

INDEX

- abductive reasoning, Caribbean artifacts/objects
 - analysis and, 372–374
- Abelam culture, 85–86, 88–91, 93–94, 98–100
- Abydos site, U-j grave at, 338–339
- accumulation
 - exchange value and, 299–302
 - prestige goods and, 299–302
- administered trade, Polanyi on, 4–5
- adoption ritual, Calumet ceremony as, 160–161
- Adosada platform, 273–275
- Aegean/Minoan region
 - Nordic Bronze age trading and, 328, 330
 - Nordic Bronze Age trading with, 110–114
- aesthetic appeal of prestige goods, 97–98
- affective responses to prestige goods, 97–98
- Africa, egalitarian societies in, 35
- Afro-Eurasia macro-region, bronzing onset in, 309–310, 313–314
- Agbe-Davies, A., 5–6
- agency models
 - prestige goods and, 399–411
 - Turquoise Corridor, 271–273
- Aggrandizers
 - dominance economies and, 95–96
 - Lower Mississippi religious sodalities and, 147–151
 - by Lower Mississippi Valet elites, 146–147
 - Nordic Bronze Age households, 61–62
 - political organization and, 96
- agriculture
 - in Funnel Beaker societies, 33–35
 - labor gap in, 65–68
 - in Middle Bronze Age Ireland, 237–239
 - Nordic Bronze Age land-based agro-pastoral sector, 55–56
 - prestige economies and, 397–398
 - TRB-North Group developmental stages and, 25–28
 - TRB-North Group long-distance trade and, 30–31
- Algonquian communities, European artifacts and goods exchange and, 156–157
- Alta Vista-Snaketown Connection, Turquoise Corridor and, 258–263
- amber artifacts
 - control of trade routes and, 401–407
 - glass beads found with, 124
 - in Irish hillforts, 241
 - long-distance distribution of by TRB-North Group, 32
 - Nordic Bronze age trading and, 320–323, 328–329
 - trade routes for, 115–116
- Amborn, Hermann, 35
- American Southwest, Turquoise Corridor and, 13
- Amesbury Archer, 48–49
- anarchic oriented anthropology, Funnel Beaker phenomena and, 10
- Anasazi, turquoise of, 254–255
- ancestral connections
 - Lower Mississippi Valley elites and, 147–151
 - in non-state societies, 392–393
 - Stonehenge as monument to, 41, 48–49
- Ancestral Pueblo settlements
 - Mesoamerican contact with, 254–258, 261
 - mutualism and macroeconomy in Ancestral Pueblo-Mesoamerican contacts, 254–255
- Ancient Civilization and Trade* (Sabloff and Lamberg-Karlovsky), 4–5
- ancient DNA (aDNA)
 - Lapita culture expansion and, 209–215
 - prehistory research using, 1–3
- ancient Mediterranean, local agency and colonization in, 6
- Andean Civilizations, 361–362
- animal heroes, in Lower Mississippi Valley culture, 148–149
- anthropology
 - contextualized approach in, 8–9
 - local agency and colonization in, 6
 - Marxist anthropology, 13
 - role of trade in, 4–5
- Appadurai, Arjun, 290–292
- aquatic birds
 - in Calusa inter-regional trade artifacts, 193
 - in Nordic razor iconography, 132–133
- archaeology
 - constituted approach in, 8–9
 - local agency and colonization in, 6

- archaeology (cont.)
 long-distance exchange and social complexity
 in, 4
 post-processual theories in, 5–6
 role of trade in, 4–5
 trade and exchange theories in, 5
- Archaic periods, South Florida long-distance trade during, 191–195
- aridification event, Nordic Bronze Age metal trade and, 315
- aristocracies
 Calusa culture, 198–200
 Lower Mississippi Valley polities as, 150–151
- Arkansas (Quapaw) culture, 161
- Armorican Tumiac jadeite axes, 31
- artwork
 affective responses to, 98
 of Yangoru Boiken community, 84–88
- Aubrey, John, 48–49
- Austronesian religious beliefs, 212
- Austvoll, K., 55–56
- axes dating of, 347–350
 flanged axes, 235–237, 324–325 greenstone ritual axes, 31–33
 Irish flat axes, 231–232
 Irish socketed axes, 232
 long-distance exchange evidence from, 342–343
 at Maikop grave site, 343–352
 in Nordic Bronze Age sites, 313–325
 polygonal hammer axes, 31
 stone and bronze axes, Nordic Bronze Age sites, 59–61
 tin-mined Anglo-Irish axe-heads, 315–319
 in TRB-North Group sites, 25–28, 30–33
- Aztec rituals, turquoise exchange and, 276
- Ballintober-type weapons, 232–233
- barter
 spatial organization of, in TRB-North Group, 33
 trade in goods and, 2–3
 TRB-North Group long-distance trade and,
 30–31
- Bateson, G., 77–82
- Bauer, A., 5–6
- beaded goods
 glass beads, Mississippi south-north trade in, 119–125
 marine shell beads, Calusa South Florida trade in, 177–191
- Beaker culture
 Funnel Beak societies, 10, 24–28, 33–35
 Stonehenge and, 48–49
- Bella Coola society, maritime institutions and, 62–65
- Bell Beakers, 46–47, 313
- Bell Glade pottery, Calusa intra-regional trade and, 194
- Benandanti group, 404–405
- Berlin-Spandau votive deposition site, 132–133
- Bernburg culture, artifacts from, 346–349
- beveled-edge mosaic technologies, 259–261
- Big Histories perspective, long-distance trade and, 7–8
- Big-men, Sahlins' concept of, 95–96
 pre-capitalist typologies and, 337
- Bishopsland Phase of Middle Bronze Age goldwork during, 233–234
 hillfort construction during, 238
 Irish cultural development in, 237–239
 Irish metal production during, 232 metal exchange during, 234
- Bismarck Archipelago
 Lapita culture in, 209–215
 obsidian on, 216–217
- bison hides, as exchange item, 157–158
- Bloch, M., 298–299
- Boas, Franz, 4
- boat building
 elite control of, 53–54
 evidence in Neolithic art panels of, 311–313 evidence in Tanum/Bohuslän region of, 59–61 maritime institutions and, 62–65
 rock art depictions of, 63–64 in Tanum/Bohuslän region, 58–59
- Boest-Arildskov site, axes from, 324–325
- Bohannon, P., 299–300
- bottlenecks
 in Lapita prestige exchange system, 217
 social hierarchies and power dynamics in, 401–407 supply and demand control using, 145–147, 405–410
- Bourdieu, Pierre, 296–299
- Bradley site, European artifacts and goods at, 157
- Braithwaite, M., 218
- British metal and metallurgy
 Irish artifacts linked to, 234–235
 in Middle Bronze Age, 235–237
 in Nordic Bronze Age sites, 2–3, 14, 314–319
- broad supernatural punishment, Austronesian religious beliefs and, 222–224
- Bronze Age. See also Middle Bronze Age; Nordic Bronze Age
 chronological revision of, 334–337
 hillfort chiefdoms control of long-distance trade
 in, 12–13
 Irish hillfort chiefdoms in, 230–247 maritime politics in, 8–9 metals hoarding in, 14
 secret societies and long-distance exchange in, 53–70, 401–405
 Thera eruption and chronology of, 112–113 trade in chiefdoms of, 243–246 travel, trade and war in, 6–7 World System approach to, 6
xenia (guest-friendship) during, 11, 125–130

- bronze production hillforts and, 239–241
 Irish Bronze Age production, 230–247
 in Nordic Bronze Age, 113–114
 Tanum-Limfjord interaction and evidence of, 56–61
- bronzization dualism and, 300 entrepreneurship and, 329–330 intermediate history in NBA of, 323–325 long-distance trade and exchange evidence and, 313–323 macro-regional trade and, 14 onset of, 309–310 phases in Scandinavia of, 310–311 social impact of, 322–323
- Brusgaard, N., 398–399
- Bumbita Arapesh culture, 85–86
- burial sites
 chariots in Nordic Bronze Age burials, 113–114
 chronological revision of, 335–336
 glass beads found at, 120–121
 in non-state societies, 392–393 social hierarchies in, 336–337 stone bifaces, South Florida sites, 184
 TRB-North Group developmental stages and, 25–29
- Burridge, K. O. L., 96
- cacao production, Mesoamerican interactions and, 268n.9
- caciazgos* groups, 362–364
- Caddo culture, 148–149
 salt trade in, 158
- Cahokia site, marine shell distribution in, 179
- Calumet ceremony, 159–162
- Calumet dance (Cherokee ritual), 161–162
- Calusa culture
 consensual power relations and, 197–198 fishing and marine resources and, 174–175 geography and long-distance networks in, 175–177 inter-regional trade in, 193 intra-regional trade by, 194–195
 long-distance trade in, 12
 marine shell crafting in, 179
 patronage-clientage system of, 196–197 South Florida trade networks, 177–191
 trade and social complexity in, 173, 195–200
- Calusari group, 404–405
- Cameron, 8–9
- Campbell site, European artifacts and goods at, 157
- Campu Stefanu, Corsica burial site, Mesopotamian glass in, 125
- canoes
 in Lapita culture, 209–215, 220
 South Florida long-distance trade and use of, 191–192
- capital, symbolic vs. economic capital, 298–299
- capitalism. See also pre-capitalist class exploitation encounter and reproduction, 296–297, 303–304
 exchange value and, 295–296
 Marx's analysis of, 296–297 modes of reproduction and, 292–305
- captives in pre-state societies, long-distance trade and, 8–9
- Caribbean
 absence of objects in Isthmo-Colombian culture from, 375–377 analytical methodology for objects in, 374–375 artifacts/objects analysis in, 372–374
 Calusa trade in, 198–200 Greater Antilles history, 362–364 long-distance exchange in, 14–15, 361–379
 plant cultivation and trade in, 369–370 sourcing of materials in, 370–371 stylistic similarity in goods in, 370 trade, exchange and non-state societies, 364–368
- Carneiro, R., 244
- Carpathian Basin
 metal hoard distribution in, 343–352 Nordic Bronze Age traveling cultures and, 325–329
- casting technologies chronological revision concerning, 340
- cattle exchange
 Neolithic innovations and, 339–340
 in non-state societies, 397–399
 Nordic Bronze Age and, 69–70, 243–244 political power and, 397–398 in prestige economies, 398
 at Stonehenge, 44–48, 395
- Caucasus region, long-distance trade and exchange and, 343–352
- Central Europe
 Nordic Bronze age trading and, 328
- central place theory, Early State Module and, 5
- Central/South America. See also Mesoamerica long-distance exchange with Caribbean, 14–15
- centre-periphery models, reproduction and, 302–305
- ceramic vessels. See also pottery Lower Mississippi Valley artifacts, 157
- ceremonial practice
 in contact-era New Guinea, 82–84 dominance establishment through, 91–92
 in non-state societies, 391
- Černych, E., 343–352
- Cerrillos mines
 Chaco canyon prosperity and, 266–268
 Chalchihuites exploitation of, 259–261
- Chaco Canyon site investigations at, 251–252 transport network in, 266–268
 Tula-Chicomostoc-Chaco connection and, 265–270

