

Index

- ‘Abbāsīd regime agricultural decline under, 267–68 canal construction in Baghdad during, 60–61 currency conversion and credit under, 65–66 decline of Jewish life and leadership in, 24–26 garrison cities established under, 50–51
 in Iraq, 11–12, 40–41, 44–48
 Islamic conquest and, 238–39
 Jewish conversion to Islam, 75–84
 Jewish urbanization and, 62–70 landholding consolidation under, 47, 59–60, 62 large-scale agriculture under, 57–59 migration of Jewish elites during, 52–53
muqāsama tax under, 59–60 population management through migration during, 248–53 population transfers to Thughūr under, 240–43 tax policy under, 47, 57–59 urban development under, 44–48, 103–4
- ‘Abdallāh al-Mahdī (Caliph) (r. 909–934), 163
- ‘Abdallāh b. al-Mubārak, 246–47
- ‘Abd al-Malik, Caliph (r. 685–705), 79, 240, 250–53
- ‘Abd al-Raḥman III (Caliph) (r. 929–961), 157–58
- Abū Ḥanīfa, 67–69, 217–18, 229–32
- abutters’ rights, geonic literature on, 209
- Abū Yūsuf, 19–20, 57–59, 229–32
- Adams, Robert M., 38, 62–63, 267–68
- al-Adfuwī, Ja‘far b. Tha‘lab, 137–38, 142
- administrator’s responsibility investment patterns and, 203–5 Jewish and Islamic commercial law on, 198–203
- Africa. See also North Africa
 Bablyonian Jewish migration to, 7–10
 Jewish migration and settlement in, 7–10, 7n.24
- agency law
 Hadassi on, 223–25
 Islamic commercial law and, 226–27
 Islamic scholarship on, 198–203
 Karaite discussion of, 218, 220–21
 Maimonides’ discussion of, 195
- Aghlabid regime, 278–79
- agriculture
 ‘Abbāsīd regime and changes to, 57–59, 267–68 decline in, 38, 267–68 economic opportunities in, 37–38, 53–57, 81–82
 in Iraq, 45–46
 Jewish continued involvement in, 24–26, 65–67 Jewish shift from, 17–20, 22–23, 63–64, 273
muqāsama tax on produce of, 59–60 in Thugūr settlements, 240–41
- Aḥmad b. Ṭūlūn, 243
- Ahuvia, Mika, 21–22

- Akhhār Baghdād* (Nathan ha-Bavli), 179–81
- Almohad persecution, Jewish migration and, 254–55
- Amoraic Period, etavage and land ownership in, 54–56
- Amram b. Sheshna Ga'on, 29, 87–88
- 'Anan b. David, 67–69, 96–98, 102–3, 192–93, 218
- Ancient Judaism* (Weber), 81–82
- al-Andalus
- Arabic language in Jewish communities of, 156–60, 160n.53
  - Islamic conversion in, 109–10
  - Jewish assistance to Islamic forces in, 41–42
  - Jewish migration to, 105–7, 114–16, 138–39
  - PGP data on migration to, 141–42
- apostasy from Judaism
- assimilation to Islamic culture and, 103–4
  - connections to Jewish law and practice and, 96–98
  - cycle of return and, 90–91
  - in geonic responsa, 85–86, 98
  - impact on Rabbanite institutions, 95–96
  - social bonds and, 89–90
- Arabian Peninsula
- Islamic conquest and migration patterns in, 238–39
  - Jewish migration and settlement in, 7n.24
  - political stimuli for migration in, 248–53
- Arabic Biographical Dictionaries* (Auchterlonie), 137–38
- Arabic language
- in Geniza documents, 177–78
  - Hebrew influence in, 153–55
  - Iraqi Jews familiarity with, 155
  - in Jewish communities, 151–55
  - in North African Jewish communities, 161–65
  - urban vs. rural patterns of Judeo-Arabic, 167–69
  - in Western Jewish communities, 156–60
- Arabic literary sources, Jewish settlements in towns in, 67
- Aramaic
- decline of, 161–62
  - persistence of, 66–67, 148, 155, 167–68, 171–72
  - spelling habits of, 147–51
- Ashtor, Eliyahu
- Geniza documents and research of, 116–17, 130–33, 272
  - on intellectuals migration, 144
  - on Judeo-Arab writing, 158–60
  - onomastic data analysis by, 107–8, 117–18, 268–69
  - toponymic data analysis by, 118–19
  - on Western Jewish migration, 8–9, 111–12, 14, 26–28, 71–74, 270, 273–74
- Assaf, Simha, 214–15
- astrolabes, Jewish craftsmanship linked to, 105–8
- Auchterlonie, Paul, 121–22, 137–38
- al-Ba'albikī, Aḥmad b. Muḥammad b. Ismā'il b. 'Alī, 142
- Babylonia
- Arabic use by Jews in, 165–67
  - conquests of Judea, 2–3, 5–7
  - Jewish communities in, 48–49, 136–37, 256, 262–63, 279–81
  - Jewish migration to Africa from, 7–10, 260–62, 270
  - Jewish migration to Egypt from, 179–81
  - Jewish population demographics in, 57–62
  - Jewish Western migration of, 29
- Babylonian Talmud, 21–22
- Rabbanite law and, 189–93
  - tenant-farming and land ownership in, 56
  - tractates in, 208–9
  - Western adoption of, 34–35
- Babylonian yeshivot, 66–67
- Badā'ī' al-ṣanā'ī' fī tartīb al-sharā'ī'* (Abū Bakr b. Mas'ūd al-Kāsānī), 190–91, 226–27
- Baghdād
- geonic institutions in, 98–100
  - Jewish population in, 67–69
  - population demographics of, 62–70
- bailment, Karaite discussion of, 218, 221–23
- al-Balādhurī, Aḥmad b. Yaḥyā, 250–53
- banking
- Jewish involvement in Baghdad with, 64–65
  - in premodern urban centers, 51–54n.30
  - 'Abbāsid court banking system, 65–66
- Banū Hilāl attacks, 10–12

