

Index

- 9/11, and the dangers of perspectival comparison, 60
- Afghanistan, 60
- alternative modes of comparison, development of justifications for, 8–9
- Ambiguities of Domination* (Wedeen), 269
- analytic generalization, 41, 89
- Anderson, Benedict, 6, 13, 64
- comparison of bound and unbound seriality, 69–70
- comparison of Java and Europe, 7, 8, 65
- Imagined Communities*, 13, 69, 79
- influence in the formulation of unbound comparison, 64–5
- interest in the explanatory potential of comparison, 64
- on Sukarno’s apparent admiration for Hitler, 19, 68
- The Spectre of Comparisons*, 19, 69, 79
- writing style, 77
- antiglobalization movement, 172
- April 6, 182
- Arab uprisings, Wedeen’s thinking, 260, 267–9
- Arab uprisings study, 17, 176
- Bahrain’s uprising, 179–82
- comparative framework, 176
- constructing an encompassing comparison, 187
- context, 172–4
- Egypt’s uprising, 182–4
- encompassing comparisons methodology, 176–9
- Jordan’s uprising, 184–5
- terminology, 173
- value of an encompassing approach, 186–7
See also encompassing comparisons.
- archival research
- advantages for comparative analysis of complex cases, 16, 130, 139–41, 149
- classification process, 139–40
- engaging the archive as a “subject,” 141
- layering process, 140–1
- Tuttle’s account of the Chicago Race Riot, 141–7
- understanding the causes of race riots through, 147–9
See also Chicago Race Riot study.
- area studies
- Anderson’s association with, 66
- Cheesman’s exploration, 22
- consequences of placing in a comparative framework, 9
- second-class status, 9
- shortcomings, 72
- unbound comparison and, 66
- Arendt, Hannah, 53, 264, 266
- Aristotle, 6
- Auguries of Innocence* (Blake), 88
- Authoritarian Apprehensions* (Wedeen), 255, 256, 258, 260, 261, 264, 266–7, 268–9, 270, 272, 273
- axes of comparison, Bartlett and Vavrus’s description, 8
- Bahrain, uprising, 179–82
- Battle of Seattle, 173
- Ben Ali, Zine El Abidine, 174, 178–9
- Beyond Regimes* (Duara & Perry), 220

- Big Structures, Large Processes, Huge Comparisons* (Tilly), 176
- billionaires
 problems of comparison, 4
 Seawright's paired comparison study, 20, 36–8
- biological metaphors, value of for political theorizing, 156
- Blake, William, 88
- Bolivia
 comparison of anti-market protests in Mexico and, 232–3, 241–3 water privatization, 241 water wars, 241–2
- bound comparison
 causal inference and, 70
 knowledge claims, 70 unbound comparison vs., 69–70, 72, 73–6
- Brazil, 6, 103, 197, 243
 “butterfly effect,” 58, 133, 137
- Carbon Democracy* (Mitchell), 119
- carceral state, Foucault's concept, 256
- case selection context selection vs., 196–7 controlled comparison approach, 231 cross-national comparisons, 223–5 first step of, 114
 nominal approach, 88–93
 realist approach, 85–8 strategy recommendations, 193–4 value and limitations of the “human element,” 198–9
- case studies advantages and limitations, 114 concepts available for study, 90 conventional approach, 112–17
 falsification and, 115
 Gerring's influential definition of a case study, 86 nominal approach to case selection, 88–93 nominal vs. realist approaches, 85, 88, 90, 91 ostensible bias toward verification, 115 problems with case-centered analyses, 173 realist approach to case selection, 85–8 traditional approach, 84
- cases alternative types of, 12
 concept of, 84
- casing a study
 nominal approach, see nominal approach to casing
- Soss's concept, 14, 196
- casing vs. siting
 Brubaker's ethnic identity study, 116 canonical usages of “case,” 107 concept of “siting,” 107 conventional approach to single-case studies, 112–17 criteria for site selection, 120–1 history of the comparative method, 109–12 siting and re-siting the global renewable energy transition, 117–20
See also lithium extraction in Chile study.
- causal homogeneity, 36
- causal inference as primary research goal of the comparative method, 112 bound comparison and, 70
 failure of qualitative comparison for purposes of, 31 KKV's idea that comparison is geared toward, 193 value of controlled comparisons, 136,
See also qualitative comparisons for causal inference.
- causation alternative perspectives on the nature of, 32–3 contemporary theories of, 42 traditions of thought about, 32
- chaos theory, 133, 137
- chemical weapons, Asad regime's reported use of, 261–3
- Chicago Race Riot study
 context, 141
 findings, 147
 national cross-sectional analysis, 144–7
 terminology, 142
 understanding collective violence through, 147–9 use of archival sources, 143
See also archival research.
- Chile
 lithium mining, 17
See also lithium extraction in Chile study.
 protests in, 243
- China
 comparative work on a wide-ranging selection of phenomena, 209 comparison with the United States, 217 cross-national comparisons involving, 209
See also cross-regime-type comparisons.
 lithium ion battery production, 17