- Chacon, Richard J., 11–15, 53–70
 Chacon, Yamilette, 10–12, 53–70
 Chalchihuites Tradition, Turquoise Corridor and, 258–263
 chariots, in Nordic Bronze Age carvings, 113–114 charismatic figures, Lower Mississippi religious sodalities and, 147–151 charter myths
 in Cherokee culture, 161–162
 Lower Mississippi religious sodalities and, 155–156
 chemical turquoise, 276–279 Cherokee culture, ritual dances of, 161–162
 chert items, non-local artifacts in South Florida sites, 184
 Chibchan languages, Caribbean long-distance trade and, 369 Chichimec macroeconomy emergence of, 254–255
 Toltec interaction and, 263–270 Chickasaw culture, erosion of authority in, 149
 chiefdom societies Calusa culture and, 175–177
 in Caribbean, 361–362
 Irish hillfort chiefdoms, 230–247
 Lapita culture and, 211–212
 long-distance trade in, 10–13
 Lower Mississippi Valley, 145–151
 maritime institutions and, 62–65
 monopolization of long-distance travel by, 217 Nordic Bronze evidence for, 329
 pre-capitalist typologies and, 337
 prestige practices and, 218–219
 Childe, V. G., 219, 339–343
 Choctaw culture, social houses in, 149–150
 Chumash, Mojave trade with, 66n.4
 Cioclovina Cave, Mesopotamian glass in, 124–125
 Circum-Caribbean Tribes, classification of, 361–362 civilization, trade and, 386 class exploitation, pre-capitalist patterns of, 298, 337 climatic changes
 Funnel Beaker societies and, 24–25, 33–35
 Nordic Bronze Age metal trade and, 315
 Cobb, C., 405–410 coercive strategies, Nordic Bronze Age social organization and, 55–56, 69–70 collective action
 long-distance trade and, 7–11
 social signalling of, 83–84
 TRB-North Group hierarchies and, 28–30 collective burial tombs, TRB-North development and, 27–28 colonization
 Caribbean societies and, 361–362
 Lapita voyages as, 209–215, 220 local agency and, 6
 macroregional interaction in Mesoamerica-Ancestral Pueblo contact and, 256–258 prestige goods and influence of, 296–297
 colorant analysis in glass beads, south-north trading link research and, 119–125 commodity trading gift exchange vs., 294–295 Gregory's systems of, 295
 social hierarchies and power dynamics in, 401–407 common idea theory, long-distance exchange and, 342–343 comparative advantage non-state societies trade and, 388–390 primitive trade and, 3
 specialized regional production, in Nordic Bronze Age, 55–56 Tanum-Limfjord interaction and, 56–61 comparative approach elite political/ritual interactions and, 55–56
 in long-distance trade research, 8–9 competing trade relationships, Lower Mississippi Valley exchange and, 146–147, 153–154 Coneybury henge, 45–48 conflict management Calumet ceremony and, 159–162
 conspicuous performances as non-violent fighting, 90–91
 in contact-era New Guinea, 82–84
 New Guinean polities' emphasis on, 85–86, 88–91 congealed labour. See also labour exchange and mobilisation leadership management of, 95–96 prestige objects and practices as, 75–77, 92–95, 97–98 conquest, macroregional interaction in Mesoamerica-Ancestral Pueblo contact and, 256–258
 conspicuous construction
 affective responses to, 98
 in contact-era New Guinea, 83–84, 86–87
 fighting strength linked to, 95–96
 Lower Mississippi religious sodalities and, 147–151
 secret societies and, 401–405 strength signalling through, 89–90 war-like aspects of, 91
 conspicuous performance
 affective responses to, 98
 in contact-era New Guinea, 83–88
 as demonstration of fighting strength, 88–91
 fighting strength linked to, 95–96
 Lower Mississippi religious sodalities and, 147–151
 prestige value of, 98–100
 secret societies and, 401–405
 strength signalling in, 89–90
 war-like aspects of, 91
 constutalized approach, primitive trade research, 2–3, 8–9

- consumer sites, Durrington Walls as, 47–48 contextual analysis of communities, 5–6 cooking pits, in Bronze Age excavations, 59–60 cooperative strategies, Nordic Bronze Age social organization and, 55–56 Copan Temple 16, 273–275
 Copper Age, chronological revision of, 334–335 copper aluminum phosphate. See mineral turquoise copper extraction and metallurgy Caribbean gold-copper alloys, 370–371
 chalcopyritic ore development and, 323–325 chronological revision in development of, 340 control of trade routes and, 401–407
 in Irish Bronze Age, 231–237
 long-distance distribution of by TRB-North Group, 32
 in Lower Mississippi Valley, 158 mineral turquoise (copper aluminum phosphate), 253
 in Nordic Bronze Age, 110–114, 313–323
 social theory and, 14
 South Florida evidence of, 181–183
 Tanum-Limfjord interaction and transit of, 56–61 tin-bronze technology and, 231–232 TRB-North Group and appearance of, 31 copyright protection, for New Guinean prestige goods and practices, 93–94 Corded Ware culture, 313 artifacts from, 346–349
 Cordel, A. S., 188
 Cornwall, tin resources in, 231–232, 235–237, 326
 cremation rituals, henge formation as outgrowth of, 43–47
 cultural property, prestige goods as, 296–297 cultural turquoise, characteristics of, 276–278 cultural unification bronzization and, 310–311
 in Nordic Bronze Age, 320–323, 325–329
 Stonehenge megalith as monument of, 43–45 culture hero
 in Eastern North America, 147–150
 Lower Mississippi religious sodalities and,
 147–151, 153–154
 Curte, L. Antonio, 14–15, 361–379 daggers
 in Nordic Bronze Age sites, 113–114, 121–123
 in Tanum-Limfjord region, 56–61 in TRB-North societies, 35 Dalton, George, 4–5, 337–339
 Damon, F., 299–300
 decorative objects, in Nordic Bronze Age burials, 113–114
 delayed-return production, social storage and, 173–174 Denmark
 amber sources in, 115–116
 Bronze Age chiefdoms and, 243–244
 Deptford pottery, in South Florida sites, 186–188
 Dergačev, V. A., 347–350
 Derrycarhoon mine (Ireland), 235–237 design theory, prestige goods and, 405–410
 De Soto expedition, 158
 Dieskau site, 324–325 metal hoard at, 315–319 Di Peso, Charles, 251–252 distance curves of traded objects, Renfrew's research on, 5 dolomite items, in South Florida sites, 184 dominance economies and dominance goods, 76–77
 leadership in, 95–96
 non-state societies and, 391–392 prestige economies as, 91–92 reproduction and, 302–305
 revision of traditional concepts concerning, 336
 Dorsey, George, 148–149
 Double-Headed Serpent, 253 down-the-line trade and exchange models, Mesoamerican-Southwest region and, 252–253
 Dowris Phase (Late Bronze Age)
 hillfort construction during, 238–239
 Irish metallurgy during, 234–235 drinking gear, xenia (guest-friendship) and trade in, 131–132
 Druids, 404–405 dualism exchange value and, 299–302
 prestige goods and, 299–302
Dún Aonghasa hillfort, 241
 Dupre, G., 296–297
 Durrington Walls henge, 44–48 power structure at, 47–48
 Dusingberre, E. R. M., 218
 Dye, David H., 12, 142–145, 401–411
 Eagle Dance (Cherokee ritual), 161–162
 Earle, Timothy, 5, 9–10, 15, 210–212, 217–221, 243–244, 385–411
 Early Bronze Age
 amber trade routes during, 116–117
 chronological revision of, 334–335
 metals and entrepreneurship in, 309–330
 Early Iron Age, xenia (guest-friendship) in, 127 Early Neolithic age absence in Salisbury Plain of, 41–42 material culture in, 31
 Early Postclassic era, Turquoise Corridor and, 13
 Early State Module (ESM), distance curves of traded objects, 5
 Eastern North America–European contact
 Calumet ceremony and, 159–162
 long-distance exchange at, 142–145 economic decline, Stonehenge construction and, 46–47