- Banū Naḍīr, expulsion of, 250–53
 Banū Qaynūqā', expulsion of, 250–53
 Banū Sulaym, 10–12
 Baskin, Judith, 253–54
 Bava Batra (talmudic tractate), 54 continuum of knowledge and practice in, 87 ha-Bavli, Nathan b. Isaac, 67, 179–81
 Becker, Dan, 162–65
 Bedouin, urbanization and, 259–60
 Benjamin of Tudela, 7n.24, 24n.93, 73–74
 Ben-Sasson, Menahem, 29–33, 237n.1, 277n.23
 Ben Yijū, Abraham, 255–56
 Berbers, resettlement of, 259–60
 Berger, Lutz, 238–39
 Bergsträsser, Gotthelf, 184n.3
 Bet-Arie, Malachi, 178–79
 Bhayro, Siam, 159n.51
 Bible, EPJAS translations of, 168–69
 Bilāl b. Burda, 61
 Bildstein, Gerald, 101–2 bill of exchange (suftaja), in Jewish law, 210–12 black-letter law, 30–33 Blau, Joshua critique of analysis by, 174–77
   on disappearance of EVJAS, 28–30, 146–47
   on EPJAS, 166–67
   on Judeo-Arabic, 147–51, 153, 167–68
   on migration of intellectuals, 144 on rural-urban Arab fluency, 169
   on use of CJAS, 156–60
 Bonner, Michael, 246–47
Book of Laws (Sefer Dinim) (al-Nahāwandī), 218–23
Book of Precepts (Levi b. Japheth), 222–23
Book of Roads and Kingdoms (Kitāb al-Masālik wa-l-mamālik), 17
Book of Testimony and Legal Documents (Se'adya Ga'on), 149–51, 207–10
Book of Urine (Isaac b. Solomon al-Isrā'īlī), 163
Book on Bills of Assignment and Exchange (Kitāb al-Ḥawāla wa-al-asftāij) (Samuel b. Hofni Ga'on), 210–12
Book on the Elements (Isaac b. Solomon al-Isrā'īlī), 163 Botticini, Maristella
   on comparative advantages of Jews, 29–33 on landownership restrictions for Jews, 52–53 on literacy training, 114–16 on premodern urban centers, 51n.28, 52–53
   on rural economy, 81–84
   on tax burdens and Islamic conversion, 83–84 on urbanization of Jews, 23–24, 116n.28
   on Western Jewish migration, 118, 268–69
 brain drain theory of Jewish migration Goitein's perspective on, 34–37 rise of communities and, 14
   Stillman's theory of, 7–9, 12
 Brenner, Michael, 2
 Brett, Michael, 259–60
 Brody, Robert, 46–47, 50–52, 94n.83, 175–76 brokerage, in Jewish commercial law, 193–94 Bulliet, Richard on fluidity in conversion, 79–80 on Jewish conversion to Islam, 39–40, 106–8 on Jewish identity and conversion, 80–81, 100–1
   onomastic data analysis by, 109–11, 115–16
   on social place and religious affiliation, 93 on social vs. spiritual conversion, 85–86, 89–98 on taxation as conversion incentive, 75–76 Byzantine Empire conquest of North Africa, 276–77
   Jewish migration and, 239–40, 278–79
   military conquests during, 245–46
 “Cairo: An Islamic City in the Light of the Geniza Documents” (Goitein), 170 Cairo Geniza commercial law in, 197 evidence against massive Jewish western migration in, 115–16 geographic nisbas and, 71n.110 onomastic data from, 115–16 in PGP database, 125–30 population demographics and, 67–69 taxonomy of poor in, 110–11 Capsali, Elijah, 4–5 case law, Jewish restatements of, 210

- “Changes in the Middle East (950–1150)” (Goitein), 115
- The Chosen Few: How Education Shaped Jewish History 70–1492* (Botticini & Eckstein), 23–24
- Christian community
- forcible baptism of North African Jews and, 276–77
  - Islamic conversion in, 77–79, 97n.89
  - migration of tribesmen, 69–70
  - Rîf/Center distinction and, 171
- Chronicle of Theophanes Confessor*, 17
- civil unrest
- agricultural decline and, 38
  - Jewish migration and, 7–10
- Classical Judeo-Arabic Spelling (CJAS)
- adoption of, 178–82
  - among North African Jews, 162–64
  - Arabic Jewish writers’ use of, 28–30, 152–53
  - Blau and Hopkins’ analysis of, 147–51
  - educated scribes’ use of, 156–60
  - Hebrew letters and language and, 153–55
  - Karaite familiarity with, 165–66
  - Rîf/Center distinction and, 170–73
- code-switching
- Christian conversions and, 77–79
  - fluidity of Islamic identity, 79–80
- Cohen, Mark, R., 9–12, 14
- on Babylonian Jews in Egypt, 179–81
  - on credit transactions in Jewish law, 227–28
  - on Islamic jurists, 30–33
  - on Jewish-Islamic commercial law, 184–88
  - on Jewish leadership, 123–24
  - onomastic data analysis by, 110–13
  - PGP database analysis, 131–32
- Cohen, Shaye, 88–89, 101
- Colonatus Law, agriculture and, 54–56
- commerce and commercial law
- Baghdad canal construction and growth of, 60–61
  - comparison of Rabbanite, Karaite and Islamic developments in, 233–35
  - expansion of documents on, 212–13
  - geonic sources on, 212–13
  - in Iraq, 45–46
  - Islamic law, 30–33, 189–93, 213–16, 226–33
  - Jewish extra-legal activities in, 234–35
  - Jewish involvement in, 17, 22
  - Jewish-Islamic similarities, 183–89
  - Karaite materials on, 216–25
  - legal developments in, 205–7
  - military and political resettlements and, 243
  - proto-Karaite/early Karaite legal authorities on, 217–21
  - Rabbanite law, 193–216
  - tenth and eleventh-century developments, 221–23
  - twelfth-century developments in, 223–25
  - wage laws and networks of, 195–98
- “commercial revolution” in medieval Islamic world, 190–91
- The Commercial Revolution of the Middle Ages* (Lopez), 216–17
- commission agency, in Jewish commercial law, 193–94
- communal/shared space (’eruv and ḥaṣer), rabbinic institutions of, 20–24
- Islamic communal institutions and, 97–98
- comparative advantage theory
- Goitein’s middle eastern bourgeoisie perspective and, 41–42
  - in Jewish historiography, 22–23, 29–33
  - urbanization of Jews and, 50–51
- Conant, Jonathan, 275–76
- conquered lands (fay’), Islamic concept of, 246–47n.49
- consanguinity, Karaite views of, 96–98
- continuum of knowledge and practice, as Jewish community norm, 87
- conversion to Islam
- creedal vs. situational conversion, 79–80
  - dhimmī* land ownership and, 72–74
  - in early ‘Abbāsīd Iraq, 75–84
  - frequency and location of, 98–100
  - geonic materials on Jewish conversions, 89–98
  - impact on Jewish identity of, 80–81
  - Jews of Iraq and, 24–26
  - in medieval period, 39–40
  - patterns in Jewish approaches to, 100–3
  - in post-conquest Iraq, 85–89
  - religio-cultural-political matrix and, 77n.9
  - return to Judaism and, 91–93
  - tax burden as motive for, 72–76, 83–84
- Conversion to Islam in the Medieval Period* (Bulliet), 39–40, 111

