Are you happy, are you sad? ...

1  Listen and write the missing questions in the song.

Which games do you like to play? Which places would you like to see?
Which music do you think sounds cool?

2  Listen again and sing the song.

3  Read the answers to some of the questions in the song. Which questions do they answer?

A  Tennis and hockey are my favourite sports and I'm good at them, too.

D  One of each. Their names are Tom and Betty.

B  It's English. I like learning languages.

E  That's difficult but I think I like blue the best.

C  I want to be a doctor and work in a hospital.

F  I'd like to go camping in the mountains for a week.

G  By car. My older brother Tom drives me there.

4  Listen to Sophia answering some questions and fill in the table.

2 04 Look and write the words in the correct columns. Then listen again and match them to the friends in task 1.

funny lazy interesting unfriendly popular cool tidy boring untidy kind friendly friendly

unfriendly

3 Read and choose the correct answers.

- 0 Rob's very friendly / funny because he likes talking to people.
- 1 Oliver never sends text messages, so his friends think that he's boring / tidy.
- 2 Holly's untidy / kind because she buys lots of presents.
- 3 Katy's interesting / unfriendly after she practises the violin.
- 4 Oliver's got a lot of friends. He's lazy / popular.
- 5 Katy's untidy / cool because she plays in a famous band.

4 Who would you like to be friends with? Why?

I'd like to be friends with Rob, because he's funny and he likes watching TV in bed.

I'd like to be friends with Katy because she's cool and she plays the violin.

5  Read the internet profiles. Which two people from task 1 do you think they are for?

I'm still at school but I want to be an actor because I'm good at telling funny stories. I can be lazy at the weekend but I think that's OK. Everyone should be lazy sometimes! My favourite sport's skateboarding and my dream holiday's camping in a forest.

I play in a really great band. You should listen to us! I have really interesting stories to tell, but I can be unfriendly after I practise. I am often really tired as well. I do not like football, I do not like school and I do not have a favourite food.

6  Read the information box and talk with a friend. Which profile from task 5 do you think is better? Why?

Internet profiles should be short – fewer than 50 words. They should tell us lots of different things. Tell us what you like, what you are good at and what you want to do. It's OK to say that you are bad at something, but try to talk about things that make you happy. Use adjectives, but don't use the same words over and over again – that's boring. And don't forget to choose a nice photo!

7  Now write your own internet profile.

- 1 Think of three words that describe you.
- 2 Think of two or three other things that you want to tell people. Use the song on page 6 to help you.
- 3 Complete the tables and choose a photo.