- economic development
 in Middle Bronze Age Ireland, 237–239
 in non-state societies, 387–388
 ritual economy model and, 143–144
 TRB–North Group long-distance trade and, 30–32
- egalitarian societies revision of traditional concepts concerning, 336
 trade in, 10–11
- Egtved Girl, xenia (guest-friendship) and, 133–135
- Egypt
 glass beads as south-north trading link with, 119–125
 Nordic amber in, 119
- Ekhholm, Friedman, K., 13
- Eliade, M., 339–343
- elites
 Calumet ceremony and fictional kinship among, 159–162
 control of long-distance trade by, 12–13
 copper and salt trade in Lower Mississippi and, 158 long-distance trade in prestige goods and, 6–7, 395
 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange and, 145–147, 162–172
 political power consolidation by, 53–54 razor introduction and north-south social interaction among, 113–114 ritual economy and role of, 142–144
 South Florida long-distance trader-diplomats, 191–195
 Tanum/Bohuslän-Limfjord/Jutland comparisons of, 63–64, 68–70
- emergence festivals, strength signalling with, 90
- Engels, Friedrich, 4–5, 337–339
- entrepreneurship, Nordic Bronze Age and emergence of, 329–330
- environmental factors, in South Florida long-distance trade, 192–193
- Eogan, G., 232–235
- Epiclassic/Early Postclassic era
 Chalchihuites Tradition and Turquoise Corridor
 in, 258–263
 Teotihuacan resurgence in, 263–265
 Turquoise Corridor power dynamics and, 274–277
- Ericson, J., 5
- Eurasian exchange networks
 chronological revision concerning, 334–337
 in Millennium BCE, 14
- European contact
 Calumet ceremony and, 159–162
 Calusa culture and, 198–200
 Caribbean societies and, 361–362
 Eastern North America, 142–145 in Greater Antilles, 362–368
 Hawaiian domestication of exchange, 300–302 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange networks and, 151–159
 in New Guinea, 82–84, 86–88
 prestige goods and influence of, 296–297
- exchange networks ancient Lower Mississippi Valley system, 153–154
 in Caribbean societies, 364–368
 Lower Mississippi Valley, 145–147, 150–153
 Protohistoric era transformation of, 142–145 reciprocity and complexity in South Florida of, 191–195
 social evolution and, 10–11
 spatial organization of, in TRB–North Group, 33
 theory of value and, 13, 32, 292–305
- Exchange Systems in Prehistory* (Earle and Ericsson), 5
- exchange value construction of, 300–302
 gifts as, 13
 Marxist concept of, 299–300 of prestige practices, 220
 reproduction and, 292–305
 use/exchange value dialectic, 299–300
- ex oriente lux* model of technological innovation, 339–343
- extraversion exchange value and, 299–302
 prestige goods and, 299–302
- face-mask gorgets, 151–159
 in Cherokee culture, 161–162
 of Lightning Boy, 155–156
- fahlore copper mining and metallurgy, 231–232, 315–319
- fame, theory of value and, 290–292
The Fame of Gawa (Munn), 290–292
- Fash, B. W., 271–273
- Fash, W. L., 271–273
- Feast, Famine or Fighting: Multiple Pathways to Social Complexity* (Chacon and Mendoza), 263–265
- feathers
 in Calumet ceremony, 161
 in Calusa exchange networks, 193
 as Lapita prestige good, 210–211, 215–217
- female initiation rites, Yangoru Boiken culture, 87, 89
- fighting strength, New Guinean cultures' emphasis on, 88–91, 95–96
- fire-heated stones, boat building and presence of, 59–60
- fishing settlements
 Calusa culture and, 174–175
 early evidence in South Florida of, 177–178
- flint resources
 long-distance distribution of by TRB–North Group, 32
 Tanum-Limfjord interaction and evidence of, 56–61
- Florentine Codex, 276

- folding stools, in Nordic-Eastern Mediterranean exchange and, 110–114
- Fonseca, Z. O., 361–362
- food production and practices
 New Guinean ceremonies, 88–91
 prestige value of, 98–100, 399
- formalist approach
 primitive trade and, 4–5
 trade patterns in Millennium BCE, 337–339
- Formalist perspective, prestige goods and, 295–296
- Fort Center site
 shark teeth crafting at, 177–181
 whelk shell tool production in, 181
- Fortune, Reo, 145–147
- Frankenstein, S., 296–297
- free trade
 archaeological research and role of, 296 nineteenth-century views on, 337–339
- French Marxist anthropology. See also Marxist theory articulation and modes of reproduction, 302–305
 prestige goods and, 295–299
- Fried, M., 337
- Friedman, J., 13, 211–212, 216–217, 222–224
- Fuchstadt bowls, 240–241
- funerary rituals
 in non-state societies, 392–393
 reproduction and, 298
- Funnel Beaker societies agriculture in, 33–35 climatic changes and, 24–25
 long-distance trade and, 10, 24
 TRB-North group developmental stages and, 25–28
- fur trade
 conflict, violence and warfare and, 158–159
 European artifacts and goods exchange and, 156–157
 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange networks and, 151–153
 in Protohistoric period, 146–147
 South Florida long-distance trade for, 191–195
- Gainj culture, conspicuous performance in, 89–90
- galena artifacts, at South Florida sites, 183
- genetic admixture ancient DNA sequencing research on, 2–3 human mobility and, 1–2
 Near Oceanian-Lapita migrations and, 212–213
- geographic methods, archeological research and, 5
- Geurds, Alexander, 372–374
- gift exchange
 Calumet ceremony and, 159–162
 fighting strength linked to, 95–96
 in Lower Mississippi Valley, 145–147
 morality and, 13, 292–295
 in Nordic Bronze Age, 319–321
 Polanyi on, 4–5
 trade in goods and, 2–3
xenia (guest-friendship) and practice of, 125–130
- Gift systems, prestige goods and, 295
- Gilman, A., 244
- glass beads, Nordic-Eastern Mediterranean exchange and, 119–125
- Globular Amphorae, TRB-North development and appearance of, 28, 32–33
- Godelier, Maurice, 4–5, 337–339
- gold artifacts
 Bishhopsland Phase of Middle Bronze Age, 233–234
 in burial sites, 335–336
 Caribbean gold-copper alloys, 370–371
 Lost Wax (cire perdue) metallurgy, 276n.10
 in Nordic Bronze Age burials, 113–114
- Gombrich, Ernst, 98
- gorgets
 ancient Lower Mississippi Valley system and, 153–154
 Calusa South Florida trade in, 177–191
 Mississippi exchange networks and, 12, 145–147, 151–153
- Govedarica, Blagoje, 335–336
- Graeber, D., 290–291
- granite fragments and items, as non-local material in South Florida sites, 184
- Greater Antilles, ancient history of, 362–364
- Greater Aztatlan Trade Route, evolution of, 266–268
- Greater Southwest United States, West Mexican and Mesoamerican imports in, 252
- Great Serpent ritual items ancient Mississippi exchange networks, 153–154 face-masks, 154–159
- greenstone fragments and items
 Caribbean archaeology and, 361–362
 Isthmo-Colombian-Caribbean trade and, 371–372
 as non-local material in South Florida sites, 183–184 sourcing of materials in Caribbean and, 370–371
- Gregory, C. A., 295
- hafted stone bifaces, South Florida stone tools, 184, 194
- Haida culture, boat building in, 59–60n.1
- Hajdubözserménu buckets, 132–133
- Hajdúsámson-Apa metalwork, 328
- halinya* (strength), New Guinean concept of, 88–91
- Hansen, Svend, 14, 334–354
- Harding, A., 239–241
- Harrison, Simon, 93
- Haugheys fort, 240–241
- Hayden, Brian, 9–11, 15, 53–54, 62–65, 70, 92, 95–98, 218, 385–411
- Hayward, D., 7–11
- Helms, M., 300–302

