

Index

- A, Dr
 consultation differences, 165
 cultural adjustment, 164
 discrimination, 167, 168 indigenous psychiatry, perceptions of, 74 informal patient communication, 179–80 reason for going into psychiatry, 73
 recruitment barriers, 168
 role of culture, 78–9
 South Asian mental health stigma, 185
 South Asian patient relationship, 79
 South Asian uptake of mental health services, 80–1 stigma around mental health services, 186
 training differences, 75
 UK, impressions of psychiatry in the, 74–7
 UK, minority working life in the, 77, 78
 understanding patient existential struggle, 182
 white racial bias, 167
 acculturation, 23
 Ahmed, Sara, 40–1
 anthropology of psychiatry, 8
- Bangladesh, migration from, 20
- Baruah, Dr Ranjit
 background, 102–3
 discrimination, generational perspective on, 167
 legacy hopes, 107
 patient kinship feeling, 176
 pay inequality, 169
 racial discrimination, 106–7
 reason for going into psychiatry, 102
 role of culture, 105–6
 South Asian patient relationship with, 106
- South Asian uptake of mental health services, 106
 training differences, 105
 UK, impressions of psychiatry in the, 105
 UK, minority working life in the, 105
 UK, motivations for working in the, 103–5
- Bhugra, Dinesh, 10, 189
- Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic (BAME) dismantling, 14–15
 intersectionality, 13–14
 politicisation, 12
 Stuart Hall, 13
- Black Skin, White Masks*, 34
- body schema, 32
- British Pakistani Psychiatry Association, 116–17
- Burke, Aggrey W., 10
- Chada, Dr Neta
 background, 84–5
 language use in building trust, 177
 monoethnic neighbourhood identity questions, 172
 reason for going into psychiatry, 82–4
 role of culture, 89–90
 South Asian mental health stigma, 185, 186
 South Asian patient relationship, 90–1
 South Asian uptake of mental health services, 91–2
 UK, minority working life in the, 88
 UK, motivations for working in the, 86–8
 understanding patient existential struggle, 182
- Cheema, Dr Fahd
 alternative religious therapies, 189
 background, 49
- clinical versus non-clinical ratio, 49 cultural diversity, 55
 cultural reflection on the job, 166
 cultural understanding, 178
 language use in building trust, 177
 patient fear and suspicion, 184 reason for psychiatry, 49
 role of culture, 53
 South Asian patient relationship, 53–5
 training differences, 51
 UK, first impressions, 50
 UK, first job, 50
 UK, impressions of psychiatry in the, 51
 UK, minority working life in the, 52
 UK, motivations for working in the, 49–50
 understanding patient existential struggle, 183 work history, 50–1
 work overview, 48
- colonialism. see colonisation
- colonisation medical education and, 21 post, 8
 white imperialism, 7–8
- community sense, 24–5
- Covid-19 pandemic, 14
- Crenshaw, Kimberlé, 13–14
- cultural adjustment
 British language variations, 165
 consultation differences, 164–5
 cultural conflict, 163
 cultural nuances, 163–4
 cultural reflection on the job, 166 family organization differences, 164 psychopathology differences, 165–6
 training differences, 164

204	Index
cultural differences, the negotiation of cultural adjustment, 163–6 multiple forms of, 163 ‘othered’ experience of the, 166–70 cultural identity differences between first and second generation, 43 fitting in, 43–4 from invisibility to hypervisibility, 41–3 cultural identity, questions about. after migration to UK, 170 ethnic diversity neighbourhoods, 171–2 monoethnic neighbourhoods, 172 place of origin, 171 ramifications of, 171 uneasiness of, 171 cultural identity, the fluidity of cultural division, 173–4 hypervisibility, avoidance of, 173 immigrant professional presentation, 173 organisational culture, 173 cultural nuances, 163–4 cultural psychiatry classification changes, 8 complex nature of, 6–7 cultural iniquities, 191 defined, 5 ethnic minority importance, 7 historical development, 7–8 main objectives, 5–6 objective summary, 191 research in the UK, 9–11 role of, 190 versus transcultural psychiatry, 5 cultural psychiatry research in the UK, 9–11 culture, defined, 6 Davé, Dr Rupal background, 118–19 cultural division, 174 cultural identity questions, 171 cultural understanding, 179 ethnic diversity neighbourhoods, 171	language use in building trust, 177 legacy hopes, 123–4 mind body synergy, 187 reason for going into psychiatry, 118–19 role of culture, 120–1, 127–8 South Asian mental health stigma, 185 South Asian patient relationship, 124–5 South Asian uptake of mental health services, 125–7 stigma and religion education, 194 UK, minority working life in the, 121–3 UK, motivations for working in the, 120 understanding patient existential struggle, 183 decolonisation era of, 7 principles of, 38–9 diaspora complexity of, 26 importance of religion, 189 South Asian, 26 discrimination, generational perspective on Dr A, 167, 168 Dr Ranjit Baruah, 167 Dr Pramod Jauhar, 167 Dr Sivakumar, 167, 168 Dr Farida Yousaf, 167 ‘othering,’ experience of, 167–8 Esmail, Aneez, 21, 168 ethnic minority identity Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic (BAME), 12 multiple complex components, 12 transnational, 14 Fanon, Frantz, 32–7 Fernando, Suman, 9–10, 16–17 gender barriers, 168–9 General Medical Council (GMC) equality strategy, 18 policy changes in the 1970s, 18, 22 registration difficulty, 64–5 South Asian psychiatrist registry, 15–16 Giri Shankar, Dr Vidya background, 155–62 British language variations, 165 consultation differences, 165 cultural identity questions, 171 immigrant self-esteem, 170 pay inequality, 169 white racial bias, 166 Hall, Stuart, 13 historical development stages, cultural psychiatry anthropology of, 8 colonisation, 7–8 post-colonial world, 8 Husserl, Edmund, 31–2 hypervisibility cultural identity, fluidity of, 173 invisibility and, 41–3 lived experience, 40–1 intersectionality, 13–14 invisibility, 41–3 izzat, 186 Jauhar, Dr Pramod background, 56–7 discrimination, generational perspective on, 167 immigrant self-esteem, 170 legacy hopes, 62 pay inequality, 169 reason for going into psychiatry, 56 role of culture, 60–1 South Asian patient relationship, 61 South Asian uptake of mental health services, 61–2 training differences, 58–9 UK, impressions of psychiatry in the, 57–8 UK, minority working life in the, 59–60 UK, motivations for working in the, 56 white racial bias, 166 Jauhar, Dr Sameer background, 129–30

