CAMBRIDGE
Cambridge University Press & Assessment
978-1-108-79311-7 — Values in Psychiatry
Edited by Robert B. Dudas
Index
More Information

Index

abnormal brain site, madness as, 7 abnormal psychology versus clinical psychology, 20 abuse and mental health, 76 acceptance and commitment therapy (ACT), 34 Adler, Alfred, 24
affective style, mental health, 72–73
agency
  affordances and, 60
  borderline personality disorder (BPD), 205, 229
  in CBT, 34
  development, 205
  patient stakeholder, 167–169
  psychoanalysis, 26–28
alienism, 5
alienism and madness, 9–10 analytical method, 8
anthropology and psychiatry, 111
anti-psychiatry
  background, 12–13
  community care models, 50
  and social control, 49–50 values impact, 150–152
artificial general intelligence. See artificial intelligence (AI) artificial intelligence (AI)
  general intelligence, 64 growth concerns, 64–65
  narrow, 64
  promise of, 63–64
  values and, 63
asylum. See also institution, psychiatric 19th-century psychiatric, 43–45
  19th-century scope of reform, 44–45
  20th-century expansion, 45
  humanitarianism, 44
  psychoanalysis emergence, 22 aversion therapies, behaviourism, 32
Bauby, Jean-Dominique, 94–95
Beck, Aaron T., 33–34
Beck Depression Inventory (BDI), 34
behavioural activation (BA), 34
behaviourism
  agency, 31–32
  context, 28–29
  controversial applications, 32
  key values, 28
  major tenets of, 29–31
  methodology, 21
  person-centredness, 31
biopsychosocial (BPS) model, mental illness
  criticisms, 57–58
  Engel on, 57
  systems theory approach, 57
borderline personality disorder (BPD)
  defined, 203
  separate support system model, 203–205 borderline personality disorder (BPD), stakeholder values perspective clinician, 199–200
  different kinds of professional expertise, 201 health support staff, 200–201
  patient, 198–199
borderline personality disorder (BPD), values perspective
  agency, 205, 229
  challenges, 228–229
  clinical value mapping, 206–209
  diagnosis, 201–203
  emotions and, 205–206
  recovery path, 229
  service user involvement, 209–210
  values rating, 205–206
Burghölzli, 23
Cambridge Analytica scandal, 63
Choose Psychiatry campaign, 139–142
Clark, David, 83
clinical encounter
  empathy importance, 158
  patient narrative, 159–160
clinical psychology
  versus abnormal psychology, 20
  versus psychiatry, 5
clinical value mapping, borderline personality disorder (BPD)
  temporality, 208–209
  value hierarchy, 206–207
  value proximity, 207–208
clinical value mapping, depression clinician priorities, 162
  hierarchy, 163, 167–169
  primary stakeholder proximity, 164–167 stakeholder organization, 162–163
  temporality, 163–164
  three-dimensional nature, 162 clusters, madness, 8
Cockburn, Patrick and Henry, 96–97
cognitive-behavioural therapy (CBT)
  agency, 34
  criticisms, 34
  development context, 33–34
  person-centredness, 34
cognitive psychology
  cognitive-behavioural therapy (CBT), 33–34
  key values, 33
  popularity of, 33
community care, psychiatric 20th-century expansion, 47–48
  anti-psychiatry, 50
computational psychiatry, 109

© in this web service Cambridge University Press & Assessment www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE
Cambridge University Press & Assessment
978-1-108-79311-7 — Values in Psychiatry
Edited by Robert B. Dudas
Index
More Information

co-production, treatment development overview, 130
  pioneering aspect of psychiatry, 226–227
  as progressive tool, 131–133
  reason for, 130
Cowper, William, 166, 169 critical psychiatry, values, 152–153 culture and psychoanalysis, 23

