving aid, 131
 social sector projects supported by Beijing, 100
 Tatopani customs inspection station, 104 type of financial support attracted from Beijing, 97
 Upper Trishuli 3A hydroelectric power plant, 99
New Development Bank, 59
Niehaus, Paul, 163
Nielson, Daniel, 83
Nigeria, 118
nighttime light output effect of Nairobi-Thika Highway, 193, 194 effects of World Bank development finance, 225 measure of subnational economic output, 205–206 measuring spatial inequality, 208 proxy for local levels of economic development, 168
Non-Aligned Movement, 41
noninterference principle
 concept, 60, 127
 concerns raised by, 255
 economic limits, 140–147
 implications, 255
North Korea, 42, 46

370 Index

- nuclear power plants, Karachi, 36
Nyerere, Julius, 15
- Obama, Barack, 123
Odinga, Raila, 247
OECD (Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development)
Creditor Reporting System, 25, 65 dataset on Chinese aid activities, 38
definition of ODA, 26
“Gentleman’s Agreement” on Officially Supported Export Credits, 135, 292–293
OECD-DAC countries
comparisons with China overseas development constraints with China’s, 68 overseas development programs, 105–107 overseas spending, 6, 7
motivations behind aid allocation decisions, 125 reporting standards, exposure of China to, 65 official development assistance (ODA), OECD definition, 5, 26 Officially Supported Export Credits, OECD’s “Gentleman’s Agreement” on, 135, 292–293 offshoring of industrial production, 4, 57–58 oil crisis (1973), 52
“on demand” approach to distribution of development finance, inherent risks, 165
One Belt, One Road (OBOR) see Belt and Road Initiative (BRI).
Opium War, 41
Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, see OECD.
Orion, 146
outward foreign direct investment (OFDI), 56 overseas development constraints comparison, China and OECD-DAC counterparts, 68 decentralized structure of China’s program, 69–71 focus of Beijing’s post-2000 spending, 4–5 lack of transparency on Chinese projects, 8, 64–96
refocusing of China’s program on commercially viable projects, 48 overseas development finance
lack of transparency on Chinese projects, 64–96
See also under secrecy public opinion in China, 68–69 voluntary disclosure regime, 65 overseas spending, percentage meeting OECD’s definition of ODA, 5
- Pakistan, 116, 117, 118
Chinese lending to SPVs in, 37
Chinese-funded big-ticket infrastructure projects, 34
Karachi-Peshawar Motorway, 36 nuclear power plants in Karachi, 36 vulnerability to debt sustainability issues, 61
Xi on the traditional friendship between China and, 60
- Panama, 46
Paris Club
China’s “ad hoc participant” status, 65, 292
China’s rejection of invitations to join, 299
DSSI participation, 152
prohibition of borrowers rescheduling outstanding Chinese debts through, 300
- Pence, Mike, 124
People’s Bank of China, 283
People’s Republic of China (PRC), establishment and antecedents, 39–41
- Philippines, 43
policy banks, 3
“inadequate” characterization of due diligence procedures, 201 investment mandate for foreign exchange reserves, 137
See also China Development Bank; China Eximbank.
- political bias
impact on effectiveness of international development finance, 201–202 vulnerability of Chinese development finance to, 201
- political interests, distribution of Chinese development finance by, 171–181 population, correlation with aid allocation, 150 prevailing development finance regime
China’s disregard, 66, 302 commitment ability and cartel membership, 302
low- and middle-income countries encouraged to bypass, 291