Index

277

- methods of comparison with other states, 17–18
- most-similar-systems comparisons, 210–11
- Chinese soldiers, Hundman’s study of, 155
- coevolution and emergence, concepts of, 134–5
- Colombia, 197
- comparative analysis
 - role in theory development, 197
 - Tilly’s four types, 176
- comparative area studies, 9
- comparative method
 - as cornerstone of political enquiry, 64
 - bifurcated view, 1
 - central components, 12
 - controlled vs. uncontrolled, 5–7
 - dubious history, 5
 - foundations for expansion, 7–11
 - genealogy of, 109–12
 - rethinking the practice of comparison, 16–18
 - rethinking the purposes of, 18, 22
 - rethinking what is compared, 13–16
 - textbook approach, 66
 - two types of, 47
- comparative politics
 - foundational works, 6
 - kinds of divergences and convergences
 - available for analysis, 13
- comparative racial politics, as example of the theoretical payoff of comparative work, 197–8
- comparative research design
 - balancing theoretical and practical concerns, 198–9
 - case selection vs. context selection, 196–7
 - discrepancy between teaching and conduct of, 190
 - misperceptions about, 190–1, 192–9
 - sources of theoretical inspiration, 197–8
 - testing theories as goal of, 192–4
 - variation in research design, 194–5
- “compare,” definition, 47
- comparison
 - as discursive strategy, 64–5, 77
 - forms of, 19
 - value for political science, 16
 - value for research, 204
 - value for theory development, 190
- complex comparisons, understanding collective violence through, 147–9
- concept development, role that small-n comparisons can play in, 20
- concept formation, concept of, 50
- concepts in comparative politics, Sartori’s observations, 208
- conceptual comparison, Htun and Jensenius’s concept, 18, 20, 192
- conceptual stretching
 - importance of avoiding, 86
 - in Wedeen and Pachirat’s work, 92–3
 - propensity of cross-regime-type comparisons to, 208
 - Sartori’s critique, 208, 209, 212, 226
 - ways of avoiding, 209
 - welfare participation study as, 94
- conflict, analytic utility of, 120
- contextualized comparison, 9
- controlled comparison
 - approach, 231
 - assumptions required, 35
 - contributions to political science, 3–5
 - criticisms, 193
 - critique of inferential capabilities, 4
 - development of justifications for alternatives, 8–9
 - difficulties involved in and techniques to cope, 136–7
 - external validity and, 40
 - KKV’s promotion of, 192
 - limitations, 3–4, 234–236
 - textbooks’ emphasis on, 193
 - ubiquity of the strategy in qualitative comparative research, 3
 - uncontrolled comparison vs., 5–7
 - usefulness, 231
 - uses and limits, 130, 136
 - value for theory development, 194
- “Creole states,” Anderson on the emergence of nationalism in, 13
- cross-case comparisons, fall in esteem, 31
- cross-regime-type comparisons
 - analytical requirements, 209–10
 - benefits of an ethnographically sensitive approach, 239–40
 - case selection, 223–5
 - China and India, 213–14, 220–1
 - China and Taiwan, 216, 219–20, 223
 - conceptual fit, 212–13, 218, 222–3
 - dissimilar political systems, 210–13
 - foci of comparison, 214–18
 - comparable institutions, 214–16
 - comparable sociopolitical process, issue, or conundrum, 216–17
 - selecting and defending, 217–18