de Haan, Sanneke, 59
dementia
  conceptualization shift, 228
  defined, 174
  epidemiology, 174
  issues summary table, 176 dementia, advanced care end-of-life care, 192–193
  home-care costs, 188–190
  intimate relationships, 190–191 dementia, behaviour changes hoarding, 181–182
  sense-of-self erosion, 182–183 wandering aimlessly, 180–181 dementia, early
  diagnosis, 177–179
  forgetting, 177
  young onset, 179–180
dementia, features
  change in values, 174–176, 228
  conceptualization change, 176 progressive nature, 174 dementia, legal perspective driving, 183–185
  money matters, 185–187
  research study participation, 187–188
dementia, stakeholders
  health professionals, 175
  legal, 175
  patient family, 175
  social environment, 175
  social workers, 175
depression
  clinical value mapping, 162–164, 227
  definition, 158
  depressed patient life view, 157–159
  enactivist view, 159
  family and friends, 170–171
  patient narrative, 159–160
  stages, 169
  summary, 157, 227
  temporality, 169, 227–228
  therapist recommendations, 171–172 description, definition, 9
descriptive psychopathology (DP) criteria, 9
  madness and, 8–9
  social and conceptual factors, 9 temporal aspects, 9
diagnosis, borderline personality disorder (BPD) care after, 202–203
  forms of, 201–202
  importance of, 201
  lack of diagnosis outcome, 202
  misdiagnosis, 202
  stigma, 202
Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM), 27
dialectical behaviour therapy (DBT), 34 direct deciders, mental illness clinical psychologist, 68
  general practitioner, 68
  mental health tribunals, 68
  patient, 66–67
  psychiatrist, 67
  specific assessors, 68
dissensus tolerance, 164, 172
Diving Bell and the Butterfly, The, 94–95

elderly patients, values-based practice (VBP) location background, 136–137
  methodology, 137–138
  outcomes, 138
emergent properties, mental illness
  background, 61
  causation, 61–62
  criticisms, 62
  lack of research, 61
  tenets of, 61
empathy, 158
enactivist model, mental illness
  criticisms, 60
  definition, 59
  depression, 159
  personal value importance, 59 psychiatric disorders, 59 end-of-life care, dementia, 192–193 Engel, George, 57
environmental changes, psychiatry consulting psychiatrist role, 143 funding shortages, 143
  information technology and labour, 143–144 personal support diminishment, 144
eugenics movement, 45
euthanasia (EAS), 208–209
existential psychotherapy (EP), 125–126, 226
Eysenck, Hans, 29

Faces in the Water, 98
Fanthorpe, U. A., 100–101
financial assistance, dementia, 185–187 Fishermen, The, 96
flow experiences and mental health, 73
forgetting, dementia, 177 fragmentation, madness
  neuroses, 10
  psychosis, 11
Frame, Janet, 98–99
Freud, Sigmund
  beginning of psychoanalysis, 22 link between patient symptoms and psychology, 26 mental illness levels, 23
  overdetermination, 24
  psychoanalysis contributions, 24 views on sexuality, 26
Fromm, Eric, 24
functionalism, psychological, 20–21

Gask, Linda
  own mental illness, 83–84
  recovery process, 169
  stigma, 202

© in this web service Cambridge University Press & Assessment www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE
Cambridge University Press & Assessment
978-1-108-79311-7 — Values in Psychiatry
Edited by Robert B. Dudas
Index
More Information

value system change, 169
general practitioner and mental illness, 68 genetic inheritance and mental health, 72
Gilman, Charlotte Perkins, 97–98
Gorsack, Bonnie, 127

happiness and mental health, 72 healthy patient background, mental health happiness, 72
  subjective, 72
Henry's Demons, 96–97
hermeneutics and psychiatry, 12, 158 hierarchy of needs, 35
history, psychiatric before 1800, 5–7
  1800s, 7–11
  after 1900, 11–13
  origin, 5
home-care costs, 188–190
Horney, Karen, 24
hospitals and mental illness, 68
humanistic psychology
  agency, 35
  criticisms, 36
  development context, 35
  key values, 34
  person-centredness, 35
humanitarianism, asylum
  criticisms, 44
  moral therapy, 44
hybrid model, mental illness
  background, 58
  key principles, 58
  tenets of, 58–59

idiographic descriptions, psychoanalysis, 23
Ikigai, 73
institution, psychiatric (20th century). See also asylum expansion into community treatment, 47–48 intertwined with social and moral values, 47 patient sterilization, 46
  post-Second World War, 48–50
  research, 46–47
  Second World War, 48
  understaffing, 46
integrated care systems (ICS)
  inception, 113–114
  poor performance of, 114
intentional activities and mental health, 72 internet memes
  criticisms, 63
  mental health impact, 63
  value layers, 63
interpretative phenomenological analysis (IPA), 217
introspection, history, 20

