

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	page vii
List of Abbreviations	viii
Introduction	1
Two Pictures	1
The ‘Secular’	6
Why Elections?	6
Electoral Politics in Iran	9
Chapter Outline	14
1 Theoretical Framework	17
Defining Secularisation	17
Revolutionary Religiosity	23
Elections: From Anomalies to Pillars of Legitimacy	32
Conclusion	40
2 The Age of the ‘Imam’	41
Introduction	41
First Presidential Election, 1980: Abolhassan Banisadr	44
Second Presidential Election, 1981: Mohammad-Ali Rajai	51
Third Presidential Election, 1981: Ali Khamenei	57
Fourth Presidential Election, 1985: Ali Khamenei	62
Fifth Presidential Election, 1989: Ali-Akbar Hashemi-Rafsanjani	66
Conclusion	71
3 The Era of Reconstruction and Reform	73
Introduction	73
Iran after Khomeini	75
Sixth Presidential Election, 1993: Ali-Akbar Hashemi-Rafsanjani	79
Seventh Presidential Election, 1997: Mohammad Khatami	86
Eighth Presidential Election, 2001: Mohammad Khatami	100
Conclusion	104

4	Ahmadinejad and Secularisation: Rupture or Continuity?	106
	Introduction	106
	Ninth Presidential Election, 2005: Mahmoud Ahmadinejad	109
	Tenth Presidential Election, 2009: Mahmoud Ahmadinejad	126
	Conclusion	133
5	Consolidation of Secularity	134
	Introduction	134
	Eleventh Presidential Election, 2013: Hassan Rouhani	136
	Twelfth Presidential Election, 2017: Hassan Rouhani	147
	Conclusion	158
	Conclusion	160
	What Are the Implications for the Future?	163
	Appendix: Presidential Elections in a Nutshell	168
	Bibliography	173
	Index	182