- cross-regime-type comparisons (cont.)
 methodological lessons, 226
 methodology, 213–14
 potential benefits, 210, 226–7 purposes and benefits, 218–25 concept development, 222–3 explaining substantive phenomena, 218–20 insights on political regimes, 220–1 scope and framing, 223–5 reasons for emergence of research on China, 225–6 Sartori's critique, 208–9, 212
 state-backed neighborhood organizations, 219–20
 United States and China, 217 urban preservation, 216–17, 219 workers' fate under globalization, 219 cross-regional comparisons, potential contribution, 18
- DA-RT (Data Access and Research Transparency) initiative, 254–5
- democracy
 American English metaphors, 59 container metaphor, 57–8 ways of thinking about, 55 Wedeen's translation of the concept onto everyday practices, 21
- dependent variables case selection and, 112, 196, 272 potential significance, 218 research design and, 195
 suitability for single-case studies, 112, 113 value of qualitative comparisons and, 39
- descriptive inference, 8, 9, 194, 195
Designing Social Inquiry (King, Keohane, & Verba), 112, 192, 203
 Wedeen's use of in teaching, 253–4
Discipline and Punish (Foucault), 256, 257
- discursive strategy, comparison as, 64–5, 77
- economics, Samuelson's thermodynamics analogy, 54
- Ecuador, 112
- Egypt, uprising, 182–4
- El Sisi, Abdel Fattah, 183, 184
- emergence and coevolution, concepts of, 134–5
- encompassing comparisons, 17, 176–9 definition and function, 177
 locating the Arab uprisings in, 178–9
- Tilly's notion, 176, 177
 variation-finding comparisons vs., 177
See also Arab uprisings study.
- equifinality, 113, 137
- ethnic violence, use of controlled comparison to shed light on, 3
- ethnographically oriented comparisons benefits and requirements of adopting an ethnographic sensibility, 231, 233–4, 246–7 benefits of the approach for cross-context comparisons, 239–40 Bolivia-Mexico anti-market protests, 232–3, 241–3 challenging dominant theories through, 243–6 comparative analysis of vigilantism in South Africa, 22, 71, 233, 243–6 concept of "ethnographic sensibility," 231 creating new categories through, 241–3 enhancement of comparison through, 231 generalizability vs. translation, 237–40 implications for the goal of comparison, 232 projects under study, 232–3 rethinking comparison and, 234–7
- Europe, Anderson's comparison of Java and, 7, 8, 65
- expanded comparative method, building foundations for, 7–11
- external validity, 40, 72 analytic generalization and, 41–2 bound comparison vs. unbound, 72 causal capacity and, 43 qualitative comparison and, 40, 42
- Family Romance of the French Revolution, The* (Hunt), 56
- Flaming Womb, The* (Andaya), 79
- foreign actors, involvement in regional domestic politics, 178
- Foucault, Michel
 concept of the carceral state, 256 Discipline and Punish, 256, 257 influence on Wedeen, 256–7 reaction to Borges's Chinese taxonomy of creatures, 67–8, 79
The Order of Things, 67
Foundations of Economic Analysis (Samuelson), 54
- Geertz, Clifford, 51, 56, 88
- gender discriminatory laws

