

Index

- AA. see ambulatory assessment (AA)
- academic performance, 29, 124
- accelerometers, 11, 12, 13, 14, 50, 53, 89, 111, 170
- active health monitoring, 48–50, 59
- active smartphone usage, 33–34, 77, 177–178
- active video games, 56
- activity trackers, xiii, 46, 64, see also physical activity
- ‘addiction’
- fear of technological change, 29
 - future smartphone research, 20–21
 - health monitoring, 21, 27, 48, 172–173
 - smartphone usage, 33, 38, 42–43
- ADHD (attention deficit hyperactivity disorder), 116, 127
- adolescents, 136, 139–140, 141, 142
- adult cognition
- attention, 117–120
 - collective and higher-order effects, 124–126
 - delay discounting, 123
 - impact of smartphone use, 117–126
 - impact of technology, 136
 - limitations and future research, 127
 - memory, 120–123
- affect regulation model, 48
- age effects, 131, 133
- agreeableness, 103, 109
- Aharony, N., 88
- Albert, G., 120
- alcohol, 48
- algorithms, 61, 83, 104–105, 140, 156
- Alsaleh, M., 142
- Althoff, T., 55
- Alzheimer’s disease, 133
- Amazon, 2
- Amazon Mechanical Turk, 10, 16, 168
- ambulatory assessment (AA), 46, 47, 53, 70
- American Psychological Association (APA), 161, 185
- amygdala, 168
- Android, 54, 99–100, 101, 153, 159
- animal diseases, 69
- Anonymous (internet hackers), 91
- anterior hippocampus, 130
- anti-vax movements, 140
- anti-virus software, 143, 148
- anxiety
- health and behaviour change, 49, 60, 63
 - personality, 103
 - smartphone usage, 29, 34, 37
- APA (American Psychological Association), 161, 185
- API (application programming interface), 133, 165, 167
- Apple
- App Store, 52, 142
 - apps permissions, 142
 - health and behaviour change, 54
 - interdisciplinary research, 2
 - iOS, 54, 100, 148, 165
 - iPhone, 17–20, 99–100, 101, 118
 - iPod Touch, 108
 - personality, 99, 100
 - portable computers, 7–8
 - ResearchKit, 133
 - screen-time tracking, 165
 - smartphone usage data, 40
- Apple Newton, 7–8
- Apple Watch, 133
- application programming interface (API), 133, 165, 167
- apps
- cognitive science, 115, 130, 131–133, 134–135
 - emotion and mood tracking, 63, 64, 65
 - health and behaviour change, 50, 52, 53, 70, 71
 - health-care delivery, 69
 - permissions, 142, 146, 148
 - personality, 100, 104
 - physical activity interventions, 54
 - relationship formation, 81

- apps (cont.)
 safety and security, 142, 145, 148, 153–154
 software development, 153–154, 165–166, 167, 168
 APS (Association for Psychological Science), 161
 Arduino (platform), 170
 artificial intelligence, 170
 Association for Psychological Science (APS), 161
 attention, 14, 24, 39, 115, 117–120, 124
 Attention Deficit Hyper-Activity Disorder (ADHD), 116, 127
 attractiveness, 9, 11
 audio data, 4, 12, 61, 108, 110
 augmented reality, 54
 authentication, 151–152
 authority, 146–147
 autobiographical memory, 120, 130
 autonomic nervous system, 76
- backups, 142, 143
 bacteria, 97
 Baddeley, Alan, 1, 180–181 balance boards, 11
 barcode scanning, 49
 Barnes, S. B., 144
 Barr, N., 121
 BBC (British Broadcasting Corporation), 8–9, 10
 Beatty, J., 3
Behavior Research Methods (journal), 115
 behaviour change
 computational social science, 16
 health monitoring, 11, 21–22
 physical activity interventions, 53–60
 safety and security, 144–145, 152–153, 154
 smartphone usage, 29
 behavioural analytics, 15, 16, 19, 113
 behavioural intervention technology (BIT) model, 66 behavioural science, xiv, 29, 148, 185
 behaviourism, 1
 Beive platform, 168
 Belk, R. W., 98
 Bernstein, E. S., 13
 biases, 5–7, 69, 128–129, 140, 175, 183, 184
 Bielak, A.A., 136
 big data, 72, 110
 Big-Five personality model, 102–103, 107–108, 112, 113
 biological traces, 97–98
 biometrics, 97, 101, 150, 151
 Bluetooth
 hardware development, 170
 personality measurement, 104
 proximity detection, 13, 14
 safety and security, 146, 147, 155
 social interaction, 12, 22, 87, 88
 body image, 139
 body temperature, 14
 Bolt, David, 116–117
 Botnets, 146
 BPS (British Psychological Society), 161, 185 brain drain, 128–129
 brain function, 73, 127, 130, 168 brain scans, 4–5, 19, 40
 brand personality, 99, 100
 breakups, 81–82, 84
 British Psychological Society (BPS), 161, 185
 Brostoff, S., 149
 Brown, H. R., 134
 bugs, 153, 167
 bullying, 140, 141
 Burt, R. S., 88
- C and C++ (programming languages), 170
 call behaviour. see telephone calls calorie counters, 65
 CAM (Contrast Avoidance Model), 49
 Cambridge Analytica, 155, 160
 Cambridge Cognition, 135 cameras, 12, 61, 105, 112, 121–122, 130, 142
 caregivers, 75–76
 Casio, 8
 catfishing, 84
 CCTV (closed-circuit television), 16
 cellular networks, 155
 cellular telephones, 116, 119
 Centre for Research and Evidence on Security Threats (CREST), 161
 checking behaviours, 38, 47 Chain, J. M., 123
 children
 caregivers, 75–76
 cognition, 116–117, 126, 127–129, 135–136
 development, 23, 116–117 future research, 184, 185
 obesity, 41
 physical activity, 50
 safety and security, 139–140, 142, 152–153
 screen time, 127–128
 smartphone usage, 141
 Chittaranjan, G., 104 citizen science, 9, 131
 clinical records, 131 closed-circuit television (CCTV), 16 cloud-based storage systems
 cognitive science, 130, 134
 digital media formats, 98
 health monitoring, 48

