

Index

A page in italics indicates a table or figure. A page followed by an n indicates a footnote.

- Abordagem Consciente Program (AC), 224
- activists.
See also human rights, organizations;
 protests
- AIDS, 236
- Albanese, Maximiliano, 156–157
- Alckmin, Geraldo, 119
- Alfonsín, Raúl, 128, 259, 306
- Alves, Airton, 223, 247
- Amnesty International, 182
- Argentina, 2
 crime and violence, 5, 175
 economic crisis and social unrest, 130, 132–133, 153–154
 hyperinflation, 132n14, 132, 323
 journalism, legitimacy of, 265
 military coups and dictatorship, 1, 58, 71n2, 123–125, 129, 173
 formation of human rights groups
 during, 156n78
 Mothers of Plaza de Mayo, 1, 156n78, 259
See also disappearances
 police violence, 9, 46, 137
 transition to democracy, 57n23, 71, 121, 128, 306
See also Buenos Aires Province
- ARGRA (Asociación de Reporteros
 Gráficos de la República
 Argentina), 265
- arms trafficking, 131
- Arrieta, Carlos Gustavo, 44, 318
- Arruda, Luiz Eduardo Pesce de, 79n10, 79
- Arslanian, León Carlos, 44, 130, 140, 144,
 162, 270n43, 270, 274, 318
- Asociación de Reporteros Gráficos de la
 República Argentina (ARGRA), 265
- authoritarian coercion. See under coercion
- authoritarian legacies, 54, 58, 77–78
- authoritarian regimes
 coercive institutions in, 13, 313
 extrajudicial violence of, 24, 307
 interpretation of law by rulers, 14
 lack of accountability, 14
- authoritarianism, 2, 12n10, 12–13, 13n11
- Bahia.
See also Brazil
- Bayley, David, 5
- Binder, Alberto, 132, 270n43, 270, 275
- Bittner, Egon, 321
- Bogado, Marcelo, 157
- Bogado, Nicánor, 157
- Bogotá.
See also Colombia
- Bolsonaro, Jair, 325–327
- Bonaerense. See Buenos Aires Province,
 police
- Borrero, Armando, 200n72

- Brazil
- coercion
 - authoritarian coercion and Bolsonaro's agenda, 325, 327
 - voter support by education and income, 326
 - democratic coercion by police, 80
 - Constitution of 1988, 80
 - absence of police reform, 81
 - guaranteed rights regarding detention and torture, 86
 - role of military and civil police, 77n9, 78
 - subordination of Military Police to governors, 80–81
 - democratization
 - absence of police reform, 77
 - reduction of military power, 57n23, 71
 - rise of crime and violence, 306
 - military dictatorship, 1, 71n2, 81, 83–84
 - genocide of Black people under, 232
 - repression under, 80, 84
 - role of police under, 77
 - National Constituent Assembly, 4, 82–83
 - police violence, 1, 9, 42
 - extrajudicial killings and civilian courts, 101
 - targets of, 321
 - See also* death squads of police; killings
 - political prisoners, 80, 231
 - social conditions in, 73, 324
 - See also* Bahia; Rio de Janeiro; ROTA; São Paulo State; vigilantism
- Brown, Carlos, 148, 266
- Brown, Michael, 49, 50
- Bru, Miguel. See disappearances
- Bru, Rosa Schonfeld, 156–157, 261
- Brunati, Luis, 139n33, 147, 148, 149, 258–259
- Buenos Aires City, 136n19, 137, 156, 263
- Buenos Aires Province, 2, 28–29, 127n6, 131n11, 132n14, 133–138, 135n18, 136n19, 254–256, 267–269, 296–298, 301–303
- conurbano (Greater Buenos Aires area), 131n11, 131, 132n12, 135, 141, 143, 154–155, 160
- police killings and fatalities, pre-reform, 136
 - democratization
 - compared to São Paulo State, 130
 - demand for repression from middle-class sectors, 123
 - deterioration of police, 131
 - exclusion of police during, 127–130
 - grupos de tarea (task forces), 126
 - rise in crime and violence, 123, 130–133
 - societal demands for security, 132–133
 - See also* justicieros; vigilantism
 - elections, legislative and gubernatorial results, 260
 - military dictatorship, 140, 173, 323
 - police cadet combat with subversive groups during, 127n6
 - torture under, 135, 159
 - police, 28, 122–125, 141–142, 144–147, 160, 164, 262–263, 273
 - authoritarian coercion
 - control of licit and illicit business, 138, 139n32
 - exceptional coercion, 134
 - military origins of, 122, 123, 125–127
 - persistence of, 122, 124–125, 134
 - in the interest of political leaders, 140–144
 - See also* recaudación
 - compared to São Paulo State, 28, 122
 - “damned police,” 28, 147, 308
 - demands for mano dura (iron fist) policing, 40
 - external accountability, limitations of, 144–153
 - fragmented societal preferences over policing and security, 153–154, 160–163
 - legislative actions regarding, 150
 - opinion of police, 160
 - by education, 162
 - trust in, 161
 - unequal protection and repression, 154–155
 - police reform, 256–276
 - absence of structural reform, 130
 - causal sequence deviations, 257
 - ordinary democratic politics, 163–164
 - causal sequences compared, 257–262, 262

