

Contents

Foreword by Martti Koskenniemi, FBA	page ix
Preface	xv
Acknowledgements	xvii
Table of Cases	xix
List of Abbreviations	xxv
Introduction	1
State Responsibility Issues on the Rise	1
The Purposes of State Responsibility	4
Approach and Argument of the Book	6
Conceptual Clarifications	10
1 Contemporary Challenges to State Responsibility	15
1.1 The Role of State Responsibility in International Law	15
1.1.1 Sectoral Overview	15
1.1.2 Systemic Importance	22
1.2 Internal Challenges: Domestic Analogy and Fragmentation	26
1.2.1 Conceptual Diversity	27
1.2.2 Normative Fragmentation	29
1.2.3 Overlaps	34
1.3 The External Challenge of Globalization	37
1.4 Meeting the Challenges: Is State Responsibility Law Useful?	40
1.4.1 Diverse Scholarly Opinions	40
1.4.2 Assessing the Law of State Responsibility	43

2	The Evolution of State Responsibility	53
2.1	Responsibility as an Implicit Doctrine	55
2.1.1	The Scope of Responsibility	56
2.1.2	Means of Redress	59
2.2	Traditional State Responsibility: Injuries to Aliens	60
2.2.1	Substantive and Procedural Law	62
2.2.2	The Economic Rationale	65
2.3	Responsibility at the Crossroads	67
2.3.1	The Relevance of the Domestic Analogy	69
2.3.2	The Role of Fault	71
2.3.3	Different Approaches to the Domestic Analogy and State Responsibility	74
2.4	Responsibility as a System Builder	81
2.4.1	ILC and the Difficulty of Finding a Suitable Approach	81
2.4.2	The 2001 ILC Articles on State Responsibility	84
2.4.3	State Responsibility, Public Law and Constitutionalization	104
3	Problems in the General Law of State Responsibility	108
3.1	Preliminary Observations	108
3.1.1	Methodological Choices	108
3.1.2	Contextualizing the Critique	110
3.2	The Problematic Nature of General and Secondary Rules	116
3.3	Problems Related to the Internationally Wrongful Act	120
3.3.1	Identifying the Actor	120
3.3.2	Breach Threshold	140
3.4	Difficulties Pertaining to Content	147
3.4.1	Functional Diversity	147
3.4.2	Remedial Insufficiencies: A Turn to Other Systems	163
3.5	Problematic Implementation	170
3.5.1	State Discretion	171
3.5.2	Lack of International Claimant(s)	174
3.5.3	Factual Inequality of States	180
3.5.4	Elusiveness	184
3.6	The Way Forward – A Turn Inwards or Outwards?	188

4	Alternative Constructions of Responsibility: A Thematic Analysis	190
4.1	The Development of Particularized Responsibility: International Liability and International Criminal Law	191
4.1.1	Hazardous Activities as Catalysts of Change	191
4.1.2	Liability in the International Sphere	194
4.1.3	Dealing with Acts That Shock the Conscience of Mankind	198
4.1.4	A Penal Code and Procedure for the International Community	205
4.2	Social Control	209
4.2.1	The Preventive Function of Liability	211
4.2.2	International Criminal Law and Deterrence	219
4.2.3	Conclusions on Social Control	236
4.3	Collectivity	238
4.3.1	Loss Allocation: From States to Networks of Liability	239
4.3.2	Collectivity in International Criminal Law	254
4.3.3	Conclusions on Collectivity	272
4.4	Signalling Effect	273
4.4.1	Liability and Thresholds of Acceptability	276
4.4.2	The Signalling Effect of International Criminal Law	284
4.4.3	Conclusions on Signalling Values	298
4.5	Chapter Conclusions	299
5	Conclusions	302
	Select Bibliography	311
	Index	345