- safety and security, 19, 142, 147, 155, 157
software development, 166, 167
- CMC (computer-mediated communication), 74, 83, 90–92
- cognition
adult cognition, 117–126
attention, 117–120
behaviourism, 1
cognitive biases, 128–129
cognitive development, 116–117
collective and higher-order effects, 124–126
delay discounting, 123
limitations and future research, 126–128
memory, 120–123
overview, 21, 23–24, 115, 135–137
smartphones as platform for cognitive science, 129–135
- cognitive behavioural therapy, 62–65
- cognitive decline, 133
- cognitive dissonance, 144, 172, 184
- cognitive impairment, 29
- cognitive miser principle, 121
- cognitive psychology, 24, 149
- cognitive revolution, 1, 171, 181
- cognitive science, 1–2, 4, 23–24, 129–137, 149
- communication technologies, 8–11, 82–83
- compatibility matching, 83
- computational social science, 15–17, 18, 101, 167, 181, 182
- computer science, 1–2, 112, 153, 161, 167, 181–182
- computer-mediated communication (CMC), 74, 83, 90–92
- computing, 2, 4, 7–8, 116
- concept creep, 179–180
- confirmation bias, 141
- conflict resolution, 16
- Conner, T. S., 49
- Conroy, D. E., 65–68
- conscientiousness, 78, 103, 104, 109
- consent, 24, 62, 113, 155, 156, 160, 166, 167
- consumer behaviour research, 9
- Contact Logger app, 94
- contact theory, 82, 94
- context richness, 77–78
- Contrast Avoidance Model (CAM), 49
- conversations, 11, 75, 76–80, 89–90
- cortisol, 52, 76
- Coutrot, A., 133, 134
- covert surveillance, 138
- Crawford, Ray, 116
- creativity, 48–49, 82
- CREST (Centre for Research and Evidence on Security Threats), 161
- criminal activity, 24, 138, 141, 145, 149, 160
- crowdsourcing, 10, 173
- cyberbullying, 140, 141
- cyberloafing, 125, 126
- cyberpsychology, 20
- cybersecurity, 138, 152, 154
- CyBOK (Cyber Security Body Of Knowledge), 161–162
- Dang-Xuan, L., 86
- dark web, 141
- data breaches, 144
- data collection
cognitive science, 134
ethical practices for psychological research, 155–160
privacy, 113
safety and security, 24–25, 138, 139, 148, 160–161
smartphone security threats, 145–146, 147
software development, 154, 168
- data protection, 15–17, 160
- data sharing, 62, 134
- data sources, 15–17
- data storage, 155, 156
- data transmission, 155
- dating, 73, 81, 83–84, 86–87, 91, 140
- David, M. E., 75
- de Montjoye, Y. A., 88, 105
- decision-making processes, 24, 147
- deep fakes, 140
- deep-learning techniques, 61
- delay discounting, 123
- delayed gratification, 124
- demand characteristics, 5
- Dennis, S., 157, 159
- depression
emotion regulation, 130
health and behaviour change, 49, 52, 56, 61, 65
smartphone usage, 29, 34, 37, 42
- Detroit Become Human (game), 109
- developmental psychology, 6
- diaries, 11, 61
- Dienlin, T., 144
- differential privacy, 157
- digital age, 2, 19, 20, 25, 185, 186
- digital computers, 2, 4
- digital dating, 83–84, 86–87
- digital divide, 101, 164
- digital footprint, 155
- digital harm, 139–142
- digital identity, 39
- digital phenotyping, 61
- digital traces behavioural measurement, 19
definition, 17
interpersonal relationships, 74