- Buenos Aires Province (cont.)
 compared to Colombia, 29, 219, 254–256, 292
 compared to São Paulo State, 28, 221
 murder of José Luis Cabezas
 as catalyst for reform, 262–265
 initial response of Duhalde and Peronist Party, 265–267
 defeat of Peronists and robust political opposition to Duhalde, 267–269
 push for comprehensive reforms by Duhalde, 270–273
 Duhalde reforms and promotion of democratic coercion, 273–276
 ordinary democratic politics as driver for both continuity and reform, 123
 sequence of events, 218, 218
 structural reform, democratic coercion
 and, 28, 255
 See also Cabezas, José Luis; Duhalde, Eduardo; police reform;
 politicians
 police violence, 134–138
 killings and disappearances, 156
 protests against, 155–157
 routine extrajudicial violence, 256–257
 See also disappearances; “gatillo fácil”;
 killings; massacres, Ingeniero
 Budge
 private security and violence, 133
 See also Argentina
- Cabezas, José Luis.
 See also Buenos Aires Province,
 police reform
- Cafiero, Antonio, 129, 159
- CAI. See Centro de Atención Inmediata
- Caldeira, Teresa, 10, 42, 44
- Cannon, Darrell, 22–23
- CAP. See Coordenadoria de Análise e Planejamento
- Carandiru prison.
 See also massacres, Carandiru
- Cardoso, Fernando Henrique, 231, 239
- Casa de Detenção. See Carandiru prison
- Catalina Vásquez Guzman, Sandra.
 See also Colombia, police reform
- CAV (Comisión de Amigos y Vecinos), 155–156
- Cavallo, Domingo, 263
- CELS. See Centro de Estudios Legales
 y Sociales.
- Centro de Atención Inmediata (CAI), 170,
 177n22, 177–178, 205
- Centro de Estudios Legales y Sociales (CELS), 134, 135n18, 137, 138, 152, 264, 303
- chacinas.
 See also killings
- Chile, 14, 41, 56, 296
- citizenship, stratified, 5, 112
- Ciudad Bolívar.
 See also Bogotá
- Clarín*, 146, 158n85, 262
- coercion, 3–4, 10–17, 21–22, 23–25, 77–78, 182–183, 312–315
 authoritarian coercion, 4, 66–67, 75–76,
 119–120, 122–123, 133–134,
 312–313, 325–327
 continuity of, 26, 30, 32–33, 36, 221–222, 243, 248
 definition of, 313
 persistence
 in democracies, 20–21, 54, 121, 122, 123, 300–301, 313
 ordinary democratic politics and,
 52–54
 in police forces, 25, 29, 53, 59, 65–74
 See also under police
- coercive institutions, 2–3, 13–14, 22–23, 29, 36–37, 70–71, 313
 sustained by ordinary democratic politics, 29
- continuum of, 15, 313
- democratic coercion, 15, 16, 21,
 25–26, 32–33, 34–36, 209–213, 276–277
 definition of, 15
 exceptional coercion, 89, 93, 134
 theoretical framework, 10–16
- Colombia, 2, 29, 54, 58, 59, 70, 167, 175, 176–177, 179, 197, 202, 205,
 208–209, 218, 220, 298, 324
 authoritarian coercion, 25, 29, 40, 72, 183
 categorization of socioeconomic status,
 206n92