Index

279

- cross-national study, 191
See also women's empowerment research project.
- generalizability
 as gold standard for comparative research, 237 as gold standard for political science work, 20 large-scale social phenomena and, 133 generalization, rethinking understanding of, 21
 German coffee houses, comparison with Yemeni qat chews, 21
 Gerring, John, 77, 86 global renewable energy transition, siting and re-siting, See also lithium extraction in Chile study.
- globalization, cross-national comparisons of workers' fate under, 219 green energy revolution, 17
 Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC), 179–81, 182, 185, 187
- Huntington, Samuel, 6, 13
- Imagined Communities* (Anderson), 13, 69, 79
 immersive inquiry, virtue of, 107 impunity, Haberkorn's hypothesis, 71–2
In Friction: An Ethnography of Global Connection (Tsing), 57 incorporated comparisons, 117
- India comparisons with China, 213–14, 220–1
 Jensenius's work on marginalized communities in, 199
- indigenous mobilization, use of controlled comparison to shed light on, 3
- individualizing comparison, as tool for studying the Arab uprisings, 176, 180, 183, 187
- Indonesia, Geertz's comparison of historical development of Islam in Morocco and, 51
- inferential strategies, design based, 131
- intelligibility, as criterion for good writing and argumentation in social science, 77–9
- interdependency issues, large-scale social phenomena, 131–2, 133
- International Monetary Fund, 186
- international relations, 6
- inverted telescope, Anderson's trope, 19, 65, 68
- Iraq, 60, 179
- Islam Observed* (Geertz), 51
- Israel
 Arab states establish full diplomatic relations with, 184
 Palestinian armed activity against, 162
See also Palestinian refugee camps study.
 US aid, 183, 185
- Japan, 191, 201
 Leheny's study of local impacts of transnational reform, 101–2
- Java, Anderson's comparison of Europe and, 7, 8, 65
- Jordan, 181, 187
 uprising, 184–5
- juxtapositional comparison
 Anderson's interest in the explanatory potential of, 64
 concept of, 47
 examples of, 49, 51
 familiarity, 19
 historical comparison as, 51
 in the social sciences, 50–2 methodological advice, 50–1 perspectival comparison vs. 47–50, 190
- Kaplan, Abraham, 86, 93
- Kifaya, 182
- Knowing the Enemy: Jihadist Ideology and the War on Terror* (Habeck), 60
- Koch, David, paired comparison with John Menard Jr., 36–44
- language
 relationship with the social world, 54–5
 Taylor on, 55
- large-scale social phenomena advantages of historical archives for study of, 130, 139–41, 149
See also archival research.
 challenges for comparative analysis, 129 controlled comparison, uses and limits, 130–6 emergence and coevolution, concepts of, 134–5
 examples of, 129
 generalizability and, 133 implications of multi-level social processes for comparative analysis, 134–5 interdependency issues, 131–2, 133 interdependent and multi-level comparisons, 136–9 scaling processes, West's analysis, 134
 social revolutions, 132–6

- Latin America
 Collier and Collier's study of labor parties and regimes, 43 mobilization in, 22
See also individual countries.
- Le Chatelier's Principle, 54
- Lebanon, 179
 Palestinian refugee camps, 5
See also Palestinian refugee camps study.
- Leviathan* (Hobbes), 54
- Libya, 175
- Lindsay, Nicholas Vachel, 49
- lithium extraction in Chile study casing and re-casing process, 118
 comparative framework, 118 context and hypothesis, 118 site selection process, 120–1 siting and re-siting dynamics, 119–20 unexpected connections, 119
- Logic of the Moral Sciences* (Mill), 50
- machine-based metaphors, vs. biological, 156
- matching, 33–4
- Menard, John, Jr., paired comparison with David Koch, 36–44
- metaphor
 as usual means of conceptualizing the world, 56
 Burke on comparing dissimilar things, 48 cumulative effect of misplaced metaphors, 78
 new ways of thinking and, 78 perspectival comparison and, 19 potential for selection bias, 78 methodological training, KKV's influence, 192–3, 204
- Mexico, comparison of anti-market protests in Bolivia and, 232–3, 241–3
- Middle East, security situation, 17
- Mill's methods of agreement and difference, 7, 36, 44, 50, 51, 153, 209, 232
- Moral Economy of the Peasant, The* (Scott), 79
- Morsi, Mohammad, 183
- MSDO (most-similar-different-outcomes) approach, 152–3, 159–60
- Mubarak, Hosni, 178–80, 183
- multi-level comparisons addressing, 136–9
 implications of, 134–5
- Muslim Brotherhood, 182–4
- nationalism
 Anderson's thesis, 6, 13, 69
- Wedeen's thinking, 258, 259, 263, 264
- Negro in Chicago, The* (Chicago Commission on Race Relations report), 143
- Neyman-Rubin counterfactual model, 131
- nominal approach to casing
 as a product of earlier intellectual and political activity, 90 as ongoing research activity, 88 benefits of, 103–4 “bucket of objects,” 98–9
 dialogic approaches, 102
 examples of innovation through, 101–2 examples of the use of nominal strategies, 102–3
- Fredrickson on nominal strategies in historical comparison, 102
- importance of distinguishing casing from positioning within a site, 91
- intersection with theme of rethinking comparison, 101–4
- new casings of familiar social kinds, 90
- Pachirat's casing of action at a local slaughterhouse, 92
- potential for reframing, 89
- re-casing, 92
- roots, 85
- Seigel on the value of for insight, 103
- Soss's study into welfare participation, 93, 94–101
- Wedeen's casing of qat chews in Yemen, 92
- non-controlled comparison benefits of understanding the value of, 11–13 riskiness of work reliant on, 10
See also uncontrolled comparison.
- Norway, 191, 201
- Obama, Barack, 180
- Occupy movement inspiration, 186
 origins and model, 172
- omitted variable bias, 112
- Operation Decisive Storm, 182
- Order of Things, The* (Foucault), 67
- organized crime, Tilly's thesis on war making and state making as, 71
- paired comparison
 billionaires, 36–8
 causal inference and, 34–5
 comparative politics' historical emphasis on, 173 procedure, 34