digital traces (cont.)
 personality, 23, 96, 97–98, 104
 psychometric assessment, 110, 111, 112
 direct observation, 7–8 discovery-oriented research, 173 disease surveillance, 68–69
 disinformation, 177
 distal outcomes, 64–65, 66–67
 distractions, 55, 80, 115, 116, 117–120, 140
 Do, T. M. T., 87
 Doliński, D., 19
 domestic abuse, 140
 Donath, J. S., 86
 Dr Google, 68
 drinking, 48
 driving, 24, 39, 55, 118–120, 124, 138
 drop-out rates, 134
 Dunton, G. F., 50
 Eagle, N., 87
 EAR (electronically activated recorder), 12, 93, 108
 eating disorders, 48, 65
 Ecological Momentary Assessment (EMA), 18, 37, 47, 48–50, 130
 Ecological Momentary Intervention (EMI), 47, 63, 66, 67
 ecological validity, xiii, 7, 168, 178
 ego-depletion model of self-regulation, 125–126 electroencephalogram (EEG), 14 electronic health records, 46 electronically activated recorder (EAR), 12, 93, 108
 Elhai, J. D., 109
 EMA (ecological momentary assessment), 18, 37, 47, 48–50, 130
 email, 83, 145, 146, 147
 Emerson, E., 7, 8
 EMI (ecological momentary intervention), 47, 63, 66, 67
 emoji data, 105
 emotion
 automated tracking, 60–65
 behaviourism, 1
 detection, 11
 health and behaviour change, 48–49
 interpersonal relationships, 22–23
 regulation, 130, 136
 safety and digital harm, 142
 emotionality, 103
 encrypted data, 134, 141, 148, 156, 158
 endogenous distraction, 117 Epson HX20 computer, 8 errors in measurement, 175
 ethical issues, 15, 69, 113, 155–160, 161

Etkin, J., 64
 event-related potential (ERP), 136 Evergreen (platform), 68 evolutionary mismatch hypothesis, 80–81, 82
 executive functioning, 117, 124 exercise. see physical activity
 exogenous distraction, 117
 experience sampling, 10–11, 12, 17, 47, 50, 52–53, 111, 157
 experiments, xiii, 5–7, 130–131, 178
 exploratory research, 173
 extended self, 99, 100, 101, 121 extended self theory, 98, 174
 extraversion personality and individual differences, 23, 96, 103
 personality explanation and development, 107, 109
 personality judgments, 78 personality measurement and prediction, 104, 105
 smartphones and psychometric assessment, 111
 extrinsic motivation, 55
 eye tracking, 3–4, 119, 136
 Eysenck, H., 171
 F2F. see face-to-face communication (F2F) face validity, 174 Facebook
 attention, 118
 personality prediction, 104, 107, 109
 safety and security, 140, 151, 155, 160
 social interaction, 77, 90
 technology usage, 34–37, 39
 face-to-face communication (F2F) automatic tracking of social behaviour, 85, 87, 90
 long-term relationships, 80, 83–84
 smartphone effect on social interaction, 75–76, 77–78, 80
 social interaction, 93, 94
 switching contexts, 90–93 facial attractiveness, 11
 facial detection, 41 facial familiarity, 149
 facial recognition, 149–151
 Fairer Finance survey, 156 fake news, 177
 family interaction, 75–76, 87 fatigue, 125
 feedback, 54
 Feeld (dating app), 93
 Felt, A. P., 142 fertility, 14, 87

- financial status, 88–89 finger traces, 97–98
 fingerprints, 150
 Finkel, E. J., 83
 Fiore, A. T., 86
 firewalls, 143, 148
 fitness trackers, 65, 170
 Five-Factor model. see Big Five personality model fixations, 3
 fMRI (functional magnetic resonance imaging), 4–5 food consumption, 49, 80, 144 frameworks, and apps, 165–166 friendships, 75–76, 77, 81, 87, 103
 Frost, P., 124
 functional magnetic resonance imaging (fMRI), 4–5
- galvanic skin response, 13, 61
 gambling, 33, 172
 gamification
 cognitive science, 24, 115, 116, 131, 133–134
 health and behaviour change, 55, 63
 personality, 100, 109
 security and software development, 154
 social interaction, 77
 gaming disorder, 42–43
 Gao, N., 105
 Gatica-Perez, M., 87
 Gaussian Random Field Theory, 4
 gaze behaviour, 119
 GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation), 160 gender differences, 97, 99–100, 107, 133 generalised anxiety disorder, 49 genetics, 176
 ghosting, 84
 glucose monitors, 68
 Google, 2, 16, 40, 62, 165
 Google Glass, 8
 Google Play, 52, 142
 GPA (grade point average), 124
 GPS (Global Positioning System) data, 12, 50, 104, 109, 111, 122, 133, 157
 Granovetter, M., 88
 gratification, 123
 Great Brain Experiment, 131
 Greenfield, S., 116
 Griffiths, M. D., 172, 184
 Grindr, 73
 group behaviour, 6, 12, 81, 85, 91, 94
 Guardian Firewall app, 148
 GUI (Graphical User Interface), 168
- hackers, 91, 145, 151
 hands, and biological traces, 97–98 hands-free devices, 119 happiness, 50, 60
 Harari, G. M., 89, 105
 hardware development, 169–171
 harm
 cognition, 118–119, 135–136
 emotion and mood tracking, 64–65
 fear of technological change, 178–180
 future smartphone research, , 172, 177–178
 interdisciplinary research, 181
 research focus, 183
 safety and digital harm, 139–142
 safety and security, 160, 161–162
 smartphone usage, xiv, 21, 27, 42–43
 social interaction, 93
 hashing, 157
 Haslam, N., 179 hate crime, 141
 HCMST (How Couples Meet and Stay Together) surveys, 81, 82 health active monitoring, 48–50
 ambulatory assessment and digitised self-report, 46–53
 behaviour change, 21–22, 44–46, 70–72
 care delivery, 68–70
 cognition, 117, 133
 emotion and mood tracking, 60–65
 future smartphone research, 172, 176
 individualised interventions and future of RCTs, 65–68 passive monitoring, 50–53
 personality measurement, 105
 physical activity interventions, 53–60
 safety and digital harm, 140
 security perceptions, 143, 144
 smartphone usage, 29, 41
 well-being interventions and psychological harm, 62–65 health care
 behaviour change, 11, 44–46
 biological traces, 97
 care delivery, 68–70
 hardware development, 170
 portable computing, 8
 preventive health care, 143
 secondary data analysis, 15–16
 health promotion, 116
 health psychology, 21–22, 52, 53, 67, 70
 heart disease, 49, 143
 heart rate, 4, 11, 12, 13, 19, 53, 61, 133
 Henkel, L. A., 121, 122
 heuristic processing, 147, 152