- Helms, Mary, 6–7, 151, 299–302
- Hero Twins
 charter myths and, 155–156
 in Cherokee culture, 161–162
 face-mask gorgets of, 154–159 gorgets depicting, 153–154
 Mississippi exchange networks and, 147–153
 religious sodalities, long-distance exchange and, 154–159
- Hesselager burial site, glass beads found at, 121
- hide-processing, in Lower Mississippi Valley, 157–158
- hillfort structures Bronze Age trade in, 243–246
 control of long-distance trade by, 12–13
 emergence in Ireland of, 237–239
 Irish long-distance trade and, 244–245
 Irish mining and metallurgy correlation with, 245–246 trade and, 239–241 warfare and trade and, 241–243, 245–246
- historical linguistics, migration process and, 2–3
- Hodder, Ian, 255, 364–368
- Hofman, C. L., 371–372
- Hohokam culture
 Mesoamerican contact with, 253, 260–262
 Tula-Chicomostoc-Snaketown connections, 264
- Hoogland, M. L. P., 371–372
- Hoopes, J. W., 361–362
- horse domestication
 chronological revision concerning, 340
 in Nordic Bronze Age, 113–114, 328
- house and hut types, TRB-North Group developmental stages and, 25–28
- Howard, James, 148–149
- Huecooid peoples, 362–364 Caribbean exchange with, 376–377
- human lives perspective, long-distance trade and, 7–8
- hybridity, local agency and colonization and, 6
- Idealtypen*, pre-capitalist classifications and, 337
- Ilahita Arapesh culture, 85–86, 90–91, 98
- Iliad* (Homer), 127–128
- Illinois culture, 161
- imagined powers, prestige trade and, 14
- inalienable goods
 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange of, 145–147
 primitive trade and, 3
 ritual economy and, 142–144
- India, death and regeneration in, 298–299
- Indigenous boat guilds, 63–64
- indirect trade and exchange models, Mesoamerican-Southwest region and, 252
- individualism
 archeological research and, 6 in TRB-North Group social hierarchy, 29–30
- influence, macroregional interaction in Mesoamerica–Ancestral Pueblo contact and, 256–258
- inhumation graves glass beads in Romania from, 124–125
 in Lapita culture, 221–222
- interaction, macroregional interaction in Mesoamerica–Ancestral Pueblo contact and, 256–258
- Interior Southeastern Trade Network, 155
- intrusion, macroregional interaction in Mesoamerica–Ancestral Pueblo contact and, 256–258
- Ireland
 British influences in metallurgy of, 234–235
 Bronze Age chiefdoms in, 243–246 cultural context of metal circulation in, 237–239 demand for bronze in, 235–237
 hillfort construction in, 237–239
 hillfort warfare and trade in, 241–243 imported metals in, 235–237 long-distance trade and hillfort chiefdoms in, 244–245 metallurgy and mining in, 231–237, 245–246 settlement nucleation in, 237–239 trade and hillfort chiefdoms in, 239–241 warfare and trade in, 245–246
- Iroquoian communities, European artifacts and goods exchange and, 156–157
- isolationist perspective, on Mesoamerican artifacts, 252–253
- isotope analysis
 prehistory research using, 2–3
 Stonehenge megalith, 10
- Isthmo-Colombian culture area absence of Caribbean objects in, 375–377
 Caribbean long-distance trade and, 369
 Caribbean stylistic similarity to, 370 Greater Antilles contact with, 371–372
- Italy
 amber trade routes in, 116–117
- Izeki, Mutusumi, 271–273
- jade objects
 long-distance exchange evidence from, 342–343
 Turquoise Corridor power dynamics and, 273–275, 277–279
- Jenisovice cups
 in Irish hillforts, 240–241
xenia (guest-friendship) and, 131–132
- Jeunesse, Christian, 34–35
- Josephides, L., 290–292, 298
- Julier Pass (Switzerland), amber artifacts in, 117–118
- ka'au*, Sepik communities' concept of, 88–91
- Kaboibus Arapesh culture, 94–95
 conspicuous performances as non-violent warfare in, 90–91

- conspicuous rituals of, 85–86 prestige value in, 98–100
- Kabyle society (Africa), 298–299
- Kaul, Flemming, 11, 109–135, 298–299, 395–407
- K'awiil lightning* (Mayan deity), 273–274
- Keeley, L., 245–246
- Kersoufflet, metal hoard at, 350–352
- Keyes, Greg, 155–156
- Killymaddy phase (Middle Bronze Age), 237–239
- kingship
 in Calusa culture, 198–200
 in non-state societies, 392
- Kinich Ahau* elites, Turquoise Corridor and, 277–279
- K'inich Yax K'uk Mo'* (Mayan lord), 273–274
- kinship mode of production, 296–297
- Kirch, P. V., 211–212
- Kirkendrup/Øgemosen, Funen site, 132–133
- kitchen middens, TRB-North Group development and, 25–29
- knowledge structures
 in Lower Mississippi Valley, 145–147
 in Millennium BCE, 339–343
 South Florida long-distance trade and, 191–195
- Korenevskij, S., 343–352
- Krause, Rüdiger, 395
- Kristiansen, Kristian, 6–7, 11–15, 34–35, 126–127, 386, 395–407
- Kula exchanges
 Carpathian Basin-Scandinavian corridor and, 325–329
 Kula Ring, 77–82, 299–300
 as trade, 337–339
- labour exchange and mobilisation. See also congealed labour agriculture and, 65–68
 Lower Mississippi Valley control of, 145–147
 manning of boats, 69–70 prestige goods and practices and, 92–95, 296
 Stonehenge and, 10, 45–48
 theory of value and, 292–305
- land-based agro-pastoral sector, Nordic Bronze Age, 55–56
- Lapita culture
 archaeological history of, 209–215 bottlenecks in prestige exchange system, 217 demise of, 221–222
 diversification of, 220–221
 long-distance exchange in, 210, 222–224
 Neolithic European parallels with, 222–224 Pacific migration and, 394 pottery design system of, 213–214 prestige practices, 12
- La Quemada (Zacatecas) civic-ceremonial center, Mesoamerican interactions and, 264–270
- Larsson, T. B., 6–7, 126–127
- Late Bronze Age
 Dowris phase of, 234–235
 Irish metal consumption in, 235–237
 Mesopotamian glass in, 124–125
- Late Neolithic era
 British population decline and, 46–47
 Stonehenge and long-distance exchange in, 40–49
- Late Postclassic era, Texcoco-Paquimé-Cerrillos connection in, 268–271
- Laudonnière, René de, 188–191
- Lausitz arm spirals, xenia (guest-friendship) and, 132–133
- lead artifacts. See galena artifacts
- leadership concepts in dominance economy, 95–96
 Lower Mississippi religious sodalities and, 147–151
 in Nordic secret societies, 61–62
 political organization and, 96
 social signalling models and, 76–77
 xenia (guest-friendship) and, 127–128
- lead isotopes, in ancient metals, 2–3
- Levi-Strauss, Claude, 14
- life-cycle rituals, of Yangoru Boiken community, 84–88
- Lightning Boy (aka Thrown-Away), 147–153 Calumet ceremonies and, 161–162 charter myth of, 155–156 religious sodalities and long-distance exchange, 154–159
- Limfjord/Jutland region agro-pastoral production in, 56 interaction with Tanum/Bohuslän region, 56–61 long house construction in, Tanum/Bohuslän rock art in, 54
- lineage-based societies, prestige goods and, 296–297
- lineage mode of production, 302–305
- Linear B inscriptions xenia etymology and, 126–127
- Ling, Johan, 11–15, 53–70
- Lini, Walter (Father), 218–219
- livestock domestication
 in Lapita culture, 212
 in Millennium BCE, 340
 prestige economies and, 398–399
 Stonehenge megalith construction and, 10, 45–48
- local agency, colonization and, 6
- Lochhalsnadel* (gold dress pin), 113–114
- long-distance trade and exchange amber trading and, 114–119 Bronze Age secret societies and, 53–70 bronzization and changes in, 310–311
 Calusa culture and, 175–177
 Calusa social complexity and, 173

- long-distance trade and exchange (cont.)
 in Caribbean, 361–379
 Eastern North America–European contact, 142–145
 economic value of, 32
 Funnel Beaker phenomena and, 23
 Irish hillfort chiefdoms and, 244–245
 Lightning Boy religious sodalities and,
 154–159
 Lower Mississippi Valley networks of, 151–153 maritime institutions, 62–65
 in Middle Bronze Age, 109–135
 in Millennium BCE Eurasia, 14, 334–354
 in non-state societies, 388–390
 Nordic Bronze Age evidence of, 313–314 plant trading in South Florida and, 188–191 political economies and elite control of, 12–13 rise of social complexity and, 4–8 South Florida reciprocity and complexity in, 191–195
 specific institutions and agents in, 11–12
 Stonehenge and, 40–49
 TRB–North Group and, 30–33
 warfare and, 245–246
xenia (guest–friendship) as regulation of, 125–130
- long-yam exchanges, 85–86, 90–91
 prestige value in, 98–100
- lost-wax casting, 340, 350–352
- Lost Wax (cire perdue) metallurgy, 276n.10
- Lower Mississippi Valley ancient exchange system in, 153–154 conflict, violence and warfare over fur trade in, 158–159
 exchange networks in, 145–147, 151–153 hide-processing tool development in, 157–158 Lightning Boy religious sodalities and exchange
 in, 154–159
 political and social practices in, 162–172
- low-impact foreign intrusions
 macroregional interaction in Mesoamerica– Ancestral Pueblo contact as, 258
 Mesoamerican elites research and, 251–252
- Lucido, J. A., 273–274
- lumohrie* performance, 86–87
- macroeconomy, in Ancestral Pueblo–Mesoamerican contacts, 254–255
- macro-regional exchange
 Isthmo-Colombian–Caribbean trade and, 371–372
 theoretical approaches to, 13–15
- Madagascar, living megalith tradition in, 42
- Mae Enga culture, sanggai seclusion ritual in, 90
- Maikop grave site, 335–336, 343–352
- Malanggan masks, 219
- male initiation rituals, in New Guinea, 87–89
- Malinowski, B., 4
- Manambu culture, strength concepts in, 88–91
- marine shell crafting. See also gorgets Calusa inter-regional trade and, 193
 in Eastern North America, 147–150
 in Lapita culture, 215–217
 Lower Mississippi Valley control of, 145–147
 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange networks and, 151–153
 Mississippian-period sites, 179
 New Guinea prestige goods from, 75–77, 79–82, 85–86, 97–98
 in South Florida sites, 177–181
 theory of value and, 290–292
 tool production, 181
- Maring culture (New Guinea), 98
- maritime polities
 Bronze Age formation of, 8–11 economy in, 388
 long-distance exchange, secret societies and rock art, 62–65
 Nordic Bronze Age explorations and, 311–313
 secret societies and, 401–405
- market systems, gift exchange vs., 4–5, 337–339
- Marquardt, William, 12, 173
- Marquette (Father), 161
- marriage alliances, xenia (guest–friendship) and, 133–134
- Marx, Karl, 4–5, 337–339
- Marxist theory. See also French Marxist
 anthropology
 exchange and value, 292–305 extraversion, dualism and accumulation in, 299–302
 local agency and colonization and, 6 macro-regional exchange and, 13–15 modes of production, social evolution and comparative advantage, 7–11, 291–292
 pre-capitalist classifications in, 296, 337 prestige goods and French Marxist anthropology, 295–299
 social complexity and long-distance exchange in, 14
- masculinity, strength in New Guinean culture linked to, 88–91
- material culture
 in contact-era New Guinea, 83–84
 Lapita prestige goods and, 220 migration and mobility and movement of, 1–2 reproductive work and prestige goods in, 296
 ritual economy and, 142–144
 TRB–North Group and, 31
- materials analysis, characterization and source data, 5
- Matthias, W., 346–349
- Mauss, M., 292–305
 on embedding of moral and economic relations, 292–295
 fighting strength linked to gift exchange, 95–96 on gift exchange, 13, 95–96, 292–305

