

Contents

Preface	page ix
List of Abbreviations	xii
Introduction: Monotheism and Pluralism	1
Introducing René Girard, Jan Assmann, and Chantal Mouffe	6
Chapter Outline	13
1 Pluralism's Requisite Intolerance	16
A. How Tolerance Contains Intolerance	18
B. Reason Is No Escape from Exclusion	24
C. Maintaining the Incompatibility through Refusing Illusions of Unity	30
D. Us versus Them	35
E. Monotheism and Intolerance	37
2 Girard's Mimetic Theory and Monotheism's Ambivalent Effects	43
A. Mimesis and Divinizing Others	44
B. Mimesis Evolved: The Victimage Mechanism as a God-Machine and Basis of Culture	51
C. Truth and Biblical Revelation	65
D. History Deprived of Gods	73
E. Conclusion	80

3	Monotheism and the Monopoly on Violence: Freud and Girard	83
	A. Finding Monotheism in Egypt?	85
	B. Freud's Moses, the Aten-Worshipping Egyptian	89
	C. The Even Deeper Aims: The Historical Truth of Religion	93
	D. Restoring the Primal Father	97
	E. What to Do with Moses and Monotheism?	100
4	Containing Violence and Two Entirely Different Kinds of Religion	107
	A. Different Kinds of Religion	108
	B. Different Kinds of Violence	126
5	Polytheism and the Victim in Ancient Egypt	133
	A. The God-King Compaction: A Case Study in Egyptian Political Theology	134
	B. Akhenaton's Borderline Case: Nontranslatable, but Still Compacted God-King	143
	C. After Akhenaton in Egypt: A Middle-Way Compromise	148
6	A Political Theology of the Mosaic Distinction: The Development of Apophatic Intolerance	151
	A. Israel As Originally Polytheistic	153
	B. Exodus and the No Other Gods Movement	156
	C. A Covenanted People	161
	D. Prophetic Critique	166
	E. King Josiah's Reforms toward Sovereignty under Assyrian Rule	168
	F. Royalty Disappears	169
	G. Ban on Images and Political Representation	172
	H. Exile, Memory, and the Birth of a Canon	174
	I. Post Exile	177
	J. Zeal, Active and Passive	180
	K. Conclusion: Monotheism Is Worth the Price of Its Intolerance	185
7	Jesus Christ and Intolerance: Toward Revelation without Rivalry	191
	A. Axial Theory: Not Escape but Reconfiguration	196
	B. Girard on the Transition from Primary to Secondary Religion	204
	C. Trial: Judgment in Reverse	211

	Contents	vii
D.	The Cross: Coronation in Reverse	216
E.	Resurrection: Sovereignty in Reverse	221
F.	The Land As the Body of a Victim: Paganism in Reverse	229
G.	The Mosaic Distinction and Christian Intolerance	235
8	Conclusion: How to Be Intolerant	246
	Bibliography	252
	Index	270