HEXACO model of personality, 102–103 higher-order cognitive functioning, 124–126 Hinds, J., 107, 111
 hippocampus, 130
 homeostasis, 78
 honesty-humility, 99, 103
 Horvitz, E., 55
 How Couples Meet and Stay Together
 (HCMST) surveys, 81, 82
 Howe, K. B., 55
 HTML5, 10
 Hu, H., 100
 Huffziger, S., 52
 human–computer footprint, 136 human–computer interaction
 cognitive science, 134
 interdisciplinary research, 181
 methodological challenges, 40
 smartphone usage, 27, 29
 transparent authentication, 151
 ubiquity of, xiii
 Hunter, J. F., 76
 hyperconnectivity, 138, 186

 IBM, 1, 2, 99
 ICD-11 (International Classification of Diseases, 11th revision), 42–43
 ideal self, 100
 identity, 39, 155
 IEEE journals, 102
 If This Then That (IFTTT), 167
 IM (instant messaging), 74, 142 impression formation, 91–92 impulsivity, 123 income levels, 88–89 individual differences
 cognitive science, 130
 digital traces, 17
 mass communication, 10
 and personality, 23, 96–97, 102, 112–113
 physiological traces, 101
 psychometric assessment, 111
 smartphone usage, 33
 information processing, 146–147
 information processing model of phishing susceptibility (IPPM), 146–147 informed consent, 113, 155, 156 infrared, 13
 in-group behaviour, 94
 Insko, C. A., 86
 Instagram, 77, 104, 107, 121, 140, 160
 instant messaging (IM), 74, 142 intelligence, 129
 interactive devices, 67, 116
 interdisciplinary research, 181, 182, 183

intergroup behaviour, 6, 94 internet access levels, 15
 addiction, 171–172
 data collection, 9–10
 emotion and mood tracking, 64
 fear of technology, 29, 179
 long-term relationships, 81, 83
 psychology of the internet, 20
 social interaction, 73, 77–78, 81, 83
 technology usage, 32, 38
 Internet of Things, 20 interpersonal relationships. see relationships intrinsic motivation, 55 introspection, 1, 93, 163
 Ioannidou, F., 119
 iOS, 100, 148, 165
 IP (Internet Protocol) address, 148
 iPhone, 17–20, 99–100, 101, 118
 iPod Touch, 108

 Java, 69
 Jenkins, R., 149
 job interviews, 92
 job performance, 103
 Joinson, A., 44, 83, 86, 107, 111, 122
 Jones, H. S., 147
Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, 19 journals, 2, 16, 19, 115, 165

 Kahneman, Daniel, 3
 Katevas, K., 37
 Klasnja, P., 66
 Klein, S. B., 173
 Kushlev, K., 75
 Kuss, D. J., 172

 laboratory work, xiii, 5–7, 134, 135
 Lakatos, I., 171
 language, 90, 93, 102, 117
 laptops, 30–34, 88
 latent class analysis, 175
 latent trait-state theory, 108 law, 141, 160
 Lazer, D., 182
 Lieberman, D., 87
 LinkedIn, 109
 location data
 cognitive science, 130, 133
 Google, 16
 health and behaviour change, 48, 50, 61
 personality, 109, 111
 safety and security, 142, 157–160
 social interaction, 22, 73–74, 87, 88
 locking devices, 142, 145, 149