- Cook, Michael, 101–2
 Coptic documents
   Coptic language death and, 151–52
   Judeo-Arabic writing and, 146–47
   Rīf/Center distinction and, 171
 Cordoban Jewish community Arabic language in, 157–58
   historiography of, 2–3 literary accounts of, 136–37
   rabbinical presence in, 23–24 court bankers (jabbads), Jews in Baghdād as, 65–66 crafts historical evidence of, 105–8
   Jewish penetration of, 64–65 premodern training for, 51–54n.30 credit transactions, Islamic commercial law, 227–28
 Crone, Patricia, 101–2, 249–50 Crusader Conquests, 10–12 currency transactions in Islamic law, 229–32
   ‘Abbāsīd expansion of, 65–66
 “curve” of conversion (Bulliet), 40n.136, 75–76 onomastic data analysis and, 109–10
 Cyrus of Persia, 2
- al-Dabbāgh, ‘Abd al-Rahmān b. Muḥammad, 137–38
 Dead Sea scrolls, communal/shared space (‘eruv and ḥaṣer) in, 20–24 Décobert, Christian, 245 de Epalza, Mikel, 97n.89
 Della Pergola, Sergio, 5–7 demographic movements of Jewish communities, historiographic approaches to, 5–7
dhimmī populations conversion to Islam and, 72–84 land ownership restrictions, 72–74 in non-urban centers, 75–76 population demographics and, 67–69
   taxation of, 19–20, 75–84
Die Landschaft Babylonien (Obermayer), 17–20
Diqduq (Joseph b. Noah), 165–66 divorce in Jewish community geographic mobility and, 254–55
   Islamic courts and, 97–98
Doctrina Jacobi, 276–77
- Donner, Fred M., 26, 76–79, 245–46, 248–53
 Drory, Rina, 177
 Dunash b. Tamīm, 164
- Early Phonetic Judeo-Arabic Spelling (EPJAS)
   Blau and Hopkins’ analysis of, 147–51, 153
   disappearance of, 146–47, 181–82
   Hebrew letters and language and, 153–55
   Hopkins analysis of, 166–67 in North African Jewish settlements, 164
   Rīf/Center distinction and, 170–73
   rural-urban patterns for, 167–69 scribes’ use of, 156–60, 160n.53
 Early Vulgar Judeo-Arabic Spelling (EVJAS)
   Blau and Hopkins’ analysis of, 147–51
   disappearance of, 29–30, 41, 146–47, 178–82
 Eckstein, Zvi, 49–53, 51–54n.30
   on comparative advantages of Jews, 29–33
   on literacy training, 114–16
   on rural economy, 81–82
   on urbanization of Jews, 23–24, 116n.28
   on Western Jewish migration, 118, 268–69
- economic conditions agricultural decline and, 37–38, 53–57, 81–82 alternatives to urbanization and, 53–57
   Commercial Revolution of the Middle Ages and, 216–17
   Jewish urbanization and, 23–24, 83–84
   legal scholarship and, 212–13 migration based on, 253–60 political-military stimuli for migration and, 248–53 economic factor, expansion of markets and, 213–16 Economic History of European Jews - Late Antiquity and Early Middle Ages (Toch), 43, 47–48, 271–72 education in Jewish settlements literacy training, 50–51
   urbanization and, 83–84
Egron (Se’adya Ga’on), 164–65
 Egypt
   Ashtor’s Geniza data analysis of migratory flows to, 130–33

- Egypt (cont.)
 Iraqi communities in, 10–11
 Jewish migration to, 9–12, 114–16, 278–79
 migration Babylonian Jewish elites to, 179–81
 Eliash, Ben-Zion, 188–89, 214–15 elites. See also intellectual Western migration Iraqi origins of, 34–37, 52–53
 Jewish urbanization and, 20–37n.75 migration by, 268–69 Muslim-Jewish interactions, 77–79, 158 in prosopographical literature, 137–43
 Ellenblum, Ronnie, 72–74
 El-Samarraie, Husam, 57–59
 Elwolde, John, 153
 Engel, Edna, 178–79
Eshkol ha-kofer (Elijah Hadassi), 223–25
 Exilarch, 21–22, 49–50, 67–70, 102–3
- factor-agents, in Jewish trading laws, 206–7 families geographical nisbas and role of, 123–24 migration patterns and, 12–13, 254–55 in military settlements, 244–45 family names. See onomastic data Faruqi, Suraiya, 244–45 al-Fāsī, David b. Abraham, 164–66 al-Fāsī, Isaac, 31–32, 88, 189–90, 197–98, 203–4
 Fāṭimid regime
 Jewish migrations during, 8–11, 278–79 military land grants during, 249 missionary migrations during, 262–64
 Ferrara, monastery of, 1–2
 “First Names and Political Change in Modern Turkey” (Bulliet), 105–7
 Fischel, Walter, 64–65, 268–69, 271–72
 Fontrobert, Charlotte Elisheva, 21–22
 France, restrictions on Jewish land ownership in, 54–56
 Friedmann, Yohanan, 90–91
 Fuṣṭāṭ community absence in PGP database, 122–23 in Geniza database, 131–32
 historiography of, 2–3 migration estimates for, 35–37
 nisba presence in, 112–13
 Palestinian-Babylonian tensions in, 179–81
 rabbinical presence in, 23–24, 143–44 synagogue established in, 40, 135–36 as trading hub, 258–59, 272–73
- Gafni, Isaiah, 22, 48–49
 Gellens, Sam, 260–63
 Geller, Jay, 77n.9
 Geniza documents
 Arabic in, 177–78
 Biblical translations in, 175–76
 data analysis of, 111–12
 Fāṭimid period in North Africa and, 8–9 Goitein’s discussion of, 34–37 intellectual elites described in, 145–47
 Jewish-Islamic commercial law and correspondence in, 65–66, 183–89
 Jewish migration analysis based on, 114–16
 Jewish trading diaspora and, 254–55
 long-distance trading in, 206–7, 272–73 market expansion in, 214–16 nisba data in, 124–25 onomastic data analysis of, 107–8 prosopographical literature compared with, 111–12, 116–17, 121–22, 143 selection bias in, 117
 toponymic data from, 118–19
 Western Jewish migration and, 26–28, 124–25 writing and spelling of, 145–47 geographic mobility, Jewish migration and, 253–54 geonic literature. See also Rabbinic law and literature; taqqana apostasy in, 85–86, 98
 audience accessibility for, 207–10 commerce in, 188–89, 198–203, 212–13 debt collection in, 46–47 frequency and location of Islamic conversion in, 98–100 geonic courts and, 102–3 as historical source, 84
 on Jewish conversion to Islam, 89–98
 Jewish return from Islam in, 76–77, 90–91
 Jewish urbanization and, 21–22, 26, 63–64 literary legacy of, 47–48
 long-distance trading in, 207
 ordinary people in, 87–88

