Index

abnormal psychology opportunities to promote critical thinking, 113–114 academics susceptibility to uncritical thinking, 322 ACE Psychological Examination, 318 actively open-minded thinking (AOT), 49–54, 182–183 avoidance of bias, 49–50 confidence level for study results, 50–51
consideration of alternative explanations, 54–57 critical process in science, 51–54 evaluation of sources, 52–53 science as example of, 54–57
search and inference, 50

critical thinking in science, 51–54 evaluation of sources, 52–53

search and inference, 50

critical thinking in science, 51–54 evaluation of sources, 52–53

search and inference, 50

Actively Open-Minded Thinking Scale, 86

Axiom, 216

ad hominem attacks, 161–162 Addeo, Dorothy, 337

affect heuristic, 29

AIDS
claim of treatment with natural remedies, 24 claims about the cause of, 21

AIDS counselors ability to interpret HIV test results, 203–205 alchemy, 10
Alexander, Scott, 190
Alexander Technique, 20

algorithms power of, 197
versus simple heuristics, 208–209 altercasting
social influence tactic, 335–337 alternative facts, 358, 366 alt-right activism, 339 Alzheimer’s disease, 23 analytical skills, 320, 322, 323 analytical thinking, 309 anchoring and adjustment heuristic, 285–286 anecdotal evidence, 159 anti-Islamism, 358
anti-Semitism, 358
argument analysis, 156, 169
Ariely, D., 186–188
Aristotle (384–322 BCE), 1
Armenian genocide, 357
“Aryan physics”, 13
astrology, 21–22, 89, 329 attention selective or restricted, 360–361 attitude polarization, 128–129 Aum Supreme Truth cult, 329 authoritarian leaders attraction to, 363–364
followers’ need to feel special, 363 targeting of out-groups, 363 authority altercast, 336

autism, 23

belief in a link with vaccines, 2, 23–24 claims for the facilitated communication technique, 14, 71 holding therapy proposed by Tinbergen, 20–21 availability heuristic, 78, 284–285

B.o.B (rapper), 2
Bacon, Francis (1561–1626), 251–252, 253 bait-and-switch, 340 base rate neglect, 25
Bayes’ theorem, 43
behavioral nudges, 368–369 belief bias, 25 belief perseverance, 81–82 beliefs
critical thinking and, 5
Bern, D., 264–265
Berkeley, George (1685–1753), 251
Bermuda triangle, 329 between-subjects experimental design, 254–255, 256–257 bias
using AOT to avoid, 49–50
bias blind spot, 25
narcissism and, 26–27
biased assimilation, 128–129 Bible code, 11, 44–45
big data analytics
survival rates versus mortality rates, 206–208
big data predictive analytics, 208–212
Big Foot, 329
bin Laden, Osama corner theories, 85
biological and cognitive psychology opportunities to promote critical thinking, 111–112
bipartisanship, 162–163
Black Mirror (TV series), 214–215 Blair, Tony, 208
blind-spot bias, 174, 184 blind spots overconfidence, 316
blogs quality of information, 160 Bloom’s taxonomy, 235, 245 bodily-kinesthetic intelligence, 310 Boring, E. G., 250
Bouchard, T., 29
boundary conditions, 263 bounded rationality, 3 Boxer, Barbara, 369 brain performance attempts to improve or maintain, 40 brainwashing, 332–333
breast cancer
claims for the Ardyss Angel Bra, 164 Brothers and Sisters of the Red Death cult, 329
Bush, George W., 162
Cajal, Santiago Ramón y (1852–1934), 13
California Critical Thinking Skills Test, 317 cancer diagnosis algorithm, 205–206
Carrel, Alexis (1873–1944), 13
Carreyrou, John, 342
Carson, Benjamin (Ben) (b. 1951), 11–12
China
Social Credit System, 214–216
suppression of access to websites, 360–361 CIS-WEB (Competent Information Search in the World Wide WEB), 140 classical conditioning, 41–42 climate change, 39, 46, 69, 70, 71 Clinton, Hilary, 329
cognitive bias
bias blind spot, 25
ideological-commitment bias, 174, 173–179 intelligence and, 25 recognizing and reconciling our own biases, 230–231 types of, 173–174 cognitive disequilibrium, 111
cognitive dissonance, 46
obstacle to critical thinking, 365
social influence tactic, 340–341 cognitive heuristics, 283–286 cognitive illusions, 283, 296 cognitive inability
obstacle to critical thinking, 361–362
cognitive laziness
obstacle to critical thinking, 364–365
cognitive nudges, 368–369 Cognitive Reflection Test (CRT), 87 cold fusion, 14, 19–20
College Level Academic Skills Test (CLAST), 232 Collegiate Learning Assessment (CLA), 318 Columbus, Christopher, 1
COMPAS algorithm, 209–210
counterfactual reasoning, 263 computational replication, 263 conditional probabilities, 202–203, 217, 219 confidence level for study results, 50–51 confirmation bias, 25, 166–167, 173, 370 congeniality effect, 128–129 correlation vs. causation, 173, 229 Conspiracist Mentality Questionnaire, 85
critical thinking and, 83–86
critical thinking and, 83–86
critical thinking and, 83–86
critical thinking and, 83–86
critical thinking and, 83–86
critical thinking and, 83–86
critical thinking and, 83–86 confrontation tactics, 340–341 control variables, 253–254 convergent thinking, 312–313 converging associates paradigm, 259
Conway, Kellianne, 358, 366
Cornell Test of Critical Thinking, 90 counterbalancing of experimental conditions, 255–256 crazy beliefs and behaviors human propensity for, 328–330 myth of some exotic influence, 332–333 myth that the people must be crazy, 331–332 myths about causes, 320–333 social influence analysis, 333–334