Index

281

- renewed interest in, 2
- Palestinian refugee camps study
 - initial research design, 152–3
 - issues with standards of “representativeness” and “non-bias,” 158–9
 - modes of comparison, 164–7
 - MSDO requirements, 159
 - neuroscience-based perspectival comparison, 163–4
 - re-casing process, 160
 - challenges, 161–4
 - relational focus, 154
 - theoretical and empirical approach, 154–8
- pattern matching, 41
- Peninsula Shield Force (PSF), 179
- People’s Republic of China (PRC)
 - location of much research, 208
 - See also* China.
- Peripheral Visions* (Wedeen), 255, 257, 259, 264
- perspectival comparison
 - assessment criteria, 54–8
 - concept of, 47, 49
 - dangers, 58–60
 - disciplining power, 153
 - examples of, 19, 53–4, 55
 - examples of good social science perspectival comparisons, 56–8
 - in the social sciences, 52–4
 - “insider” and “outsider” perspectives and, 199
 - juxtapositional comparison vs., 47–50, 190
- pluralism, 2
- political participation, welfare claiming as
 - See also* welfare participation.
- political science
 - rethinking comparison and, 2–11
 - revival of qualitative methods, 2
- Political Unconscious, The* (Jameson), 257
- populism
 - comparisons of in Thailand and United States, 73–4, 76
 - Cramer’s study, 73
- postcolonial theory, 1, 4
- Power and Humility: The Future of Monitory Democracy* (Keane), 57
- process tracing, 7, 8, 9, 52, 87, 153
- public pressure, billionaires and the causal role of, 36–8
- purposes of comparison, rethinking, 18, 22
- Qashush, Wedeen on the reported killing of, 261–2
- qat* chews in Yemen
 - as demonstration of groups engaging in democratic practices, 21
 - comparison with German coffee houses, 21
 - nominal approach to casing in Wedeen’s study, 92
 - theoretical insights about nationalism and democracy, 264–6
- Qatar, 181–2
- qualitative comparison
 - advantages, 40
 - contribution to conceptualization and measurement, 39, 44
 - revival of the method, 2
 - use of in comparative historical literature, 43
- qualitative comparison for causal inference
 - billionaires and the causal role of public pressure, 20, 36–8
 - implausibility of assumptions required, 31
 - modest differences, 35
 - no differences between cases, 35
 - paired comparison, 34–5
 - small-group comparisons, 33–4
 - value of comparison, 38–44
 - value of the qualitative approach, 32–6
- race riots in the United States, challenge of studying, 16
- racial classification, comparison of countries in the Americas, 197–8
- racism, comparative histories of in the United States and South Africa, 102
- Ragin, Charles, 64, 84, 85, 88
- random assignment, causal inference and, 33
- randomized controlled trials, as “gold standard” for causal explanation, 131
- realist approach to case studies
 - case selection, 85–8
 - defining classes of cases, 86
 - positioning of the researcher, 85
 - risks of misclassification, 86
 - role in the logic of controlled comparison, 87
 - selection of sites as cases, 91
 - taken-for-granted status, 85
- rebel organizations, Staniland’s work on cohesion and fragmentation in, 154
- re-casing, 92, 103, 118, 153, 160, 168
 - challenges of adjusting research design while conducting the research, 161–4
 - procedure, 160