- unresolved conflict between
 - “incumbents” and “challengers,” 64
- project proposal systems, potential for
 - “gaming the system,” 257
- Qinghai, 287
- quality, China’s prioritization of speed over, 2
- railway projects
 - Mombasa-Nairobi Standard Gauge Railway, Kenya, 57, 247–251
 - TAZARA railway in Tanzania and Zambia, 45–46
 - See also* Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway.
- Rajapaksa, Mahinda, 9, 13
- Rajapaksa, Namal, 9
- Rand Corporation, 71
- Raschky, Paul, 161, 171–172, 177, 179
- Reconnecting Asia Project, 71
- repayment capacity, inadequate accounting
 - by Chinese state-owned banks, 195
- “Report on Strengthening Foreign Economic and Technical Cooperation” (CCP, 1958), 42
- Republic of China (ROC), 46
- request-based systems of aid allocation, potential for political manipulation, 162–164
- revolutionary groups, Beijing’s provision of material support and training for, 43, 46
- road projects
 - Addis-Adama expressway, Ethiopia, 198
 - Ithari-Dhalkewar road, Nepal, 98, 111
 - Karachi-Peshawar Motorway, Pakistan, 36
 - Mojo-Hawassa Expressway, Ethiopia, 198
 - Nairobi-Thika Highway, Kenya, 192–194
 - Southern Highway extension, Sri Lanka, 12 See also Karakoram Highway, Pakistan.
- “Rogue Aid? An Empirical Analysis of China’s Aid Allocation” (Dreher & Fuchs), 53
- rogue donor narrative of China’s lending practices
 - core arguments, 129–130
 - lack of evidence for, 151–153, 226
 - staying power within the US government, 123–124
 - testing the claim, 127–129
 - the debate, 5, 122–129
 - views on China’s motivations, 148
- Rosenstein-Rodin, Paul, 204
- Rosneft, 117
- Russia, 116, 117
- Ruto, William, 247
- São Tomé and Príncipe, 46
- secrecy
 - around China’s development finance activities, 8, 24
- around China’s overseas development program, 64–96
 - challenges posed for scholars and policymakers by, 65–66
 - compensating for, 71–80
 - impact on relationships with host country officials, 67
 - impact on traditional donors and creditors, 66–67
 - lessons learned, 88–91
 - reasons for, 67–71
 - using TUFF methodology to identify projects in Africa, 80–87
- impact on lenders and investment, 2
- Senegal, 196
- side effects of Chinese development finance, 247–273
 - benefactor-to-banker transition, increase in stakes for host countries, 9, 251–253
- conflict
 - comparison of Chinese and Western development finance, 261–262
- debt-financed vs. aid-financed projects findings, 263, 264
- findings on effects of Chinese aid, 264
- transition matrix, 263
- corruption, 256–258
 - corruption and democratic accountability findings, 259
- debt-financed vs. aid-financed projects findings, 260–261
- descriptive statistics, 158
- governance, 255–261
- Kenya
 - a cautionary tale, 271–273
 - standard gauge railway, 57, 247–251
- natural environment, 265–268
 - findings on effects of Chinese development projects, 267
- need for caution, 271–273
- potential for “gaming the system” in project proposal systems, 257
- various outcomes, 274

372 Index

- side effects of Chinese development (cont.)
 - various outcomes of World Bank development finance, 277
 - Western development finance, threats to, 268–271
- Sierra Leone, 159
- Singapore, 43
- Sinosure (China Export & Credit Insurance Corporation), 201
- Sirisena, Maithripala, 13–14, 163
- social unrest, domestic industrial overproduction as potential source of, 4
- socioeconomic impacts of Chinese development, 192–228
 - Africa, 225
 - comparison with Western-financed development projects, 197–202
 - criticisms and praise, 195–196
 - effectiveness, outcomes used for measurement, 203–211
 - Ethiopia's "Growth and Transformation Plan," 197
 - measuring economic development, 203–206
 - measuring population health (infant mortality), 206–207
 - measuring spatial concentration of economic activity (spatial inequality), 207–211
 - Nairobi-Thika Highway, Kenya, 192–194
 - political bias, 201–202
 - research findings, 215–227
 - comparison with World Bank development projects, 224–227
 - economic development, 216–219
 - population health (infant mortality), 222–224
 - spatial concentration of economic activity, 219–222
 - summary, 224
 - statistical analyses, 211–215
- socioeconomic need, distribution of
 - Chinese development finance by, 166–171
- soft power, framing of BRI as, 287–290
- sole-source procurement procedures,
 - China's encouragement of, 19, 22
- Solomon Islands, 46
- South Africa, 43, 83
 - ground-truthing exercise, 83–87
- South China Sea arbitration process,
 - Tanzania's opposition, 21
- South Korea, 64
- Southern Highway extension, Sri Lanka, 12
- "South-South cooperation," Chinese principle, 124, 127, 292
- sovereign debt management, revisiting go-it-alone approach, 299–301
- Soviet Union, China's alliance with, 42
 - dissolution, 42
- spatial inequality
 - China's experience and response to, 210
 - research findings, 219–222
- special purpose vehicles (SPVs), 37
- Sri Lanka, 116, 118, 121, 288
 - as textbook example of China's approach to international development finance, 22
- banking with Beijing, risks and rewards, 9–14
- Chinese policy bank loans, 9
- Chinese-funded "white elephant" projects, 11, 12, 288
- civil war, 10
- corruption allegations, 13
- debt-for-equity swap, 13
- Mattala Rajapaksa International Airport, 11, 12–14
- postelection grants approved by Beijing, 14
- presidential elections, 13–14
- project suspensions and cancellations, 14
- public opinion on China, 13
- Southern Highway extension, 12
- support for China's foreign policy positions, 13
- subnational distribution of Chinese development finance, 159–182
- Bombali, Sierra Leone, 159
- comparison with World Bank approach, 162–164, 173, 188
- correlates of allocation
 - across provinces, 169
 - within countries, 183, 184, 186
- data proxies, 168
- descriptive statistics, 191
- distribution by availability of natural resources, 154, 170–171
- distribution by political interests, 171–181
- distribution by socioeconomic need, 166–171
- effect of leader's birth region, 173, 176, 180, 185, 188, 189, 190
- "on demand" approach and political capture, 161–166
- political vs. socioeconomic need, 182

