

Global Mobility and the Management of Expatriates

With approximately 66 million people across the globe considered expatriates (persons living and working abroad for a limited time), global mobility is an important issue for individuals, organisations and national governments. Written by a team of internationally renowned scholars from around the world, this volume summarises what is known about the management of global mobility and sets an agenda for future research. It also offers comprehensive overview of the practical implications for organizations that manage expatriates, and individuals who are currently or aspiring expatriates. Providing an accessible and globally relevant introduction to the subject of expatriation and global mobility, this book will appeal to postgraduate, MBA and EMBA students studying global mobility or international human resource management. It will also be of interest to practitioners, such as human resource managers and global mobility managers, who would like to gain a better understanding of the expatriation process.

Jaime Bonache is Professor of Management at University Carlos III of Madrid (Spain) and Visiting Professor of Esade Business School (Barcelona, Spain). His academic production includes around thirty articles in international peer-reviewed academic journals and three books, including Managing the Global Workforce (co-authored with Paula Caligiuri and David Lepak, 2010).

Chris Brewster is Professor of International Human Resource Management at Henley Business School, University of Reading. He has been involved as author or editor in the publication of more than 30 books, including Working Internationally: Expatriation, Migration and Other Global Work (co-authored with Yvonne McNulty, 2019), as well as more than 100 book chapters and over 200 articles.

Fabian Jintae Froese is Professor of Human Resource Management at the University of Goettingen, Germany, Editor-in-Chief of Asian Business & Management, and Associate Editor of the International Journal of Human Resource Management. His research has been published in more than 50 journal articles.

CAMBRIDGE COMPANIONS TO MANAGEMENT

SERIES EDITORS

Professor Sir Cary Cooper CBE, University of Manchester
 Professor Jone L. Pearce, University of California, Irvine

ADVISORY BOARD

Professor Kim Cameron, University of Michigan
 Professor Michael Hitt, Texas A&M University
 Professor Peter McKiernan, University of Strathclyde
 Professor James Quick, University of Texas
 Professor Dean Tjosvold, Lingnan University, Hong Kong

Cambridge Companions to Management provide an essential resource for academics, graduate students and reflective business practitioners seeking cutting-edge perspectives on managing people in organizations. Each Companion integrates the latest academic thinking with contemporary business practice, dealing with real-world issues facing organizations and individuals in the workplace, and demonstrating how and why practice has changed over time. World-class editors and contributors write with unrivalled depth on managing people and organizations in today's global business environment, making the series a truly international resource.

TITLES PUBLISHED

Brief Diversity at Work
 Cappelli Employment Relations
 Cooper, Pandey and Quick Downsizing
 Pearce Status in Management and Organizations
 Reb and Atkins Mindfulness in Organizations
 Saunders, Skinner, Dietz, Gillespie and Lewicki Organizational Trust
 Sitkin, Cardinal and Bijlsma-Frankema Organizational Control
 Smith, Bhattacharya, Vogel and Levine Global Challenges in Responsible Business
 Sparrow, Scullion and Tarique Strategic Talent Management
 Tjosvold and Wisse Power and Interdependence in Organizations
 Bonache, Brewster and Froese Global Mobility and the Management of Expatriates

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-49222-5 — Global Mobility and the Management of Expatriates
Edited by Jaime Bonache , Chris Brewster , Fabian Jintae Froese
Frontmatter
More Information

Global Mobility and the Management of Expatriates

Edited by

JAIME BONACHE
Carlos III University of Madrid
CHRIS BREWSTER
University of Reading
FABIAN JINTAE FROESE
University of Goettingen

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-49222-5 — Global Mobility and the Management of Expatriates
Edited by Jaime Bonache, Chris Brewster, Fabian Jintae Froese
Frontmatter
More Information

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

University Printing House, Cambridge CB2 8BS, United Kingdom
One Liberty Plaza, 20th Floor, New York, NY 10006, USA
477 Williamstown Road, Port Melbourne, VIC 3207, Australia
314–321, 3rd Floor, Plot 3, Splendor Forum, Jasola District Centre,
New Delhi – 110025, India
79 Anson Road, #06–04/06, Singapore 079906

Cambridge University Press is part of the University of Cambridge.

It furthers the University's mission by disseminating knowledge in the pursuit of education, learning, and research at the highest international levels of excellence.

www.cambridge.org

Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/9781108492225

DOI: 10.1017/9781108679220

© Cambridge University Press 2021

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 2021

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library.

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Names: Bonache, Jaime, editor. | Brewster, Chris, editor.

Title: Global mobility and the management of expatriates / edited by Jaime Bonache, Carlos III University of Madrid, Chris Brewster, University of Reading, Fabian Jintae Froese, University of Goettingen.

Description: New York, NY : Cambridge University Press, 2021. | Series: Cambridge companions to management | Includes index.