- Consejo de Estado, 173, 180, 183, 186, 289
 crisis of state's legitimacy, 188–190 democratic coercive institutions, 31
 description of, 166, 202, 298
 drug wars, 67, 168–171, 175, 178, 179–180, 192, 198–200 Extraditables, Los, 192n54
 failure of “submission to justice” policy, 283
 political consequences of Escobar's escape, 282–284
See also Escobar, Pablo; United States
 electrical blackouts, 283
 human rights
 complaints against police and military by victim occupation, 203 violations by National Police, 186
 “institutional shakeup” of Gaviria, 191–194, 195, 196, 198, 201, 276, 285
 M-19, 278, 280, 281
 military dictatorship, 71n2, 166n2, 298
 National Front, 190, 192, 277, 278, 283
 National Police, 18
 authoritarian coercion, 67, 167, 180–181
 for political and private interests, 183–184
 challenges of urban violence, 175–180
 compared to Buenos Aires police, 167, 183, 219, 276, 299
 conduct of drug war in exchange for autonomy, 168, 199
 constitutional status of, 201
 crimes of, 173, 183
 effect of drug wars on, 169
 external accountability
 lack of, 167, 184, 185–188
 mass purges of officers as, 187–188
 fragmentated societal preferences over policing and security, 202–208
 as Fuerza Pública entity, 173, 196
 infiltration and corruption by drug cartels, 169, 285
 institutional deterioration of, 65, 167, 171–173, 292 militarization and constraints on civilian oversight, 173–175
 routine exceptional violence against citizens, 181–183, 285
 as target of violence, 170–171
 trust in military and, 208
 unitary police, 57
 police reform, 276–296
 overview, 276–277
 1991 Constitution and mandates for, 195–196
 absence of structural reform, 194–195, 201, 276
 despite growing political opposition to Gaviria administration, 277–281 business sector's call for, 46
 compared to Buenos Aires Province, 29, 31, 214, 254–256, 297, 298, 301
 failure of reform bills, 284–285
 Law 62 of 1993 (codification of National Police reforms), 292–296
 Art. 12 subordination of police to municipal and departmental authorities, 295
 Art. 14–15 external control mechanisms for accountability to civilians, 295
 Art. 16 mechanisms to enforce the authority of mayors and governors, 295
 Art. 17 obligations to mayors and governors, 295
 Art. 18 creation of specialized bureaucracy, 293
 Art. 22 qualifications of the National Police Commissioner, 295
 Art. 24 creation of the Office of the National Police Commissioner, 295
 Art. 30 differentiation from the military, 294
 Art. 35 minimum education and training requirements, 293
 marginal reform, 196–198
 ordinary democratic contestation and conditions for, 209 politicians' maintenance of status quo over reform, 199, 285 rape and murder of Sandra Catalina as catalyst for reform, 287–289

- Colombia (cont.)
 initial indifference of politicians and police, 286 ambitious reforms after, 290
 convergence of social and political consensus regarding reform, 289–292 electoral gain in pursuing reform after, 290
 sequence of events, 218
 structural power of police
 constraints on policy options, 285 resistance to reform, 199–201, 276
 See also Catalina Vásquez Guzman, Sandra; police reform; politicians political parties
 strength of, 279
 “social cleansing”, 182, 314
 violence in, 167, 175, 189–190, 198, 203, 298
 See also Bogotá; drug cartels; drug traffickers; drug trafficking; killings; Medellín; National Security Doctrine
- Comisión de Amigos y Vecinos (CAV), 155–156
- Community Security Council. See Conselho Comunitário de Segurança (CONSEG)
- CONDEPE (Conselho de Defesa dos Direitos da Pessoa Humana), 91
- Conselho Comunitário de Segurança (CONSEG), 84, 105, 106–107, 114, 233–234, 238, 319
- Conselho de Defesa dos Direitos da Pessoa Humana (CONDEPE), 91
- Coordenadoria de Análise e Planejamento (CAP), 94, 95–96
- Coordinator Against Police and Institutional Repression (CORREPI), 122, 135n18, 154, 156n78, 258, 264
- Cortiñas, Nora, 1
- Covas, Mário, 46, 221, 239, 243–244, 245, 248–250
- Crawford, John, III, 50
- “Crimes of May.”
 See also São Paulo State, police violence
- De Lázzari, Eduardo. See Lázzari, Eduardo de
- death squads of police,
 See also killings
- decentralization, 29, 191, 267, 274, 290, 292, 294
- democracy, 2
 authoritarian coercion
 democratic principles contradicted by, 314–316
 persistence of, 313
 See also under coercion
 conceptions of, 11, 308–309, 309
 democratic coercion. See under coercion desirable aspects of, 309
 dimensions of inequality and, 310–313
 procedural dimension, 306, 308
 substantive dimension, 310
 distribution of protection and repression
 electoral incentives, 305
 reproduction of stratified citizenry, 5, 112, 305, 312
 enduring state violence as contradiction of, 307 fundamental rights of citizenship, 305
 input of, 311
 killings in. See killings liberal democracy, 309, 315
 limitations of, 23, 307
 participatory democracy, 319–320
 police as authoritarian enclaves in, 10, 66, 313–316
 police violence in. See police violence procedural democracy, 309, 311
 substantive outcomes antithetical to democratic principles, 311, 313, 324–325, 327 support of military coups in, 7
 transitions to, 4–5, 8–9, 83–84, 127–128, 129–131, 134–135, 257–258
 See also rule of law
- democratic politics, ordinary, 17, 21, 22–23, 27–28, 52–53, 164–165, 225
- democratic processes, 316–321 apparent failure as response to societal preferences and demands, 22, 300, 307
 authoritarianism defined as absence of, 12