- on long-distance exchange and social complexity, 4, 14
 - on non-state societies and prestige gifts, 390–393
 - theory of value and gift exchange, 13, 292–305
 - on trade as gift exchange, 337–339
- Maya polities, Teotihuacan interaction with, 273–275
- Mead, M., 77–78
- medicine societies
 - charter myths and, 155–156
 - Cherokee Eagle Dance and, 161–162
 - Lightning Boy honored in, 151–153
 - Lower Mississippi Valley emergence of, 147–151
 - marine shell gorgets adopted by, 151–153
- Mediterranean area
 - amber trading in, 115–116, 118–119
 - glass beads as south-north trading link, 119–125
 - Nordic Bronze Age trading with, 110–114
- megalith construction
 - as Funnel Beaker phenomena, 23–24
 - social structure and, 34–35
 - Stonehenge and long-distance exchange, 40–49
 - TRB-North development of, 27–29
- Meggitt, M., 96
- Meillasoux, C., 13, 296–299, 302–305
- Melanesian ethnography
 - Near Oceanian-Lapita migrations and, 212–213
 - theory of value and, 290
- Melanesianisation of cultures, 221–222
- Melby, North Zealand burial mound, glass beads from, 123
- Mendoza, Rubén G, 13, 277–281
- Menéndez de Avilés, Pedro, 198–200
- Mesoamerica. See also Central/South America
 - emergence of polities in, 259–261
 - macroregional interaction in Ancestral Pueblo contact with, 256–258
 - mutualism and macroeconomy in Ancestral Pueblo-Mesoamerican contacts, 254–255
 - Postclassic period in, 254–255
 - research on elites in, 251–252
 - turquoise and related mineral distribution in, 252
 - Turquoise Corridor and, 13
- Mesolithic Late Ertebølle communities
 - bad years and open networks in, 28–30
 - chronological redating of, 336
 - climatic change impact on, 24–25
 - long-distance trade and, 30–33
- Mesopotamian glass, south-north trading link with, 121–125
- metals and metallurgy
 - chronology revision of technology evolution of, 340
 - cultural context in Ireland of, 237–239
 - Early Bronze Age entrepreneurship and, 309–330
 - European-Irish knowledge transfer about, 234
 - hillfort chiefdoms control of trade in, 12–13
 - hoarding of, 14, 343–352
 - intermediate Nordic Bronze Age history of, 323–325
 - Ireland Bronze Age supply patterns, 231–235
 - lead isotope analysis of, 2–3
 - Limfjord/Jutland distribution of, 56–61
 - long-distance trade and exchange in Nordic Bronze Age of, 313–323
 - Lost Wax (à la perdue) metallurgy, 276n.10
 - macro-regional trade in, 14
 - Nordic Bronze Age consolidation, connectivity and friction and, 313–323
 - Nordic entrepreneurship and, 329–330
 - recycling of metals in, 235–237, 319–321, 340
 - in Roscommon Phase, 234–235
 - South Florida artifacts, 181–183
- Miami Circle site, stone materials at, 186
- Middle Bronze Age
 - amber artifacts from, 114–119
 - Bishopsland Phase of, 233–234
 - Irish metal production in, 232
 - Killymaddy phase of, 232
 - long-distance exchange in, 109–135
 - Mesopotamian glass in, 124–125
 - Roscommon Phase of, 234–235
- Middle Classic era
 - Chalchihuites Tradition and Turquoise Corridor in, 258–263
 - power dynamics in, 273–275
 - Turquoise Corridor and, 13
- Middle Neolithic era
 - British population decline and, 46–47
 - ceramic styles and monumentalization in, 43–45
 - henge complexes in, 42–44
- Middle Sepik region, New Guinea trade and exchange and, 77–82
- migration
 - Caribbean long-distance trade and, 368–371
 - demographic expansion and, 1–2
 - in Lapita culture, 211–212
 - macroregional interaction in Mesoamerica-Ancestral Pueblo contact and, 256–258
- military force
 - congealed labor as, 95–96
 - Irish hillfort construction and, 237–239
 - medicine societies alliance with chiefly militias, 151–153
 - New Guinean ceremonial displays as signals of, 82–84, 90–92
 - Tolteca-Chichimeca militarization, 266–268
- Millennium BCE
 - amber trade in, 116–117
 - copper metallurgy in, 231–235
 - knowledge transfer in, 339–343
 - long-distance exchange and, 343–352
 - metallurgical consolidation in, 313–323

- Millennium BCE (cont.)
 metallurgy and wheel adoption in, 46–47 in North Wales, 43–45 social networks in, 352–354 Stonehenge origins and, 41–42 trade development in, 337–339
- Mills, B. J., 143–144
- Mimbres culture
 Mesoamericanization of, 266–268
 Texcoco-Paquimé-Cerrillos connection in, 268–271
- mineral turquoise, mining and exchange of, 253
- Minoan region, Nordic Bronze Age trading with, 110–114, 117–118
- Mississippian period. See also Lower Mississippi Valley Calusa social complexity and trade during, 173–174 elites' rituals and power during, 158
 exchange networks in, 151–153
 marine shell crafting during, 193 religious sodalities and social houses in, 147–151
- mobility, demographic expansion and, 1–2
- modes of production, Marxist theory and, 7–11, 291–292, 295–296
- modes of trade, typology for, 5
- 'Modes of trade and their spatial implications' (Renfrew), 5
- Mojave tribe, long-distance trade by, 66n.4
- Monkodon site, amber artifacts from, 117–118
- monumentalisation
 Funnel Beaker phenomena and, 23–24
 in Mesolithic period, 41–42
 Middle and Late Neolithic Britain and, 46–47
 in Nordic Bronze Age, 320–323
 TRB-North Group developmental stages and, 25–28
- moral values, economic relations and, 291–295
- mosaic technologies, Turquoise Corridor interactions and, 258–263
- Mountain Arapesh, 93–94
- Mount Gabriel production system, tin-bronze production and, 231–232, 235–237
- Mount Royal site
 marine shell artifacts at, 193 metal artifacts in, 181–183
- movable goods circumstances and contexts for, 2–3 types of trade and trade interest, 4–5
- Müller, Johannes, 10, 23
- Müller, Sophus, 114–115, 127
- multi-scalar approaches, long-distance trade and, 7–8
- Munn, Nancy, 290–292
- Murie, James, 148–149
- Murik culture, Sepik trade and, 77–82
- mutualism, in Ancestral Pueblo-Mesoamerican contacts, 254–255
- Mycenaean-European contact amber artifacts as evidence of, 117–118
 Nordic Bronze age trading and, 328
- Naga culture (Northeast India), 34–35
- Nairne, Thomas, 149
- Nelson, Ben A., 265–270
- Neolithic Age
 chronological revision of, 334–337
 European-Lapita parallels in, 222–224
 Lapita culture in, 209–215
 long-distance exchange and, 342–343
 metals hoarding in, 14
 New Guinea trade and exchange and, 77–82 technology innovations in, 339–340
- Neolithic Linear Pottery, 336
- neolithization processes, Funnel Beaker phenomena and, 23–24
- New Archaeology, 361–362, 368–371
- New Fire Ceremony, 13
 power dynamics and, 273–275, 277–279
 Tula-Chicomostoc-Snaketown connections and, 263–265 xihuilit and, 277–279
- New Guinea. See also Remote Oceania ceremony, strength, and fighting with food practices in, 88–91 conflict management, social signalling and ceremonial practice, 82–84 dominance economy in, 92–95 gender relations in, 298 object-practice equivalence of prestige goods and practices in, 92–95 prestige economy in, 75–100 prestige valuables in, 97–98 Sepik region trade and exchange, 77–82 social signalling in Yangoru Boiken culture, 84–88 supply and demand in prestige economies of, 98–100
- New Guinea Bird of Paradise feathers, 215–217
- Newsom, L. A., 188–191
- non-local rocks, minerals and stones
 hafted bifaces, South Florida stone tools, 184
 at South Florida sites, 183–186
 at Stonehenge site, 40–49
- non-material cultural forms, prestige economies and, 76–77, 79–82
- non-state societies
 in Caribbean, 364–368
 demand for prestige goods in, 390–393 economy of, 387–388
 trade in, 337–339, 386–401
 transport mechanisms and technology in, 395–407 trans-regional trade in, 388–390

