

JUSTICE FOR EVERYONE

As the first woman to be appointed President of the UK Supreme Court, Brenda Hale was one of the UK's most high-profile and influential judges, and she is among the most powerful women leaders of our time. For almost half a century, she pioneered as an educator, reformer and decision-maker, leaving a distinct mark on the law and the lives of many. In commemoration of her recent retirement from the Supreme Court, this collection celebrates her long and illustrious career. Organised by thematic chapters and featuring original research from leading academics, judges and lawyers, this book offers a comprehensive account of Lady Hale's achievements and enduring impact. The contributors, many of whom were her peers and colleagues, demonstrate how Hale forged her own path within male-dominated institutions, carved a space for herself and others, and, ultimately, endeavoured to promote justice for everyone.

Rosemary Hunter FAcSS is Professor of Law and Socio-Legal Studies at the University of Kent. She has written extensively on feminist judging and has co-organised or supported many of the feminist judgment projects around the world. She also publishes on family law processes, dispute resolution and access to justice and has held several public appointments in the family justice field.

Erika Rackley FAcSS is Professor of Law at the University of Kent. She has written widely on the jurisprudence of Lady Hale as well as related issues including gender and judging, feminist judgments and judgment-writing, judicial diversity and the UK Supreme Court.

When we started planning this collection in the spring of 2018, Brenda Hale was less than a year into her trail-blazing term as President of the UK Supreme Court and almost two years from retirement. Unintentionally breaking with tradition, we ‘pitched’ the idea of this collection to her over tea in her office at the Supreme Court. We’re extremely grateful for her initial enthusiasm and ongoing support for the project. However, while Brenda has known of the existence of this collection, she has not asked for or exercised any form of editorial control over its content – save for a gentle nudge suggesting that we come up with a more interesting title, which we have endeavoured to do.

Since our meeting, much has changed. Brenda Hale is now retired and, thanks in no small part to her love of brooches, has become a familiar public figure. And, of course, much of the book has been written and edited against the backdrop of the global coronavirus pandemic. We are enormously grateful to our contributors who have produced their chapters in these unexpected circumstances. We know that they have done so when there have been unprecedented demands on their time and energies. We know, too, that we are very fortunate to have been able to continue with the collection at a time when so many others have had to let similar projects fall by the wayside. We also want to acknowledge those colleagues who intended to contribute to the collection but have entirely understandably been unable to do so. One thing we were not able to do was to hold our two-day conference, to discuss the chapters and our celebratory reception at the Supreme Court to mark Brenda Hale’s retirement. We hope that there will be the opportunity to bring people together in 2022 for the launch of the book.

The collection would not have been possible without the support and commitment of a large number of people and organisations. We are hugely grateful to Julian Farrand, Susan Atkins, Karon Monaghan, Linda Mulcahy and Alan Paterson for their guidance and suggestions in the early stages of the project and to Daniel Monk and Jens Scherpe, and Stephen Gilmore and Rebecca Probert for having the same idea but agreeing to join in our collection instead (proving that the very best minds often think alike!). We are also indebted to Ayo Onatade and Mark Ormerod at the Supreme Court for their assistance in contacting people and planning the proposed conference, and to Lady Kerr for allowing us to include Brian Kerr’s chapter. Many thanks to Paul Stuart for allowing us to use his wonderful portrait of Lady Hale as our cover, and to David Cobley, Lexis Nexis, Oxford University Press and the UK Supreme Court for permission to reproduce the images in Daniel Monk’s and Leslie Moran’s chapters. We are grateful to our editor at Cambridge University Press, Finola O’Sullivan, for being amenable to such a large collection of essays and for steering us for most of the journey to completion, and to Marianne Nield who has guided the collection in its final stages. The project was financially supported by the Society of Legal Scholars, who were to sponsor our 2020 conference, and the Division for the Study of Law, Society and Social Justice at the University of Kent, who provided us with Covid mitigation funding to employ Craig Wells to assist us in the preparation of the final manuscript. Thank you to Craig for his painstaking work, especially in compiling the Tables of Cases and Statutes and the Hale Bibliography, and very grateful thanks also to Marie Selwood for creating the index. Erika Rackley also gratefully acknowledges the support of the Philip Leverhulme Trust (PLP-2014-193).