- effect on reform of police or maintenance of status quo, 299, 304, 317
- fragmented societal preferences and, 319, 320
- inequality and distortion of, 319
- negative outcomes of, 23, 25, 54–55, 316, 318, 325, 327
- as ordinary acts, 21, 37, 53, 54, 66, 69, 311
- persistence of authoritarian policing and, 311
- preferences for punitive policies regarding criminal justice and, 320
- privileged sectors and, 324
- societal contestation and demand making, 24, 235, 306
- as input, 321–324
- democratization, 2, 3
- authoritarian coercion, persistence of, 124, 130, 134, 300
- contradictions after, 10, 121, 303
- crime and violence, increase of, 84–85, 86, 89, 130
- military vs police reform and, 8
- redemocratization and federal intervention, 230
- “third wave” of, 306
- desaparecidos. See disappearances
- disappearances, 50, 185, 186, 257, 314, 323
- Bru, Miguel, 153, 155n74, 155–156, 257, 259–261, 261n9
- enforced disappearances, 125–126, 140, 153, 181, 183
- Núñez, Andrés, 153, 155n74
- Souza, Amarildo de, 50–51
- Dominican Republic, 4, 9
- Dória, Joao, 119
- drug cartels, 20
- campaigns against police by, 170
- Colombia’s war against, 20, 166, 169, 171, 176–177, 184, 208
- narcoterrorism of, 176, 283
- police involvement in, 173, 276, 285
- “surrender to justice” policy regarding, 282n68
- drug traffickers
- alternative to extradition of, 192
- “faceless justice policy” for criminal proceedings against, 192
- killings of judges, 192n52
- drug trafficking, 169, 173, 174, 192, 193, 200–201, 246–247
- groups, 10, 139, 169, 191, 220, 254
- role of United States, 200
- drug wars. See also Colombia, drug wars
- Duhalde, Eduardo. See also Buenos Aires Province, police reform
- Durán, Sergio, 156–157, 323
- Duterte, Rodrigo, 25
- El Salvador, 5–7, 8
- Envigado prison, 282, 283
- Escobar, Pablo. See also Colombia, drug wars
- Extraditables, Los. See also Colombia, drug wars
- extradition, “surrender to justice” as alternative to. See also drug cartels
- extrajudicial violence, 137, 139–140, 152–153, 170, 171, 203, 306–307
- marginalized people as targets, 307
- repressive strategies, 126
- widespread violence, 20, 65, 188, 207, 276, 299, 316
- See also* disappearances; kidnapping; killings; torture
- Favela Naval scandal. See São Paulo State, police violence
- favelas, 50, 75, 112, 113, 117–118, 305, 317
- asfaltos compared to, 118, 324
- federalism, 57, 59, 71, 72, 73, 220, 297
- Fernandes Neves, Julio César, 99
- Fernando Henrique Cardoso, 239
- Fleury Filho, Luiz Antonio, 119, 234–235, 238, 239–242
- Frente País Solidario (FREPASO), 151, 268n33, 268
- Gaitán, Jorge Eliecer, 288
- “gatillo fácil”, 121–122 See also killings
- Gaviria, César. See also Colombia
- Gómez Padilla, Miguel Antonio, 170, 200n73, 288n89, 288, 290