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org
social influence tactics, 334 vulnerability to undue influence, 333 creative skills, 320, 322, 323 creative thinking, 309, 310 creativity
critical thinking and, 6 creativity testing, 318 criminal justice system COMPAS algorithm, 209–210
predictive policing, 209–210
critical process in science, 52–54 critical-reasoning errors, 173 critical thinking approaches to measuring and teaching, 321–322 assessing pronouncements of eminent scientists, 28 blends of types, 320 cognitive skills and strategies associated with, 154 consequences of failure to think critically, 103–104 creativity and, 6 culture and, 6–7
definitions, 2–4, 152–153 discipline-specific definitions, 225–227 disconnection from intelligence, 25 domains of, 322 emotional influences, 321 high IQ and, 5
impact on quality of life decisions, 156–157 importance in the world of work, 4 influence of knowledge base, 318–319 influence of motivation, 319 justifying the time and effort required, 288–291 kinds of, 320
nature of, 352–356
need for digital risk literacy, 198–199 need in the present day, 2 obstacles to. See obstacles to critical thinking personality and, 5–6
reasons for failure to think critically, 198–199 refuting unsubstantiated claims, 71–72 relevance in the digital age, 197 role of executive processes, 309, 312 role of knowledge-acquisition components, 322 role of knowledge-acquisition processes, 312 role of metacomponents, 309, 312, 322 role of performance components, 312, 322 search for the truth, 152 tools for the digital age, 212–214 trumped by desire, 198
Type 2 thinking and, 73

when it becomes skepticism, 241–242 See also actively open-minded thinking (AOT) critical-thinking disposition, 75–76, 153, 155 critical-thinking journeys Jonathan Baron, 64
D. Alan Bensley, 94–95
Douglas A. Bernstein, 114
Jason L. G. Braasch, 144–145
Kevin Brady, 105
Heather A. Butler, 167
Dana S. Dunn, 243–244
Gerd Gigerenzer, 216–217
Arthur C. Graesser, 145
Jane S. Halonen, 242–243
Diane F. Halpern, 167–168
Scott Lilienfeld, 28–29
Anthony R. Pratkanis, 347
John Ruscio, 304
Robert J. Sternberg, 322 critical-thinking skills, 154 development in education, 105 teaching challenges, 4–5 transfer across knowledge domains, 4–5 ways to enhance your skills, 368–371 ways to improve, 166–167 cults, 329, 336, 338, 341 creating groups of believers, 338 culture
critical thinking and, 6–7
Curie, Pierre, 13
De Niro, Robert, 164
deductive logic, 158–159 deductive reasoning errors, 174 Deep Blue (computer), 197 democracy social credit system as alternative to, 214–216 threat of mindless voters, 2 dependency altercast, 337 dependent variable, 152–253 Derrida, Jacques (1930–2004), 358 dialogical thinking, 84 Diana, Princess of Wales (1961–1997) conspiracy theories, 85
dietary supplements health benefits claimed for, 22
digital age
need for digital risk literacy, 198–199 power of algorithms, 197
reasons for failure to think critically, 198–199 relevance of critical thinking, 197 scams, 198
social anxiety of the iGeneration, 197 digital risk literacy
big data predictive analytics, 208–212