- regression analysis, allowance for causal inference, 34
- relational comparison, micro-level change and macro-level process, 154–8
- relational plasticity, concept of, 15, 157
- research design, KKV's approach to, 114
- rethinking comparison building foundations for an expanded comparative method, 7–11 comparison and political science, 2–11 controlled vs. uncontrolled comparison, 5–7 critique of controlled comparison, 3–5
 rethinking the practice of comparison, 16–18 rethinking the purposes of comparison, 18, 22
 rethinking what is compared, 13–16
- revolutionary tactics, worldwide shift in, 172
- revolutions classification, 134
 value of juxtapositional comparison for study of, 51, 52 value of perspectival comparison for study of, 52–3
See also Arab uprisings study; social revolutions.
- Salih, Ali Abdullah, 182
- Sartori, Giovanni, 208
- Saudi Arabia, 181–2, 183–4, 185–6, 187
- seriality, Anderson's comparison of two types, 69
- shadow cases, 112, 121
- simile, 48
- Simmons, Erica S., 22, 87, 241, 242, 243 comparison of anti-market protests in Bolivia and Mexico, 232–3, 241–3
- single-case studies
 casing vs. siting, 122
 concept of, 115
 KKV's approach to research design, 114
- siting
 casing vs., 117 see casing vs. siting
 concept of, 15, 115
- Skocpol, Theda, 51, 132
- small-n comparison, 3, 20, 34, 112, 192, 238 potential role in concept development, 20
- Smith, Nicholas Rush, 22, 71, 243
 comparative analysis of vigilantism in South Africa, 22, 71, 233, 243–6
- social movements in Latin America, 6
- social network-based approaches
 examples of, 154–5
- neuroscience-based perspectival comparison, 156–7
- Staniland's work on cohesion and fragmentation in rebel organizations, 154 use of in international studies research, 154–5
- social phenomena, large-scale, see large-scale social phenomena
- social relationships, “relational plasticity,” 15, 157
- social revolutions
 interdependency issues, 132–6
 Skocpol's comparative analysis, 132
- Social Science Methodology* (Gerring), 77
- social sciences
 Giddens's “double hermeneutic,” 56 juxtapositional comparison in, 50–2 perspectival comparison in, 52–4
- South Africa
 comparative analysis of vigilantism in, 22, 71, 233, 243–6 comparative histories of racism in the United States and, 102
- Spectre of Comparisons, The* (Anderson), 19, 69, 79
- state capacity, use of controlled comparison to shed light on, 3
- state formation, 6
- state violence in Thailand, Haberkorn's history of, 71–2
- state, Hobbes's and Tilly's perspectival comparisons, 19
- subnational comparisons, 1, 2, 4
- Sudan, 243
- Sukarno, 19, 68
- Supreme Council of the Armed Forces (SCAF), 183
- Syria, 175, 179, 182, 183–4, 186
- Tahrir Square, 183
- Taiwan, comparisons with China, 216, 219–20, 223
- taxonomy, Foucault's reaction to Borges's Chinese taxonomy of creatures, 67, 68, 79
- Thailand
 comparisons of populism in the United States and, 73–4, 76
 Haberkorn's history of state violence in, 71–2 politics of resentment in, 76
- thermodynamics, as analogy for economics, 54
- Think Global, Fear Local* (Leheny), 101