- Guzman Aranda, Sandra Janneth.
See also Catalina Vásquez Guzman, Sandra
- Haddad, Fernando, 104, 326–327
- human rights, 4
 criticism of, 114
 education in, 196, 293
 loss of support for, 231
 organizations, 4, 176, 182–183,
 184–185, 188, 259, 264
See also activists
- police and military as violators of, 28,
 124, 128, 181, 184, 185, 187
- violations
 against civilians, 314
 against low-income people, 203
- Human Rights Watch, 134, 137, 204
- Immediate Attention Center. See Centro de Atención Inmediata (CAI)
- Index of Democratic Police Reforms, 33, 34, 35, 35, 244
- inequality
 democracy and distortions introduced by, 310–312, 319
 distribution of protection and repression
 by social cleavage, 38–40, 105, 154, 305, 312
 effects on societal contestation and demands over policing, 321
 fragmentation of societal preferences and, 313, 324
 patterns of, 44, 312, 325
 persistence of police institutions and, 73 policing and markers of, 112
 security demands and, 323
 social inequality, 55, 113, 312, 315
See also social cleavages
- Ingeniero Budge. See massacres, Ingeniero
 Budge
- insecurity.
See also security
- institutional change, 30–31, 36, 69, 70, 72, 194–195, 219
 drivers of, 219–222
 endogenous change, 30, 219
 exogenous change in political conditions
 and, 219
- justicieros.
See also vigilantism
- kidnapping, 126, 131, 157, 166, 175, 179, 186
- killings
 of civilians, 79, 88, 90, 228
 extrajudicial killings, 1, 25, 66, 71–72, 99, 100–101, 314
 police killings, 87, 88, 92–94, 96–100, 135–138, 146, 182–183, 261n9,
 265n26
 jokes about, 76
 victims of, 75, 112–113, 155
- racialized nature of, 314
 “social cleansing,” 67, 76, 175–176, 182,
 185, 205, 314
See also chacinas; death squads of police;
 “gatillo fácil”; lynchings; police violence under various locales
- Klodczyk, Pedro, 145, 263, 268, 273
- La Iguaná.
See also Medellín
- Latin America
 crime and violence in, 2, 5–7, 18, 72, 306–307
 democracies
 persistence of extrajudicial violence, 307
 post-transitions, 8
 “violent democracies”, 18, 84, 306
 legislative proposals, origin of, 47n10
 persistence of coercive institutions, 3, 303
- police
 as authoritarian enclaves, 10
 autonomy of, 22
 coercion by, 3–4, 10, 53, 315
 description of, 32
 reform of, 4, 7, 30, 56, 220
 resemblance to security forces in
 authoritarian regimes, 313
 role in state formation, 17
 unequal treatment of citizens, 39
 violence of, 9, 16, 321
 “punitive populism,” rise of, 40
 “triple transition” during 1980s, 321
See also various locales in Latin America
- Lázzari, Eduardo de, 142, 146, 147–149, 153, 266

Index

351

- Lleras Camargo, Alberto, 254
 Lugones, Luis, 139, 272
 Lula (Luiz Inacio da Silva), 305
 lynchings.
 See also killings
- Mães de Maio, 1–2, 101
 “maldita policía.” 28 See Buenos Aires Province, police
- Maluf, Paulo Salim, 239–240, 241
 Mariano, Benedito, 244n33, 249–250, 253
 massacres, 181, 203, 203, 205, 237, 238, 239–241, 318–319
 Carandiru, 52, 90, 235–241, 242, 245,
 248
 “democracy of massacres,” 1
 Ingeniero Budge, 121–122, 137–138,
 155, 257–259, 259n6, 261
 Medellín.
 See also Colombia
- Medellín Cartel, 166, 170, 282
 Menem, Carlos, 159n89, 159, 263
 Mexico, 7, 41, 45, 296
 militarization, 43, 83, 173, 174–175, 181, 294, 296
- military
 strength of, 57, 71, 73
 take-over of the state, justification for, 6
- military dictatorship, 1, 28, 71n2, 123–124, 173, 174, 220
 persistence of authoritarian coercion and legacy of, 220
 police and repression under, 8
 See also under Argentina; Brazil; Buenos Aires Province; Colombia; São
 Paulo State
- mobilization, societal, 54
 continuity vs reform and, 24, 59
 as driver for police reform, 221, 276
 expansion of police repression vs reform
 and, 299, 323
 fragmented preferences regarding police
 and, 54, 160, 162
 police killings and, 153–154, 155–156,
 257, 265n26
- Montoro, André Franco, 22, 216, 221, 227,
 228, 231–234, 238, 239, 243, 244,
 251, 300, 316, 322–323
 democratic coercion and, 227
- Party of the Brazilian Democratic Movement and, 227
 reform efforts, 216, 221, 228–229, 231, 322
 police resistance, 230
 ROTA reform, 228, 231
 See also São Paulo State, police reform
- Mothers of May, 1–2, 101
- narcoterrorism, 176, 283
 National Security Doctrine.
 See also security
- Neves, Julio César Fernandes, 99
Noticias, 262–263
 Núñez, Andrés, 153, 155n74,
 156
- Operação Delegada (OD), 104
 ordinary democratic politics. See
 democratic politics, ordinary
- organ trafficking, 182
 Ouvidoria da Polícia (Police Ombudsman).
 See also São Paulo State, police
 reform
- Pardo Rueda, Rafael, 171n8, 177n22, 187–188, 197, 282, 290, 291, 294
- Partido da Social Democracia Brasileira (PSDB), 226, 243, 317
- Partido Democrático Social (PDS), 241
- Partido do Movimento Democrático
 Brasileiro (PMDB), 226–227, 230, 239, 241, 250
- Patti, Luis, 142, 159n87, 159
- PCC. See Primeiro Comando da Capital
- PDS (Partido Democrático Social), 241
- Peronist Party (PJ), 142, 259n6, 259, 266–269
- Pettigiani, Eduardo, 145–146
- Philippines, 25, 72
- Piotti, Alberto, 145–146, 149n63, 213
- PJ. See Peronist Party
- PM. See São Paulo State, Military Police
- PMDB. See Partido do Movimento
 Democrático Brasileiro
- Podestá, Graciela, 143, 151
- police
 accountability of, 94, 95, 103
 authoritarian police
 defined, 66