- loneliness, 77, 82, 89
 long-term memory, 127
 long-term relationships, 80–84
 Lopez, T., 154
 Lotan, T., 120
 Luijken, K., 175
 lying, 8–9
- machine-learning techniques, 37, 61, 69, 105, 106–109, 112
 Maker Spaces, 170
 malware, 24, 146, 147
 maps, 122
 marriage, 81
 Marty-Dugas, J., 117
 mass-communication technologies, 8–11
 MATLAB, 165
 Mazzeo, S. E., 65
 Meadow, J. F., 97 measurement, xiii, 19
 measurement error, 175 media, 8–9, 10, 27
 media multitasking, 127 medical data, 142
 medical devices, 13
 medication adherence, 65 medicine, 129, 170
 memory
 cognition, 119, 120–123, 124, 127
 cognitive biases, 128
 externalisation, 121
 long-term memory, 127
 smartphones in cognitive science, 129, 130, 133
 working memory, 24
 men and gender differences, 99–100, 101, 107 Mendeley, 184
 mental health
 automated tracking of emotion and mood, 60, 62, 64, 65
 health and behaviour change, 22, 44, 48, 53
 personality, 101, 103
 self-harm, 8
 social media, 164
 mental models, 152 messaging apps, 89–90, 142 MetricWire, 135, 168
 mHealth, 68
 microbiological data, 97–98
 micro-computers, 2, 7
 microphones, 12, 13, 61, 89, 110, 170
 microrandomised trials (MRTs), 66–67
 Miller, G., 156, 163
 Minecraft, 116
 Mischel, W., 107–108, 109
 misinformation, 140–141, 177
- Miyasike-daSilva, V., 119
 Mobile Phone Problem Use Scale (MPPUS), 31, 35
 mobile phones, 116, 119
 mobile sensing, see sensor data mobility patterns, 155
 Mønsted, B., 105
 Montag, C., 109
 mood
 automated tracking, 60–65
 health and behaviour change, 48, 50, 52
 smartphone usage, 37
 motion capture, 11, 12, 130
 motivation, 55 movement tracking, 13, 41, 61, 65, 111
 MPPUS (Mobile Phone Problem Use Scale),
 31, 35
 MRI scans (magnetic resonance imaging), 130
 MRTs (microrandomised trials), 66–67
 Mtema, Z., 68
 multiple imputation, 175
 multitasking, 174, 177
 music, 98, 119
- National Health Service (NHS), 68 natural environment, 50–52 navigation abilities, 133, 134 negative emotions, 48–49
 Netflix, 126
 neuroimaging, 11, 168
 neurological evidence, 127
 neuroplasticity, 128
 neuroticism, 78, 102–103, 105, 107
 new digital age, 19 Newman, M. G., 49
 news media, 141, 185
 NFC (near-field communication), 147, 155
 Ng, B. Y., 143
 NHS (National Health Service), 68
 Nintendo, 11 noise injection, 157
 non-users, 101, 123
 notifications, 79, 118
- O'Connor, S. C., 78, 79
 obesity, 41, 80
 Objective-C, 166
 objectivity, 1–2, 34–37, 136, 163, 175 observation, 7–8
 office environments, 13
 older adults, 50, 126
 on-board smartphone sensors, 22, 50–53, 61, 85 online dating, 81, 83–84, 86–87, 91, 140
 Onnela, J. P., 87
 open science, 81, 167, 171, 183

- openness, 78, 103, 105, 111
- open-source platforms, 52, 166, 170
- Orwell, George, 184
- Osmani, V., 88
- outdoor environment, 50–52
- outgroups, 82, 94
- oversharing, 160
- Owens, J. M., 120
- palmtop computing, 8
- parental concerns, 75–76, 139, 142, 155
- Parkinson's disease, 133
- participant effects, 5
- participant recruitment, 10
- passive health monitoring, 48, 50–53, 59
- passive smartphone usage, 33–34, 77, 116, 177–178
- passwords, 143, 149, 150, 151, 158–159
- patient and public involvement (PPI), 69
- Pedrero-Pérez, E. J., 101
- PEG LOG, 157, 159
- permissions, 142, 146, 148
- personal information, 144, 145, 160
- personal microbe, 97
- personality
 - Big Five (Five-Factor) model, 102–103, 107–108, 112, 113
 - biological traces, 97–98
 - explanation and development, 106–109
 - future smartphone research, 168, 175, 176
 - history, 102–104
 - interdisciplinary research, 181
 - judgments, 77–78, 79, 103
 - mass communication, 10
 - measurement and prediction, 104–105
 - overview, 23, 96–97, 102, 112–113
 - physiological traces, 98
 - smartphone usage, 33
 - smartphones and psychometric assessment, 110–112
- Philips (manufacturer), 8
- phishing, 145–147, 160
- phone calls. see telephone calls
- photographs
 - cognitive science, 121–122, 130
 - digital dating, 83–84
 - health and behaviour change, 61
 - memory, 121–122
 - psychological traces, 98, 100
 - safety and security, 140, 142, 149–150, 151
- phubbing, 75, 77, 93, 125
- physical activity
 - child health, 41
 - cognition, 73, 136
 - emotion and mood tracking, 64
 - health and behaviour change, 29, 44, 70, 71
 - interventions, 53–60, 66
 - passive monitoring of health, 50, 53
 - personality measurement, 105
 - self-report measures, 46, 48
 - sensor data, 13
- pickups, 165, 177
- PIN codes, 149
- Piwek, L., 44, 86, 122
- play, 116
- PMT (Protection Motivation Theory), 143, 144
- Pokémon Go, 54–56, 77
- Pontes, H. M., 184
- Popper, K., 171
- pop-ups, 145
- portable computing, 7–8, 17
- positive emotions, 48–49
- post-traumatic symptoms, 140
- PPI (patient and public involvement), 69
- primary care, 68
- print media, 8, 9
- privacy
 - biometric systems, 151
 - ethical practices for psychological research, 155, 157, 159
 - hardware development, 170
 - personality assessment, 112, 113
 - safety and digital harm, 42, 140
 - safety and security, 139, 161
 - security perceptions, 142, 144
 - social interaction, 78
 - software development, 153, 165, 166, 167, 168
- Privacy Calculus theory, 143–144
- privacy paradox, 144, 172
- problematic content, 177
- problematic smartphone usage, 34, 36, 37, 38–39, 42–43, 173
- PROCODER, 7–8
- productivity, 125, 183
- Prolific Academic, 10, 16, 168
- Protection Motivation Theory (PMT), 143, 144
- Protzko, J., 128–129
- proximal outcomes, 64–65, 66–67
- proximity, 14, 87, 88
- Przybylski, A. K., 117
- PsychoInformatics, 101
- Psychological Methods* (journal), 115
- psychological science
 - analogue to digital, 2–5
 - beyond the laboratory, 7
 - communication in future research, 183–185
 - computational social science, 15–17
 - fear of technological change, 178–180
 - future of smartphones in research, 163–164, 185–186
 - general overview, 20–21, 25