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org
digital risk literacy (cont.)
cancer diagnosis algorithm, 205–206 complex algorithm versus simple heuristic, 208–209 critical thinking tools, 212–214 false-positive rates in medical tests, 205–206, 212–213 Google flu trends, 210–212
interpretation of online HIV test results, 200–205 meaning of medical test results, 200–205 need for, 198–199
online dating sites, 199–200
predictive policing, 209–210
search queries used to predict cancer, 205–206 Social Credit System in China, 214–216
survival rates versus mortality rates, 206–208, 213–214 digital surveillance systems, 214–216 digital technology aims to avoiding and overcoming misinformation, 138–143 hidden biases in search algorithms, 130 direct replication, 263 disinterestedness of science, 175 disjunction fallacy, 173 divergent thinking, 312–313 DNA teleportation claim, 23 domain-generality of critical thinking limitations on, 318–320
domain-specificity of critical thinking, 10–12, 15–16, 24–25, 153–155, 165–166 Nobel Laureate case examples, 17–24
STEM disciplines, 309–310 studies, 313–318
domains of knowledge, 4–5
transfer of critical-thinking skills
Doyle, Arthur Conan (1859–1930), 11, 12, 131, 137
Drake fortune scam, 328, 338, 339, 341
DRM paradigm, 259, 261
du Maurier, George (1874–1896), 332 dual-process theory of cognition, 72–74 belief in conspiracy theories, 86–87 echo-chamber effect, 130, 132, 147, 160–161, 161 breaking down echo chambers, 370 Eddy, D., 216, 217
education development of critical thinking skills, 105
domain-specificity of critical thinking, 225–227 impact on critical-thinking skills, 165–166 need for critical-thinking skills, 165–166 overcoming obstacles to critical thinking, 367–368 education, lack of obstacle to critical thinking, 361–362 ego-centrism, 26–27, 362
ego-depletion studies
failure to replicate results, 41
Einstein, Albert (1879–1955), 58
emotions
fluence on critical thinking, 144 factors likely to produce false effects, 266–267 false memories, 261–262
380Index

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org
Index

foolishness
- obstacle to critical thinking, 362–363
- Ford, Henry (1863–1947), 224, 240
- Fox News, 370
- fraud
- role in the replication crisis, 45–46
- Freberg, L., 177–179
- Freud, Sigmund (1856–1939), 57
- frontal lobotomy, 14
- gambler’s fallacy, 361
- Gardner, H., 310
- generalizability of critical-thinking skills, 15–16
- Generation Z, 241
- Generic Conspiracist Belief scale (GCB), 84, 86
- genetically engineered crops, 39
- genetics
- racist claims, 18–19
- Giaever, Ivar (b. 1926), 14
- Giulani, Rudi, 112
- Glaser, Donald (1885–1942), 157
- global warming
- dispute about human involvement, 21
- skepticism of, 44
- Goldstein, Ross, 342
- Google flu trends, 210–212
- Gould, Stephen J. (1941–2002), 176
- granfallooning
- social influence tactic, 337–338
- groups
- granfallooning, 337–338
- influence of social identity on members, 337–338
- groupthink, 242
- Grove, W., 29
- guru complex, 27–28
- gurus, 316
- Gutenberg, Johannes (d. 1468), 198
- Halpern, Diane F., 3
- Halpern Critical Thinking Assessment (HCTA), 156–157
- HARKing, 266–267
- Hartley, David (1705–1777), 231
- Hartzell, Oscar (1876–1943), 328, 337, 341
- hate sites
- portrayal as patriotic organizations, 160
- Hawking, Stephen (1942–2018), 57
- health information
- need for critical thinking, 163–164
- Heaven’s Gate cult, 329
- Helmholtz, Herman von (1821–1894), 111
- Herbalife, 22
- Herrnstein, Richard, 63
heuristics, 219
versus complex algorithms, 208–209 Hill, Betty and Barney, 329 hindsight errors, 174 HIV testing
interpretation of results, 200–205 HIV virus claims about its role in AIDS, 21
hoaxes, 329
Hobbes, Thomas (1588–1679), 351
Hoffrage, U., 217
holding therapy (proposed cure for autism), 20–21
Holmes, Elizabeth, 328, 336, 339, 342 Holocaust, 176, 357
homeopathy, 20, 23
Honeycutt, N., 177–179
Horton, R., 51–52
human judgment college admissions system, 39–40 Hume, David (1711–1776), 251
hyperpartisanship, 359
hypnosis, 13, 332–333
hypothosis, 54
implausible hypotheses, 61–62
prediction in scientific research, 59–61
pre-registration of research hypothesis, 61–62 hypothesis testing, 252–254 IBM Watson computer system, 197, 211–212 ideological-commitment bias, 174, 175–179
ideology
obstacle to critical thinking, 359
Generation, 241
Ignarro, Louis J. (b. 1941), 22–23
illusory truth effect, 364–365 imbalance theory of foolishness, 26 immigrants fear of, 358, 363
independent variable, 252–253 information selective or restricted attention to, 360–361 information scent, 128
Infowars, 359
Ingram, Paul, 330, 336, 338 intellectual hubris, 27 intellectual humility, 27, 356 intelligence
assessing pronouncements of eminent scientists, 28
bias blind spot, 25
cognitive bias, 25
critical thinking and high IQ, 5 critical thinking and Nobel Disease, 24–28 distinction from critical thinking, 359–360 general intelligence (g), 311 independence from critical thinking, 10–12, 25 motivated reasoning and, 26 Nobel disease, 12–15
sources of foolish thinking in intelligent people, 24–28 theory of multiple intelligences, 310 intelligence testing correlation with critical-thinking ability, 313–318 interactive lecturing, 106–107 internal validity, 262 Internet
acquiring new misconceptions, 126, 133–135 assessing credibility of sources, 132, 137–138 automated selection of information, 361 avoiding misinformation, 133–138 censorship of, 360–361
core tutoring environments, 138–143 continued influence of misinformation, 135–137 critical stance when accessing information, 125 directly training learners on information quality, 139–140 ease of acquisition of misinformation, 133–135
echo-chamber effect, 130, 132, 160–161, 361 fact-checking of information, 137 fact-checking websites, 131 filter-bubble effect, 130
hidden biases in search algorithms, 130 influence of algorithms, 160–161 influence of pre-existing knowledge, beliefs, and attitudes (KBAs) on engagement, 127–130 interactive digital technologies for critical thinking training, 140–143 lack of professional gatekeeping, 125 misplaced trust in search engine results presentation, 134
need for critical thinking, 159–161
Operation ARA training program, 142–143
Operation ARIES training program, 142–143 overcoming misconceptions, 121–123 preponderance of misinformation, 125 prioritizing information that is consistent with prior knowledge, beliefs, and attitudes (KBAs), 126
refutation texts, 131–132
revising previous accurate understandings, 126, 133–135 SEEK Web Tutor, 141–142 selection of information from search engine results pages (SERPs), 128 selective or restrictive attention to information, 360–361
Index

