Contents

List of Contributors

Acknowledgments

Introduction

Geoffrey P. Nash

Part I Origins

1 Styles of Orientalism in the Eighteenth Century
   Suvir Kaul

2 The Origin and Development of the Oriental Tale
   James Watt

3 Romantic Orientalism and Occidentalism
   Saree Makdisi

4 The Victorians: Empire and the East
   Sukanya Banerjee

5 Orientalism and Victorian Fiction
   Daniel Bivona

6 Orientalism and Race: Aryans and Semites
   Christopher Hutton

7 Orientalism and the Bible
   Ivan Kalmar

Part II Development

8 Said, Bhabha and the Colonized Subject
   Eleanor Byrne
Contents

9 The Harem: Gendering Orientalism 166
Reina Lewis

10 Orientalism and Middle East Travel Writing 185
Ali Behdad

11 Nineteenth- and Twentieth-Century American Orientalism 202
David Weir

12 Edward Said and Resistance in Colonial and Postcolonial Literatures 219
Valerie Kennedy

13 Can the Cosmopolitan Writer Be Absolved of Racism? 235
Andrew C. Long

PART III APPLICATION 253

14 From Orientalism to Islamophobia 255
Mahmut Mutman

15 Applications of Neo-Orientalism and Islamophobia in Recent Writing 269
Peter Morey

16 Orientalism and Cultural Translation: Middle Eastern American Writing 286
Carol W. N. Fadda

17 New Orientalism and the American Media: New York Cleopatra and Saudi “Giggly Black Ghosts” 306
Moneera Al-Ghadeer

18 On Orientalism’s Future(s) 323
Anouar Majid

19 “The Engine of Survival”: A Future For Orientalism 337
Patrick Williams

Further Reading
Index

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org