

Contents

Acknowledgments	page vii
1 Introduction: Speech, Privacy, and Dignity in France and the United States	1
1.1 Enlightenment Values in the Balance	1
1.2 The Role of the Government and Human Dignity	21
1.3 Hermeneutics and the Imaginary	27
2 Antiquity, Modernity, and Historical Imaginaries on the Role of the Government	34
2.1 The Role of the Government: Negative and Positive Liberties	34
2.2 Antiquity, Modernity, Natural Law, and Liberty	38
2.3 Historical Imaginaries	52
2.4 Declarations and Their Spirit	70
3 The Underlying Ex Ante Understanding of Liberty	80
3.1 Metaphysical Universalism versus Pragmatic Proclamation	84
3.2 Reconceptualization of the Role of the Government versus Definition of the Limits of the Role of the Government	104
4 The Moralizing Rational Republic versus the State Arbitrator of the Free Play of Interests	140
4.1 Rousseau's Conceptualization of the Moralizing Republic	144
4.2 The French Revolutionaries' Attempt to Realize the Rational Republic	154
4.3 Locke, Smith, Paine, and the State Arbitrator of the Free Play of Interests	170
4.4 The American Founders and Liberal Individual Reason	182

5	Foundation of the Rights of Man on the Rights of the Citizen versus Foundation of the Rights of the Citizen on the Rights of Man	198
6	Conclusion	231
	Bibliography	250
	Index	275