self-selection of information, 361 sourcing strategies, 132, 137–138 suppression of access to websites, 360–361 thinking critically about online information, 110–112 thinking critically to avoid misinformation encountered, 137–138 using technology to help avoid and overcome misinformation, 138–143 introductory psychology courses reconfiguring to incorporate critical thinking, 114–118 intuitive thinking errors, 25 invulnerability illusions of, 362 sense of, 26, 27
Irving, Kyle, 2

Jenkins, J. approach to the generalizability of research, 270–271 job performance
need for critical thinking, 164–165
John Birch Society, 357
Jordan, Michael, 16
Josephson, Brian (b. 1940), 19–20

Kahneinan, D., 15, 230, 265, 282–286
Kant, Immanuel (1724–1804), 198
Kardashian, Kim, 369
Kasparov, Garry (b. 1963), 197
Kennedy, John F. (1917–1963) consspiracy theories about his death, 71, 83, 357 knowledge-acquisition components, 323 role in critical thinking, 322 knowledge-acquisition processes role in critical thinking, 312 knowledge base, 318–319 influence on critical thinking, 312 Kobach, Kris, 357

language teaching approaches, 40 law
need for critical thinking, 161–163 lead time bias, 206–207 learning styles concept debate in psychology, 129
Lenard, Phillip (1862–1947), 13
Lewin, K., 227
Lewis, M., 341
Lilienfeld, S., 76
Lincoln, Abraham (1809–1865)
asassination conspiracy theory, 83
Loch Ness monster (Nessie), 329

Locke, John (1632–1704), 251 logical fallacy, 161 logical-mathematical intelligence, 310
Lombroso, Cesare (1835–1909), 176
Loosli, Eric, 209
low-ballling, 340
Lykken, D., 29
Lytle, Larry, 330, 336, 339, 342