- police (cont.)
 institutional persistence of, 66–69
 bureaucracies, 10, 19, 30, 32, 34
 control over coercion and structural power, 3, 16–21, 70, 104, 143, 144
 See also coercion; structural power crimes of, 139n32, 173, 183
 See also killings; police violence malfeasance, 49–50, 70, 215, 216, 218, 242, 244
 police stops, 39, 91, 111–112
 as political actors, 20, 24
 post-democratic transitions and nature of, 10
 provision of security and stability of democracy, 5–7
 See also Buenos Aires Province, police; Colombia, National Police; São Paulo State, Military Police
- police reform
 causal sequence predictive of, 215–219
 comprehensive reform, 270, 273
 distinct from criminal justice policy, 54–57
 Index of Democratic Reforms, 33, 34, 35, 35, 244
 ordinary democratic politics and viability of reform, 296–304
 police institutions as “hard case” for reform, 69–70 politicians’ choices for continuity or reform, determinants of, 38 preference fragmentation and institutional persistence over reform, 40–45, 225, 226, 235, 311 reform bills, 284, 285
 sequence of events, 216, 218, 218
 societal attitudes and, 56
 structural reform, 26
 conditions for persistence vs reform, 57, 297, 317
 marginal reform as avoidance of, 250
 preference convergence and, 45–49
 theoretical framework, 30–32, 37–38
 See also Buenos Aires Province, police reform; Colombia, police reform; institutional change; politicians; São Paulo State, police reform; scandal, impact of
- police violence, 2, 75–77, 116–117, 152–153, 231–235, 242, 245, 319–321
 extrajudicial police violence, 97, 105, 257, 259, 319, 327 lethal police violence, 95, 113, 117, 137, 321
 levels of, 9, 27, 68, 76, 117, 235
 victims of, 112, 154, 156, 258, 265
 See also Buenos Aires Province, police violence; Colombia, National Police; São Paulo State, police violence
- Policia Bonaerense. See Buenos Aires Province, police
- policing
 authoritarian policing, 13, 234
 persistence of, 3–5, 311, 319, 324
 societal preferences under fragmentation and convergence, 43
- politicians, 2
 change in citizen preferences and effects on, 45
 comparison of cases regarding reform and decisions by, 69, 72 conditions for maintaining police status quo and, 69, 74, 115, 123, 168, 214, 255 conditions for police reform and, 29, 214, 220, 311, 317–318 exchange relationships between police and, 16, 19, 37, 67, 103–104, 141, 144 fragmented citizen preferences over policing and, 29, 40–41, 43–44, 54, 68, 115, 119–120 ideology and decisions regarding police reform, 44 incentives for police reform, 36, 105, 215, 222, 225, 256, 317 assessment of risks and benefits, 2, 29, 167, 253, 255, 276, 316
 electoral incentives, 21–22, 214, 252, 276
 political opposition and preference convergence, 3, 21, 29, 46, 49, 53, 59
 short-term changes and, 214
 information sources for citizen preferences, 40, 42–43