- hardware development, 169–171
- history of, 1–2
- interdisciplinary research, 19, 180–183
- limitations of laboratory, 5–7
- mass-communication technologies, 8–11
- safety and security, 154, 160–162
- smartphone promises and barriers, 17–20
- software development, 164–169
- theory and measurement, 171–178
- psychological traces, 98–102
- psychology
 - cognition, 115
 - health monitoring, 52
 - interdisciplinary research, xiv, 181–182
 - personality and individual differences, 112–113
 - safety and security, 161
- psychology of the internet, 20
- psychometric testing
 - cognitive science, 127
 - limitations of laboratory, 5
 - personality and individual differences, 23, 96, 107
 - smartphone usage, 33, 34, 42
 - smartphones in assessment, 110–112
- PsychoPy, 10, 135, 168
- public health, 55, 59, 118, 119
- publication practices, 171, 182, 184
- Python, 165, 167

- qualitative data, 19, 39, 90, 122
- quantified self, 65

- R (programming language), 165, 167
- Radar (Twitter plug-in), 62
- radio, 8–9, 120
- Radio Frequency Identification (RFID), 12, 93, 169
- Rahim, M., 143
- RAM (Realistic Accuracy Model), 79, 106
- Ramirez, A., 84
- RCTs (randomised controlled trials), 63, 65–68, 178
- reaction time tasks, 24, 115, 124
- Realistic Accuracy Model (RAM), 79, 106
- real-time data collection, 139
- recall tasks, 121, 130
- recognition memory, 124
- re-direction attacks, 147
- REF 2021, 182
- regression calibration, 175
- regression modelling, 62
- Reimers, S., 10
- rejection rates, 83

- relationships
 - formation, 86–87, 90–93
 - language style matching, 90
 - long-term relationships, 80–84
 - meeting partners, 81, 82
 - satisfaction, 75, 81–82
 - social interaction, 22–23, 73–74, 93–95
- relaxation, 63, 76
- replication
 - cognitive science, 134
 - computational social science, 16
 - future smartphone research, 19, 167, 171
 - health monitoring, 56, 67
 - limitations of laboratory, 6–7
 - smartphone usage, 40
 - social sciences, xiii
- research
 - communication in, 183–185
 - ethical practices for psychological research, 155–160
 - future smartphone research, 164–178
 - hardware development, 169–171
 - interdisciplinary research, 180–183
 - safety and security, 154, 155–162
 - secondary sources of data, 15–17
 - software development, 154, 164–169
 - theory and measurement, 171–178
- Research Excellence Framework, 180–183
- ResearchKit, 133
- reward processing, 123
- RFID (Radio Frequency Identification), 12, 93, 169
- road crossing, 118–119
- Roberts, J. A., 75
- Robertson, D. J., 149–150
- romantic relationships, 75, 80–84, 93–94
- Rosenblood, L. K., 78, 79
- Rosenfeld, M. J., 81
- Rosenhan, D., 171
- Royal College of GPs Technology Manifesto, 68
- Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health (RCPCH), 41
- Rozgonjuk, D., 37

- saccades, 3
- safety
 - improving security, 148–160
 - safety and digital harm, 139–142
 - and security, 24–25, 138–139
 - security perceptions, 142–145
 - smartphone security threats, 145–148
- salivary alpha amylase (sAA), 76
- sample sizes, 10, 19, 110
- SAS (Smartphone Addiction Scale), 31
- Sasse, M.A., 149