- sleeping partnerships in, 220n.154 social transformations during period of, 214–15
- al-Ghubrīnī, Aḥmad b. Aḥmad, 137–38
- Gil, Moshe, 65–69
- Goitein, S. D. on African Jewish migrations, 7–12 on bills of exchange (suftaja), 211–12 on characteristics of Jewish migration, 12–14 on Egyptian social structure, 170 on Geniza documents, 116–17, 174–78, 271–72 on geographic mobility of Jewish women, 255–56 on Judeo-Arabic ethnolect, 28–30 on market expansion, 215 on Middle-Eastern bourgeoisie, 15–17, 30–33, 52–53 on onomastic data, 105–8 on Rīf/Center distinction, 172–73
 on Western Jewish migration, 14, 26–28, 115, 143–44
- Goldberg, Jessica, 172–73, 193–94, 257–59, 279
- Grayson, Jennifer, 65–66, 73–74, 273–74
- Grayzel, Solomon, 17–20
- Greek-Hebrew script, 178–79
- Greif, Avner, 234n.221
- Grossman, Avraham, 262–63
- Hadassi, Elijah b. Judah, 192–93, 223–25
 “The Hagarisation of the Fertile Crescent” (Crone & Cook), 101–2
- al-Ḥajjāj b. Yūsūf (r. 694–714) (Umayyad governor), 19–20, 241–43
- al-Ḥakam II (Caliph) (r. 961–976), 157–58
- halakhic monographs, law and influence of, 207–10
- Halakhot gedolot* (Simeon Qayyara) commerce discussed in, 189–90, 212–13 communal space in, 97–98 long-distance trading discussed in, 205–7 partnership practice in, 199 on Sabbath desecration, 89–90 wages in, 195–97
- Halakhot pesuqot*, 148, 156, 166–69, 212–13
- Halakhot qešuvot*, 205–7
- Halakhot rabbati* (al-Fāṣī), 189–90, 197–98
- Hallaq, Wael, 30–33, 210
- Ḥanafī scholars commercial law and, 191–92, 198–203, 226–27
 credit transactions in, 227–28
 migration of, 120, 142–43, 252–53, 268–69
- Hārūn al-Rashīd (Caliph) (r.786–809), 39–40, 241–43
- Hāshim b. ‘Abd Manāf, 249–50
- Hayya b. Sherira Ga’on, 67–69, 93, 189–90, 202–4
- Hayya Ga’on, responsa and correspondence of on agriculture, 66–67, 81–82 Aramaic and, 171–72 on bill of exchange (suftaja), 210–12 credit transactions in, 227–28
 on Judeo-Arabic language intersection, 155 on landholdings, 209 on law of sale, 213 wages correspondence, 195–97
 Western Jewish migration and, 107–8
- Hebrew language and letters, Judeo-Arabic writing using, 28–30, 145–47, 153–55
- Hellenistic-Roman era, Jewish migration in, 237–38
- Hellenization of Judaism, 100–1
- Heraclitus (Emperor), 276–77
- Herman, Geoffrey, 21–22
- Heszer, Catherine, 144
- Ḥijāz
 Arab migration to North Africa from, 244–45 demographic restructuring of, 251–52 migration patterns and, 69–70
 as trading center, 249–50
- Hilai Ga’on, 212
- ḥīla*-literature, Islamic commercial law and, 228–29
- ḥimāya* (protection from tax collectors), 58–61
- Hirschberg, H.Z., 161–62, 179–81, 274–77, 279–81
- Hishām II (Caliph) (r. 976–1008), 158
- History of Baghdad* (al-Khaṭīb al-Baghdādī), 69–70
- History of Mar Abba*, 77–79, 92
- Hodgson, Marshall G. S., 102
- Holo, Joshua, 276–77

- Hopkins, Simon
 critique of analysis by, 174–77
 on disappearance of EVJAS, 28–30, 146–47
 on EPJAS, 166–67
 on Judeo-Arabic spelling, 147–51, 153
 on migration of intellectuals, 144
 on rural-urban Arab fluency, 169
 on use of CJAS, 156–60
 “The House of Prayer” (Samuel ha-Nagid), 160n.53
al-Ḥulla al-siyarā’ (Ibn al-‘Abbār Muḥammad b. ‘Abd Allah al-Qudā’ī), 137–38, 141–42
 Humphreys, Stephen, 246–47
- Ibn Abīūr, Joseph, 157–58
 Ibn al-Ash‘ath, 241–43
 Ibn al-Ḥitī, 67–69
 Ibn al-Majjānī family, 278–79
 Ibn ‘Awkal family, 278–79
 Ibn Daud, Abraham, 2–3, 34–35, 103–4, 136–37, 158, 161, 262–63
 Ibn Ḥasday, Abraham, 163
 Ibn Ḥazm, 158–60
 Ibn Jaw, Jacob, 158, 161
 Ibn Khordādhbih, 17
 Ibn Miskawayh, 38–39, 72
 Ibn Naghrella, Samuel ha-Nagid, 160n.53,
 160n.52
 Ibn Quraysh, Judah, 161–67
 Ibn Sarūq, Menahem, 157–58, 162–63
 Ibn Shaprūt, Ḥasday, 157–58 identity conversion to Islam and, 80–81 fluidity of, 79–80 knowledge and, 88 social nature of, 92–93
 Ifriqiya, invasions of, 10–11
Iggeret of Sherira Ga‘on, 46–47
Inscribing Devotion and Death: Archaeological Evidence for Jewish Populations in North Africa (Stern), 274–75 intellectual Western migration data on, 144
 historiography of, 28–30, 273
 Jewish self-sufficiency and economic growth and, 103–4 learning diasporas, 260–62
 in North Africa, 161–62
 in prosopographical literature, 137–43 push-pull factors in, 268–69 investment partnership (‘eseq). See also partnership al-Fāstī’s discussion of, 197–98 al-Nahāwandī’s discussion of, 218–21 developing patterns of, 203–5 Islamic partnership practice and, 198–203, 228–30 profit and loss distribution in, 198–203
 Talmudic model of, 193–96
 Iran, Jewish migration and settlement in,
 5–7
 “Iranians in 9th Century Egypt” (Reinfandt), 12–13
 Iraq
 Arabic language among Jews in, 155
 Ashtor’s Geniza data on migration from, 130–33
 civil wars and Jewish migration in, 7–10 decline of Jewish life and leadership in, 24–26
 imperial centers in, 45 Islamic Conquest and migration to, 238–39
 Jewish migration and settlement in, 5–7, 103–4
 Jewish migration from, 37 land ownership changes in, 57–62 post-conquest Islamic conversion in, 85–89 rural-urban Jewish connections in,
 98–100
 Zanj revolts in, 11–12
Iraq after the Muslim Conquest (Morony), 17–20
 “Irāqīyīn”, religious migration and, 262–63
 al-Iṣfahānī, Abū Nu‘aym, 65–66 Islamic civilization conquest, migration patterns and, 238–39 forced Jewish resettlement and expulsions under, 250–53
 Jewish assimilation into, 39–40, 103–4, 268–69
 Jewish migration and rise of, 12, 238–39, 279–81
jihād for expansion of, 246–47 learning diaspora and, 260–62
 middle eastern bourgeoisie and, 15–17 missionary-based migrations and, 262–64