Jennings, Elizabeth, 99–100
Jung, Carl, 24

law and psychiatry
  Mental Health Act (MHA), 112
  mental illness, 112
  UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (2007), 112 legislation, mental health
  Mental Capacity Act (MCA), 69–70
  Mental Deficiency Act (1913), 45
  Mental Health Act (MHA), 69–70
  Mental Treatment Act (1930), 46
Leigh, Hoyle, 57
Lindquist, Ulla-Carin, 95
literature, psychiatry in clinical encounter, 99–101
  effects on friends and family, 95, 96–97
  lessons from, 97–101
  life of patients, 94–96
  metaphors, 96
  in poetry, 95–96, 99–101
  values, 102–105
loneliness and mental health, 75–76

madness. See also psychiatry 19th-century asylums, 43–45
  alienism, 9–10
  cultural clashes, 11–12
  descriptive psychopathology (DP), 8–9
  fragmentation, 10–11
  medical transformation history, 5–6 mental symptoms, 7–8
  as natural kind, 6–7
  psychiatric evolution, 221
  as spatio-temporal object, 7 Maise, Michelle, 60
maladaptive genetic-memetic interaction, 57
Maslow, Abraham, 35
May, Rollo, 35
media perceptions, psychiatry coverage, 89–90
  as forum, 224
  importance of, 89
medicine and psychiatry
  challenges, 107–108
  connection between, 222 model differences, 107
  training, 106–107
  treatment delivery effectiveness, 107
meme model, mental illness, 57
memes, mental illness causation
  background, 62–63
  internet, 63
Memoirs of My Nervous Illness, 103–104
Mental Capacity Act (MCA), 69–70, 187
Mental Deficiency Act (1913), 45
Mental Health Act (MHA), 69–70, 112
Mental Health Policy Implementation Guide (MHPIG), 113
mental health (multidisciplinary) teams (MDTs)
  examples, 117–118
  mental health nursing and social work, 114–118
  multidisciplinarity, 113
  National Health Service (NHS) plan (2019), 113
  staffing composition, 114
  values, 114, 223–224
mental health tribunals, 68
mental illness. See also psychiatry pathomechanism, 216
  prevention, improvement, and recovery, 216 role of values in, 55, 56

© in this web service Cambridge University Press & Assessment www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE
Cambridge University Press & Assessment
978-1-108-79311-7 — Values in Psychiatry
Edited by Robert B. Dudas
Index
More Information

mental illness, causes
  artificial intelligence (AI), 63–65
  complexity of, 60–61
  decisions around pathology, 65–70
  emergent properties, 61–62
  memes as vehicles, 62–63
  values, 62
mental illness, factors abuse and neglect, 76
  complexity of, 75
  loneliness, 75–76
  low socio-economic status, 75
  treatment delivery effectiveness, 76
mental illness, influences
  affective style, 72–73
  flow experiences, 73
  healthy roots, 72–74
  Ikigai, 73
  improvement strategies, 72
  neighbourhood, 74
  physical exercise, 74
  positive social relationships, 73–74 understanding capacity, 73
  values, 74, 76–77
  virtues, 73
mental illness, models
  biopsychosocial (BPS), 57–58
  enactivism, 59–60
  hybrid, 58–59
  lack of definitive, 55–56
  meme, 57
  need for new, 65
  neuroscientific, 56
  values-based practice (VBP), 56–57 mental phenomena measurement, 20 mental symptoms and madness, 7–8
Mental Treatment Act (1930), 46
mentalization-based treatment (MBT), 127 mindfulness-based cognitive therapy (MBCT), 34 moral deficiency legislation, 45 motivational interviewing (MI). See also values-based practice (VBP) model ambivalence focus, 127
  compatibility with other treatment, 127
  definition, 126
  efficacy, 126
  summary, 129
  values conflict resolution, 128
  values importance, 127
multidisciplinarity, psychiatric anthropology, 111
  challenges, 116–117
  law, 112
  medicine, 106–108
  mental health nursing and social work, 114–118
  Mental Health Policy Implementation Guide (MHPIG), 113
  mental health (multidisciplinary) teams (MDTs), 113
  neurology, 109
  neuroscience, 108–109
  psychology, 110–111
  social work, 114–115
  sociology, 111

narrow artificial intelligence (AI), 64
National Health Service (NHS)
  evidence-based treatment, 68–69
  integrated care systems (ICS), 113–114
  multidisciplinarity, 113
natural kind, madness as botanical nosology, 6
  classification, 6
  features, 7
neglect and mental health, 76 neighbourhood social reciprocity, 74 neurology and psychiatry, 109 neuropsychoanalysis, 27–28
neuroscience and psychiatry
  computational psychiatry, 109
  future research in, 126 gaps between research and clinical work, 109 integration between, 5, 108–109
  lack of knowledge in, 108
neuroscientific model, mental illness basic tenets, 56
  limitations, 56
  risks, 56
Nielsen, Kristopher, 60
nosology
  classification, 6
  features, 7
nursing, mental health
  as key mental health profession, 114–115
  role and function, 115
  values, 115
  values-based practice (VBP) model, 118–119