Index

283

- Tilly, Charles, 6, 13, 19, 71, 176–7 traditional comparisons, new ways to approach, 17
 translation, logic of colonial expansion and, 75 transversal comparison, function, 8
Tricks of the Trade (Becker), 98
 Tunisia, 174, 178, 179, 181, 182
 Turkey, 179, 182, 260
 Type II error, 112
- unbound comparison Anderson's influence in the formulation of the idea, 64–5
 area studies and, 66 bound comparison vs., 69–70, 72 desirability argument, 79–80 Foucault's reaction to a Chinese taxonomy of creatures, 67–8 functions, 22, 73–6
 location-based approaches and, 66, 69–73 logic of, 22, 65–6, 71, 75, 79
 populism in Thailand and the United States, 73–4, 76
 relationship of equality and distinctiveness, 76 social hierarchy in England and India, 74 textbook approach to comparative enquiry and, 66
 value of good writing, 77–9 unbounding, consequences, 9
 uncontrolled comparison Anderson's use of, 65
 saturation of the Western canon, 6 See also controlled comparison; non-controlled comparison.
- United Arab Emirates (UAE), 179, 181–2, 184
- United States (US)
 Arab uprisings and, 180–1, 183, 185 challenge of studying race riots, 16
 comparative histories of racism in South Africa and, 102 comparison with China, 217
 comparisons of populism in Thailand and, 73–4, 76
 racial identity in, 197 relations with Jordan, 185 relations with Saudi Arabia, 186 war in Yemen and, 182 units of analysis, rethinking, 13–16 universalizing comparisons, 176
- Unwanted Claims* (Soss), 94 urban preservation, cross-national comparisons, 216–17, 219
Useful Adversaries (Christensen), 217
- variation-finding comparisons
 as tool for studying the Arab uprisings, 175–7, 180, 186, 187
 encompassing comparisons vs., 177 verification, bias of research toward, 112, 115 vigilantism in South Africa, Smith's comparative analysis of, 22, 71, 233, 243–6 Voice and Equality (Verba, Scholzman, and Brady), 99
 vote buying, metaphors for, 59
- Wallerstein, Immanuel, 6
 “war on terror” metaphor, general acceptance of, 60
- We Are All Khalid Saeed, 182
- Wedeen, Lisa, 6, 21, 92
 advice for students, 273–4 Arab uprisings, commentary on, 260, 267–9 casing across different contexts, 268–70 choosing exemplary events, 256–9 comparing events of different scales, 262–3, 264
 events in Authoritarian Apprehensions, 261–2
 events in Peripheral Visions, 259–60 judgments about representativeness, 264 tacking back and forth between theory and event, 258–9
 the process, 260–1
 comparative work and imagination, 272–3 forces disciplining political scientists today, 254–5
 Foucault's influence, 256–7
 KKV's influence on political science, 253, 254 methodological choices, 255–6 researching Syria and the experience of Syrians, 267–8
 scope conditions, 271–2 theoretical insights about nationalism and democracy, 264–6
 understanding ideology through the study of discrete events, 270–1 understanding the desire for autocracy through a Syrian lens, 266–7
 Wittgenstein's and Arendt's influence, 258

- welfare participation
 - recognition as a kind of political participation, 98–101
 - Soss's study, 93, 94–101
 - Verba, Schlozman, and Brady's measurement of, 99
- With Us and Against Us: How America's Partners Help and Hinder the War on Terror* (Tankel), 60
- women's empowerment
 - challenges, 200
 - Htun and Jensenius's research, 18, 20
 - principal driver of, 200
- women's empowerment research project, 191
 - comparative approach, 201–2
 - conceptual comparison, 192
 - evolution of the project, 199–201
 - fieldwork contexts, 191
 - methodology, 200–1
 - multicultural approach to context selection, 202–3
 - starting concept, 191
- World Bank, 186
- World Social Forum, 173
- world systems theory, 6
- Yemen, 181, 182, 183–4, 186, 259
- Wedeen's analysis of qat chews in, 21, 92, 264–6