

GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTABILITY – AUSTRALIAN ADMINISTRATIVE LAW SOURCES AND MATERIALS

Government Accountability – Australian Administrative Law Sources and Materials is a companion text to the second edition of Government Accountability – Australian Administrative Law. The casebook follows the structure of the textbook and provides a sophisticated and in-depth introduction to the principal areas of administrative law taught in Australia.

Extracts from primary materials – including cases, legislation and judicial review – have been carefully selected to provide readers with an understanding of the key principles of administrative law and demonstrate how these mechanisms operate in practice. Case extracts provide a clear account of the facts, issues and statutory provisions considered by the courts. They encourage readers to identify complexities in the law and develop an understanding of the process and principles of statutory interpretation. Extracts from secondary sources, including from parliamentary reports and publications by leading commentators in this field, further elucidate key concepts and controversies.

Written by experts with substantial teaching and research experience, Government Accountability – Australian Administrative Law Sources and Materials is an essential text that will equip students with the tools to think critically and successfully apply the law to practice.

Judith Bannister is Associate Professor at the Adelaide Law School, University of Adelaide.

Anna Olijnyk is a Lecturer at the Adelaide Law School, University of Adelaide.

PREFACE

The cases and materials in this book complement the introduction to administrative law provided in Government Accountability – Australian Administrative Law ('the textbook'). It is assumed that readers of this book will also have access to the textbook. The chapters in this book mirror those in the textbook. We envisage that readers will begin their study of a topic by reading the relevant section of the textbook and will turn to this book to study key cases and concepts in greater depth.