Identifiers: LCCN 2020035995 (print) | LCCN 2020035996 (ebook) | ISBN 9781108492225 (hardback) | ISBN 9781108729130 (paperback) | ISBN 9781108679220 (ebook)

Subjects: LCSH: Occupational mobility. | Employment in foreign countries.

Classification: LCC HD5717 .G575 2021 (print) | LCC HD5717 (ebook) | DDC 658.30086/91–dc23

LC record available at <https://lcn.loc.gov/2020035995>

LC ebook record available at <https://lcn.loc.gov/2020035996>

ISBN 978-1-108-49222-5 Hardback

Cambridge University Press has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party internet websites referred to in this publication and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate.

Contents

List of Figures	page vii
List of Tables	viii
List of Contributors	ix
1 Global Mobility: Reasons, Trends, and Strategies JAIME BONACHE, CHRIS BREWSTER, FABIAN JINTAE FROESE	1
Part I The Expatriation Process of Corporate Expatriates
2 The Recruitment, Selection, and Preparation of Expatriates MARIE-FRANCE WAXIN, CHRIS BREWSTER	31
3 Expatriate Adjustment ANNE LESSLE, ARNO HASLBERGER, CHRIS BREWSTER	57
4 Performance Management for Expatriates ARUP VARMA, CHUN-HSIAO WANG, PAWAN S. BUDHWAR	80
5 Compensating Global Mobility JAIME BONACHE, CELIA ZÁRRAGA-OBERTY	100
6 Repatriation and Career Development FLORA F. T. CHIANG, EMMY VAN ESCH, THOMAS A. BIRTCH	125
Part II Different Types of Expatriates and Stakeholders
7 Short-term Assignees, International Business Travellers, and International Commuters CHRIS BREWSTER, MICHAEL DICKMANN, VESA SUUTARI	153

vi	Contents
8	Self-initiated Expatriates 181 SEBASTIAN STOERMER, FABIAN JINTAE FROESE, VESA PELTOKORPI
9	Skilled Migrant Careers 204 JELENA ZIKIC, VIKTORIYA VOLOSHYNA
10	Women and Global Mobility 225 HELEN DE CIERI
11	Global Families 262 MARGARET A. SHAFFER, MIN (MAGGIE) WAN
12	Roles and Challenges for Global Mobility Departments 289 MICHAEL DICKMANN
	Index 315

Figures

2.1	Typology of expatriate selection processes	page 40
2.2	Case study	47
3.1	Theory of work adjustment model	65
3.2	Adjustment cube	68
3.3	Spill-over and cross-over	70
4.1	The seven-factor model of expatriate PMS	88
5.1	Balance-sheet system	103
5.2	Pay satisfaction change and turnover intentions	109
6.1	Examples of different types of international assignments	126
7.1	The double helix of IBTs – combining perspectives	162
9.1	Skilled migrants' work and life trajectories in the host country	205
10.1	Framework for women in global mobility	230
12.1	The original Ulrich model	292
12.2	A strategic, long-term, and interactive perspective on international work activities	295
12.3	SAFE roles of global mobility: managing international work with a purpose	298

Tables

1.1	The changing nature of global mobility	page 7
5.1	Type of assignment and compensation approach	114
6.1	Perspectives on repatriation and career development	130
6.2	Challenges and implications to organisations	136
7.1	Comparing the main other types of international work	172
8.1	Summary and implications for research and practice	196
10.1	Suggestions for future research directions	245
11.1	Detected relationships with expatriate partner adjustment and well-being	265

Contributors

Thomas A. Birtch is Associate Professor in the SITE Department at Exeter Business School and Adjunct Associate Professor at the University of South Australia. His research interests currently revolve around leadership and strategic decision-making; the performance and behaviour of individuals and organisations across borders; and innovation, creativity, and knowledge management. His background in industry is extensive and includes holding senior executive level and management positions in both the private sector and government spanning three continents.

Jaime Bonache is Professor of Management at Carlos III University of Madrid, Spain, and Esade Business School, Spain. He has also been Full Professor at Cranfield School of Management, United Kingdom, and Visiting Professor at the University of Goettingen, Germany. He has lived and worked in Canada, Spain, the United Kingdom, and Germany. His research interest lies in global mobility, expatriate compensation, cross-cultural management, and epistemology.

Chris Brewster is Professor of International Human Resource Management, Henley Business School, United Kingdom, and Swinburne University of Technology, Australia. He researches international and comparative human resource management (HRM) and has published over thirty books and more than 200 articles.

Pawan Budhwar is the 50th Anniversary Professor of International HRM at Aston Business School, United Kingdom. He is Associate Pro-Vice Chancellor International, Aston University, and Co-Editor-in-Chief of the British Journal of Management. Pawan's research interests are in the field of strategic HRM, international HRM, and emerging markets with a specific focus on India.

