

THE SENATUS CONSULTUM DE
CN. PISONE PATRE

The Senatus Consultum de Cn. Pisone Patre is a senatorial decree issued in AD 20 following the trial of Gnaeus Calpurnius Piso, the governor of Syria, who was accused of rebellion against Tiberius following the death of his heir, Germanicus. It survives on several inscriptions and is among the most important documents from the early Principate. This new edition, with translation and commentary, sets the text within its contemporary context, considering it alongside other texts (including Tacitus' Annales), coins, and monuments, and focuses on their complementary roles in developing Tiberian political discourse. It explores how contemporary observers (including Valerius Maximus and Velleius Paterculus) understood and contributed to the shaping of dynastic rule at Rome after the death of Augustus in AD 14. It analyses how the Principate continued to evolve under his successor Tiberius, and explores the role of different individuals and groups in negotiating these political changes.

ALISON E. COOLEY is Professor in Classics and Ancient History at the University of Warwick. She has published extensively on topics relating to Roman epigraphy and the politics of early imperial Rome. Her books include an edition of and commentary on the Res Gestae divi Augusti (Cambridge, 2009) and The Cambridge Manual of Latin Epigraphy (Cambridge, 2012).

Acknowledgements

It is a pleasure to be able to thank Concha San Martín and her colleagues at the Museo Arqueológico de Sevilla for granting me access to the SCPP bronzes, large and small, in their museum. I am grateful to the University of Warwick for granting me a year's research leave in 2018/19 and to the Leverhulme Trust for a Major Research Fellowship in 2020/22, which enabled me to devote my time to researching and writing this monograph. I would especially like to thank the librarians of the Institute of Classical Studies, London, for their prompt help in supplying books by post in times of CoVid, as well as to staff at the Bodleian Libraries, Oxford, for speedy assistance in scanning print materials. I am grateful to Suzanne Frey-Kupper and Susan Treggiari for their expert guidance on numismatic and legal matters. For help in acquiring images for the book I am indebted to Clare Rowan and Dr Karsten Dahmen (Münzkabinett, Staatliche Museen zu Berlin). I am grateful to William Graves and The Robert Graves Copyright Trust for permission to reproduce Robert Graves' poem, 'Bringing the Dead to Life', reproduced from TO BRING THE DEAD TO LIFE by Robert Graves (Copyright © Robert Graves Trust 1936) by permission of United Agents LLP (www.unitedagents.co.uk) on behalf of Accuro Trustees (Jersey) Ltd as trustees of the Robert Graves Copyright Trust. I also benefited from feedback received from audiences attending seminars at the Universities of Birmingham, Macquarie, Oxford, and Warwick, and from the comments of Cambridge University Press readers. As always, I have enjoyed unwavering support from my family, and particularly thank my parents, Melvin, Emma, and Paul for all their help at various stages of writing and for their tolerance in living with the Piso decree for some years.