- penetration of Arabic and spread of, 151–55
- urbanization in early centuries of, 48–49
- Islamic identity, fluidity of, 79–80
- Islamic law
- commerce in, 30–33, 190–91, 213–16, 226–33
  - comparison of Rabbanite and Karaite commercial law with, 233–35
  - investment patterns in, 203–5
  - medieval developments in, 232–33
  - middle eastern bourgeoisie and, 30–33
  - partnership practice (qirād), 198–203, 218
- Islamic regimes
- Jewish migration and settlement in, 7–23
  - Jewish urbanization under, 24–26
- Israel
- Hellenistic culture in, 100–1
  - historiographic approaches to Jewish settlements in, 5–7
  - Karaite migration to, 268
  - urban and rural settlements in, 81–82
- al-Isrā'īlī, Isaac b. Solomon (c. 855–c. 955), 163
- al-Jāhiz, 18–19, 64–65, 242–43
- Jerusalem, Jewish settlement in, 257–58
- Jewish commercial law
- currency transactions in, 229–32
  - development of, 183–89
  - early Islamic sources on, 189–93
  - expansion of markets and, 213–16
  - models of commercial cooperation, from Talmud to High Middle Ages, 193–94
  - Rabbanite sources for, 193–216
- Jewish communities. See also specific communities, e.g., Cordoba
- assimilation to Islamic culture and retreat of, 39–40, 103–4, 268–69
  - classical Arabic in, 149–55
  - Islamic forced resettlement and expulsions of, 250–53
  - social and religious institutions in, 81–82
- Jewish exceptionalism perspective, migration scholarship and, 237–38
- Jewish History: A Very Short Introduction* (Myers), 2
- Jewish-Islamic venture partnership, development of, 193–94
- Jewish law, historiography of, 30–33
- Jewish Self-Government in Medieval Egypt* (Cohen), 123–24
- Jews in the Economic and Political Life of Mediaeval Islam* (Fischel), 64–65, 271–72
- Jews of Arab Lands* (Stillman), 34–35
- jihād*
- migration patterns linked to, 260–66
  - military conquest combined with, 246–47
- jizya* (tax), 79, 83–84, 277–78
- joint-active venture partnership
- absence of Karaite scholarship on, 221–23
  - Islamic commercial law and, 226–27
  - in Jewish commercial law, 193–94
  - Karaite discussion of, 220
- Joseph b. Noah, 165–66
- “Judaeo-Arabic Papyri – Collected, Edited, Translated and Analysed” (Blau & Hopkins), 168–69
- Judaism
- Hellenization of, 100–1
  - post-conversion retention of connections to, 100–1
  - return from Islamic conversion to, 91–93, 97
- Judea, destruction and recovery in, 2–3
- Judeo-Arabic
- ethnolect, 28–30
  - Hebrew characters for, 145–47
  - Iraqi dialect on, 150–51
  - urban vs. rural patterns in, 167–69
- Justinian I (r. 527–565), 276–77
- Kaegi, Walter, 276–77
- Karaite elites
- commercial law development and, 192–93, 216–25
  - comparison of Rabbanite and Islamic commercial law with, 233–35
  - in Egypt, 179–81
  - migration of, 33, 95–98, 165–66, 268
  - proto-Karaite/early Karaite legal authorities, 217–21
- al-Kāsānī, Abū Bakr b. Mas'ūd, 190–91, 226–27, 231–32, 231n.208
- Kasher, Aryeh, 237–38
- Keiko, Ohta, 239–44
- Kennedy, Hugh, 53–54, 59–61, 238n.3
- ketubba*, collection of, 46–47, 51–52, 94n.83

- al-Khaṭīb al-Baghdādī, 69–70, 116–17, 137
 Khaybar, expulsion and resettlement of Jews from, 250–53
 al-Kindī, ‘Abd al-Masīḥ, 100–1
Kitāb al-Anwār wa-al-marāqib (al-Qirqisānī), 221–23
Kitāb al-Aṣl (Muhammad b. al-Ḥasan al-Shaybānī), 190–91, 226–27
Kitāb al-Buldān (al-Ya‘qūbī), 138–39
Kitāb al-Buyū‘ (Samuel b. Hofni Ga‘on), 189–90
Kitāb al-Kharāj (Abū Yūsuf), 19–20, 57–59
Kitāb al-Mabsūṭ (Muhammad b. Ahmad al-Sarakhsī), 190–91, 226–27
Kitāb al-Makhārīj fī al-ḥiyāl, 229
Kitāb al-Sharika wa-l-muḍāraba (Samuel b. Hofni Ga‘on), 189–90
Kitāb al-Shirka (Muhammad b. al-Ḥasan al-Shaybānī), 226–27 Kitos War (Diaspora Revolt), 275–76 knowledge, communal identity and, 88
kohen (priestly individual) Islamic conversion by, 90–91 return to Judaism from Islam, 91–93, 98–100
 Labib, Subhi, 17
Land Behind Baghdad (Adams), 38, 267–68 land ownership agriculture as separate from, 53–57 changing patterns in Iraq, 57–62 halakhic monographs on, 209 métayage and, 54–56 military land grants (qaṭā‘i), 240–41 restrictions on Jews, 52–53 tax avoidance and transfer of, 57–59 ‘Abbāsīd regime and, 47, 267–68 land reforms, Jewish shift from agrarianism and, 17–20
 “The Language Situation in al-Andalus” (Wasserstein), 157
 Lapidus, Ira, 19–20
 Lassner, Jacob, 44–48
Laws of Agency and Partnership (Maimonides), 195
 learning diasporas, 260–62
 Le Bohec, Yann, 274–75
 legal scholarship document expansion and, 212–13
   early Islamic sources on, 189–93 halakhic monographs, 207–10 history of, 30–33
   suftaja in, 210–12
 Levi b. Japheth ha-Levi, 192–93, 222–23
 Leviticus, Book of, 222–23
 Levtzion, Nehemia, 79
 Lisbon, Gideon, 210–11, 213–16
 literacy training
   in Jewish communities, 50–51, 83–84
   Judeo-Arabic spelling, 144 long-distance trading Jewish involvement in, 29–33, 205–7, 254–55, 272–73 market expansion and, 214–16 migration and impetus of, 249–50 suftaja on, 210–12
   urbanization and, 244–45
 Lopez, Robert S., 15–17, 190–91n.24, 216–17
Ma‘ālim al-īmān fī ma‘rifat ahl al-qayrawān (‘Abd al-Rahmān b. Muḥammad al-Dabbāgh), 137–38
 Madelung, Wilferd, 238–39, 252–53, 268–69
Maghrebine Judeo-Arabic writers, 150–51
Maḥberet (Menaḥem Ibn Sarūq), 157–58 al-Mahdi, caliphate of (r.775–785), 53–57, 72–74
 Māḥozē (urban Jewish settlement), 21–22
Maḥzor Vitry, 98–100
 Maimonides, David, 254–55
 Maimonides, Moses on assets of orphans, 199n.63 on commercial law, 184–88, 199–203 on credit transactions, 227–28 geographic mobility of family of, 254–55 on halakhic monographs, 208n.104 Islamic qirāḍ in model of, 202 legal scholarship and legacy of, 30–33 on partnerships, 204–5, 222–23
   on talmudic commercial models, 195–97
Maimonides and the Merchants (Cohen), 184–85
The Making of the Medieval Middle East (Tannous), 26, 73–74, 77–79
 Malabar Coast (India), Jewish trading diaspora in, 253–56 Mālik b. Anas, 260–62
 al-Mālikī, ‘Abd Allāh b. Muḥammad, 121–22, 137–38 Mālikī scholarship, 191–92, 226–27