- Nordic Bronze Age
 amber trade during, 114–119
 Central Europe trade routes linked to, 126 entrepreneurship and change in, 329–330 folding stools, razors and chariots in, 110–114
 glass beads as south-north trading link, 119–125
 hoarding sites from, 314–319, 323–325 intermediate history of, 323–325 intra and extra travel and exchange during, 235–237, 319–321
 labor exchange and mobilisation during, 65–68 land-based agro-pastoral and sea-based boatvoyaging sectors in, 55–56 lead isotope analysis of ancient metals from, 2–3 livestock trade and, 398–399
 macro-regional trade in, 14, 309–310
 maritime-led explorations during, 311–313 maritime polities formation during, 10–11 metallurgical consolidation, connectivity and friction during, 313–323
 metals and entrepreneurship in, 309–330
 rock art in, 64–65
 secret societies and, 401–405
 social change during, 325–329 transformation of in-migrated objects during, 325 traveling cultures of, 319–321, 325–329
xenia (guest-friendship) during, 130–133
 Nuer sacrifice, 295–297
- Oberg, K., 361–362 object-practice equivalence, in New Guinea prestige economies, 92–95 O'Brien, William, 12–13, 230–247
 obsidian body tattooing or scarification, 219 Lapita pottery from, 216–217 ochre, in burial sites, 335–336 octagonal hilted swords, xenia (guest-friendship) and appearance of, 130–133 Odyssey (Homer), 126–128
 Ølby burial site, glass beads found at, 121–123
 Oliver, José R., 14–15, 361–379
 Omaha social theory, elite power and, 145–147
 open networks, TRB-North Group and, 28–30 Orkney islands, Stonehenge megalith linked to, 44–45
 Ornamet Horizon/Taunton industry Irish metallurgy and, 232–233
 knowledge transfer in, 234
 Ösenringe, 319–321
 Otto Sharpe site, European artifacts and goods at, 157 Ötztaler Alps mummy, 334–335
 oxidised mineralization, copper production and, 235–237
palafitti settlements, amber artifacts in, 116–117 Paleolithic era, long-distance exchange in, 342–343 pan-tribal sodalities, 401–405
Paquimé site, investigations at, 268–271
 Parker Pearson, Mike, 10, 40–49, 398
 Parry, J., 298–299
 passage tombs, henge formation as outgrowth of, 43–45
 personhood, pre-capitalist concepts of, 298, 337
 Peterson, H., 59–60
 Pétrequin, P., 397 pig-exchange ceremonies, 85–86
 prestige value in, 98–100
 Pile site (Scania)
 long-distance trade and exchange evidence at, 313–314
 maritime-led explorations from, 311–313 tools and ceremonial artifacts at, 314–319
 Pine Island Canal, 196–197
 Calusa intra-regional trade and, 194–195
 Pine Island Sound, marine shell density and abundance in, 177–178 Pi-Ramesse site, Nordic amber in, 119 plant cultivation
 Calusa inter-regional trade evidence of, 193
 Caribbean long-distance trade and, 369–370
 in Millennium BCE, 341–342
 at South Florida sites, 188–191
 plummets, as non-local items in South Florida sites, 183, 186
 Pohl, John, 254–255
 Polanyi, Karl, 4–5, 292–305, 337–339, 342–343, 364–368, 387–388
 Polish burial sites
 glass beads found at, 121
 Mesopotamian glass in, 124–125
 political economies and politics Bronze Age chiefdoms, 243–246
 elite control of long-distance exchange, 12–13
 Eurasian development in context of, 337
 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange and, 145–147
 non-state societies, 387–388 political technical organization of trade, 4–5 primitive trade research and, 4–6 ritual economy interaction with, 55–56, 145–147
 social complexity and, 9
 South Florida long-distance trade and, 192–193
 Turquoise Corridor, 271–273
xenia (guest-friendship) and, 129–130
 Political Organized Chiefdoms classification, 361–362
 polygonal hammer axes, 31
 Ponce de León, Juan, 198–200
 Pontic-Steppes region, Nordic Bronze Age trade and, 328
 population movement in Limfjord/Jutland region and Tanum/Bohuslän regions, 60–61

- population movement (cont.)
 Middle and Late Neolithic Britain and, 46–47
 social complexity and, 397
 Texcoco-Paquimé-Cerrillos connection in, 268–271
 Toltecca-Chichimeca population diversity, 265–270
 TRB-North development and, 27–28
- post-colonial era
 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange networks and, 151–153
 macro-regional exchange and, 13–15
- post-colonial theory, 6
- post-processual archaeology, prestige goods and, 399–401
- post-processual archeological theory, 5–6
- pottery. See also ceramic vessels
 Calusa intra-regional trade and, 194–195
 diversification of Lapita style, 220–221
 Lapita anthropomorphic designs in, 219–220
 Lapita culture and production of, 213–217
 long-distance exchange evidence from, 342–343
 long-distance Lapita exchange of, 222–224
 New Guinea prestige goods trade and, 80
 in South Florida sites, 183, 186–188
- Powell, E. A., 258–259
- power dynamics
 by Bronze Age elites, 53–54
 Calusa consensual power structure and, 197–198
 design theory of prestige goods and, 405–410
 exchange value and, 300–302
 Lower Mississippi chiefly power, 145–147
 Lower Mississippi religious sodalities and, 147–151
 macroregional interaction in Mesoamerica–Ancestral Pueblo contact and, 256–258
 Middle and Late Neolithic Britain and, 46–47
 prestige goods and, 296–297
 ritual economy and, 143
 secret societies and, 401–405
 social hierarchy and, 401–407 surplus production and, 150–151
 in Turquoise Corridor, 273–275
- pre-capitalist class exploitation, prestige goods and, 298, 337
- Prehistoric Archaeology, chronological revision in, 334–337
- prestige economies
 as dominance economy, 91–92 egalitarian to trans-egalitarian transition and, 11 elite control of long-distance trade and, 12
 long-distance trade and, 6–7 maintenance of prestige value, 98–100 political economies and social complexity and, 9 social complexity and, 397
 social networks and, 13 supply and demand in, 98–100 trade and exchange and, 75–100
 in Turquoise Corridor, 13
- prestige goods
 affective responses to, 97–98
 concentrations of, 398 congealed labor and production of, 97–98 contact-era New Guinea production of, 75–77, 79–82, 85–86 design theory and, 405–410 extraversion, dualism and accumulation, 299–302 French Marxist anthropology and, 295–299 institutional context for use of, 401–411
 Lapita exchange of, 215–217 Neolithic-era exchange of, 40–41
 in New Guinea, 92–95
 non-state societies and trade of, 388–393 quality issues with, 97–98
 South Florida long-distance trade in, 188–191 supply and demand and value of, 98–100
xenia (guest-friendship) and, 127, 130–133
- prestige practices
 in Lapita culture, 224
 in New Guinea, 92–95, 98
 performance of, 220–221 value of, 220
- primitive trade
 formalist perspective on, 4–5 reinterpretation and recontextualization of, 2–3 substantivist perspective on, 4–5
- profit, primitive trade and concepts of, 2–3
- property rights, TRB-North development and, 27–28
- prosperity rites, of Yangoru Boiken community, 84–88
- Protohistoric period fur trade in, 146–147
 Lower Mississippi Valley in, 145–147
 Mississippian exchange networks and, 12
- Proto-Malayo-Polynesian language, 214
- Proto-Oceanic Austronesian language, Lapita culture and spread of, 212, 214
- Puebloan tribe, Mojave trade with, 66n.4
- Pyramid of the Sun (Teotihuacan culture), 273–275
- Qatna Lion, Nordic amber in, 119
- quarry clusters, in South Florida sites, 184
- quartz and quartzite fragments and items, as non-local material in South Florida sites, 183
- Quirigua, 274–277
- Raftery, B., 237–239
- Rathgall hillfort, 238–240
- Rathnagree hillfort, 238
- rattlesnake gorget, 153–154
- razors
 Aegean-Nordic exchange and, 110–114
xenia (guest-friendship) and appearance of, 130