- boundary negotiation challenges, 177
 ethnic diversity
 neighbourhoods, 171
 legacy hopes, 129, 134–5
 reason for going into psychiatry, 129
 role of culture, 131–3
 South Asian patient relationship, 133
 South Asian uptake of mental health services, 134
 UK, minority working life in the, 130–1
 UK, motivations for moving to the, 130
 understanding patient existential struggle, 183
 white racial bias, 166
- Kaushal, Dr Pulkit
 background, 145
 British language variations, 165
 consultation differences, 164–5 cultural interchange, 153–4
 cultural reflection on the job, 166
 cultural understanding, 178, 179
 culture shock, 146–7
 mind body synergy, 188
 psychopathology differences, 165–6
 reason for going into psychiatry, 144–5
 role of culture, 148, 151–2
 South Asian patient relationship, 149–50, 152–3
 South Asian uptake of mental health services, 153
 training differences, 149
 UK, minority working life in the, 148–9, 150–1
 UK, motivations for working in the, 145–6
 understanding patient existential struggle, 182–3
- lived experience
 Dr A, 73–81
 Dr Ranjit Baruah, 102–7
 Dr Neta Chada, 82–92
- Dr Fahd Cheema, 48–55
 Dr Rupal Davé, 118–28
 Dr Pramod Jauhar, 56–62
 Dr Sameer Jauhar, 129–35
 Dr Iqbal Mohiuddin, 136–43
 Dr Musa Sami, 108–17
 Dr Sivakumar, 93–101
 Dr Farida Yousaf, 63–72
 historico-racial epidermal schema, 38
 Malone Mukwende, 38–40
Mind the Gap: A Handbook of clinical signs in black and brown skin, 38–40 phenomenology of whiteness, 40–1 Sara Ahmed, 40–1
- mental health education, 186–7 migration, contemporary patterns of economic growth, 26 global events, 26
 greater diversity of flows, 25 increased access, 26
 transnationalism, 25–6
 migration, psychological issues
 acculturation, 23
 belonging, 24
 complexity, 22
 ethnic violence, 25
 identity construction, 24 loss and hardship, 23
 multifaceted process, 22–3 myth of return, 23–4
 sense of community, 24–5 migration research in the UK, 10–11
 mind body synergy, 187–8
Mind the Gap: A Handbook of clinical signs in black and brown skin, 38–40
 Mohiuddin, Dr Iqbal
 background, 136, 137–8
 ethnic diversity
 neighbourhoods, 171
 mental health education, 187
 patient fear and suspicion, 184
 patient kinship feeling, 175 patient status challenges, 181–2 psychotherapy, importance of, 186
- reason for going into psychiatry, 136
 role of culture, 138, 139–40
 South Asian mental health stigma, 185
 South Asian patient relationship, 140
 South Asian uptake of mental health services, 140–3
 UK, minority working life in the, 138–9
 UK, motivations for working in the, 137
 understanding patient existential struggle, 183 mother tongue, 178
 Mukwende, Malone, 38–40
 myth of return, 23–4
- 9/11 and migration, 26
 non-South Asian migrant patient relationships, 182–3
- ‘othering’, experience of discrimination, generational perspective on, 167–8
 pay inequality, 169
 racial discrimination, 166
 recruitment barriers, 168–9 self-esteem and, 169–70
 white racial bias, 166–7
- pairs of hands, 21
 Pakistan, migration from, 20
 pay inequality
 Dr Ranjit Baruah, 169
 Dr Vidya Giri Shankar, 169
 Dr Pramod Jauhar, 169
 phenomenology
 adaptations, 32
 criticisms, 34–7
 defined, 31
 Edmund Husserl, 31–2 lived experience of whiteness, 40–1 psychiatrist profiles
 Dr Vidya Giri Shankar, 155–62
 Dr Pulkit Kaushal, 144–54 psychiatry, British demographics, 143
 esteemed view of, 169–70