Index

373

- potential for “gaming the system,” risks inherent in China’s “on-demand” approach, 165
- Shendi, Sudan, 178
- Swedlund, Haley, 17, 19
- Taiwan
 - China’s use of aid to gain diplomatic dominance over, 46
 - decline in diplomatic recognition, 46
 - PRC’s diplomatic tug-of-war with the ROC, 46
- Tanzania, 42–43, 46, 116
 - as textbook example of China’s approach to international development finance, 22
 - banking with Beijing, risks and rewards, 15–22
 - Chinese foreign policy support, 21
 - commercial investment projects, 21
 - declares independence, 15
 - dependence on external sources of assistance, 16
 - environmental impact assessment requirements, 20
 - environmental monitoring, 265
 - financial support, Chinese provision, 18–19
 - likelihood of receiving aid, 132
 - national development plan, financing issues, 16–18
 - public opinion on China’s development policy influence, 21–22
 - steps to prevent irregularities in Chinese tendering process, 20
 - TAZARA railway, 45–46
- Tatopani customs inspection station, Nepal, 104
- TAZARA railway in Tanzania and Zambia, 45–46
- Teh-chang Lin, 38
- terminology in this book, 27
- Thailand, 43
- “Three Worlds,” Mao’s theory, 42
- Tiananmen Square Incident (1989), 52
- Tibet, 104, 287
- Tonga, 120
- Tracking Underreported Financial Flows (TUFF), 25, 39
 - information sources, 80 See also TUFF methodology.
- traditional donors and creditors, overcoming China’s trust deficit, 294–301
- Trafigura, 146
- Transneft, 117
- transparency standards, China’s rejection, 64
- Trump, Donald, 124
- trust
 - absence of as obstacle to collaboration, 293
 - characteristic of development finance institutions, 283
 - initiatives to increase China and Western donors, 65
 - overcoming China’s deficit, 294–301
 - value in international relations, 293
- TUFF methodology
 - codebook, 88
 - data collection and quality assurance procedures, 88–90
 - external scrutiny, 90–91
 - ground-truthing exercise, Uganda and South Africa, 83–87
 - identifying projects in Africa using, 80–87
 - latest (1.3) version, 88, 91
- Tull, Denis, 161
- Turkmenistan, 117, 120
- turn-key projects, 48–49
- Uganda
 - Findley’s field experiment, 294
 - ground-truthing exercise, 83–87
- Unfried, Kerstin, 171
- UNGA (UN General Assembly)
 - Sri Lanka’s support of China, 13
 - voting alignment and receipt of Chinese development finance, 134, 202
 - voting alignment and receipt of US aid, 149
- United Nations, PRC’s admission, 46, 54
- United States (US)
 - anti-human trafficking regime, 268
 - BRI countermeasures, 3
 - correlation between aid allocation and UNGA voting alignment, 149
 - “Countering Chinese Influence” fund, 2
 - foreign aid budget, 45
 - National Defense Strategy, 1
 - National Security Strategy, 1, 149
- United States Agency for International Development (USAID), 1
- Upper Paung Laung hydroelectric power plant, Myanmar, 100
- Upper Trishuli 3A hydroelectric power plant, Nepal, 99
- Venezuela, 117
- Vietnam, 42, 46

374 Index

- Wade, Abdoulaye, 196
- Western aid, potential impact of abrupt withdrawal, 261–262
- Western development finance socioeconomic impacts comparison with Chinese development finance, 197–202
- threats to as side effect of Chinese development finance, 268–271
- Western donors, policy and institutional reform requirements, 255
- “white elephant” projects, 2, 20, 123, 194, 201
- White Paper, China’s Foreign Aid (2014), 159
- Wieczorek-Zeul, Heidemarie, 123
- Wolfowitz, Paul, 124
- World Bank, 290
aid distribution criteria, 174–175 allocation of development finance, effect of leader’s birth region on, 173, 188 anti-corruption measures, 256 benchmark status, 196 development finance, various outcomes, 277 impact of Chinese development finance provision on loan allocation, 268–269 policy conditions on developing countries borrowing from, 256 resource allocation criteria, 30 subnational allocation of development finance, 160, 162 comparison with Chinese approach, 162–164, 173, 188 evidence of bias, 163
value as benchmark institution, 30–31
- World Bank development projects, comparisons of socioeconomic impacts, 224–227
- World Food Program, 39
- Xi Jinping, 14, 59–60, 68, 125, 163, 287–288, 290
abandons “hide and bide” strategy, 287 announces adoption of widely accepted rules and standards, 291 launches Belt and Road Initiative, 2 warning to would-be borrowers, 289
- Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region, 33, 287
- Yu Zheng, 39
- Zambia, TAZARA railway, 45–46
- Zanzibar, 46
- Zeitz, Alexandra, 269
- Zenawi, Meles, 196
- Zettelmeyer, Jeromin, 301
- Zhou Enlai, 41, 47
- Zimbabwe, 116, 118, 121