- reciprocity gift exchange and, 337–339 hierarchy and balance in TRB-North Group and, 28–29
 Mauss on, 292–295
 in megalith cultures, 40–41
 social complexity and, 173–174
 South Florida long-distance trade and, 191–195
- religious sodalities Lightning Boy sodalities, 154–159 limited lifespan of, 149
 Lower Mississippi social houses and, 147–151
 in Lower Mississippi Valley, 145–147, 162–172
 prestige goods and, 400–401
 reproduction and regeneration and, 302
 ritual economy model and, 143–144
- Remedello culture, 334–335
- Remote Oceania, Lipita culture and, 209–215
- Renfrew, Colin, 5, 364–368
- reproduction articulation and modes of, 302–305
 prestige goods and, 296, 298
- resource extraction
 in Calusa culture, 175–177
 elite control of, 53–54
 non-state societies economy and, 388
 Stonehenge and, 45–48
 Turquoise Corridor power dynamics and, 274–277
- Rey, P.-P., 296–297, 302–305
- Rezepkin, A., 346–349
- Ricardo, D., 3, 296, 388–390
- Riley, Carroll, 260–262
- ritual economy model. See also social signalling theory
 Lower Mississippi social houses and, 147–151
 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange and, 145–147, 162–172
 political economy in Eastern North America and, 142–144
 Turquoise Corridor and, 271–273
- ritual items
 Calumet ceremony and, 159–162
 in Calusa culture, 200
 fur trade and European influence on, 157–158
 Lipita prestige practices and, 218–219
 Lightning Boy religious sodalities, 154–159 long-distance signals in, 32–33
 Lower Mississippi Valley elite control of, 146–147
 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange of, 151–153
 TRB-North Group long-distance trade and, 31–32
 turquoise objects, 259–261
- ritualized fighting, in contact-era New Guinea, 82–84
- ritual places
 secret societies and, 401–405
 TRB-North Group developmental stages and, 25–28
- rock art
 chariots in Nordic Bronze Age carvings, 113–114
 crewed ships in, 69–70
 elite political/ritual interactions and, 53–54 maritime exploration evidence from, 311–313
 maritime institutions, 62–65
 as pilgrimages and religious shrines, 63–64 at remote sites, 64–65 secret societies' creation of, 11–12 slavery depicted in, 65–68 Supra Regional Interaction Hypothesis and, 53–70
- rocks and minerals, non-local materials in South Florida, 183–186
- Rodríguez Ramos, R., 369–370
- Romania, Mesopotamian glass in, 124–125
- Rørby scimitar, ship carving on, 311–313
- Roscoe, Paul, 11, 75–100, 296–297, 397
- Roscommon Phase (Late Bronze Age)
 hillfort construction in, 238
 hillfort warfare and trade in, 241–243
 metalworking during, 234–235
- Ross Island (Ireland), copper metallurgy at, 231–235
- Rovereto site, octagonal hilted sword at, 130–131
- Rowlands, Michael, 13, 289–306 sacrificial hoards, 294 moral and economic embedding in research on, 292–295
 Nordic Bronze Age sites, 314–319
- Sahlins, Marshall, 3–5, 34–35, 95–96, 300
 Big-man concept of, 96
- Saladoid peoples, 362–364
- salt trade, in Lower Mississippi Valley, 158
- Sandarupa, S., 392–393
- sarsen formation, Stonehenge megalith, 44–45
- Scandinavian Bronze Age. See Nordic Bronze Age
- Scarry, C. M., 188–191
- Schaafsma, P., 260–262
- sea-based boat-voyaging sector, Scandinavian Bronze Age, 55–56
- secret societies
 long-distance trade and, 8–12
 maritime institutions, 62–65
 Mississippian exchange networks and, 12
 Nordic Bronze Age long-distance exchange and, 53–70
 political power consolidation by, 53–54
 prestige goods and, 401–405
 sediment analyses, climatic change and, 24–25
 Sé Girdan grave site, 343–352

- Sepik trade network (Indonesia)
 Murik culture and, 77–82 social signalling in, 84–88
- Service, E. R., 244, 337
- shale fragments and items, as non-local material in South Florida sites, 184
- sharing, TRB-North development and, 29
- shark teeth
 in South Florida sites, 181
 as tools, 188–191
- similarity trap, Caribbean artifacts analysis, 372–374
- Simon's Mose site (East Jutland, Denmark) ankle ring from, 132–133 drinking gear found at, 131–132
- Simris rock panel site, axes from, 324–325
- Single Grave societies, TRB-North development and appearance of, 28–29
- Skagerrak archives, climatic change impact on trade
 and, 24–25
- slate items, as non-local material in South Florida sites, 184
- slavery
 Calusa knowledge of, 198–200
 chronological revision concerning, 336
 elite control of, 53–54
 Nordic Bronze Age and, 65–68
- Smith, Adam, 4–5
- Smith, M. A., 234
- Smyth, Michael, 251–252, 256–258, 261–263
- soapstone fragments and items, as non-local material
 in South Florida sites, 183
- social anthropology, long-distance exchange and social complexity in, 4
- Social Archaeology, 368–371
- social complexity
 in Calusa culture, 173
 control over trade and, 397
 elite political/ritual interactions and, 55–56 exchange and, 10–11 long-distance exchange and evolution of, 4–8, 14
 political economies and, 9, 15
 South Florida reciprocity and trade, 191–195
- social hierarchies. See also dominance economies and dominance goods Calusa culture and, 174–175
 collective action and, 7–11
 Lower Mississippi Valley elite control of, 146–151
 Nordic Bronze Age long-distance exchange and, 322–323, 329
 power dynamics and, 401–407
 prestige economies and, 11
 social signalling in contact-era New Guinea and, 83–84, 87–88
 TRB-North Group and, 28–30
- social houses, Lower Mississippi Valley hierarchy and, 147–151, 162–172
- The Social Life of Things* (Appadurai), 290–292
- social networks
 in Millennium BCE, 352–354
 in Nordic Bronze Age, 320–323
 prestige goods and, 13
 ritual economy model and, 143–144
xenia (guest-friendship) and, 125–130
- social signalling theory aggrandizers in, 95–96 ceremony, strength, and fighting with food practices and, 88–91
 in contact-era New Guinea, 82–84
 Indonesian southern foothills, 84–88 prestige economies and, 11, 75–77
 prestige goods and practices and, 92–95 prestige valuables and, 97–98
- social storage perspective, hierarchy and, 173–174
- social theory, long-distance exchange and, 14
- social values, TRB-North development and, 27–28
- South Appalachian cultures copper and salt exchange in, 158 copper artifacts in South Florida from, 181–183
 gorgets in, 153–154
 marine shell gorgets in, 155 rocks and minerals in South Florida from, 183–186
 social houses in, 149–150
 South Florida long-distance trade with, 191–195
- South Florida cultures. See also Calusa culture Calusa trade networks in, 177–191
 marine shell crafting in, 177–181
 metals found in, 181–183 non-local rocks and minerals in, 183–186 plant remains of, 188–191
 pottery artifacts from, 186–188
 reciprocity and complexity in trade among, 191–195
 shark teeth crafting in, 177–181
 trade and social complexity in, 195–200
- South Wahgi culture, 88–91 conspicuous performance in, 89–90
- Søvigård, Northwest Jutland burial site, glass beads from, 123–124
- spatial organization of barter and exchange, in TRB-North Group, 33
- specialized regional production, in Nordic Bronze Age, 55–56
- spheres of exchange, use/exchange value dialectic, 299–300
- Spirit Dance ritual, 160–161
- Spiro site, marine shell distribution in, 179
- Spriggs, Matthew, 12, 92, 296–297, 392, 395–407
- state institutions non-state peripheries and, 337–339
xenia (guest-friendship) and, 129–130
- stateless societies. See non-state societies
- Steward, J. H., 361–362
- Stone Age Economics* (Sahlins), 3