Flora F. T. Chiang is Professor of Management at the China Europe International Business School (CEIBS). Her current research interests primarily focus on factors influencing employee behaviour and performance; how different forms of leadership affect both individual and organisational outcomes; the dynamics of managing people and organisations across borders; and how knowledge is created, managed, and diffused. Prior to her academic career, Professor Chiang held senior management and directorate positions in large private organisations and government.

Helen De Cieri (PhD, University of Tasmania) is Professor of Management at Monash Business School, Monash University, Australia. Her current research interests are in international HRM, employee health and well-being, and inclusive organisations. Helen is an associate editor for Human Resource Management and serves on several editorial boards.

Michael Dickmann's research focuses on human resource strategies, structures and processes of multinational organisations, cross-cultural management, international mobility, and global careers. He is the Senior Editor-in-Chief of The International Journal of Human Resource Management and the lead author/editor of several books on international HRM and global careers.

Fabian Jintae Froese is Professor of Human Resource Management at the University of Goettingen, Germany, Editor-in-Chief of Asian Business & Management, and Associate Editor of the International Journal of Human Resource Management. Previously, he worked for more than ten years in China, Japan, and Korea. His research interests lie in expatriation, diversity, and talent management.

Arno Haslberger is Senior Research Fellow at Middlesex University in London, United Kingdom. He researches on cross-cultural adjustment and expatriate management. Having grown up in Austria, he has over two decades' experience as an assigned and as a self-initiated expatriate as well as a trailing partner in the United States, the United Kingdom, Germany, and Spain. Currently, he divides his time between Austria and Luxembourg. Besides working in academia, he has held human resource management positions in multinational corporations for a total of ten years.

Anne Lessle (PhD) is a global HR professional specialising in organisational change and leadership development in multiple industries, including automotive, government, and the United Nations. Having lived and worked in five countries across three continents, her research focuses on expatriate adjustment.

Vesa Peltokorpi is Professor of Management at Hiroshima University, Japan. He received his PhD at Hanken School of Economics in Helsinki, Finland. His research interests include various international HRM-related issues, such as expatriation, recruitment, and language policies and practices, especially in subsidiaries of foreign multinational corporations in Japan. He has published more than fifty papers in journals such as the Journal of Applied Psychology, Journal of International Business Studies, Journal of Management Studies, and Journal of Organizational Behavior.

Margaret A. Shaffer is the Michael F. Price Chair of International Business at the Price College of Business, the University of Oklahoma. Her research interests are in the areas of global mobility, expatriation, and work–life interplay. Her publications have appeared in the Academy of Management Review, Academy of Management Journal, Journal of Applied Psychology, Personnel Psychology, Journal of Management, and Journal of International Business Studies.

Sebastian Stoermer is Junior Professor at the Technical University Dresden, Germany. His research primarily revolves around expatriation management and diversity management. Having a background in psychology, he approaches his research mainly from an individual-level perspective. Sebastian serves as an associate editor for the Journal of Global Mobility.

Vesa Suutari is Professor of International Management, University of Vaasa, Finland. His research has focused on expatriation, self-initiated expatriation, and global careers.

Emmy van Esch is Assistant Professor of Management at The Open University of Hong Kong. Her major research interests include expatriate management, international HRM, and knowledge management.

Arup Varma (PhD, Rutgers University) is Professor of Human Resource Management at Loyola University Chicago's Quinlan

School of Business. His research has been published in several leading journals, including the Academy of Management Journal, Personnel Psychology, Journal of Applied Psychology, and Human Resource Management Review. He is co-founder and past president of the Indian Academy of Management.

Viktoriya Voloshyna (PhD candidate at the School of Human Resources Management, York University, Canada) focuses on the area of career transitions, professional identity transformation, and identity threat.

Min (Maggie) Wan is Assistant Professor at the McCoy College of Business Administration, Texas State University. Her research interests include work–life issues, employee self-regulation, and international HRM.

Chun-Hsiao Wang is Associate Professor and Director of the Graduate Institute of Human Resource Management, National Central University. He received his PhD from McMaster University. His research interests include international assignments, organisational citizenship behaviour, and strategic HRM.

Marie-France Waxin is Associate Professor of Management at the American University of Sharjah. Her current research interests include international HRM; expatriation management; and different aspects of sustainability, such as diversity, workforce localisation, and sustainable development.

Celia Zárraga-Oberty is Associate Professor of Organization Studies at the Department of Business Administration of Carlos III University of Madrid. She holds a degree in Industrial Engineering and a PhD in Business Administration from the University of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria (Spain). Her research interests are in the areas of knowledge management, international compensation, and work teams. She has published her research in a number of international journals, including Organization Studies, The International Journal of Human Resource Management, and Journal of World Business.

Jelena Zikic (PhD, Associate Professor at the School of Human Resources Management, York University, Canada) focuses on career transitions, stress, and coping of diverse populations (e.g., skilled migrants), combining the individual as well as organisational perspective.