magnet therapy, 70, 89 matched-groups experimental design, 255
Matthew effect, 280
May, Theresa, 208
McCarthy, Jenny, 23
McDermott, K., 271
measles consequences of not vaccinating, 163 vaccine deniers, 2
media
problems in reporting science, 48–49 medical testing false-positive rates, 205–206, 212–213 interpretation of test results, 200–205 Mehl, P., 29, 304
memory
retrieval of repressed memories, 19 Mendeleeve, Dimitri (1834–1907), 15 canons of science, 175 met.a.ware (source and data evaluation), 139–140 meta-bias
bias blind spot, 25
metacognition, 147
metacognitive awareness, 230–231
metacognitive monitoring, 75, 82
metacomponents, 323
role in critical thinking, 309, 312, 322 metaphysics, 13
methodology
role in the replication crisis, 46–48
Milgram, S., 16
Mill, J. S. (1806–1873), 52
Mills, C. Wright (1916–1962), 347 modus ponens argument (P, therefore Q), 174 modus tollens argument (not Q, therefore not P), 174 momentum effects, 280
See also sports momentum Montagnier, Luc (b. 1931), 23–24 moon landings hoax claims, 71 moral values
five dimensions of, 358

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org | motivated reasoning, 26, 128–129 |
| motivated skepticism, 173 |
| motivations influence on critical thinking, 319 |
| obstacles to critical thinking, 359–360 |
| MSNBC, 370 |
| Mullis, Kary (1944–2009), 21–22 |
| Multi-Level Marketing schemes, 338 |
| multiple intelligences, theory of, 310 |
| multiple sclerosis, 23 |
| multisitistic world view, 241 |
| myside bias, 25, 49–50, 57, 128–129, 173, 370 |
| naïve realism, 174, 189–190 |
| narcissism among brilliant scientists, 27 |
| bias blind spot and, 26–27 |
| natural frequencies, 203, 216–217, 220 |
| natural remedies, 164 |
| natural sampling, 217 |
| Nazi racial ideology, 13 |
| negotiation approaches to, 40 |
| Newton, Isaac (1642–1727), 10–11, 57 |
| Niteworks health benefits claimed for, 22 |
| Nobel disease, 12–15 |
| assessing pronouncements of eminent scientists, 28 |
| implications for the psychology of critical thinking, 24–28 |
| sources of foolish thinking in intelligent people, 24–28 |
| Nobel Laureates domain specificity of critical-thinking skills (case examples), 17–24 |
| Louis J. Ignarro, 22–23 |
| Brain Josephson, 19–20 |
| Luc Montagnier, 23–24 |
| Kary Mullis, 21–22 |
| Linus Pauling, 17–18 |
| William Shockley, 18–19 |
| Nicolas Tinbergen, 20–21 |
| Nobel Prize criteria for award, 15 |
| nonage self-imposed, 198 |
| Norton, M., 186–188 |
| Nosek, B., 268 |
| null hypothesis, 43, 54 |
| Obama, Barack, 83, 104, 357 |
| obsession with fantasies obstacle to critical thinking, 356–358 |

| obstacles to critical thinking attraction to toxic leaders, 363–364 |
| cognitive dissonance, 365 |
| cognitive inability, 361–362 |
| cognitive laziness, 364–365 |
| context effects, 366–367 |
| disregard for truth, 358 |
| domain-specificity of critical thinking, 365–366 |
| emotions, 359–360 |
| foolishness, 362–363 |
| ideology, 359 |
| illusory truth effect, 364–365 |
| lack of education, 361–362 |
| level of value and respect for critical thinking, 366–367 |
| motivations, 359–360 |
| obsession with fantasies, 356–358 |
| overconfidence, 356 |
| persuasibility, 364 |
| principles to overcome obstacles, 367–368 |
| religion, 359 |
| selective or restricted attention to information, 360–361 |
| Zeitgeist, 366 |
| occult belief in, 11 |
| omnipotence illusions of, 362 |
| sense of, 26, 27 |
| omniscience illusions of, 362 |
| sense of, 26, 27 |
| O’Neal, Shaquille, 164 |
| online dating sites digital risk literacy, 199–200 |
| online HIV testing interpretation of results, 200–205 |
| openness to experience positive and negative aspects, 27 |
| Operation ARA training program, 142–143 |
| Operation ARIES training program, 142–143 |
| optimism unrealistic, 26, 362 |
| overconfidence obstacle to critical thinking, 356 |
| p-hacking, 44, 45, 267 |
| paranormal beliefs, 70, 71, 89–90 |
| critical thinking and, 90–92 |
| general tendency to accept unsubstantiated claims, 93–94 |
| reducing, 92–93 |
| paranormal investigations, 11, 13 |
| parapsychology, 13, 89–90 |
Index