- Sbarra, D. A., 80 scale development tools, 174 schizophrenia, 61
 Schöndienst, V., 86
 Schooler, J. W., 128–129
 Schueller, S. M., 64, 66 screen locks, 149
 screen time
 children, 117, 128
 cognitive effects, 117, 125, 128, 136
 future smartphone research, 165, 174
 personality assessment, 111
 sleep, 125
 smartphone usage effects, 27, 29 Sea Hero Quest (game), 133, 134 search engines, 121, 141
 secondary data analysis, 15–17
 security commercial software development, 153–154
 digital harm, 139–142
 ethical practices for psychological research, 155–160
 improving security, 148–160
 personality assessment, 113
 playing to psychological strengths, 149–153 and safety, 138–139, 160–162
 security perceptions, 142–145
 smartphone security threats, 145–148
 Security, Privacy, Identity and Trust Engagement NetworkPlus (SPRITE+), 161 self, 96, 97, 99, 100, 101, 121
 self-harm, 8, 140
 self-identity, 98, 99, 100, 101
 selfies, 86
 self-knowledge, 108–109
 self-monitoring of health, 54, 56, 59, 64
 self-regulation, 125–126
 self-report
 cognition, 119, 126–127
 future smartphone research, 19, 168, 175
 health monitoring, 46, 48
 internet reliance, 10
 personality, 23, 96, 97, 104, 109, 112–113
 psychometric assessment, 110, 111
 smartphone usage, 27, 30–34, 40
 self-tracking, 65, 147 semantic memory, 122
 Seneviratne, S., 104 sensitive data
 cognitive science, 138
 ethical practices, 155, 157, 159
 safety and security, 144, 148, 161
 software development, 153, 154
 sensor data
 cognitive function, 133
 emotion and mood tracking, 61–62
 hardware development, 169–170
 health monitoring, 52, 53, 61–62
 personality, 101, 104, 110
 safety and security, 142, 157
 sensor technology, 11–15
 social behaviours, 87
 sex differences, 10, see also gender differences sexting, 140, 141
 sexual behaviour, 4, 86
 Sharp (manufacturer), 8
 Shaw, H., 101
 Shiffman, S., 49
 Shipman, Harold, 138
 Shoda, Y., 107–108, 109
 shyness, 83
 Silvia, P. J., 49
 similarity-attraction hypothesis, 179
 Simpson, C. C., 65
 Siri, 17
 sleep
 cognition, 120, 125, 126, 133
 health monitoring, 48–49, 65, 71
 sensor technology, 13
 smartphone usage, 28, 29
 smart lighters, 170
 smartphone ‘addiction’, 20–21, 27, 29, 33, 42–43, 172, 174 Smartphone Addiction Scale (SAS), 31
 smartphone usage
 active and passive usage, 33–34, 39, 40
 capturing usage from self-report, 30–34
 conceptual and methodological challenges, 38–41
 future smartphone research, 176–177
 negative impacts, xiv, 29, 41, 115, 116, 164, 178–180
 non-users, 101, 123
 objective measures, 34–37
 overview, 21, 27, 41–43
 positive impacts, 41, 76, 116–117, 179, 183
 problematic usage, 34, 36, 37, 38–39, 42–43, 173
 smartphones absence of phone, 101
 adult cognition, 117–126
 automatic tracking of social behaviour, 84–85
 biological traces, 97–98
 cognition overview, 23–24, 115, 135–137
 cognitive development, 116–117
 cognitive science future research, 126–128
 cognitive science platform, 129–135
 delay discounting, 123
 digital dating metrics, 86–87
 effect on social interaction, 74–80

- ethical practices for psychological research, 155–160
- fear of technological change, 178–180
- future smartphone research, 163–178, 183–186
- hardware development, 169–171
- health and behaviour change, 21–22, 44–53, 70–72
- health-care delivery, 68–70
- improving security, 148–160
- interdisciplinary research, 181
- long-term relationships, 80–84
- mass technology, 8
- memory, 120–123
- personality and individual differences, 23, 96–97, 102, 112–113
- personality measurement and prediction, 104–105
- promises and barriers for psychological science, 17–20
- psychological traces, 98
- psychometric assessment, 110–112
- safety and security, 24–25, 138–139, 160–162
- security perceptions, 142–145
- security threats, 145–148
- sensing social behaviours, 87–90
- social interaction and interpersonal relationships, 22–23, 73–74, 93–95
- software development, 153–154, 164–169
- technological change, xiii–xv
- theft of device, 146
- theory and measurement, 171–178
- use in psychological science, 20–21, 25
- smartwatches, 50, 65–68, 120, 133
- smiling, 75
- smoking, 48, 170
- Snapchat, 22, 77, 84, 86–87, 104, 121, 122
- snapshot data, 165
- sociability, 23, 71, 89, 96
- social affiliation model, 78
- social behaviour tracking, 84–90
- social cognitive theory, 143
- social comparisons, 139
- social exclusion, 76
- social fMRI, 23, 85
- social identity theory, 101
- social inequality, 155
- social interaction
 - automatic tracking of social behaviour, 84–90
 - cognitive effects, 136
 - effects of smartphones, 41, 74–80
 - future smartphone research, 169, 177
 - intergroup contact, 6
 - long-term relationships, 80–84
 - overview, 21, 22–23, 73–74, 93–95
 - safety and security, 142, 155
 - sensor data, 12–13, 14
 - social media, 164
 - switching between contexts, 90–93
 - technology development, 4, 11
- social media
 - cognitive effects, 122, 127
 - fear of technology, 29, 179
 - interdisciplinary research, 180
 - problematic usage, 38
 - safety and digital harm, 141
 - secondary data, 16
 - security perceptions, 142
 - smartphone usage effects, xiv, 41, 164
 - social interaction, 80, 95
- social psychology, 16, 29, 42, 94, 110, 168
- social rejection, 73
- social sciences, 52, 154, 171, 185–186
- social separation, 73
- socio-economic status, 60, 88–89
- sociometric badges, 169
- sociometric sensors, 12–13, 92, 169
- software development
 - cognitive science, 134
 - future smartphone research, 164–169
 - interdisciplinary research, 181
 - safety and security, 148, 153–154
- spatial representation, 122, 130, 133
- speech analysis, 12, 13
- speed dating, 92
- SPRITE+ (Security, Privacy, Identity and Trust Engagement NetworkPlus), 161
- spyware, 146
- SQL (Structured Query Language), 159
- Srivastava, S. S., 107
- Stachl, C., 105
- stair climbing, 119
- state measures, 12, 49, 108
- state self-knowledge, 108
- statistical methodology, 61, 157, 163, 174
- Stone, A. A., 49
- stress, 52, 60, 76, 89, 140
- Stroop task, 134
- StudentLife app, 89, 124
- students, 89, 92, 93
- subsampling, 157
- suicide, 65, 140
- Sun, J., 108, 109
- SuperLab, 135, 168
- survey data, 9, 10, 46–53, 127, 136
- Swift (programming language), 166
- Symantec, 147
- synthetic data generation, 157
- systematic processing, 147