- recruitment barriers
 Dr A, 168
 Dr Farida Yousaf, 168–9
- religion, mental health services alternative treatment forms, 189–90 identity construction, 24 knowledge lack, 188–9
 need for greater sensitivity, 189
 South Asian manifestation of, 188 South Asian value of, 189
 taking religious therapies seriously, 190 UK attitude to, 188
 religion, research in, 11
- Sami, Dr Musa
 alternative religious therapies, 189–90
 background, 109, 110
 boundary negotiation challenges, 176
 British Pakistani Psychiatry Association, 116–17
 cultural division, 174
 language use in building trust, 177
 mind body synergy, 187
 need for greater sensitivity, 189
 reason for going into psychiatry, 108–9
 role of culture, 112–13
 South Asian patient relationship, 113–14
 South Asian uptake of mental health services, 114–16
 taking religious therapies seriously, 190
 UK, minority working life in the, 110–12
 UK, motivations for working in the, 109
 understanding patient existential struggle, 183
 white racial bias, 167
- sharam*, 186
- Simpson, Julian, 20–1, 28
- Sivakumar, Dr
 background, 95
 cultural conflict, 163
 discrimination, generational perspective on, 167, 168
- immigrant self-esteem, 169–70
 role of culture, 98, 99
 South Asian patient relationship, 98–9
 South Asian uptake of mental health services, 99
 training differences, 93–4, 100
 UK, impressions of psychiatry in the, 94–5, 96–7
 UK, minority working life in the, 97–8, 99, 100–1
 UK, motivation for moving to the, 95 value of South Asian religion, 189
- somatization, 178–9
- South Asian languages
 Bengali, 142
 Hindu, 172
 Punjabi, 53, 90
 Sylheti, 142, 176
 Tamil, 98–9
 Urdu, 17, 53
- South Asian mental health services perspective fear and suspicion, 184
 mind body synergy, 187–8
 religion, 188–90
 stigma and, 184–7
- South Asian patient relationship
 boundary negotiation challenges, 176–7, 181–2
 cultural understanding, 178–9 formal versus informal, 175 identity boundaries, 175 informal communication, 179–80 kinship feeling, 175–6 language use, 177–8
- South Asian psychiatry in the UK, first-person narrative importance of, 17–18
 phenomenology, 31–2, 34–7
 zone of nonbeing, 32–4
- South Asian psychiatry in the UK, first-person narrative overview interview questions, 29–30
 psychiatrist profiles, 28–9
- South Asian psychiatry in the UK: migration Bangladesh, 20
 demographics, 19
 first-hand subjective accounts, 17 history, 19–20
 indigenous cultural habits, 15–16 legislation changes, 21–2 medical education and colonialism, 21
 pairs of hands, 21
 perspective, 15
 policy changes, 22
 postwar open door policy, 20–1 Sri Lanka, 20
 therapeutic relationship, cultural sensitivity to, 16–17
 voucher scheme, 20
- South Asian psychiatry in the UK: recommendations advantages and disadvantages of ethnic matching, 194 professional contribution importance of, 194 stigma and religious education, 194–5
- Sri Lankan migration, 20
- stigma and South Asian mental health, 184–7, 194–5
- stop and search laws, 40
- transcultural psychiatry, 5
- Transcultural Psychiatry Society (TCPS), 9–10
- transnational identity, 14
- transnationalism, 25–6
- unconscious bias education, 40–1
 stop and search laws, 40
- voucher scheme, 20
- WhatsApp (mobile application), 190
- Yousaf, Dr Farida
 background, 63–4

Cambridge University Press & Assessment
978-1-316-51459-7 — Journey to the Centre of the Self Exploring the Lived Experiences of South Asian Psychiatrists in the UK
Rina Arya , Dinesh Bhugra
Index
More Information

		Index	207
discrimination, generational perspective on, 167	South Asian uptake of mental health services, 67, 69–71	UK, motivations for working in the, 63 informal patient communication, 179	training differences, 65–7, 71–2	understanding patient existential struggle, 182 reason for going into psychiatry, 63	UK, impressions of psychiatry in the, 64–5	white racial bias, 166 role of culture, 68–9	UK, minority working life in the, 67–8	zone of nonbeing, 32–4
South Asian patient relationship, 69			