

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	page x
Foreword R. Edward Freeman	xi
Acknowledgments	xii
Introduction	1
Starting with Objects	2
New Understanding, New Norms	3
Objects for Humans' Sake and Objects for Objects' Sake	5
How to Think Things	9
Beyond People	12
Meaningful Things	14
A Plan	16
1 The Singularization of Everything	19
The Richness of Things	19
Collapsing Commodities with Connections	22
Trees, Toys, and Gold	26
The Forest and Its Trees	30
Tainted Toys	40
Applying the Golden Rule to Gold	46
Stewardship Economics	50
2 Singularization Schema	56
Usefulness	57
Sentimentality	60
Personification	62
Stewardship	64
Singularizing Narratives	66
Sentimentality – Man Loves House	67
Personification – Toys Love Boy	69

Stewardship – Robot Befriends Cockroach	71
The Conscientious Consumer	74
3 The Power of Negative Thinking	76
Critical Conscientious Consumption	77
Blaming Markets, Blaming States	79
Mistrusting Markets	81
Mistrusting Democracy	87
Blaming Ethics	92
Summary	115
4 Three Failures in Regulated Markets	117
Failing at Inequality	117
Failing at Climate Change	131
Failing at Finance	139
5 Person, Place, and Product	159
Shoe Versus Child	160
Person, Place, and Thing	164
Empathizing with Others	174
Empathizing with Objects	181
Plurality of Purpose	187
6 Ecological Value	195
Networks of Value	200
Ethical Theory and Valuing Objects	216
Overcoming the Limits of the Market and the State	233
7 Putting Responsibility to Work	241
Aristotelian Business Ethics	243
Conscientious Consumption	251
Professionals Prioritizing Things	253
The Spirit of Business Ethics	256
Material Responsibility Versus Alternatives	264
Governing Every Thing	270
A Plan of Action	271
8 Materiality for Business Ethics	274
Directed Care	276
What Are Firms For?	277
Organizational Teleologies	282
Personal-Contractual	285

Contents	ix
Efficient	290
Communitarian	296
Managing Things	303
Volkswagen's Emissions	305
Wrapping Up	310
Endnotes	313
Index	368