Obioma, Chigozie, 96
objective experimenting, behaviourism, 32
origins, psychiatrist
  personal values, 82–84
  professional challenges, 84
  as wounded healer, 83
overdetermination, psychoanalysis, 24

pathognomy, 8
pathology decision stakeholders, mental illness causes
  complexity of, 65–66
  direct deciders, 66–68
  distinctions, 65
  society-level deciders, 68–70 values-based psychiatry-informed stakeholder tribunal, 70–71 pathomechanism, mental illness, 216 patient, mental illness rights and duties, 67
  as stakeholder, 66
Perceval, John, 102–103
person-centredness, psychological
  behaviourism, 28–32
  cognitive psychology, 32–34
  history, 19–21
  humanistic psychology, 34–36
  introspection, 20
  psychoanalysis, 21–28
person–world relationship, enactivist model, 59 phenomenology, psychiatric, 12, 157, 167–169 physical exercise and mental health, 74
Picardie, Ruth, 95
Pindown scandal, 32
post-Second World War, psychiatry, 48–50

© in this web service Cambridge University Press & Assessment www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE
Cambridge University Press & Assessment
978-1-108-79311-7 — Values in Psychiatry
Edited by Robert B. Dudas
Index
More Information

proximity of values, 207–208
psychiatrie, 5
psychiatrist
  applicant shortages, 139
  definition, 5
  as mental illness direct decider, 67
  personal values, 82–84
  qualifications, 5
psychiatrist, literature image of
  clinical encounter, 99–101
  effects on friends and family, 95, 96–97
  lessons from, 97–101
  life of patients, 94–96
  metaphors, 96
  in poetry, 95–96, 99–101
  values, 102–105
psychiatry. See also madness; mental illness versus clinical psychology, 5 critical, 152–153
  definition, 5, 82
  neuroscience inclusion, 5
  problems with, 82
  relationship with psychology, 37–38
  roots in medicine, 222
  values historical perspective, 42–50 psychiatry, current environment
  applicant shortages, 139
  Choose Psychiatry campaign, 139–142
  clinical issues, 144
  future clinical solutions, 153
  at risk of extreme solutions, 153 values debate, 149–153
  Zero Suicide movement, 144–149
psychiatry, history
  anti-psychiatry, 12–13
  challenges, 11–12
  hermeneutics, 12
  modern era classification, 13
  normal life advice, 222
  phenomenology, 12
  tributaries, 11
  values relationship, 222
psychiatry, impacts on values art and literature perceptions, 224–225
  media perceptions, 224
  self-reflective stance, 225–226
  suicide prevention, 225 treatment modalities, 226 values in training, 224 working environments, 225 psychiatry, new research approach directions, 216–217
  gap between research and clinical conclusions, 215 individual approach, 214–215 need for, 214
  themes, 215–216, 217
psychiatry, pioneering aspects alternative recovery methods, 226
  co-production, 226–227
psychiatry, progressive developments treatment, 125–129
  treatment–prevalence paradox, 124
psychiatry, values
  personal, 82–89
psychoanalysis
  agency, 26–28
  criticisms, 27
  culture and, 23
  development context, 22
  epistemological approach, 23 first talking therapy, 25 idiographic descriptions, 23
  key figures in, 24
  key values, 21
  as major paradigm change, 23–26
  methodology, 21
  moral attitude change, 26
  overdetermination, 24
  person-centredness, 24, 28
  spread of, 22–23
  symptom personal meaning, 24
  unconscience, 23–24
  value integration, 24–25
psychological medicine, 5 psychologist, as mental illness direct decider, 68
psychology
  classification, 27
  clinical approach, 110–111
  cognitive, 32–34
  definition, 110
  embrace of humanities, 36–37
  humanistic, 34–36
  mental illness interpretation, 111
  nexus between natural and social sciences, 221–222 relationship with psychiatry, 37–38 psychology, clinical
  versus abnormal psychology, 20
  versus psychiatry, 5
psychology, history
  abnormal versus clinical, 20
  person-centredness, 19–21
  structuralism and functionalism, 20–21 psychology, humanistic
  agency, 35
  criticisms, 36
  development context, 35
  key values, 34
  person-centredness, 35
psychopathological phenomenology (PP), 125–126, 226 psychopathological phenomenology (PP) and existential psychotherapy (EP), 226
psychosis
  acute versus chronic, 11
  classification, 11
  endogenous–exogenous etiology, 11
  history, 11
public image, psychiatric future suggestions, 90–91
  media perceptions, 89–90

