Contents

List of Illustrations
Notes on Contributors
Acknowledgments
Chronology
Preface

Miriam Thaggert and Rachel Farebrother

PART I HABITUS, SOUND, FASHION
1 New Negro Literary Décor: Competing Tastes in the 1920s
Cherene Sherrard-Johnson
2 The New Negro Movement’s Recording Imaginary
Sonnet Retman
3 Sartorial Self-Fashioning in the Harlem Renaissance
Kimberly Lamm

PART II SPACE: CHRONICLES OF HARLEM AND BEYOND
4 Going Dutch: From Renaissance Haarlem to the Harlem Renaissance
Michael Soto
5 The Unmaking of the New Negro Mecca
Shannon King
Table of Contents

vi

Contents

6  Subversions of Boasian Anthropology in Zora Neale Hurston’s Great Migration Fiction and Ethnography
   M. Genevieve West
   Page 154

7  W. E. B. Du Bois and the Fluid Subject: Dark Princess and the Splendid Transnational in the Harlem Renaissance
   Inés Valdez
   Page 177

Part III  Uplift Renewed: Religion, Protest, and Education

8  “The sinful babel of the airshaft”: Rudolph Fisher’s Fiction and Religion, Urban Space, and Modernity in the Harlem Renaissance
   Rachel Farebrother
   Page 205

9  Marcus Garvey: Popular Culture and Black Liberation
   Heather D. Russell
   Page 232

10 Progression or Regression of the Black Race? Historically Black Colleges and Racial Uplift in Nella Larsen’s Quicksand
   Angela Watkins
   Page 258

Part IV  Serial Reading: Magazines and Periodical Culture

11 The Midnight Motion Picture Company Goes to Europe: The Harlem Renaissance and Global White Supremacy
   Adam McKible
   Page 287

12 African American Magazine Modernism
   John K. Young
   Page 310

Bibliography
Index