- Maman, Aharon, 165–66
mamzerut, 95, 98
 Manicheans, Islamic conversion by, 102
 Mann, Jacob, 24–26, 49–50, 66–67 al-Manṣūr, caliphate of (r.754–755), 114–16 Marcus, Jacob Rader, 67–69 markets, development of, 205–7 dating expansion of, 213–16
   Jewish trading diaspora and, 258–59
 “Mar Rav Ga’on,” 92–93
 Mar Rav Huna, 46–47 marriage contracts, geographic mobility in, 254–55 Marwān b. al-Ḥakam (Caliph) (r. 684–685), 155 al-Marwazī, Muḥammad b. Muḥammad, 190–91
 Māsarjawayh (Jewish physician), Arabic translation by, 155 Māshallāh b. Atharī, 155 masses vs. elites, Muslim and Jewish distinctions, 77–79 al-Massisa, military and political development of, 240–41
A Mediterranean Society (Goitein), 7–10, 271–72
Menahot (tractate), 208–9 mercantile elites, migration analysis of geographic mobility and, 254–55
   independence of, 257–58 Iraqi origins of, 34–37
   knowledge of Arabic by, 160
   in prosopographical literature, 137–43
   Rīf/Center distinction and, 172–73
   urbanization and, 244–45
 messianic movement, historical accounts of, 73–74
 métayage
   Jewish involvement in agriculture and, 54–56
   ‘Abbāsid taxation and, 57–59, 62
 Middle Eastern bourgeoisie agricultural economics and, 61 diversity of, 15–17
   geonic taqqana and, 52–53
   Islamic jurists and, 30–33 migration. See also Western Jewish migration characteristics of, 12–13
   control of local economies and urban unrest through, 248–53 economic forces in, 253–60
   jihād linked to, 246–47, 260–66 political and military stimuli for, 239–53
   military land grants (qaṭā’i), 240–41, 244–45, 249
   military stimuli, migration linked to, 239–53, 268–69 control of local economies and urban unrest through, 248–53
   jihād linked to military activity, 246–47 religious aspects of, 244–47
   Thughūr settlements and, 240–44
 Mishnaic law administrator’s role in, 203–5
   bailment in, 223–25
   currency transactions in, 229–32
   model of storekeeper, 193–94
Mishneh Torah (Maimonides) case law in, 210
   commerce in, 30–33, 185–86, 189–90
   credit transactions in, 227–28 partnership law in, 199–203, 218–21 missionary-based migrations (dā’īs), 260, 262–64
 Morony, Michael, 17–20, 57, 63–64, 66–67, 69–70, 102–3
 Moses b. Jacob Ga’on, 52–54, 56–57, 59–61
 Mu’āwiya (Caliph) (r. 661–680), 250–53
Muhammad and the Believers (Donner), 26
Mukhtaṣar (epitome) (Ahmad b. Muhammad al-Qudūrī), 190–91
Mukhtaṣar (epitome) (Muhammad b. Muhammad al-Marwazī), 190–91 al-Muqaddasī, 64–65, 67–69 al-Muqammiṣ, David, 155
 al-Muqtadir (Caliph) (r.908–932), 64–66 Mūsā b. Khalīla, 258–59
 al-Mu’ṭasim (Caliph) (r. 833–842), 241–43 Myers, David, 2
 myth of the empty land
   in Jewish historiography, 2–3, 14–15
 al-Nahāwandī, Benjamin b. Moses, 65–66, 192–93, 218–21
 Nahray b. Nissim, 258–59, 279 Naṭronay Ga’on, responsa of on apostasy, 101–2 on Jewish return from Islam, 90–96, 98–100 on Jewish settlements, 66–67

- Naṭronay Ga'on, responsa of (cont.)
 on ordinary people, 87–88
 on Sabbath desecration, 89–90
 Neusner, Jacob, 17–20, 71n.110
 Newman, Julius, 56
nisbas
 Ashtor's Geniza data analysis of, 130–33 in Ashtor's Iraqi migration data analysis, 130–33 characteristics of, 108–9
 Cohen's analysis of, 110–11 40-year moving average of nisbas as percentage of whole, 134–35
 in Geniza documents, 111–12, 143
 geographical data from, 71n.110, 123–24 individual identity of, 112–13
 Iraqi, Maghrib and Syrian migration vs.
 whole data, 132–34, 143
 occupational data from, 111, 124–25 in PGP database, 125–30, 125n.54 population estimates from, 122–23
 toponymic data from, 113–14, 118–19
 Tunisian nisbas, 142
 westward Jewish migration and, 26–28, 114–16, 238–39
 nomadic populations, migration and control of, 248–53
 “Non-Monetary Loans: Tradition and Innovation in the Geonic Period” (Eliash), 188–89
 North Africa. See also Africa Arabic among Jewish communities in, 161–65
 economic development in, 41 in Fāṭimid period, 8–11
 Jewish migrations to, 12, 268–69, 274–78
 Jews as slaves in, 237–40 learning diasporas in, 260–62, 270 migration analysis in, 121–22 political and military stimuli for Jewish migration to, 239–53 religious aspects military outposts in, 244–45
 urbanization in, 259–60
 Northedge, Alastair, 45–46
 Obadiah the Proselyte, 73–74
 Obermayer, Jacob, 17–22 occupational data, nisbas as source of, 111, 124–25
 Olszowy-Schlanger, Judith, 178–79 onomastic data from Cairo Geniza, 115–16 components of, 108–9
 Jewish population movements and, 106–8 magnitude of Jewish migration and, 111
 Reinhardt's analysis of, 120
 Onqelos, 166 paid employees, liability of, al-Nahāwandī on, 220–21
 Palestine
 Arabic use by Jews in, 165–67
 Egyptian migration to, 252–53
 Seljūq and Crusader conquests of, 10–12
yeshiva of, 179–81
 Palṭoy, responsa of, 93
 Papaconstantinou, Arietta, 171
Partnership and Profit in Medieval Islam
 (Udovitch), 226–27 partnerships. See also investment partnership ('eseq) comparison of Rabbanite, Islamic and Karaite commercial law with, 233–35
 investment patterns in, 203–5
 Islamic commercial law and, 226–33
 Islamic partnership practice (qirād), 198–203
 in Jewish commercial law, 193–94
 Karaite scholarship on, 225
 Persian migration, studies of, 69–70, 120, 238–39, 252–53
 physicians, Arabic language used by, 155, 159n.51
 pilgrimage, learning diaspora and, 260–62
 Pirenne, Henri, 15–17
 Pirqoy b. Baboy, 179–81, 262–63, 280 political stimuli for Jewish migration, 239–53, 268–69 control of local economies and urban unrest and, 248–53
 Thughūr settlements and, 240–44
 Polliack, Meira, 166 population analysis, urbanization of Jews and, 62–70
Poverty and Charity in the Jewish Community of Medieval Egypt
 (Cohen), 110–11
 Princeton Geniza Project database, 26–28, 122–23
 Ashtor's analysis of Geniza data, 130–33