Rank, Otto, 35
recovery, treatment development
  definition, 129
  history, 129–130
  popularity of, 129
  as progressive tool, 131
  reason for, 130
Reda, Omar, 84
reflective functioning, 73
religion and alienism, 10 research methodology, values-based data collection, 217
  differences from traditional research, 219 history of psychology research value, 219
  interpretative phenomenological analysis (IPA), 217
  questions for value-mapping, 218

© in this web service Cambridge University Press & Assessment www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE
Cambridge University Press & Assessment
978-1-108-79311-7 — Values in Psychiatry
Edited by Robert B. Dudas
Index
More Information

Rogers, Carl, 35
Rowing Without Oars, 95

Sartre, Jean Paul, 104–105
Schreber, Daniel, 103–104
Second World War, psychiatry in, 48
Séméiologie, 8
Séméiotique, 8
Skinner, Burrhus Frederic
  behaviourism, 30
  Skinner box, 30
  values, 30
Skinner box, 30
social relationships and mental health marriage, 73–74
  neighbourhood, 74
social work
  as key mental health profession, 114–115
  role and function, 115
  values, 116
  values-based practice (VBP) model, 118–119
society-level deciders, mental illness components, 68
  legislation, 69–70
  National Health Service (NHS), 68–69
  professional organizations, 69 socio-economic status and mental health, 75
sociology and psychiatry clinical social history, 160
  integration between, 111
spatio-temporal conception and madness, 7 stakeholder tribunal
  current environmental issues, 153
  euthanasia (EAS), 209
  pros and cons, 70
  reason for, 70, 71
  stakeholder considerations, 70–71 sterilization, patient, 46 stigma, borderline personality disorder (BPD), 202 structuralism, psychological, 20–21 Styron, William, 96, 167
suicide
  euthanasia (EAS), 208–209
  values-based practice (VBP) model, 148–149
  values-based prevention, 225
  Zero Suicide movement, 144–149
Sullivan, Harry Stack, 24
systematic desensitization, behaviourism, 32 systems theory approach, borderline personality disorder (BPS), 57

temperament and mental health, 72
temporality, of values
  borderline personality disorder (BPD), 208–209
  depression, 163–164, 169, 208–209, 227–228
top-down causation, emergent properties model, 61–62 treatment developments, mental health
  co-production, 130
  motivational interviewing (MI), 126–129
  psychopathological phenomenology (PP) and existential psychotherapy (EP), 125–126
  recovery, 129–130
treatment–prevalence paradox, 124

unconditional positive regard, 35 unconscious, psychoanalysis, 23–24

values, psychiatric
  anti-psychiatry, 150–152
  collective, 88–89
  conflicting, 161
  critical psychiatry, 152–153
  emergent properties, mental illness, 62
  emotions and, 161
  forms, 160
  future suggestions, 90–91
  hierarchy, 160–161
  in literature, 102–105
  mental health nursing, 115
  mental health (multidisciplinary) teams (MDTs), 114
  mental illness influences, 74, 76–77
  motivational interviewing (MI), 126–129
  personal, 82–89
  principles, 88–89
  psychopathological phenomenology (PP) and existential psychotherapy (EP), 125–126
  social work, 116
  structure, 160
values, psychiatric historical 19th century, 42
  20th century, 45–48
  lack of research, 42
  Second World War, 48
  summary, 50–51
values-based practice (VBP) model. See also motivational interviewing (MI)
  borderline personality disorder (BPD), 197–210
  critical psychology, 152–153
  dementia, 174–194
  depression, 157–172
  different modern models, 223 elderly patients, 136–138 future of, 229–230
  mental health nursing and social work, 118–119
  mental illness, 56–57
  need for improvement, 222–223
  new research methodology, 217–219 research questions for, 218
  suicide, 148–149
  values role, 216–217
virtues and mental health, 73

Watson, John Broadus, 29
wounded healer, psychiatrist as, 83

Yellow Wallpaper, The, 97–98
young-onset dementia, 179–180

Zero Suicide movement
  defined, 145
  prevention, 145–146
  suicide as patient safety error, 146–147 suicide elimination, 147–148
Zuckoff, Allan, 127

© in this web service Cambridge University Press & Assessment www.cambridge.org