- Stonehenge megalith economic decline, political centralization and insularity, 46–47 labour mobilization and resource acquisition and, 45–48
 long-distance exchange and, 40–49
 non-Welsh influences on, 44–45 Nordic Bronze Age parallels with, 324–325 origins of, 41–42 pilgrimage theory on use of, 48–49 power structure of, 47–48
 trade and exchange and, 10
 as unification monument, 43–45
 Welsh bluestones transport, 42–44
- Storm Deity, Turquoise Corridor power dynamics and, 273–275
- Strathern, M., 290–292, 298
- striking-the-post ritual, Calumet ceremony and, 159–162
- strontium isotopic analysis
 Durrington Walls deposits, 44–45
 Egtved Girl and, 133–135 migration from Wales evidence from, 42–44 prehistoric migration patterns and, 2–3 structure-agency recursion, leadership and, 95–96
- Stukeley, William, 48–49
- stylistic similarity, Caribbean cultivation and, 370
- substantivist approach
 non-state societies economy and, 387–388
 primitive trade and, 4–5
 trade patterns in Millennium BCE, 337–339
- substantivist perspective, prestige goods and, 295–296
- supernatural forces megalith construction and, 48–49, 63 metal hoarding and appropriation of, 14 secret societies connection to, 62–65
Tamboran cult rituals and, 85
- supply and demand
 Ireland Bronze Age metal supply patterns, 231–235
 Lower Mississippi Valley control of, 145–147
 New Guinea prestige economies and, 98–100
- Supra Regional Interaction Hypothesis, 10–11 metal exchange and, 14 Nordic Bronze Age economy and, 61–62, 68–70 rock art and, 53–70
- surplus production
 design theory of prestige goods and, 405–410
 power consolidation and, 150–151
- sword exchange
 Ballintober type weapons, 232–233
xenia (guest-friendship) and appearance of, 130–133
- symbolic capital, prestige goods and, 296–297
- Syria, Nordic amber found in, 119
- Szczecin-Śmierdnica site, metal hoard at, 350–352
- Tamboran* cult complex, 84–88
- Tamlaght hoard, 240–241
- Tanum/Bohuslän region agro-pastoral sector expansion in, 58–59 boat building evidence in, 59–61 forest resources in, 56 interaction with Limfjord/Jutland region, 56–61, 68–70
 rock art in, 54
- Taube, K. A., 260–262
- technological advancement
 in Caribbean, 370–371
 chronological revision concerning, 339–343
 maritime-led explorations in Nordic Bronze Age and, 311–313 transport technology, 395
- TRB-North Group developmental stages and, 25–28, 33–35
 TRB-North Group long-distance trade and, 30–31
- Teotihuacan polities
 Chalchihuites Tradition and, 258–263
 Epiclassic Teotihuacan resurgence and, 263–265
 Mayans and, 273–275
 Mesoamerican contact in context of, 255 Middle Classic destruction of Tollan Teotihuacan, 261–263 polarization of, 274–277
 power dynamics in, 273–275
- Terray, E., 296–298
- Testarte, A., 336
- Texcoco-Paquimé-Cerrillos connection, Turquoise Corridor, 268–271
- Thera eruption
 Bronze Age dating and, 112–113
 Nordic Bronze Age effects of, 323–325
- Thunderbird masks
 in Cherokee culture, 161–162
 Mississippian period, 179–181
- Thunder Boy, charter myth of, 155–156
- Thunderers, in Cherokee culture, 161–162
- Thun-Renzenbühl site, 324–325
- Thy/Limfjord region, coercive polity of, 68–70
- timber trade, Tanum-Limfjord transactions, 58–59
- Timuca culture, social houses in, 149–150
- tin-bronze production
 Anglo-Irish axe-heads, 315–319 growth of, 235–237
 in Nordic Bronze Age, 323–325
 trade network development and, 231–232
- Tlingit maritime society, slavery in, 66n.3
- Tocobaga polity
 Calusa intra-regional trade with, 194–195 climatic change and prosperity if, 196–197
 marine shell crafting in, 179
- Tokovinine, A., 271–273
- Tolteca-Chichimeca connections,
 Tula-Chicomostoc-Chaco connection and, 265–270

- tool artifacts
 chert hoe, in South Florida site, 186
 hafted bifaces, South Florida stone tools, 184, 194
 Irish Middle Bronze Age metal production and, 232 Lapita tools as prestige goods, 217 long-distance tool exchange and, 40–41
 Lower Mississippi Valley hide-processing tools, 157–158
 at Maikop grave site, 343–352
 in Maikop site, 335–336
 Mesoamerican production of, 261–263 Nordic Bronze Age metal items, 314–319 stone materials at South Florida sites, 186 TRB-North development and appearance of,
 32–33
 TRB-North Group long-distance trade and, 31–32
 whelk shells in South Florida sites used for, 181
- top-down models, long-distance exchange and social complexity, 3
- trace element analysis, glass beads as south-north trading link and, 119–125
- trade
 in Caribbean societies, 364–368
 hillforts and, 239–241
 in non-state societies, 337–339, 386–401
 warfare and, 3, 6–7
Trade and Civilization (Kristiansen), 7–8
 trade patterns, in Millennium BCE, 337–339 ‘Traders and trade’ (Polanyi), 4–5 transegalitarian societies
 in Eastern North America, 401 prestige practices in, 220–221
 trade in, 10–11, 385–386 transmission acquisition/fidelity, Caribbean artifacts analysis, 372–374 transportation routes and methods, 4–5 trans regional networks, elite establishment of, 53–54 traveling cultures (Nordic Bronze Age), 319–321, 325–329
 secret societies and, 401–405
- TRB-North Group
 boom and social competition in, 29 developmental stages for, 25–28 egalitarianism in, 34–35 foreign influences in, 32–33 Funnel Beaker phenomena, 23–24 hierarchy and balance in, 28–30 individualization in, 29–30
 long-distance trade and, 30–33
 sharing in, 29
- Trifonov, V., 343–352
 Trigger, B., 218
 Trombold, Charles, 265–270
 Tropical Forest Tribes, 361–362
 Tula-Chicomostoc-Chaco connection, Turquoise Corridor and, 265–270
 Tula-Chicomostoc-Snaketown Connection,
 Turquoise Corridor and, 263–265
 Tunica culture, salt trade in, 158
 Tunica Thunder myth, 155–156
 Turquoise Corridor, 277–281
 Alta Vista-Snaketown Connection, 258–263 cultural vs. chemical turquoise in, 276–279 definition of, 252n.1
 macroregional interaction in, 256–258 mutualism and macroeconomy in, 254–255 political economy vs. agency approaches in research on, 271–273 prestige trading in, 13
 Texcoco-Paquimé-Cerrillos connection, 268–271
 Tula-Chicomostoc-Chaco connection, 265–270
 Tula-Chicomostoc-Snaketown Connection, 263–265
xilhuil framework, 277–279
- Tutankhamen, tomb of, Nordic amber in, 119
 Tuzin, Donald, 91, 98
- Uluburun shipwreck glass ingots from, 120–121
 Nordic amber in, 119
- Únětice culture breakdown of, 323–325
 Nordic Bronze Age trade and exchange with, 315–319
- Upchurch, S. B., 184
 Upper Tor region (New Guinea), conspicuous rituals in, 91
- Urat culture, 90–91
- Válcele site, metal hoard at, 350–352
- value exchange and theory of, 13, 32, 292–305 extraversion, dualism and accumulation and, 299–300
 of prestige goods, 295–299 prestige value, maintenance of, 98–100
- Vandkilde, Helle, 14, 309–330
 Veselovskij, Nikolaj Ivanovič, 335–336
 Viking Age, boat guilds in, 63–64
 votive razors, Aegean/Minoan region, 110–114
- wage labour, theory of value and, 292–305
- Walena* ceremonial-exchange complex (New Guinea), 93–94
- Wales
 bluestones transport from, Stonehenge megalith
 and, 42–44
 Great Orme copper mine in, 235–237
- Warburton metallurgy, 234–235
- warfare conspicuous performances as non-violent forms of, 90–91
 fur trade and, 158–159

- Irish hillforts and, 241–243
 Irish trade as cause of, 245–246
 Lower Mississippi Valley exchange networks and, 151–153
 primitive trade and, 3, 6–7
xenia (guest-friendship) and, 129–130
 warrior/traders Irish sword distribution to English warriors, 232–233
 non-state trading and, 395
 Nordic Bronze Age long-distance exchange and, 66n.4, 328, 330 xenia (guest-friendship) in, 125–130 waste deposition systems, TRB-North Group developmental stages and, 25–28 Water Serpent, Turquoise Corridor power dynamics and, 273–275 wealth accumulation
 Bronze Age chiefdoms, 243–246
 prestige goods and, 296–297
 theory of value and, 291–292
 weapons development, Irish metallurgy and, 232–233 weather conditions, Funnel Beaker phenomena, 24–25
 Weber, Max, 4–5, 337
 Weeden Island decorated pottery, 188, 194
 Weigand, Phil C., 254–255
 Weiner, A. B., 3
 Wells, E. Christian, 271–273
 Wengrow, D., 296–297
 West Sumba society, 34–35 wheel innovation, chronological revision concerning, 46–47, 340 Wiegand, P. C., 258–259 wife givers and wife takers Lower Mississippi Valley elites and, 150–151
 in Stonehenge cultures, 150
 Wilburton metallurgy tradition, 234–235
 Wilcox, D. R., 259–261
 Wilder Mann tradition, 404–405
 Williams, Stephen, 157–158
 Williams Island gorget, 153–154
 Wissler, Clark, 148–149
 Wolf, Eric, 296–297
 Wom culture, 85–86
 Woodhenge timber circle, 44–45
 Woodland period
 copper artifacts in South Florida from, 181–183
 marine shell distribution during, 179
 pottery artifacts from, 186–188
 South Florida burial mounds, stone bifaces in, 187 World System Theory, 6
 macro-regional exchange and, 13–15
 Worsaae, J. J. A., 114–115
 Wosera Abelam culture, 90
xenia (guest-friendship)
 Egtved Girl and, 133–135
 history of, 126–127
 long-distance trade and, 8–9, 11
 Mediterranean–Nordic trade and, 125–130
 non-state trading and, 395–407
 Nordic Bronze Age and, 130–133 passage to descendants of, 127–128, 134
 prestige goods and, 298–299
 rituals of, 127–128
xihuitl framework
 Mesoamerican culture and, 271–273 prestige technology of turquoise and, 277–279
 Turquoise Corridor power dynamics and, 274–277
 Yangoru Boiken culture conspicuous construction in, 89–90 conspicuous performances as non-violent warfare in, 90–91 emphasis on individual and collective strength in, 88–91 gift exchange in, 95–96 male initiation rituals in, 89 prestige goods purchases by, 93–94 social signalling in rituals of, 84–88 value of prestige goods in, 98–100 yaupon holly plant, Calusa inter-regional trade in, 193
 Yetholme type sword, 232–233
 Younger Neolithic era, socio-cultural signals of, 32–33
 Zapotocky hammer axe types, long-distance distribution of by TRB-North Group, 32