- 40-year moving average of nisbas as percentage of whole, 134–35
- Iraq, Mabhrīb and Syria vs. whole nisba data, 132–34
- overview of migration data in, 125–30
- profits and losses, Jewish and Islamic commercial law on, 198–203
- profit-sharing
- in Islamic commercial law, 226–27
  - Karaite scholarship on, 220–21
- property law, al-Nahāwandī's discussion of, 218–21
- prosopographical literature
- biographical data in, 121–22
  - Geniza documents compared to, 111–12, 116–17, 121–22, 143
  - migration analysis based on, 106–8, 137–43, 236–38
  - religious migration in, 262–63
  - urbanization discussed in, 75–76
- Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism* (Weber), 81–82
- Ptolemaic conquest, Jewish migration and, 239–40
- Pumbeditan gaon, 67–69
- Pumbeditan yeshiva, 51–52
- push-pull factors in migration
- economics and, 259–60
  - forced resettlements, 252–53
  - overview, 267–70
  - Thugūr settlements and, 240–44
- Qarāmīṭa raids, impact on agriculture of, 59–60
- Qaṣr (Ibn) Hubayra, 67
- qaṭī'a* (the “feudom”), Islamic legal institution of, 59–61
- Qayrawān Jewish community
- al-Zaidan's analysis of, 138–42
  - Arabic fluency in, 164
  - forced resettlement of, 250–53
  - historiography of, 2–3, 279–81
  - literary accounts of, 136–38
  - rabbinical presence in, 23–24
- Qayrawān responsum, 87–88
- Qayyara, Simeon, 89–90, 189–90
- al-Qirqisānī, Abū Yūsuf Jacob/Ya'qūb, 192–93, 221–23
- al-Qudā'ī, Ibn al-'Abbār Muḥammad b. 'Abd Allah, 137–38
- al-Qudūrī, Aḥmad b. Muḥammad, 190–91, 231–32
- al-Qūmisī, Daniel, 192–93
- Qur'ān, prohibition on intoxicants, 79
- Rabbanite law
- apostasy and, 95
  - bailment in, 218
  - commercial law and, 33
  - comparison of Karaite and Islamic commercial law with, 233–35
  - credit transactions in, 227–28
  - Jewish commercial law and, 189–216
  - Karaite scholars and, 165–66
  - marriage and divorce in, 94–95
  - practical law and, 86
  - sectarian fragmentation and, 96–98
  - Se'adya Ga'on's influence on, 149–51, 175–77
  - Solomon b. Judah and, 179–81
- rabbinic elite, Jewish urbanization and, 20–37n.75
- Rabbinic law and literature, 33. See also
- geonic responsa
  - agrarian life in, 30–33, 54
  - apostasy's impact on, 95–96
  - challenges to authority of, 96–98
  - economic motivation for taqqana in, 51–52
  - frequency and location of Islamic conversion in, 98–100
  - Jewish settlements in, 21–22
  - Jewish urbanization in, 20–24, 52–53
  - knowledge of law and practice in, 86–88
  - migration narrative in, 2, 28–30
  - ordinary people in, 88–89
  - Sabbath violations in, 89–90
  - urbanization in, 20–24
- “Radd 'alā al-naṣāra” (“Refutation of the Christians”) (al-Jāhīz), 64–65
- Rādhanītes (Jewish traders), 17
- Rava (sage), 21–22
- Ray, Jonathan, 4–5
- reciprocal agency, in Jewish commercial law, 193–94
- regional trading, market expansion and, 215
- Reinfandt, Lucian, 12–13, 37, 120, 168–69, 252–53
- religio-cultural-political matrix, Jewish conversion to Islam and, 76–77

- religious aspects of migration military stimuli and, 244–47 missionary aspects of, 260, 262–64 pursuit of knowledge and, 260–62
- Richter, Tonio Sebastian, 151–52
- Rīf/Center distinction disappearance of EPJAS and, 178–81
 EPJAS/CJAS dichotomy and, 170–73
 Goitein's analysis of, 170, 181–82 as long-distance trading barrier, 258–59
- Risāla* (Ibn Quraysh), 161–62, 166–67
- Riyāḍ al-nufūs* (al-Mālikī), 121–22, 137–38
- Roma, 'Abbāsīd regime resettlement of, 241–43
- Roman Empire, Jewish migration and, 239–40
- rural communities. See also agriculture
 apostasy in, 98–100
 Arabic fluency and, 167–68
 economic opportunities in, 37–38, 53–57, 81–82 rise of Islam and decline of, 102–3 urban Jewish contacts with, 170–73
- Rustow, Marina, 179–81
- Sabbath desecration long-distance trading and, 205–7 in rabbinic literature, 89–90
- Safrai, Zeev, 56
- Salāma b. Mūsā, 259
- Salaymeh, Lena, 86
- Samuel b. Hofni Ga'on, 189–90, 209, 212, 228n.191
- Samuel b. Meir of Troyes (Rashbam), 54
- Samū'al al-Maghribī, 73–74
- al-Sarakhsī, Muḥammad b. Aḥmad, 190–91, 226–27, 231–32
- Sasanians craft production of, 46
 in Iraq, 62–63
 Islamic conquest supported by, 238n.3
 Jewish interaction with, 17–20 urbanization of Jewish communities and, 21–22, 44–48
- “Sa'adyanic revolution,” shift in Arabic language after, 157–58, 161
- Schacht, Joseph, 184n.3
- scribes changes in practices of, 178–81 handwriting of, 178–79 use of Arabic by, 160
- Se'adya Ga'on, 28–30, 98–100, 144, 146–47. See also Torah of Se'adya Ga'on
- Geniza documents and, 177–78
- Ibn Quraysh and, 164–65
- influence in North Africa of, 164–65
- influence on scholarship of, 149–51, 207–10
- letters to Andalusian Jewish communities, 158–60
- Torah translation of, 28–30, 146–47, 166, 169
- Second Temple Jerusalem ordinary members of, 88–89
 Roman destruction of, 5–7
- sectarianism in Jewish community, 96–98
- Seder Rav 'Amram Ga'on*, 98–100
- Sefer ha-Meqaḥ ve-ha-mimkar* (Book of Purchases and Sales) (Hayya b. Sherira Ga'on), 189–90
- Sefer ha-Miṣvot* (Book of Commandments) ('Anan b. David), 192–93, 218, 220–21
- Sefer ha-Qabbalah* (Ibn Daud), 103–4, 136–37, 161, 262–63
- Sefer ha-Tenayim* (Book of Conditions) (Hayya b. Sherira Ga'on), 189–90
- Seljūq Conquest (Palestine), 10–12
- Sephardic diaspora, historiography on, 4–5
- Seraḥ bt. Asher, 1–2
- Shadharāt al-dhabab fī akhbār man dhabab*, 111
- Shāfi'ī legal scholarship, 226–27
- shahāda* expansion of, 79
 Jewish proclamation of, 89–90, 100–1
- Shāmiyīn in the Geniza, 125n.54
- al-Shaybānī, Muḥammad b. Ḥasan, 190–91, 226–27, 229–32
- Sherira Ga'on, 46–47
- A Short History of the Jews* (Brenner), 2
- al-Shurūt al-saghīr* (al-Ṭahāwī), 228–29
- Siddur* (Se'adya Ga'on), 98–100
- Simonsohn, Uriel, 77–79, 184–85
- "simple" believers
 Christians as, 76–77
 Tannous' model of, 86–88
- Sirat, Colette, 178–79
- Skoss, Solomon, 165–66
- slavery, Jews in, 237–40, 255–56