Parkinson’s disease, 23
Parship online dating site, 199–200
partisanship, 359
Pasteur, Louis (1822–1895), 58
Pauli, Wolfgang (1900–1958), 13 Pauling, Linus (1901–1994), 17–18 performance components, 323 role in critical thinking, 312, 322
personality foolish thinking and, 26–27 traits associated with critical thinking, 5–6 persuasibility
obstacle to critical thinking, 364 persuasion self-generated, 338–339 peudoscience reducing belief in, 92–93
phantom dreams
social influence tactic, 334–335
phenomenology, 12
physiognomy, 176
Piaget, Jean (1896–1980), 258–259
Pinker, S., 286
Pizzagate conspiracy theory, 337, 338, 339
Planck, Max (1858–1947), 46 planning fallacy, 243
plate tectonics, 46
Platt, J., 58
Podesta, John, 329
political affiliations range of affiliations among faculty, 184–188 political correctness, 366 polities attraction to toxic leaders, 363–364 avoidance of cognitive dissonance, 365 consequences of lack of critical thinking, 104 disregard for truth, 358 election of autocrats, 356–358 enhancement of critical-thinking skills, 368–371
hyperpartisanship, 359
ideological obstacles to critical thinking, 359 implications of lack of critical thinking, 356–358
need for critical thinking, 161–163, 354–355
obsession with fantasies, 356–358
partisanship, 359
religious obstacles to critical thinking, 359 Popper, Karl (1902–1994), 55, 57, 264 post-truth era, 358
posterior probability, 202, 213, 220 Power Balance Wristband claims for, 164
power of a statistical test, 43–44 practical skills, 320, 322, 323 practical thinking, 309 practice effects, 215
prediction in scientific research, 59–61
predictive policing, 209–210
presidential election fake news stories, 160
priming effects
failure to replicate results, 40–41
prior probability, 202
probabilities reporting methods, 40 projection tactic, 341–342 pseudoscience, 70, 71 belief in, 89–90
critical thinking and, 90–92
general tendency to accept unsubstantiated claims, 93–94 psychic phenomena, 13
critical thinking and, 5
psychic phone services, 339 psychological misconceptions, 71 among psychology students and professionals, 74–75 availability heuristic, 78
belief perseverance, 81–82 critical-thinking dispositions and, 75–76 definition, 74
dual-process analysis, 79 endorsement of, 74–79 extent of endorsement, 74–75 familiarity backfire effect, 81
metacognitive monitoring, 82
Rational-Experiential Inventory (REI), 77, 80
reducing, 79–81
refutation texts, 131–132
refutational approach, 79–81 refuting your own misconceptions, 81–82 Test of Psychological Knowledge and Misconceptions (TOPKAM), 76–78 psychological science studies of the nature of critical thinking, 313–318 psychologists susceptibility to lapses in critical thinking, 355–356 psychology chance of studies drawing a false conclusion, 42 debate over learning styles concept, 129 disciplines as porous cults, 188–190
domain-specificity of critical thinking, 24–25 educators’ resistance to assessment, 233–235 effects of the replication problem, 40–42
© in this web service Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-49715-2 — Critical Thinking in Psychology
Edited by Robert J. Sternberg, Diane F. Halpern
Index
More Information
Index

priming effects, 40–41
problems in reporting science, 48–49
reasons why replications do not work, 44–45 self-serving bias, 45–46 statistical problems, 46–48
statistical significance of results, 42–44 representativeness heuristic, 283–284 reproducibility projects, 267–269 research papers
  how to evaluate, 62–63
researcher degrees of freedom, 266–267
Revised Paranormal Belief Scale (RPBS), 90, 92 Richet, Charles (1850–1935), 13 risk literacy, 199
See also digital risk literacy
Ruscio, A. M., 304
Russell, Bertrand (1872–1970), 1, 3
Russia
censorship of the Internet, 360 Sagarin, B. J., 333 satisficing, 3
scams, 160, 108, 328
Schawlow, Arthur (1921–1999), 14
schemer schema, 342–346
Schmidt, Eric, 216
Schwinger, Julian (1918–1994), 14 science
  bold predictions approach, 57–58 challenges to value-driven findings, 176–177 consideration of alternative explanations for results, 54–57 conveying findings to the public, 63 crisis of credibility, 40–45 critical process, 51–54 disinterestedness, 175
distrust of, 157–159 example of actively open-minded thinking (AOT), 54–57 how to evaluate a research paper, 62–63
  implausible hypotheses, 61–62
  lack of implementation of findings, 39–40 meanings of ‘theory’, 57 Merton’s canons of science, 175 neglect of science in public discourse, 39–40 potential solutions for the replication crisis, 58–63 prediction in research, 59–61
  pre-registration of research hypothesis, 61–62 problems with media reporting, 48–49 problems with traditional reporting of research, 58–62 reasons why replications do not work, 44–45
replication crisis, 40–45
teaching methods, 63

