

Contents

List of Contributors	page viii
Series Preface	xiii
General Acknowledgements	xv
Acknowledgements	xvi
Introduction: Making Maps: Irish Literature in Transition, 1780–1830
Claire Connolly	1
PART I ORIGINS	35
1 Gaelic Literature in Transition, 1780–1830	37
Lesa Ní Mhughhaile
2 Irish Literature and Classical Modes	52
Norman Vance
PART II TRANSITIONS	67
3 Irish Literary Theory: From Politeness to Politics	69
Julia M. Wright
4 Whigs, Weavers, and Fire-Worshippers: Anglophone Irish Poetry in Transition	85
Matthew Campbell
5 Metropolitan Theatre	107
David O’Shaughnessy
6 Harps and Pepperpots, Songs and Pianos: Music and Irish Poetry	122
Adrian Paterson

vi	Contents
7	Enlightened Ulster, Romantic Ulster: Irish Magazine Culture of the Union Era Jennifer Orr	148
PART III REPUTATIONS		171
8	Placing Mary Tighe in Irish Literary History: From Manuscript Culture to Print Harriet Kramer Linkin	173
9	Edgeworth and Realism James Chandler	188
10	Lady Morgan and ‘the babbling page of history’: Cultural Transition as Performance in the Irish National Tale Nicola Lloyd	206
11	‘The diabolical eloquence of horror’: Maturin’s Wanderings Jim Kelly	226
12	English Ireland/Irish Ireland: the Poetry and Translations of J. J. Callanan Gregory A. Schirmer	242
13	Thomas Moore and the Social Life of Forms Jane Moore	257
14	‘English, Irished’: Union and Violence in the Fiction of John and Michael Banim Willa Murphy	273
15	The Transition of Reputation: Gerald Griffin Mark Corcoran	292
16	William Maginn: the Cork Correspondent David E. Latané	306
PART IV FUTURES		321
17	‘My country takes her place among the nations of the earth’: Ireland and the British Archipelago in the Age of the Union Murray Pittock	323

Contents		vii
18	Mentalities in Transition: Irish Romanticism in European Context Joep Leerssen	342
19	Ireland and Empire: Popular Fiction in the Wake of the Union Sonja Lawrenson	359
20	Transatlantic Influences and Futures Joseph Rezek	381
21	The Literary Legacies of Irish Romanticism Fiona Stafford	402
	Index	422