tablet devices, 116, 135
 Tajfel, H., xiii
 TAM (technology acceptance model), 143, 172, 174
 Taylor, G., 117
 technology
 cognition, 116–117, 126–128, 129, 135–136
 fear of technological change, 178–180
 future smartphone research, 129, 163–164, 171–172, 177, 178, 183–184, 185–186
 health and behaviour change, 68, 71–72
 impacts of, 29, 38–39, 41–43, 163–164, 171–172, 177
 interdisciplinary research, 180–183
 security perceptions, 143
 technology acceptance model (TAM), 143, 172, 174 technology threat avoidance theory (TTAT), 143, 144
 technophobia, 178–180
 teenagers, 136, 139–140, 141, 142
 telemedicine, 46
 telemonitoring, 56
 telephone calls, 20, 77, 82–83, 87, 89–90, 99–100, 104, 111, 119 television, 29, 32, 56, 116
 tenure, 182
 text messaging distracted driving, 119
 experience sampling, 10
 personality measurement, 100, 105
 phishing, 145
 physical activity interventions, 54
 social interaction, 78, 87, 89–90
 text length, 61
 theft of device, 146
 theory of planned behaviour (TPB), 143 theory of structural holes, 88 theory testing, 173
 theory, and measurement, 171–178
 thermometers, 68–70
 third-party apps, 142 3D environments, 135
 thumb traces, 97
 time representation, 130
 Tinder, 22, 73, 85, 86–87, 91, 92, 93
 Tomko, R. L., 170
 touch count, 61
 TPB (theory of planned behaviour), 143
 traffic sniffing, 147
 trait measures, 12, 49, 96
 trait self-knowledge, 108
 transactional media-effects models, 127 transparency, xiii, 17, 166, 167, 168, 171
 transparent authentication, 151–152

trolling, 140
 TTAT (technology threat avoidance theory), 143, 144
 Turban, S., 13
 Turing, Alan, 2
 Twitter, 62, 77, 118, 160
 typing speed, 61, 151 Tyson, G., 83, 85

 ubiquitous technology, xiii
 UK Reproducibility Network, 166
 UKRI (UK Research and Innovation), xiv
 Unforgettable Me platform, 167 Unity, 135
 unlocking devices, 151 uses and gratifications model, 39

 vaccination, 69
 validity, xiii, 7, 32, 168, 174, 175, 178 Vazire, S., 108, 109
 video consultations, 70 video games
 cognition, 116, 127, 134
 fear of technology, 29, 179–180
 personality, 109
 physical activity, 56
 problematic usage, xiv, 38
 sensor data, 11–12
 videos, 7, 98, 100, 121 virtual communities, 73, 81, 84 visual attention, 119 voice recognition, 151

 Wagner, D. T., 125
 walking, 39, 55, 64, 118–119, 140
 Wall, H. J., 77
 watches, 50, 65–68, 98, 120, 133
 Watt, C., 9 weak tie theory, 88
 wealth, 88–89, 133
 wearable devices behavioural measurement issues, 20
 cognitive science, 130
 hardware development, 170
 health and behaviour change, 44–46, 53, 54, 56, 58, 61, 68, 70
 measurements, xiii
 privacy, 112
 sensor technology, 12–14
 social interaction, 90, 92
 web-browser platforms, 168 weight loss, 44, 54, 56, 58
 Weinstein, N., 117
 Weir, C., 153
 well-being

Index

265

- childhood cognitive development, 117
 emotion and mood tracking, 60–65
 health and behaviour change, 44, 48, 50–52, 53, 60–65, 71
 media use, 183
 personality, 103
 safety and digital harm, 139
 screen time, 174
 smartphone usage, 27
 social interaction, 11, 73, 76, 81
 Wetzels, C. G., 86
 WhatsApp, 92, 104, 120, 142
 White, R. W., 55
 Whitty, M. T., 85, 91
 Wi-Fi, 14, 88, 142, 146, 147, 155
 Wikipedia, 91
 Williams, E. J., 146
 Wilmer, H. H., 117, 121, 122, 123
 Wiseman, R., 8–9
 women and gender differences, 99–100, 107
 working memory, 24, 127, 136
 World Health Organization, 42–43, 71 worry, 49
 Xbox Kinect, 12
 Yakoub, F., 105
 Yarkoni, T., 176
 young people, 37, 130, 136, 139–140, 141, 142, 152–153, see also children
 YouTube, 104
 Zimbardo, P., 171
 Zimmerman, F., 131