psychology (cont.)
impact of the strong liberal/progressive position of most researchers, 179–188
lack of implementation of findings, 39–40 particular problems for study replication, 42 prevalence of inaccurate KBAs, 129–130 promoting critical thinking about psychological science, 110–114
reasons why replications do not work, 44–45
replication crisis, 40–45
statistical significance of results, 42–44 suggested reforms for research standards, 268–269 transfer of critical-thinking skills from another domain, 24–25
psychology courses critical thinking in introductory psychology courses, 114–118 incorporating critical thinking, 105–107 interactive lecturing, 106–107 introducing critical thinking, 107–110
  promoting critical thinking about psychological science, 110–114 providing opportunities for students to practice critical thinking, 107–110 structured critical thinking system, 106–107 quack medicine, 338, 339 quack psychotherapists, 338 racism, 14
genetic claims, 18–19
randomization in experimental design, 254–255 Rational-Experiential Inventory (REI), 77, 80, 86
rationalization trap
  social influence tactic, 340–341
  rebirthing, 71, 330
recency heuristic, 211
refutation texts, 131–132
regression to the mean, 362
religion, 51
  critical thinking and, 5
  obstacle to critical thinking, 359
replication, 263–264
  application of critical thinking, 271–273 replication crisis, 40–45, 264–266
  ego-depletion studies, 41 examples in psychology, 40–42 fraud and, 45–46 methodological issues, 46–48 overconfidence and, 356 particular problems in psychology, 42 potential solutions, 58–63 social media (cont.)
polarization of views, 161 self-generated persuasion, 339
social anxiety of the iGeneration, 197 social reinforcement
guru complex, 27–28
social science community implications of sociopolitical asymmetry, 176–179 Society for Experimental Social Psychology (SESP), 177 sociological imagination, 147 sociopolitical asymmetry disciplines as porous cults, 188–190 sociopolitical divisions two sides citing different evidence, 190–191 sociopolitical homogeneity impact on scientific research, 179–188 implications for the scientific community, 176–179 political affiliations among faculty, 184–188 study of income/wealth inequality perceptions, 186–188
Soros, George, 354
Sorcerer’s Apprentice computer-based learning environment, 139 sources
evaluation of, 52–53 space alien abductions, 329, 357 specificity of a test, 201–203 Spinoza, Baruch (1612–1677), 364 spirit photography, 11
spiritualism, 11, 13, 76
spoon bending, 329
sports momentum
analysis of NFL results, 280–281
anchoring and adjustment heuristic, 285–286
application of critical thinking, 288–302 application of scientific reasoning, 288–302
availability heuristic, 284–285 characteristics of System 2 thinking, 288–302 cognitive heuristics, 283–286
consideration of alternative explanations, 291–293 consideration of the role of chance, 296–297
definition, 281–282
establishment of a specific, replicable protocol, 293–296 features of uncritical thinking, 282–287 hot hand in basketball, 280 identifying patterns and ascribing significance to them, 282–287 justifying the time and effort required for System 2 thinking, 288–291 nature of momentum effects, 280 persistence of belief in, 280–281 representativeness heuristic, 283–284 role of System 1 thinking, 282–287 susceptibility to erroneous beliefs, 281 systematic and comprehensive data collection, 293 weighing all available evidence, 297–302

Stanovich, K., 182–183
statistical distortion choice of statistical method, 44–45 file drawer effect, 44
p-hacking, 44, 45
statistical significance of study results, 42–44

statistics
confidence level for study results, 11 interpretation of medical test results, 200–205 problems with interactions between variables, 47–48 problems with use of controls in studies, 47 role in the replication crisis, 46–48

STEM
definition, 323

STEM disciplines
approaches to measuring and teaching critical thinking, 321–322 blends of types of critical thinking, 320 convergent versus divergent thinking, 312–313 disconnect between course work and research skills, 309 disconnect between standard tests and research skills required, 310–311
domain-specificity of critical thinking, 309–310 emotional influences on critical thinking, 321 influence of knowledge base on critical thinking, 318–319 influence of motivation on critical thinking, 319 kinds of critical thinking, 320 limitations on domain-generality of critical thinking, 318–320 method of assessment of students, 310–313 studies of critical thinking in psychological science, 313–318 test correlations related to test format, 319–320 transfer of skills learned to practice, 310–313 stereotypes, 230

straw man argument, 161
straw man fallacy, 161 Strutt, John William, 3rd Baron Rayleigh (1842–1919), 13 subject variables, 257–258 subliminal messaging, 332–333 survival rates
lead time bias, 206–207
Index