- police and constraints on policy options
 of, 3, 24, 29, 37, 53, 67, 77
 police and mutual dependence with, 19–20
 prioritization of societal groups by, 316
 recaudación, involvement with police in,
 67, 141 See also recaudación
 scandals and, 46–48
 selective distribution of police security
 and, 18, 23, 38, 53, 311
 structural power of police and, 21–22, 221
 types of police reform by, 69–70
 See also police reform
 Primeiro Comando da Capital (PCC), 85, 100–101, 220, 224
 protests
 after scandals, 46, 50
 against police violence, 156–157, 205
 against removal of commanders involved
 in a massacre, 238
 conflicting demands of citizens and, 68, 73, 114, 324
 as information source for politicians, 43
 intervention of political leaders and, 102
 marchas del silencio (silent marches), 153, 156, 158
 repression of, 132, 151, 252
 in response to Favela Naval, 246
 in response to murder of José Luis Cabezas, 263–264
 in response to neoliberal economic policies, 73
 rioting and failure of police intervention, 230
 social discontent and, 132, 322
 See also activists
 PSDB. See Partido da Social Democracia
 Brasileira
 PT (Workers' Party), 326–327
 Putin, Vladimir, 13–14, 20
 recaudación.
 See also Buenos Aires Province,
 police
 repression, political, 79
 research literature, theoretical contributions to, 23–25
 research methods, 60–61
 cases
 overview, 59
 analysis within and across, 219
 rationale for comparative analysis, 71–74
 São Paulo State as negative case, 61, 118 selection of, 57–58, 72
 dependent variable, 32–36
 “locus of choice” as unit of analysis, 57
 operationalization of preference
 fragmentation, 43
 process tracing, 56, 225
 proxies for citizen preferences regarding
 police reform, 42
 See also sequential analysis
 research question, 57, 61
 Rio de Janeiro.
 See also Brazil
 Romero, Rubén “Cachi”, 156
 ROTA, 79n11, 110–111, 228, 232, 238, 322
 Carandiru prison riot and, 236
 killing of Black people, 232
 Rousseff, Dilma, 1
 Ruckauf, Carlos, 302–303
 rule of law, 9–10, 12, 14–15, 33, 35, 294, 309–310, 313–315
 return to, 12, 216, 221, 316, 322
 Saín, Marcelo, 126, 140, 142, 148
 Samper, Ernesto, 301–302
 Santos, Juan Manuel, 287
 Santos Calderón, Enrique, 287
 São Paulo State, 4, 75–77, 83–87, 89–91,
 99–101, 104–106, 111–115, 226,
 227
 Civil Police, 79, 81, 82, 83, 95, 228, 230, 252
 constitutional status of, 81
 duty of, 77n9
 rebellion against Montoro's reforms, 230
 See also death squads of police
 compared to Buenos Aires Province, 28, 221
 democratization
 change in patterns of violence, 84–87
 reproduction of authoritarian coercion, 87
 rise in police killings of civilians, 87, 89

- São Paulo State (cont.)
 elections, legislative and gubernatorial results, 240, 241
 homicide rates, 85
 military dictatorship, 28, 90
 Military Police (PM), 27, 30, 65, 77
 as arm of the military regime, 78, 80 manifesto, 83
 marginal reform of, 28
 massacre of prisoners, 217, 236–237, 318
 reorganization under military rule, 78
 structural power of, 83
 newspapers, 237
 peripheries of, 42, 68, 112, 118
 police
 authoritarian coercion, persistence of,
 77–78, 83, 89
 authoritarian legacy of dictatorship, 83–84
 coercion in political leaders' interests, 102–104
 exceptional coercion of, 89–93, 102
 external accountability of, 93–102
 fragmented societal preferences
 regarding, 113–117
 legislators' information requests about,
 98
 “two police forces,” 110, 118
 unequal protection, 106–110
 unequal repression, 110–113
 police reform
 absence of structural reform, 26, 58, 215, 224, 252–253, 319
 after Favela Naval scandal, 249–251
 authoritarian coercion as official security policy and, 235
 dominance of a political party and, 226
 ordinary democratic politics and, 252–253
 persistent preference fragmentation
 and, 118–120, 225, 226, 231–233, 244
 Carandiru massacre, 239
 absence of structural reform after, 237–239
 politicians and anti-reform incentives
 after, 239–242
 See also massacres, Carandiru
 causal sequence predictive of, 225
 sequential analysis, 225, 226
 compared to Buenos Aires Province, 226
 marginal reforms, 234, 243–245
 after Favela Naval scandal, 250
 “new police,” 216, 227–229, 251–252
 parallel systems of reform after Favela
 Naval scandal, 250
 “Return to Rule of Law” (Montoro's reformist agenda), 231
 reversal of Montoro's reforms as accommodation of police, 233–234
 street stops, 223n1, 223
 structural power of police
 constraints on politicians, 224
 resistance to Montoro's agenda, 229–231
 See also Abordagem Consciente
 Program (AC); Conselho
 Comunitário de Segurança
 (CONSEG); Montoro, André
 Franco; Ouvidoria da Polícia;
 police reform; politicians
 police violence
 citizens' assessment of, 117
 after Carandiru massacre, 242
 Favela Naval scandal, 221, 226, 237, 243, 245–252, 296, 300
 compared to Carandiru massacre, 247
 compared to “Crimes of May,” 252 societal outrage and preference
 convergence, 246–248
 televised video, response to, 245–247
 jokes about, 76
 killings, 79–80
 extrajudicial killings, 77, 307
 “police that kills,” 226, 308
 “resistance followed by death,” 79n10
 See also killings
 levels of, 76, 117
 “old police” and persistence of
 authoritarian coercion, 251–252
 persistence of, 76, 235
 shifts in societal opinion regarding, 245
 victims of, 75, 88, 112–113
 See also chacinas; massacres,
 Carandiru
 political repression, 79–80
 See also Brazil; “three P's” (pobre, preto e periférico)

