

Cambridge University Press

978-1-316-51794-9 — Explorations in Ancient and Modern Philosophy

Myles Burnyeat , Prepared for publication by Carol Atack , Malcolm Schofield , David Sedley

Table of Contents

More InformationContents

List of illustrations	page vii
Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	x
List of abbreviations	xii
Introduction	I
PART I: ONTOLOGY AND EPISTEMOLOGY 3
1a Apology 30b2–4: Socrates, money, and the grammar of γίγνεσθαι	5
1b On the source of Burnet’s construal of Apology 30b2–4: a correction	41
2 Plato on how not to speak of what is not: Euthydemus 283a–288a	46
3 Platonism in the Bible: Numenius of Apamea on Exodus and eternity	67
4 Kinēsis vs. energeia : a much-read passage in (but not of) Aristotle’s Metaphysics	93
5 De Anima II.5	155
6 Aquinas on ‘spiritual change’ in perception	213
7 Epistēmē	235
PART II: PHYSICS AND OPTICS 263
8 ΕΙΚΩΣ ΜΥΘΟΣ	265

Cambridge University Press

978-1-316-51794-9 — Explorations in Ancient and Modern Philosophy

Myles Burnyeat , Prepared for publication by Carol Atack , Malcolm Schofield , David Sedley

Table of Contents

More Information

vi

Contents

9	Aristotle on the foundations of sublunary physics	286
10	Archytas and optics	305
11	'All the world's a stage-painting': scenery, optics, and Greek epistemology	325
	Bibliography	363
	Index locorum	384