meaning of, 206–208
misunderstanding of, 213–214 versus mortality rates, 206–208
Susan G. Komen, 213
Svengali, 332
Swami, 339

challenges, 4–5
counteracting ignorance as social bliss, 240–241 demonstrating evidence of learning, 232–233 desirable difficulty of learning, 242 discipline-specific definitions of critical thinking, 225–227 discomfort of abandoning certainty, 240–241
domain-specificity of critical thinking, 15–16
educators’ resistance to assessment, 233–235 explaining methods for evaluating information, 238–240 maintaining mental momentum, 236–238 metacognitive awareness, 230–231
mindfulness, 237
overcoming obstacles to critical thinking, 367–368 pedagogical challenges, 224–225 performance standards, 232–233 perspectives, 224–225 promoting objectivity, 238–240 pursuit of continuous improvement, 236–238
recognizing and reconciling our own biases, 230–231 search for a formal critical thinking inventory, 232–233 state-based approach, 227–230 student evaluations of faculty teaching performance, 235–236 students’ reluctance to participate in debate, 240–241 students’ resistance to active learning, 235–236 time and effort involved in critical thinking, 240–241 trait vs. state conundrum, 227–230 view of the Texas Republican Party, 359 ways to improve critical-thinking skills, 166–167 when skepticism subverts action, 241–242 teaching science, 63

telemarketing fraud, 339, 342
telepathy, 19, 70, 89
Telegen, A., 29
Test of Psychological Knowledge and Misconceptions (TOPKAM), 76–78 testing influence of format on test correlations, 319–320 Texas Republican Party view on teaching of critical thinking, 359 theory meanings in science, 57 Theranos scam, 328, 336, 339, 342 third person effect, 244
Thomson, Joseph (1836–1940), 13
Tinbergen, Nikolaas (1907–1988), 20–21
Todd, Chuck, 152
Toplak, M. E., 182–183
Torrance Tests of Creative Thinking, 318 toxic leaders
attraction to, 363–364
illusory truth effect, 364–365
trait vs. state conundrum, 227–230 transcendental meditation (TM), 19
transfer of critical-thinking skills, 4–5, 15–16
Trump, Donald, 83, 104, 339, 357 truth disregard for, 358
search for, 352
Tsipursky, G., 152
Tversky, A., 283–286
Type I errors, 267
Type I thinking, 72–74
acceptance of unsubstantiated claims, 93–94 belief in conspiracy theories, 86–87
Type 2 thinking, 72–74
UFOs, 357
universalism of science, 175 unrealistic optimism, 26, 362 unsubstantiated claims
conspiracy theories, 71
dual-process theory of cognition, 72–74, 93–94 endorsement of psychological misconceptions, 74–79 evidence of, 69–71
general tendency to accept, 93–94 potential for harmful consequences, 71 reducing psychological misconceptions, 79–81

© in this web service Cambridge University Press

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-49715-2 — Critical Thinking in Psychology
Edited by Robert J. Sternberg, Diane F. Halpern
Index

More Information
unsubstantiated claims (cont.)
refutation of own misconceptions, 81–82
Type 1 thinking, 72–74, 93–94
Type 2 thinking, 72–74
using critical thinking to refute, 71–72
URL (Uniform Resource Locator), 147

vaccination opposition to, 11
vaccine deniers, 2, 23–24, 39, 46 consequences of not vaccinating, 163 vaccines claim of link with autism, 23–24 variables, 252
verbal reasoning, 156, 169
viewpoint diversity
two sides citing different evidence, 190–191
vitamin supplements
health benefits claimed for, 17–18, 22
Vonnegut, Kurt (1922–2007), 337

Wagner, Richard (1813–1883), 357
Wakefield, Andrew, 23
Wallace, Alfred Russel (1823–1913), 11
Watson deductive reasoning task, 174 water memory, 20, 23
Watson, James (b. 1928), 14

Watson, John, 355
Watson-Glaser Critical Thinking Appraisal
(WGCTA), 90, 91, 317
Watson-Glaser™ II Critical Thinking Appraisal, 165

weird beliefs scientific and critical appraisal, 329–330
Welch, Edgar, 329
Welch, Robert W. (1899–1983), 357 wellness information
need for critical thinking, 163–164
West, R., 182
Whittaker, Sudie, 341 wisdom-based skills, 322, 323 wise thinking, 309
within-subjects experimental design, 255–257 workplace importance of critical thinking, 4
need for critical thinking, 164–165
Yerkes-Dodson law, 292
Yeti, 329
Zeitgeist
obstacle to critical thinking, 366
Zigerell, L. J., 190–191
Zuckerberg, Mark, 160