

Contents

List of Figures	page viii
Acknowledgments	ix
Note on the Text	xiii
Introduction	1
1 Between State Feminism and Global Sisterhood	38
2 Family Planning as Development: Urban Women, Rural Families, and Reproductive Justice	80
3 Postcolonial Tunisian Academics: Between International Aid, National Imperatives, and Local Knowledge	120
4 Fashion, Consumption, and Modern Gender Roles	157
5 Love and Sex: The Limits of Modern Womanhood and Heterosexual Masculinity	197
Conclusion: Love, Politics, and Bread	239
Bibliography	254
Index	280