- sleeping partnerships, in geonic responsum, 220n.154
- Smith, Richard L., 273
- Solomon b. Judah, 179–81
- Soloveitchik, Haym, 54–56
- “Some Fundamentals of Jewish Demographic History” (Della Pergola), 5–7
- space (physical location) belief and, 88 communal identity and, 93
- Spain, Jewish migration to, 41–42
- Sperber, Daniel, 54–56
- square script, scribes’ use of, 178–79
- Stern, Karen, 274–75, 277–78
- Stillman, Norman, 7–8, 17, 34–35
- “The Story of the Four Captives” (Ibn Daud), 2–3, 41–42, 77–79, 136–37
- suftaja* (bill of exchange)
 expansion of markets and, 213–16
 Geonic responsa on, 61
- “Synagogue of the ‘Irāqiyīn,” 34–35, 40
- Syria Arab migration to, 248–53 forced resettlement of Jews to, 251–52 military outposts in, 245–46
- Syriac
 Jewish knowledge of, 66–67, 155 medical literature in, 159n.51
- Szpiech, Ryan, 77n.9
- Ṭabaqāt ‘ulamā’ ifrīqiya wa-tūnis* (Abū al-‘Arab Muḥammad b. Aḥmad al-Tamīmī), 121–22, 137–38, 142–43
- al-Ṭahāwī, 212–13, 228–29, 232–33
- Tāhirtī family, 278–79
- Taieb-Carlen, Sarah, 277
- ṭalab al-‘ilm* (“seeking knowledge”), 260–62
- al-Ṭālī‘ al-sa‘īd al-jāmi‘ li-asmā’ nujabā’ al-ṣa‘īd* (Ja‘far b. Tha‘lab al-Adfuwī), 137–38, 142
- Talmud
 administrator’s role in, 203–5 agency law in, 221–23 analytical thinking and study of,
 51–54n.30
 Arabic translations of, 157–58
 bailment in, 223–25
 commercial relationships described in, 185, 187–88, 195–98
- communal/shared space (‘eruv and ḥaṣer)
 in, 20–24
- halakhic monographs and distribution of, 207–10
- on partnerships, 222–23
- shared-ownership models in, 193–94
- al-Tamīmī, Abū al-‘Arab Muḥammad b.
 Aḥmad, 121–22, 137–38
- Tannous, Jack
 on Christian conversion to Islam, 77–79 on creedal vs. situational conversion, 79–80
- on Jewish conversion to Islam, 40
- on simple believers model, 86–88
- on urbanization of Jews, 26
- on Western Jewish migration, 73–74
- taqqana*. See also geonic system
- economic expansion following, 53–57
- Jewish urbanization and, 50–52
- Targum* (Onqelos), 166
- Ṭarsūs, military and political development of, 241–43, 246–47
- taxation impact on Jewish communities of, 95–96
- Islamic policies of, 259–60
- Jewish conversion to Islam motivated by, 77–79
- muqāsama* tax, ‘Abbāsīd implementation of, 60
- ‘Abbāsīd regime expansion of, 47, 57–59
- Taxel, Itamar, 252–53
- Taylor-Schechter New Series, 175–76
- Ta‘rīkh Baghdād* (al-Khaṭīb al-Baghdādī), 116–17, 137
- tenant farming agricultural production and, 57
- by Babylonian Jews, 22–23
- Jewish landlords and, 57
- Roman Colonatus Law on, 54–56
- Teshlot Archive, 171
- Thughūr (the “Frontier”)
 Jewish migration to, 239–40
- military-political forces in Jewish settlement of, 240–44
- Toch, Michael, 43, 47–48, 271–72
- toponymic data analysis, nisbas and,
 113–14, 118–19
- Torah of Se‘adya Ga‘on. See also Se‘adya Ga‘on
- Blau and Hopkins on, 174–77
- EVJAS and, 146–47

- Torah of Se'adya Ga'on. (cont.)
 Judeo-Arabic and translation of, 28–30, 144, 149–51, 177–78
 Karaites and, 166
 rural-urban interaction and, 167–69 towns in Iraq, Jews settlements in, 66–67 trade historical evidence of, 105–8
 Jewish penetration of, 64–65
 premodern training for, 51–54n.30 prominence of letters and documentation in, 117
 travel (rihla)
 learning diaspora and, 260–62
 prosopographical literature on, 262–63 religious value of, 238–39 Treatise on Abutter's Rights (Samuel b.
 Hofni Ga'on), 209
Treatise on the Laws of Leasing Rivers, Irrigation Canals and Wells (Samuel b.
 Hofni Ga'on), 209
 Tunis, Jewish migration in, 10–11 al-Tūnisi, Zakariyā' b. Yahyā al-Dishnāwī, 142
 Turkish migration, studies of, 69–70, 120, 238–39, 252–53
 Tustarī family, 278–79
 Udovitch, A. L., 190–91n.24, 191–94, 218, 226–33
 'Umar (Caliph) (r. 634–644), 250–53
 'Umar b. 'Abd al-'Azīz (Caliph) (r. 717– 720), 19–20, 79
 unlimited partnership (mufāwāḍa), 233–34 “Un mouvement migratoire au Haut Moyen Âge: migration de l'Irak vers les pays méditerranéens” (Ashtor), 8–9, 107–8, 272
 'Unwān al-dirāya fīman 'urifa min 'ulamā' al-mi'a al-sābi'a bi-bijāya (Aḥmad b.
 Aḥmad al-Ghubrīnī), 137–38, 142
 urbanization of Jews Arabic fluency and, 167–68
 army camp evolution to cities, 244–45 in Baghdad, 50 economic factors in, 23–24, 53–57 migration patterns and, 12, 15
 in North Africa, 259–60 population analysis in Baghdad and, 62–70
 in rabbinic literature, 20–24 rural contacts in tenth century with, 170–73
 socioeconomic conditions and, 38–39 synagogue-based Judaism and, 81–82 talmudic narrative of, 23 westward migration linked to, 71–74
 'Abbāsīd dynasty and, 44–48
 von Sivers, Peter, 243 wage laws commercial networks and, 195–98 Maimonides on, 195
 in Talmudic law, 194
 al-Walid (Caliph) (r. 705–715), 241–43 “Wandering Jew” geographic mobility and, 253–54
 legend of, 1–2
 Wasserstein, David, 77–79, 90–91, 151–52, 157, 167–68
 Watson, Alan, 31–32, 184–85, 187–88
 Weber, Max, 81–82
 westward Jewish migration
 al-Zaidan's analysis of, 138–42
 Arabic writing and language and, 156–60
 Ashtor's Geniza data analysis of, 130–33
 Ashtor's study of, 8–9, 11–12, 14, 26–28, 71–74, 117–18
 causes of, 26–28 effects of, 37 evidence for, 236–38
 as free and voluntary, 29–33 intellectual perspective on, 28–30
 Iraqi, Maghrib and Syrian migration vs.
 whole data, 132–34
 narrative and documentary sources on, 135–36
 onomastic data analysis and, 107–8
 political and military stimuli for, 239–53
 scribal elites as evidence of, 181
 Westreich, Elimelech, 210–16
 Wiesenberg, E. J., 175–76 wine production, Jewish involvement in, 54–56
 women geographic mobility of Jewish women, 255–56
 Islamic courts and Jewish divorce laws, 95, 98

Index

317

- al-Ya'qūbī, 138–39
Yardeni, Ada, 178–79
Yazīd (Caliph) (r. 680–683), 241–43
Yehudai Ga'on of Sura (r. 757–761), 280
- al-Zaidan, Abdullah Ali, 138–42
Zanj revolts impact on agriculture of, 59–60, 267–68
    Jewish migration and, 11–13, 71–74
Zevahim (talmudic tractate), 208–9