Index

355

- scandal, 45–47, 48, 49–52, 59–60, 226–227, 255, 262, 286
 definition of, 46
 egregious scandal, 30, 250, 276, 284
 as exogenous event, 49, 51, 52
 impact of, 30, 52
 Schonfeld Bru, Rosa, 156–157, 261
 security, 2, 40, 41, 130–134, 144–147, 196–197, 233–235, 273, 274, 275
 civilian governance of, 275
 conditions, 41, 73, 103, 131, 133, 150, 179
 demands for improved security, 33, 37, 41, 69, 150, 153, 300–301
 democracy and, 5–7, 303, 305–306, 310, 311
 forces, 1, 126, 182–183, 184, 306, 313
 officials, 20, 41, 44, 68, 101, 141–142, 143
 policy, 34, 35, 41, 42, 196–197, 274–275
 preference fragmentation and, 40, 41, 312
 private security and violence, 133
 selective provision of, 5, 38–39
 structural reform of police and, 273–274
 urban security, 177–178
See also insecurity; National Security Doctrine
 sequential analysis, 217, 219, 222, 225, 256, 257, 297
 comparative analyses, 216, 217, 255, 262, 297
 rationale for, 215–216, 225
See also research methods
 Sigal, Eduardo, 151, 272
 Silva, Debora Maria da, 1, 4
 Silva, Luiz Inacio Lula da, 305
 “social cleansing,” See under killings
 social cleavages.
See also inequality
 social unrest
 body-worn cameras and, 34
 demands for security and, 68, 123, 157, 322, 323
 economic crisis and, 40, 132, 153, 229, 230–231, 322–323
 fragmented preferences regarding policing and, 256
 post-transitions to democracy, 130, 322
 repression and, 229
See also protests
 South Africa, 25, 307
 Souza, Amarildo de, 50–51
 structural power, 20–22, 37, 70, 167–168, 198–201, 221, 250
See also police, control over coercion
 and structural power
 structural reforms, 59, 65, 214, 216, 225–227, 252–253, 273
 Temer, Michel, 228, 233–234, 238, 242
 “three P’s” (pobre, preto e periférico).
See also Brazil
 torture, 4, 125–126, 129, 134–135, 159, 183, 314, 323
 as crime, 248n43
See also police violence
 Unión Cívica Radical (UCR), 129, 138, 259,
 261, 267–268, 268n33
 Unión de Trabajadores de Prensa de Buenos Aires (UTPBA), 265
 United States, 22
 drug wars and, 72, 168
 gun control measures, failure to enact, 45
 police killings of civilians, 77
 racialized policing and abuses, 24, 25, 49, 77 racialized political structures, 55
 scandal and police reform, 30
 societal mobilization and civil rights legislation, 54
 support of Colombian drug war and
 police, 67, 200, 302, 314
 Uruguay, 265n26, 321
 UTPBA (Unión de Trabajadores de Prensa
 de Buenos Aires), 265
 Vargas Silva, Octavio, 177, 200n73
 Venezuela, 8, 40, 296, 307
 Verdú, María del Carmen, 154–155
 vigilantism, 25, 86, 150, 153, 157–158,
 158n85, 86, 164
 Vitelli, Adolfo, 148
 Workers’ Party (PT), 326–327
 Yabrán, Alfredo, 263n13, 16, 263